PLANS OF OPERATION OF THE BURNSIDE The New Colonel of the Bucktail Regi-EXPEDITIO? dence of The Press.]

Speech of Gen James H. Lane, at Chicago, The exciting contest that has agitated our regiment for several weeks terminated yesterday in Our Prisoners at Richmond ment for several weeks terminator yesteras in the election of Capitain Hugh N. McNeil, of Com-pany D, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resig-nation of Colonel Charles J. Biddle. His only op-Corporal Merrill, of the New York Twenty Corporat merrin, or are new form from Second seventh regiment, recently released from Rich-mond, is engaged in writing some interesting sketches of his captivity, for the Rochestor Ex-press. We copy the following paragraphs: ponent was Lieutenant Colonel Thomas L. Kane, who received two hundred and eighty-five votes out of a poll of soven hundred and ninety-three;

The Surgeon. The head surgeon of the establishment was Dr. Pésoby, of Richmond. He had a numerous corpe of assistants, consisting principally of medical stu-dents, who had gladly availed themselves of the

At the break-ing out of the rebellion, he was engaged as cashier dents, who had glaay availed themselves of in opportunity to engage at once in an extensive, i not a successful practice. Dr. Peachy himself i an amiable, kind heartod gentleman, whose symps this seemed deeply enlisted in behalf of his un fortunate patients, and was untiring in his profes of a bank at Warren, Pennsylvania, but his patri-tism could not brook the insult offered to our flag at Fort Sumpter. He resigned his position, joined a company then being formed by Captain (now

Sisters of Charity. The Sisters of Charity, of Richmond, had volun-teered their services in behalf of the wounded, and, many a poor fellow would gladly testify to their kind and unremitting attention.

Visitors and Nurses.

Visitors and Nurses. Hardly were the prisoners bestowed, in hospital quarters before the place litorally swarmed with visitors. The greater portion of them were ladies, who brought us dainties of every description, and in some neatances articles of underdothing, which were greatly needed. It is undoubtedly the fact that the benevolence of many of these ladies was, prompted by feelings of loyalty to the feeral Go-vernment, which in no other way could find a pracnment, which in no other way could find a prac-Undoubted Unionism.

disal expression. Undoubted UnionISM. Among them was at least one'a lady of the high-est social and political connections in Richmond, whose name (which I would gieldy publish) I am induced from prudential motives to withhold. On the day of our arrival ene visited the hospital, at-tanded by a female companion and a negre servant, bearing bakkets generoualy isden with Iuxuries of every kind. Her pockets also, where oranmed with Plug tobacco and oakes of Gastile soap, which alse olandes, incly distributed among the patients. To her kindness and ingonuity I was indebied for the secret conveysace of the first letter which I was en-abled to write, and also the first, as I was afterward informed, which left Richmond from the prisoners taken at Bull, Run. The anxiety of this kind lady to more fully re-lieve the distresses of the wounded prisoners finally overcome her discretion, and her work of benevo-lette to the exercise of Southern benevolenos, and that the extravagant charities bestowed upon the "Yankees" were evidence of a "Union" sonti-mont the should for be toprist. The isdy in question, as well as others, equally press, and were alterwards prohibited from admin-trees in the theore grossily assailed by the Richmond press, and were alterwards prohibited from admin-tering to our comfort, and finally were refused admission to the hospital. In this connection, I may istering to our somfort, and finally were refused admission to the hospital. In this connection, I may ister the stars and stripes were concoaled in her of the troops on our right, upon that occasion, in the absence of the other field officers, Capt. MoNeil coived orders to march to Cumberland, Md., and report to Gen. Kelly. Wo left at eight o'clock at night-as usual without rations, from a deficient acquaintance I made in the hospital informed me that the stars and stripes were concealed in her house, and she only waited a favorable opportunity to five them to the breaze! Illinois, the Eighty fourth and One Hundred and Tenth Penna.—were ordored to supply themselves with two days' cooked rations. On the presentato fling them to the breeze !

A Confederate Fraud.

A Confederate Frand. It will be remembered that in Nerfolk an order was issued asking all "alien enomies" who desire to return North to report themselves at a given time to the Confederate authorities, and they would be then sent under a flag of trace to Fortress Monroe. As a result, a large number who had succeeded in evading suspicion presented themselves at the place indicated, where their names were registored. But instead of being sent to Fortress Monroe, they were arrested and sont to Bichenoud. Here, of course, they were subjected to a system of cspionage esta-blished by King Jeff to promate the safety of his by were subjected to a system of espionage esta-labed by King Jeff to promote the safety of his Amputation.

The amputating room was in the centre of the building, within easy call of any part of the hos-pital, and the frightful orice of the unfortunate sub-pital, and the frightful cries of the unfortunate sub-jects, while undergoing surgical operations, added a tenfold torture to the pange of these who were in waiting. Upon the average, as the physicians esti-mated, but one in to us survived their amputations. Consequently, when one of our number was removed to the "amputating table," we felt that we looked upon him for the last time. These operations fre-quently lasted from one to two hours, the patient being under the influence of chloroform and whisky. Frequently the subject survived several days, but in great suffering. Mr. Morrill, after relating several cases of sur-gery, of a very distressing nature, thus describes Brigade, Col. Tyler commanding Brigadier General Lander's division. There is a full supply of commissary stores at Cumberland, and of the very best quality. The army of the upper Potomac is fully organized, under the leadership of the gallant Lander, and you may soon hear of some more of his brilliant exploits. His name is a tower of strength and a dread to the Secesh. The 84th is encamped in company with several

Her name, and that of her consorts, will be known soon enough; in the meantime there will be weiging and wailing among the underwriters of Foderal war rikes." And what has the House done? Nearly two weeks have been consumed in a mania for investigations —in proposing and discussing inquiries as to the action of the last Legislature, and the expenditures of the Executive. Without any direct charge of fraud against the Executive, any heads of departments, or agents of the State, and without a single tangible accusation of venality, the House talks from day to day, and to what end? A young man was borne into the hospital who re-presented that he had seven bullets in his body. His suffering had excited much sympathy at Ma-nassas, and ho had to be carried to the cars on a litter. His groans drew tears from even the Con-federate guards, and every one who approached him expressed the opinion that it was the most shocking case that had been found. He was han-dled with exceeding carefulness and placed upon a cot, not hevery without extending the most terdled with exceeding carefulness and placed upon a cot, not, however, without extorling the most ter-rible groans. Dr. Peachy approached him and in-quired as to the nature of his wounds. "Seven Dullets," was the resonance. ("Seven ballets," was the response. "But where are they?" continued the Doctor. "One of them went in my ear, and I feel it in my head," was the reply. "But you can't find it, and there's no use of twine " trying." As to the locality of the other wounds, he pro-fersed ignorance, with the exception of one, which he said had shattered his foot. The foot was ora-mined, and the heel of it was found to be alightly contased. Finally, he confessed that this was the extent of his injuries. He had feared that unless dreadfully wounded he would be roughly treated, if not put to death, and had accordingly detormined to resort to Ynnkee tricks. It was highly success-ful. He was named "Seven Bullets," and is known by no other title among his prison associates to this day.
