-15 years, 8 months, 9 days. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF SOHOOL CON-TROLLERS-A RESOLUTION OF CENSURE AND AN EDIST. ING DEBATE.—This body held its stated meeting yester-day afternoon at three o'clock. As usual, of late, a numher of visitors were present. The proceedings opened with a motion providing for the admission into the Girls' High School of Miss Siddell and Miss Josephine Dunlap, two candidates who were under the prescribed age-14 years. The Committee on Boys' High School submitted the report of the commission appointed to appraise the value of Dr. McMustrie's cabinet. The commission say: "We have examined, at your request, the museum belonging to Professor McMutrie, and, without regard to its value in imparting justructions to pupils, we have fixed its commercial value at $5,500." Attached to the report was the following resolution:

Resolved, That City Councils be requested to make an appropriation of $500 to pay Dr. McMurtrie an annual rental for the use of his cabinet. Agreed to.

The committee also reported the names of a score or more of gentlemen, graduates of the four-years course of the High School, of five years' standing, for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. (We publish their names in another article.) of Bachelor of Aris. (we guntar the manages at causing article.)

Mr. Hollingsworth said that the gentleman from the Fourteenth (Mr. Fletcher) had at a pravious meating charged two of the candidates for the High School professorships with heing atheists. He would ask the gentleman for his authority for such a statement.

Mr. Flotcher. If the gentleman had been as particular in asking for my authority before he voted for the candidates I would have replied. [Laughter.] As it is, I decline.

Mr. Hollingsworth presented the following communi-Mr. Hollingsworth presented the following communication:

PHILADBLEHIA, Fob. 10, 1862.

To the High School Committee:

Gentlene: A charge of atheism having been brought in the Board of Control against two of the candidates at the late election for professors, the undersigned are persuaded that the reputation of the High School, as well as their own, is seriously interested in its refutation.

We, therefore, feel called upon to give to that charge, upon our own accounts, the most explicit and unqualified denial, and to express a confident assurance, upon ample evidence, that it is equally unfounded in regard to the two other gentlemen who, with us, were candidates at that election.

Henny Hartshorn.

JOSEPH WILSON.

Mr. Mossatt offered a resolution that the studies in the grammar schools be the same as before the recent change. He stated that, of 5,575 boys in the grammar schools and that history, geography, and algebra receive more attention in the grammar schools than they have heretofore done.

In the Girls' High School, he stated, algebra was not

In the Girls' High School, he stated, algebra was no sufficiently taught.

Ar. Holland said that one-third of Hart's Grammar was not used in the schools. He, therefore, thought the book should not be used at all, if a better could be found to replace it.

Mr. Hollingsworth opposed the resolution.

Finally it was referred to the Text-book Committee.

A resolution that Misses Siddell and Dunlap be admitted to the Girls' High School, without further exmitted to the Girls' High School, without further examination, on reaching their fourteenth year, was then offered. Lost—yeas 8, mays 14.

Mr. Riche offered a resolution resolution of the Board, which authorized the moving of Southwest Grammar School to its former location.

Messrs. Leech and Holland opposed the motion.

The resolution was lost by a vote of 14 to 8.

Mr. Fitzgerald offered the following preamble and resolution: Whereas, At the last meeting of the Board, Leonard solution:

Whereas, At the last meeting of the Board, Leonard R Fletcher, the controller from the Fourteouth section, stated that he had been informed that two of the proposed candidates for the vacant professorships in the High School were atheists; and vehereas, he declined to give the authority, thus justifying the inference that his assertion was a shameful invention; and vehereas, the candidates have denied that they were atheists; and vehereas, so unwarranted and reckless an assertion could have been made only from the meanest motives and to prejudice the Committee and the High School before the community, thus indirectly bringing unmerited obloquy upon the Board: therefore,

Resolved, That the said Leonard B. Fletcher be, and he is hereby, censured for conduct unbecoming a gentleman and a member of this Board.

Mr. Fletcher (coolly rising). When the gentleman from the Eighth asked me the question, I considered it imperticent. I did not think I was justified, under the circumstances, to name any gentleman in connection with that charge, because I considered it a stigma on his character until I was assured of its truth. But had the election been postponed, I say to the Board I would have given the names of those parties. I am not afraid of the gentleman's resolutions, or the gentleman himself. I care not for him. I spit upon and despise them, and I contenn alike their author. But, Mr. President, in justice to these gentlemen, I was about to disclaim it on the part of one of those cardidates to whom I laid aligned. thereby o these gentlemen, I was about to disclaim it on the part of one of those candidates to whom I had alluded, thereby relieving him from this serious charge. I declined to name the parties because naming them to-day could do no good.

I do not charge these gentlemen with being athelsts, and my friend from the Fifth ward must be remarkably stupid, or he would remember my allegation. My charge was that I had been informed that two of the candidates were athelsts. And, despite this long-winded preamble and resolution, I make the same charge now—that I have been informed by a gentleman far more reputable than the gentleman from the Fifth—whose veracity would go unconstinued in the city of Philadelphia—that he had o unquestioned in the city of Philadolphia—that he had heard, and that it was his duty to inform me, that two of the candidates he believed to be atheists.

In making these assertions I believed then, as I believe now, that I was doing my duty, although my friend from the Twenty-fourth ward, I believe, said he had as lief vote for an atheist as anybody else.

Mr. Leech (interrunting) Reporters are had authors. Mr. Leech (interrupting). Reporters are bad autho-Mr. Flotcher. Reporters are bad authority, are they?

Mr. Fletcher. Reporters are bad authority, are they? Well; but I vote for an atheist! I vote for a man of that character? No! rather than vote for a man of those principles, to inculcate doctrines so detrimental to society, I would wish the whole school fabric crumbled to dust. The gentleman trom the Fifth vouched for the reputations of these men. He stated that they were all reputable men; but, Mr. President, with all due deference to the gentleman, I did not choose to vote according to his dictation. Charges as devoid of truth as the gentleman from the Fifth himself are made against me.

The Chair called Mr. Fletcher to order.
Mr. Fletcher. I would like the preamble read again. The Secretary read the preamble, as set forth there, unqualifiedly false. I care nothing for the gentleman from the Fifth, his presuble, or his resolution. If this Board fancled or believed that I made the allegation contained in the preamble, think it would be eminently proper for it to pass the resolution of censure. But if they do not believe it, as I cannot see that they have any earthly ground for believing it.) they would be endorsing that which they knew to be false in passing it. that they have any earthly ground for believing it.) they would be endorsing that which they knew to be false in passing it.

One of the goutlemen to whom I alluded at the last special meeting of the Board, stated to me that the idea of his being an atheist might have been gathered from his expressions while a schoolboy, which, perhaps, justified the remark to me that he was an atheist.

Mr. Crans asked for a third reading of the preamble, is slowly and deliberately," which was done.

Mr. Leech regretted the introduction of the preamble and resolution.

Mr. Leech regretted the introduction of the preamble and resolution.

Mr. Fletcher. No gentleman in this Board, except the member from the Fifth, would have had the meanness to draft a preamble and resolution of that character.

The President tapped his gavel in a soothing way.

Mr. Fletcher, resuming. But, Mr. President, was I not perfectly justified in speaking as I did! Suppose I had heard that one of the candidates for these positions was a literary "themmer," and levied black mail on poor actresses, would it not have been my duty to state that fact here?

Mr. Holland thought the gentleman from the Fourteenth (Mr. Fletcher) was justified in his course. The High School Committee might easily be deceived in the character of the applicants, as the examination was only as to their scholastic attainments.

Mr. Moffatt moved to rostpone the resolution, with its preamble, indefinitely.

Mr. Fitzgerald then willdrew the motion.

After which, the Board adjourned.

A JOVIAL PARTY.—On Tuesday last a gay and happy party, among which were some who have gained quite a notoriety in this little world of ours as florists, ice-dealers, and speakers, left our city for an old-fashioned sleigh ride to Gwynedd, Montgomery county. A little Eden on the North Pennsylvania railroad was their destination. Among the ladies were some fair—some fat—but none forty. And together they formed a party such as we read were our ancestors. Bright merry bells without, and gay laughing belles within, made the night musical with gayety. While at their station they improvised an "Old Folks' Concert," and an "Acting Charade." And the walls of the old house, so accurationed to the quiet of staid dignity, fairly rung with laughter. Laughter was the watchword and fun the countersign, and ness passed the patrol except they were furnished with both.

NATIONAL GUARD REGIMENT .- This regiment, now numbering 750 men, is encamped on a healthy ground a short distance from Nicetown. About 100 tents have been pitched, each of which contain a stove, and will accommodate about sixteen men. The men are required to be up at sunrise, and have company drill at 11 o'clock. Guard mounting commences at 8 A. M., dress parade at 9 A. M. and 4 P. M. The lights are required to be extinguished at 9 o'clock. There is no serious sickness in the camp, with the exceptions of slight colds, caused by exposure. caused by exposure.

Major Gibson, U. S. A., paid the Guards off on Monday, each man receiving his money up to the first of the year. Those who have been recruited since that time will have to wait for the next pay day. The staff and company officers of this regiment have already been published in the columns of The Press, ARTILLERY PRACTICE .- Col. Chas. Ange-ARTILLERY PRACTICE.—Col. Chas, Angeroth's heavy artillery regiment, the One-hundred-and-twelfth Pennsylvania Volunteers, were exercised in firing on Monday, at their encampment, at the Diamond Cottage, at Camden. The regiment have seven six pounders and a six-inch mortar for practice. Blank cartridges were fired from the cannon, but shot was used in the mortar. The target was placed at a distance of three hundred and fifty yards. The men are rapidly becoming proficient in the use of the guns, and the firing was quite precise. The regiment is full now, seven companies being in camp and three at Fort Delaware. Col. Angeroth axpacts to form another regiment, and will proceed to Washington to obtain the necessary authority.

MUSICAL APPOINTMENTS .- Mr. Carl Sentz, the Pennsylvania Institution for the Blind, and will, in future, conduct the Wednesday exhibitions; and Mr. A. R. Taylor, the Inc bass singer and teacher, has been appointed teacher of rocal music and the plane, in the same institution. This arrangement will improve the musical advantages of the pupils, and add to the musical reputation which the institution already enjoys. Some of Handel's grand oratoric choruses have recently been introduced, including "Unto us a Child is Born," and others from the Messiah.

CAUCHT IN THE ACT.—On Monday evening, about 8 o'clock, two men, named Thomas Ashman and Augustus Carter, were arrested, by Reserve Officer Riker and Officer Myers, of the Harbor Police, for attempting to enter the store of Mr. J. M. Brown, No. 38 South Water street. The accused were discovered, by a private watch man, operating upon the door with skeleton keys. The police were notified, and the robbors were captured. The prisoners had a hearing, yesterday morning, before Alderman Beitler, and were both committed, in default of $3,000 ball, to answer. Ashman is an old offender, and the cells of a prison are nothing new to him. He is an Englishman by birth, and known as "Wrestler." Some years ago, when under arrest, he tripped Detective Mirkle, by which the latter had his leg broken, and, in an attempted escape, was fired upon by Officer Taggart.

THE ABOLISHMENT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.—
The Board of School Directors of the Twentieth section held a meeting on Monday evening, and passed a preamble and series of resolutions relative to the bill now before the Legislature providing for the abolishment of the Board of Controllers. The resolutions declare that the provisions of the bill are unjust, and disapprove of them because they are "calculated to injure, delay, and even destroy the system of public education in their district."

FOUND DROWNED .- Yesterday an unknown white man was found drowned at Green-street wharf. The coroner was notified. NEW COUNTERFEIT.—Last evening a new counterfeit five-dollar note, on the Bank of America, Rhode Island, was put in circulation. FIRE LAST EVENING.—The alarm of fire about half-past 8 o'clock last evening was caused by the burning of Wooden's Pottery, back of Frankford roat, above Cumberland street, Ni: eteenth ward. The damage done amounts to about $2,500, upon which there is an insurance of $2,000.

The New York Evening Post of to-day says:

The Stock Exchange has a brighter look to-day, and the entire list shows an average advance of 1 per cent. The new vigor of the Government, as evinced in the victories at Fort Henry and Roanoke Island, and the arrest of General Stone, together with the more friendly news from Europe, seems to have at once changed the whole aspect of the market, bringing forward fresh buyers for a rise. The greatest activity is in those stocks which are supposed to be largely "short," and much of the rise of this morning, no doubt, is owing to the haste to buy back what was sold a few days ago.

One of the few stocks which do-not participate in the upward tendency is Hudson River. This, we understand, is owing to the unfavorable annual report which is now in Albany. The Hudson River Railroad Company never makes statements of its profits and condition during the year, only submitting their annual report to the Legislature, as required to do by law oace a year. We learn that the report sent to Albany shows a large falling off in the net earnings from the previous year, learning it doubtful whether the interest on the bonded debt was paid without an increase of floating debt. It is worthy of remark in this connection that several of the directors, who were large buyers of the stock last year, now leave it to take care of itself. Government stocks are dull. The Sixes of 1881 are \( \frac{1}{2} \) and \( \frac{1}{2} \) are cent, better.

The 7.30 Treasury notes are \( \frac{1}{2} \) per cent, higher, selling at 93 \( \frac{1}{2} \) and to all. Prime The New York Evening Post of to-day says:

The 7.30 Ireasury motors are full first 1893 2098.

Money is easy to-day at 6 per cent. on call. Prime paper ranges from 5% to 7, according to the preferences more renges from 5½ to 7, according to the preferences of the buyer.

The foreign exchange market is not sensibly affected by the news from Europe, though rates may be called scarcely so firm as yesterday. The market seems to have got into a less feyerish position, much of the large amount of bulls held on speculation having been absorbed within a week, and, besides, the exports are falling off, while the imports are increasing, thus establishing a more regular market. The leading drawers are asking 115 on London, and 4.92% on Paris, but these are ½ % per cent. above the selling rates this morning.

Gold is very firm to-day, and ½ % per cent. higher. The sales are large, especially on time. Most all the transactions were at 103% $\phi$104, cash, and 104½, buyer thirty days. transactions thirty days.
