In the debate on the subject Mr. Bright strongly demounced the policy of the Government. He said the money had been worse than thrown away. The threatening menaces were quit: uncouled tor, and gave Earl Reascle's first despatch, which, he said, had more the appearance of a declaration of war than a courteous demand for a just object, which America could not fail to accede. He refuted the idea that the American Government was infunenced by a mob, and argued that the interests of England were so bound up with America that it was in every respect unadvisable to inflict a sting that it might take centuries to remove.

Mr. Beater endorsed the tone of the Government, but condemned the tone of the press.

Lord Palmerston defended the ministers, and said that the Bright's opinions were contined to himself. He controled that there was every reason to justify England in backing up her demand in the manner she did, as the course of the American Government clearly showed that they did not, at the earlier stage of the affair, regard the act as one they ought to disavow. There were doubts whether England's demands would be compiled with, and certainly the people were not prepared to submit to a refusel. He pointed to the subgress that were showered upon Captain Wilkes, and said that the British Government, with these facts before them, would have deserved condemnation if they had not taken steps to enforce their demands. He thought the course taken deserved commendation and believed it was calculated to insure the continuance of peace.

RECAPITULATION At St. Louis, the Democrat says:

The market continues inactive, except the demand for freasury rotes, which is unabated and on the increase. The demand for gold is reduced to notking, or as near task can be and not reach the point, and to-day but few layers could be found at 363% per cent. premium for Missouri currency. In exchange, the market is well supplied with sight bills on New York, without call, and 1% per cent. premium is about the highest figure soling. The asury notes are worth that figure for exchange, she are now they referred medium, and they have advanced why they are held so much above Missouri currency is because the latter will not pass so readily in the country, and these neites answer the double purpose of a creedation and exchange.

The Cincinnati Guzelte says, under date of March 1: Demand treasury notes declined in New York to-day to 1% 2% premium. Under this change, they were kept back as far as possible. Owing to this reserve, currency worked close, and discounts were not so easy as heretofore; but, at the same time, no great difficulty was experienced in negotiating good paper at 10212 por cont. There was a fair demant for loans.

The Chicage Tribune of March 1 says: At St. Louis, the Democrat says:

There was a fair demand for loans.

The Chicago Trifune of March I says:

We notice no new movement in dinancial matters today. The market is quiet, and business is moving along in its accustomed channels. Best houses obtain meacy readily at legal rates, but 8600ml class paper is neglected. Warehouse receipts for grain, pork, or other products, are generally, it not always, required as collaterals.

New York exchange is in better request, and bankers to-day have generally taken it at $\frac{1}{2}$ off, and par to best customers was sometimes conceded. The selfing price is still rar for round lots to best customers; but $\frac{1}{2}$ was the regular price.

A RETURNED UNION MINISTER. - If the outbreak of the war caused a stampede among clergymen in our Northern churches who had Secession roclivities, the effect of our victories has been no loss t discuthral and return to the loyal States not a few faithful divines of Union sentiments, who have been compelled, against their will, to submit to the tyranny of Southern oligarchs until time and Uncle Sam should set them free. Of this class we have an interesting case in th Rev. R. J. Wilson, lately returned to this city from Beaufort, South Caroline, where he officiated as pastor of one of the largest churches in the State, his congregation numbering nearly five thousand members, of whom about one-third were white-the ame Church, by the way, which was formerly occupies by the Rev. Dr. Fuller, of Baltimore, of Y. M. O. A. Committee memory, the charge having been mainly accepted by Mr. Wilson, through Dr. Fuller's influence. Mr. Wilson is a Scotchman by birth, but a thorough American in sentiment, and as might be inferred from his nationality, in the question now being decided by the sword, is a Unionist to the cure. His situation, therefore, for morths previous to his release, unyielding as he was in his political sentiments, was anything with his life, is alone due, doubtless, to the sanctity of his office and the providence of God. He made two unsuccessful attempts to escape; witnessed the hombard-ment of Beaufort from first to last, and had the temority, at its commencement, to prophecy to the fire-enters on the island what would be its result! The day after the combardment, Mr. Wilson found his way under the stars and stripes, and, at a sacrifice of position, salary, furni-ture, and library, and all other valuables that belonged to him, made his way to the North without dolay. In a conversation with him yesterday much that would interest the general reader was elicited, but as it is probable that he will soon tell his own story to the public in his own way, we will not anticipate. Since his arrival here he has been warmly greeted by several of his ministerial Baptist brethren, and preached in some of their pulpits

"THE LAST DOLLAR AND THE LAST MAN"-The rebels still talk about spending the last dollar in the Confederate cause, and of having the last man die in the last ditch. Judging from the celerity with which the "Seceshes" leave when threatened with danger, each in-dividual robel seems disposed to take care of himself for

A CARD.—The undersigned respectfully takes pleasure in announcing to his friends and former patrons, that, in connection with his fashionable stock of Military and Citizens' Ready-made Clothing, he will open, on Murch 1st, 1862, one of the best-assorted stocks of Boys' Ready-made Clothing ever before offered in this city, all of which will be sold at one low, uniform price. A portion of the Store has been furnished for this department exclusively, in good style, and particularly the regular price.
Gold is drooping, with very little demand on any terms.
The brokers lought sparingly at 2 per cent., and sold all they could in round lots at 2%, charging 2% at retail.
We doubt whether the larger bouses would have paid over 1% on round lots.
The Chicago Times awas that the fiscal year of the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad Company closed February 3, 1862. The following is a comparative statement of its receipts and condition as near as can be arrived at upon information derived from the continuity of the fiscal year.

H. WINSOR & CO. MILITARY.—I HEARD OF AN OUT-RAGE perpetrated upon the First Lieutenaut of a company who had advanced hix hundred dollars, and thus recruited 52 men—the Captain and Second Lieutenant being little more than panniless.

The Second Lieutenant was mustered in by the Colonel, and the First Lieutenant required to recruit 25 more men. Failing to do this, his position was taken from him and given to the Second Lieutenant.

Who is this Colonel? and is he not responsible to this young man?

TO THE PUBLIC.—MONDAY EVENING. IT. MONDAY EVENING. 3d instant, about ten o'clock, Mrs. PAL. MER, a highly-respected and intelligent colored lady, residing in the upper part of this city, was ejected from the cars, in the midst of a severe storm of wind and rain that was aweeping over our city at that hour.

Returning from her duties as the Secretary of a benevolent society, and being a woman of feeble health, sought shelter in the cars on Spruce street, near Tenth, to avoid the violence of the storm, and was thrust out with the utmost rudeness.

Her condition, when she reached her residence, was certainly such as to seriously disturb her friends. Mrs. Palmer is a member of the Presbyterian Church, and a taxpayer in this city, and a person that understands so well the proprieties of life, that there could be no just cause of complaint against her whatever. Who, I ask, is benefited by this rudeness on the part of the conductors of the city cers?—for this is by no means an isolated case.
