Trade Movements.

The glorious news which now flows in upon us from every portion of our army, and the opening spring, have set the wheels of trade in active motion. A ramble along our leading business avenues, and a few glances inside of come of our principal warchouses, have convinced us that, notwithstanding the financial disasters of the past year, there is still considerable vitality among the merchants of Philadelphia. This is the more remarkable from the fact that, the time at which our importing hous were obliged to send their agents abroad to select their spring importations, was when the Trent affair was asming its most threatening aspect. At that hour nothing but the most segecious confidence in the wisdom and power of our Government could have prompted the marcantile risks which a number of our leading firms made in order to be prepared for trade at all hazards. Of course, the secuel has shown the wisdom of their courage, as the houses, both here and in New York, that have now really good stocks to offer, will not only do a very large business during the next sixty days, but a very ofitable one. Among the houses here that have taken a front rank in the dry-goods and other departments we will notice the following to-day, and will allude to others, from time to time, in a similar way : RIEGEL, BAIRD, & CO.

On Third street, the old and well-knewn house of Messrs. Riegel, Baird, & Co., (No. 47, above Market,) is driving an active trade. Their stock, embracing every a week. variety of Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, is heavier than it has ever been at this season of the year, and their sales, up to this point, have been correspondingly larger. There is a moral in the fact, which business man will doubtless appreciate, that the sales of this house amounted to a quarter of a million dollars more in 1861 than in any previous year, and, what is no less remarkable, an unusually large proportion was sold for cash. By the way, this firm has recently made some fine inovements in their counting-house facilities, in ternal imp which they have displayed good taste and secured the most ample accommodations for their extensivo office business. What is being experienced, more or less by pearly all our thorough business hou-es, this season, Measra. Riegel, Baird, & Co., are daily gaining consider able new trade, either cash-paying, or of undoubted standing, which is a natural consequence of the revolu-tion which the business of the country has undergone within the last eighteen months

THOMAS MELLOR & Co.

Without doubt, Third street, Philadelphia, is peculiarly fortunate, both in the financial soundness and energy of its business firms, and the comparative number of them. The old house of Messrs. Thomas Mellor & Co., Nos. 40 and 42 North Third street, long a leading firm in this country, among those engaged in the importation and jobbing of goods denominated under the general head o "Husiery," (including an eddless variety of small white Goods, Embroideries, et ceters,) have now in store the most extensive, and in a measure, the mos varied stock that they have ever offered, and their trade has already actively commenced. One fact that will operate greatly in favor of this house this season is, that a large bulk of their stock was bought before the advance in prices, and, we understand, will be sold accordingly low. The financial advantages of this firm are always used with sagacity.

YARD, GILLMORE, & CO.

Within the last few years, the tide of our Jobbing trade has been, to some extent, turned in the direction of Chest nut street; and it is not too much to say that the leading house in more than one department is now located on that avenue. The firm of Yard, Gillmore, & Co., who occupy the magnificent store at No. 617 Chestnut street, and 614 Jayne street, having outrede the financial storm, is prepared for a heavy Spring trade. Their present stock of Silk and Faucy Dress Goods, of every description - and a capital one it is-is of their own imrtation, having been bought in the various markets (Europe by one of the firm. This house presents influce ments to buyers which no intelligent merchant, in ma king his Spring purchases, can, with impunity, overlook

DE COURSEY, LAFOURCADE, & CO. The name and fame of this firm is at once a credit t its members, and an honor to Philadelphia. Since or ganizing, nearly a quarter of a century ago, their course in business has been at once judicious, liberal, thorough-ly and wisely enterprising, and, as the sequel proved, profiable. Their present spacious stone edifice, (Jayne's Hall, Chestnut street,) stocked, as it now is, with all the choicest varieties of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, and articles embraced in this department, that are produced in this country and Europe, is one of the mercantile worders of the age. Not equal in extent and variety of departments to A. T. Stewart & Co's, New York, it is the nearest approximation to it outside of that city, and in the individual branch to which it is devoted-wex's WEAR-it far exceeds any other house in America. I is no unmeaning compliment to their courage and sa gacity as business men that their Spring importations new offered, are larger than ever before. In this they hav demonstrated that what our city most needs, in order t secure for her the mercantile pre-eminence to which she entitled, is due enterprise Junging from the operaions of De Coursey. Lafourcade, & Co., there is n reason why every State in the Union should not furnish us with customers, for they are selling large quantities of cods to New York and Boston. Under such circum-tarcesit would, of course, be folly for merchants from the West and Southwest to pass through Philadelphia ske their purchases elsewhere. In this raspact the ouse here referred to has been of substantial advantas the trade of our city-as well in the Cloth as in other departments of business. J. R. CAMPBELL & CO. cessful jobbing trade of many years has made th same of James B. Campbell & Co. familiar to morch and ery section of the Union, and their present store difice, at No. 727 Chestnut street, is likely to become a worably known to the ladies of this city, as their hou s heretofore been to the trade throughout the West nd South In common with many other first-class dr ods houses in large cities, of late, they have organized a Retail department in connection with their wholesale trade. The advantages of this arrangement, under the adnirable system adopted by this firm, are obvious. Their main floor, which is almost exclusively devoted to Betail. ng, new contains an elegant stock of fresh, new gapd s it is the design of Mesars. Campbell & Uo. to cuter t he best class trade, their stock presents a remarkable reedom from undesirable goods. In examining it yes erday, we were struck with this peculiarity, and mus hat we have rarely seen displayed an equal aggre ate of exquisite taste in any one e tablishment. ant lines of French organdie lawns_barred, satis aid, and beautifully figured; also, French and Knows bintzes, of neat, pretty styles, and rich colors, is very active. The same is true of their all-wool de laines ach jaconets, brillantes, ginghams, linen and silk warped poplins, and dress silks, of which they have : t stock. We were surprised also at the low figur which their goods, in the main, are offered, which is resume, owing to their steady and judicious obs ous of the market, and their large operations. In ask linen goods their stock is also very rich and com e, and the same may be said of other department ich we have not space to enumerate. In addition his room, which is two hundred feet deep, there are two ents of the same depth, the first of which contains mmense stock of general dry goods, where their sale business is chiefly transacted, under a good ight-and the second, the storing of packages of duates of the goods exhibited in the other departments. rir stock, upon the whole, presents rare inducements reason that it would be impessibe for any single manufactory to meet the demand would thus be created, and because, by selling directly to the consumer, he is enabled to save to the latter a profit in price. It will be seen, of course, that under this rule application for these articles can only be made in person, or by letter, at Mr. Spear's warerooms, No. 116 Market street.

We may state, in conclusion, that, as stores are hought not to last for a season, but for years, it is wisdom and economy to buy the best. We, therefore, recommend the Spear article referred to, as in all human probability there will be no material, improve the next ten years, at least. Their character for durability has also been established as unrivalied.

SERMON IN BEHALF OF THE POOR .--- To-morrow (Sunday) at 10% o'clock A. M., the Rev. Dr. Mc-Caurey is abnounced to preach a charity sermon in St. Patrick's Church, in behalf of the poor of St. Patrick's patriab. Dr. McCaffrey is an elequent minister, of the Catholic faith, and his sermon will be worth hearing. This church is located on Twentieth street, below Locust. E. G. LAMPS FOR BURNING KEROSENE OIL .--- In this branch of our manufactures, Messrs. Witters & Co, No. 35 North Eighth street, corner of Filbert, are unrivalled. Their lamps are justly taking the place of all other portable lights in use, both for public and private edifices. The finest Oils, also, are always kept on hand

by this firm PURE LIQUORS FOR MEDICINAL PURPOSES .-Mr. C. H. Mattson, dealer in fine grosseries, Arch and Tenth streets, has constantly on hand, expressly for the se of invalids, a stock of pure old liquors. His superior Brandles, and Port, Shorry, and Madelra wines, are ordered from all parts of the city and country for this purpose. He keeps only the finest qualities, warranted nuine, and of the highest purity. MISS EMMA HARDINGE WILL LECTURE ON the "Declaration of Independence," at Sansom Street

Hall, this evening. To CURE BAD FITS .-- Get your coat cut by Mons. Seynare, and your pantaloons by Powers, the celebrated cutters at Charles Stokes' One Price Clothing Store, under the "Continental," and you will not be combled with bad fits again for some time ; certainly not while that suit lasts you. NIMROD was the first founder of a kingdom, 2245 B. C. Mizraim built cities in Egypt, and was the first who assumed the title of king in that division of the rth. Sani was the first Kiug of Israel, 1095 B. C. Most of the Grecian States were governed by kings; and kings first ruled in Rome. The Philadelphia public are indebted to Granville Stokes, the Fashloner and Clothier, as the originator of the Renowned Clothing Temple, at No. 609 Chestnut street, where garments of the latest styles can lways be obtained on the most reasonable terms.

SLIDELL AND FAMILY-THE BEAU-MONDE .-Accounts from Europe represent that Mr. Slide I and family have set up a fine establishment in Paris, and are fully recognized as part and parcel of the beau-monde Paris is full of refugees from all countries, and all that is needed for them to get social position is accomplishment and wealth. Slidell sneaks French like a native, but he cannot command aufficient English to say one word in praise of the flegant garments made for military men and civilians at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Bockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth. The mention of such a loyal establishment would blister his treacherous tongue.

SPECIAL NOTICES.
SALUTATION TO SPRING.
BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.
Though thy graniture of flowers,
In this chilly clime of ours,
Thou delay'st to wear so long,
"Gentle Spring !"

Though thy forehead is embossed With a figure-work of frost, I will hail thee with a song. " Gentle Spring !" "Gentle Spring" I still will name thee,

Though I might with reason blame thee For a temper somewhat shrewd, " Gentle Spring !" And methinks thy breeze-struck harp Has a note too shrift and sharp,

And thy voice is harsh and rude, "Gentle Spring !" Hasten, Spring, and change thy humor, Change thy dress and be a bloomer. Deck thyself with many a flower "Gentle Spring !" And let all who feel a passion To be dressed in fine Spring fashion Come to greet thee at the TOWER, "Gentle Spring !" . Mr. Edward M. Needles has opened a new store o. 1024 Thestnut street, for the sale of Linens, White s, Laces. Embroideries, and other goods denominate ler this head. The plan of this house A essentially erent in many respects from any other in the trade, ng confined to what in retailing is a specialty. The pose of Mr. Needles, (who was loog connected in the house of M. L. Hallowell & Co., in the ity of buyer in this department.) is to create emporium for the sale of these goods in a delphin at retail, at about the same prices His present stock, and to which he is making con additions, either by importation, or purchases in nction rooms, is rich and varied, and the few days he opened have found his store thronged with cusers. Mr. Needles, we may state in this councerton, ably assisted in his enterprise by Mr. Edward Ferand favorably known in this community by his connection with the house of Price, Ferrie, & Co. ct that both these gentlemen are thoroughly
