THE CITY. Charity Hospital.

Philadelphia, to long famed for her charitable institu-tions, seems still to maintain her pre-eminence in that regard, if we may judge from the continued efforts, on the part of her benevolent citizens, to meet the increasing demands upon their charitable assistance in a thousand by voluntary contributions, our charities are a source . wondernent to the stranger, who is surprised that we do so much and so well. The Charity Hospital, to which we would call the attention of the public, promises to take position in the first rank of our benevolent institutions. Founded in 1857, by some philanthropic gentle-men, and dependent wholly upon the individual offerings men, and dependent wholly upon the individual obserings of a few, it has struggled alone, dispensing its benefits to all who applied with as liberal a hand as its limited resources would allow. Its design presents the merits of a general and tring-in hospital, as well as those of a hospital for specialties. Following the mode adopted in Europe, medicine is divided there into several departments, each one of which is under the charge of a different physician, who has a ward or wards allotted and ferent physician, who has a ward or wards allotted and prepared for the peculiar treatment of his specialty. This plan, successfully carried out, must result in great benefit to the community in not only affording those who may apply for aid the advantages of a more speedy relief and cure, but also of creating a profitable school of medicine, wherein the student can acquire a more thorough knowledge of each department of practical medicine by carefully observing the large number and great variety of each class of diseases which may successively present thenselves. then selves.

An extensive field is here presented them to exercise their Christian philanthropy, and certainly great results, both to the suffering and themselves, would follow its generous and active cultivation. It is to be re-gretted that other hospitals do not provide for this class, and that no other resorts than the charity hospital and almhouse exist where the poor female may find retire at that anxious period. almhouse exist where the poor female may find retrie at that anxious period.

Funds are greatly needed to enable its officers to commence the work of improvement so long desired, in order to put it in a state of perfect efficiency. A hospital of grand proportions, and med-lled according to the original design, would be a noble monument to our benevolence, and would be the source of inappreciable good to the poor of our city. It is under the direction of zealous and actentive physicians, and the ladies composing the Ladies Board deserve great credit for the attention and active zeal they have shown in its recent management. No ceal they have shown in its recent management. No charity claims more earnestly or justly the sympathy and support of our citizens than this, and it is truly to be recent that the sympathy and support of our citizens than this, and it is truly to be support of our citizens than this, and it is truly to be hoped that every one who can spare something, whether little or much, will donate it to the Charity Hospital. Articles serviceable in an hospital might sometimes be given more easily than money. Those who could thus give are requested to send contributions to the Charity Hospital, Buttonwood below Broad. Donations in money and annual contributions will be gratefully received by Mrs. H. Overman, Secretary of Ladies' Board, 1629 Green street; or, Mrs. John W. Forney, 618 Locust street.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE M. E. ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE IM. Mr.
CHUBCH.—FOURTH DAY.—Conference opened on Saturday morning, at the usual hour, Bishop Morris in the chair. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the galleries were not as crowded as usual. The religious exercises were conducted by Rev. Joehus Humphries.
The case of local preuchers, who are recommanded by the laity for deacons orders, was called up, and the following were elected to local deacons' orders:
Mr. John Field, recommended by the Trinity Church

Mr. Thompson was elected to the office of elder.

The Committee on the State of the Country, through Rev. C. Cook, D. D., presented the following majority report, signed Joseph Castle, James Neill, W. McCoombs, (with the exception of the fifth resolution,) Allen Johns,

Resolved, 1st. That while we disclaim all connection with political parties, yet as loyal ministers, in Conference assembled, we do hereby express our utter ablorrence and opposition to the present rebellion as being the offspring of treason, and the instrument of the destruction of the best Government of the world.

Resolved, 2d. That the army and the navy have our deepest sympathy and fervent prayers, and that we pledge our influence to encourage and assist them in their noble and righteous deeds to maintain the honor of our flag, the integrity of the Constitution, and the restoration and maintenance of our glorious Union.

the Christian Anteriser and Journal, and that other papers circulating within our bounds be requested to copy.

The Rev. P. Coombe presented a substitute for both papers, recognizing the United States Government as ordained of God, and that only the action of the people can dissolve the Union; announcing the loyalty of the M. E. Church; declaring that all grievances may be redressed under the Constitution; endorsing the policy of the Administration and the prosecution of the war. Further, the resolutions declare as follows:

5. That we specially approve the position taken by the President, that "this rebellion is the robellion of individuals, and not the rebellion of States;" that the Constitution being the supreme law of the land, no State has the right to withdraw from the Union, and therefore, the action of State officers to effect this object is a usurpation of the State, nor destroy its rights under the Constitution.

6. That as the constitutional right of a State cannot be destroyed by the illegal action of its officers, nor by the rebellion of its citizens, the General Government cannot considiutions by interfere with the domestic affairs of any such State. But, as slavery, which is controlled by not constitutionally interfere with the domestic affairs of any such State. But, as slavery, which is controlled by the States where it exists, has been made the occasion of this war, the General Government may co-operate with such States for the removal of this evil from the land. We, therefore, do most cordially unite with the President in raying, "That the United States ought to co-operate with any State which may adopt a gradual abolishment of slavery, giving to such State pecuniary aid, to be used by such State, at its discretion, to compensate for the inconvenience, public and private, produced by such change of system."

7. That the President deserves, and shall receive, our most hearty support in his wise and firm resistance to the measures of the filtra-Abolitionists on the one hand, and to pro-slavery Secessionists on the other.

S. That the success which has lately attended the efforts of our brave and loyal soldiers not only proves the skill of those who planned the campaign, but it furnishes cause of devout gratitude to Almighty God, who has caused them to triumph over the enemies of the Union

A man as cool its ordained that civil rulers shall not only be "a praise to them that do well," but also that they shall be "the ministers of God to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil," the Government, in order to fulfil its divine mission, should not only protect loyal men, wherever found, but it should also bring to just and certain punishment the leaders in this most wicked recertain punishment the leaders in this most wicked rebellion.

10. That as Christian ministers, we will most ardently pray that the President, his Cabinet, and both Henses of Congrees, together with all who are in authority, may be so guided and controlled by Divine Wisdom that the rebellion may soon be put down, and that peace be restored to our distracted country.

The consideration of the whole subject was made the order of the day for Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Appeal Court, in the case of Thomas Stoward, roported that they have remanded the case back for a new

the "Haymakers" will be performed.

STARVING WAGES.—A few days since, during a legal examination before Alder can account it was stated that the plaintiff, a sewing woman, received seven and a half cents per pair from the defendant, a contractor, for making canton flannel drawers, the same kind for which twelve cents were paid at the United States arsenal. By working early and late a smart hand may finish three pairs per day, but ordinary sewers cannot make more than two pairs, which will amount to fitteen cents a day. But the low price was not all; the pay was not for theoming when the work was finished, and the woman had to pawn two pairs of the drawers to obtain enough money for her immediate wants, and these she had to take off the contractors hands at fifty cents each before he would agree to a settlement.

A DIVORCE CASE UPON THE PLEA OF DISLOYALTY.—A curious divorce case transpired last week in Harrisburg, the complainant in which is a Phi-Meet in Marrissing, the complainant in which is a Philadelphian.

It seems that in February, 1860, Miss Katharine Brown, the daughter of a well-known druggist, was united to St. George Henry Hopkins, of Winchester, Va. The match was an uncongenial one, and the petitioner alleges that Hopkins treated her with marked neglect, indifference, and cruelty. He finally forsook her in February last, and has since, it is believed, made allegiance to the Confederate Government. Upon the ground, mainly, of his dialoyalty, the petitioner asks for a full and final divorce. She is corroborated, as to the disloyalty of Hopkins, by Chief L. C. Baker, of the Government detective police. and final divorce. She is corroborated, as to the disloyalty of Hopkins, by Chief L. C. Baker, of the Government detective police.

The petition of Mrs. Hopkins is explicit as to details, and marrates many incompatibilities of disposition and sentiment. She says, for example, that "on the 20th December, 1860, we had a discussion upon the speech of Thos. R. Colb. of Georgia, when my husband argued his Secession riews with such violence as to cause me great faintness and illness. He seemed to regret his violence, professed repentance, and, with a show of great lava for my mother and mysself, threw saide his objections to my going to visit my parents in his absence. He left for Virginia on the 22d December, 1860, and did not return until the 4th of January, 1861, when he passed through the city and went first to Germantown to his mother, where he remained several hour—thus passing by without any knowledge or inquiry as to my condition, having been without any intelligence from me for five or six days. He had especial dislike to my habits of care for expenditure, and neglected no opportunity to ridicule and condemn them."

Again: "He strove constantly to impress me with distruct of my menial capacity, and to impress me much and condemn them."

District Attorney main cancer up the case of Joseph Kunzman, charged with illegal voting at Camp Kalorama, District of Columbia. Kunzman is a member of Col. Ballier's Regiment, and it was alleged that he voted without being naturalized. After the defendant have been arraigned, Mr. F. C. Brewster, his counsel, filed the following denury: raigned, hir. F. C. Brewster, his counsel, filed the following demurrer:

And the said Joseph Kunzman, in his own proper person, comes into court here, and having heard the said indictment read, says that the said indictment and the matters therein contained, in manner and form as the same, as above stated and set forth, are not sufficient in law, and that he is not bound by the law of the land to answer for the same, and this he is ready to verify; wherefore, for want of sufficient indictment in this behalf, he prays indgment, and that by the court he may be dismissed, and discharged from the same premises in the said indictments specified.

And the said defendant, according to the statute in such cases made and provided, specifies the following as his causes of demurrer: That the forty-third section of the act of Assembly, passed July 2, 1839, referred to in said indictment, is unconstitutional and void.

That said section is in conflict with the first section of the third article of the Constitution of this Commonvealth.

That said section does not authorize an election to be That said section toes not audiculate an electron that had outside of the State of Pronsylvania.

That said section has been repealed. That said law is in conflict with the Constitution of the United States.

To this Mr. Mann presented a rejoinder, and the case of the legislation in Pennsylvania, on the subject of the lective franchise. In 1799, the Constitution of the State contained a provision in the first section of article three, that every fremman of the age of twenty-one years, lraying resided in the State two years before the election, and within that time paid a State or county tax, shall enjoy the rights of had resided in the particular district where he offered to vote.

The legislation kept pace with the Constitution, for, in 1873, the Legislature enacted that volunteers in the service should be entitled to vote. That might be regarded as constitutional, for the Constitution of 1790 contained no reference to districts. The amended Constitution went into operation on the 1st of January, 1839, and upon the 2d of July, 1839, the Legislature passed a consolidated election law, and, in the forty-third section, they saw fit to copy the section of the law of 1813. This was clearly an accident.

Mr Brewster then addressed himself to the question of domicile or residence, and cited authorities to establish

Mr. Mam, in reply, took the ground that the "district" was no part of the qualification of an elector.

The qualifications are, that he shall be a white freeman; next, of the age of 21 years; and next, that he shall have raid a tar.

RAILROAD MATTERS.—An unusual number of raitroad bills and supplements relative to Philadelphia engross the attention of Philadelphia. The House of Representatives has authorized the transportation of freight and passengers over the Fifth and Sixth-streets road between the Baltimore and New York depots. The bill has yet to pass the Scnate. The removal of the Broad-street Railway meets with some opposition from the forwarding merchants of that locality. A bill has passed the House prohibiting locomotives from coming into the city farther than Gray's Ferry, and there is also a bill pending for the opening of Fitteenth street, which, if it passes, will cut the large depot completely in two.

On Saturday morning a serious accident occurred on the North Pennsylvania Railroad, at Dauphin street. As a passenger train was approaching the crossing, the engineer observed a horse and wagon about crossing the track. All efforts to avoid a collision proved of no avail. The wagon was struck by the locomotive, and completely demolished. The vehicle was occupied by Mrs. Anna L. Davenport, who was seriously injured.

LIFE IN THE RICHMOND PRISON. We ave obtained from William H. Cloanaker, Esq., of this city, recently released from the tobacco warehouse at Richmond, many interesting items relative to the many risoners confined with himself. During their impriso ent, 111 deaths occurred. Confined with our soldiers were a number of Southerners, who were suspected of being Union men. One of this class, Daniel Witcher, was a native of Wayne county, Virginia, and was quite n intelligent old man, 25 years of age. A rebel offi er in charge told cur informant that Witcher acted as a guide to our army in Western Virginia, and for this had been arrested He was repeatedly offered his freedom provided he would take the oath of allegiance to the Confederate States, but he always most persistently refused. The old man died in prison on the 4th of last month. There were numerous other citizens confined in Southern prisons who would not prove false to the Union

We give below a number of the rules and regulations by which the Union prisoners were gove ned after the removal of Lieut. Todd, a rebel officer, who, it is said, subjected our men to the most inhuman treatment. The prisoners during their confinement organized two associations—one composed of officers known as the "Bichmend Prison Association," and the other of privates, called the "Union Prison Association." The former was presided over by Alfred Ely, and the latter by Alex. J. McCleary, who has been appointed a second lieutenant since his release.

OPENING EXERCISES OF THE ARCHSTREET M. E. CHURCH.—For some years the subject of opening a church for the Methodist form of worship on Arch street has been agitated by different prominent gentiemen connected with that denomination in this city, and at one time the matter had gone so far that a site, upon which a church could be erected, was selected. But this, like other attempts at the same conclusion, fell through on account of a lack of intexest being manifested by some of those who had the matter in hand, and the subject at length became a matter of the past,
and by some was considered entirely lost, until a few young gentlemen again brought the subject before their respective congregations a few months since. Their offorts were cheouraged by men of means in the church, who assured them of their support, and the gentlemen set about their undertaking with conside able zeal, and on Saturday afternoon last the second-story room of the building situated on the northeast corner of Broad and Arch was announced as the "Arch-streat M. E. Church," and was thrown open for the inspection of the public.
The room is beautifully fitted up, with an eye to neatness and comfort, and an invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Yesterday morning the church was crowded to its utmost capacity, and many were compelled to go away, there not being sufficient room for their secommodation.
The exercises were opened by singing the hymn—

"From all that dwell below the skies, Let the Creator's praise arise."

After prayer the meeting was addressed by the Rev.
J. P. Durbin, from Luke xv: 10—" Likewise I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repentorh."

The speaker said that he had chosen this tegt as the one most suitable for the occasion, as it was the precurscry idea to deep and sublime thought and labor. His remarks were listened to throughout with great attention. OPENING EXERCISES OF THE ARCHremarks were instened to throughout with great attention.

The services of the afternoon were opened by singing, which was followed by the Rev. Wesley Kenney taking the chair, and a prayer from the Rev Franklin Moore, A. M., after which the Bev. Francis Hudson was called upon by the chairman for an address. He congratulated them for having undertaken such a glorious work, and hoped that its philanthropic efforts might be crowned with undying glory and success. Mr. Hudson was followed by the Hev. Dr. Holich, of Naw York. He spoke of Philadelphia being his native city, and recollected when there were but four of the Methodist faith in the city. He spoke of their proximity to the Baptist church, and said that their churches could not interfere one with the other. They could go on in the good work, and ro could the new church they were then founding, the field of labor was one common field in which all could labor, and each one could help the other in the good work.

The speaker was followed by the Rev. Francis Moore, ork.
The speaker was followed by the Rev. Francis Moo The speaker was followed by the Rev. Francis Moore, and others, after which a meeting of those who wished to become scholars or teachers was called, and the foundation for a Sabbath-school was laid.

In the evening, a sermon was delivered by the Rev. Theodore Stevens to a crowded house.

It is understood that the Conference, now sitting in this city, will appoint a pastor for the church this week.

The Rev. Alfred Cookman will preach at this church on Wednesday evening next, the 28th inst.

ENDORSEMENT OF PRESIDENT LINGOLA'S EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION.—The emancipation views of President Lincoln, as stated in his late proclamation, have been endorsed by the Republicans of this city. The Convention of this party met at the County Gourt House, on Salurday evening. Mr. Wm. J. Wainwright presided. The following resolutions were offered and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Bepublican Convention of the city and county of Philadelphia, in common with the masses of our fellow-citizens, respond with heartfelt eagerness to the sentiments—and in the discharge of a duty which we, as Republicans, owe to its national and historic importance, declare our unanimous and unqualified approval of—the recent special message of Abraham Lincoln upon the question of emancipation, as one of the most efficient means of self-preservation at the hands of the National Government, recognizing, as we do, the wisdom, honesty of purpose, and love of country which, under Providence, have guided the President in his views and purposes, as expressed in this admirable State paper.

Resolved, That the people look to Congress for practical, speedy, and a crygelic co-operation in the policy thus indicated; not doubting the largest measure of benefit to, be derived, South as well as North, in the extinguishment of every obstacle which lies in the way of the nation's peace, and the permanent re-establishment of the national authority over the whole country.

Stephen N. Winslow, reporter, 1241 Second street. STATEMENT OF A DESERTER FROM A REBEL REGIMENT.—On Saturday a young man named W. H. Nolen, enlisted as a private in the cavalry regiment of Col. B. Butter Price, having deserted on the 18th instant from the rebel army at Acquia creek. He states, that himself and two others, members of the Third Regiment North Carolina State troops, left camp and struck through the woods until they arrived at Acquia creek. They boated across to Pratt's Point, carried the boat with them about two miles, to the Potentia, launched sgain, and rowed up the river until they got opposite a camp of rebel cavalry, when they were halled and fired at with carblines. They told the reb I cavalry they were leaving, and gave them a few farewell shots with a Sharps' rifle. They soon met the United States steamer l'ankee, which brought them to Washington, as per Wednesday's news. When they left the rebels, they were about moving the other way, but as they were not allowed to see the newspapers since the Bull Run fight, they know nothing of the doings below. STATEMENT OF A DESERTER FROM A

ROBBERY ON A FREIGHT CAR.-Mr. Amos Wickard, conductor of freight cars between Harrisburg and Philadelphia, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, last Friday night missed from one of his cars the sum of one hundred dollars, consisting of five twenty-dollar gold pieces. The robbery was at once charged upon two men, said to be brakesmen upon the road, who, by permission of Mr. Wickard, rode on the car from Philadelphia, and who had mysteriously disappeared shortly after the train strived in Harrisburg. They were pursued, and the monthy recovered.

INTELLIGENCE IN COURT -On Satur-ANTELLIGENCE IN COURT — On Saturary, in the Quarter Sessions, there was rather an amusing instance of ignorance shown, in the case of a woman who could not recollect the dates of the most important events of her life. Her son had enlisted, and she was seeking to secure his discharge, upon the ground of minority. While she was sure he was only seventeen years of age, she could not tell when he was born. Judge Allison endeavored to obtain the needed information by interrogating her upon other subjects, but she could not tell when she was married, nor how long after her marriage the son in question was born. Judge Allison refused to discharge the young man.

AN ELOQUENT SERMON .- The congre-AN ELOQUENT SERMON.—The congregation worshiping at St. Patrick's Church, Twentieth shreat, hear Locust, were, yesterday, entertained by an eloquent sermon from Rev. Father McCaffrey, the well-known and highly-respected president of Mount St. Mary's College, Emmetsburg, Maryland. It was delivered by request of the St. Rose's Society, a charitable organization of the church. The sermon was based upon the twenty-first chapter of St. Matthew, and was throughout, an earnest exhortation for the oxercise of Christian charity, which he characterized as the key that unlocks the everlasting gates of heavon. The discourse was earnest and eloquent, and made a deep impression on the listeners. We understand that, to morrow. (Feast of the Annunciation.) Father McCaffrey will preach at the Calbedral Chapel.

RELIGIOUS AID FOR THE SOLDIERS .-KELIGIOUS AID FOR THE SOLDIERS.—
Last evening a meeting was held under the auspices of the Young Mon's Christian Association, at St. Paul's M. E. Church, in Catharine street, above Sixth. The meeting was held for the purpose of soliciting money for the purchase of literature for the soldiers now in the service of the country. Correspondence from the different camps, respecting the faith of the soldiers, was read by Mr. Neifl, and a patriotic and feeling address was delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. Walker Jackson.

PRISONERS FOR FORT WARREN .-Deputy Marshal John Jenkins and associates took the crev of the privateor Beauregard, numbering twenty-seven men, who were brought to this city on Wednesday last men, who were brought to this city on Wednesiay last, in the United States steamer Khode Island to Fort Warren on Saturday morning. They left the Kensington depot at half past nine o'clock. The prize-crew, who were brought here with them, will be detained for a few days, until it is ascertained whether or not they will be needed as witnesses in the trial, and if not they will be discharged. Marshal Millward, we believe, accompanied the deputation.

MATTERS ALONG THE WHARVES .-The laborers, stevedores, and custom-house officers are husy to-day, unloading and inspecting the cargoes of a fleet of vessels that a rived here on Friday and Saturday. Winds have retarded the coming of sails this side of the Breakwater, but favorable gates expedited them on Fri day, and vestels were still coming in yesterday, many o them from fereign ports. PHILADELPHIA BOARD OF TRADE. THOMAS KIMBER, JR., COMMITTEE OF THE MONTE. ISRAEL MORRIS, JOSEPH C. GRUBB.

SANTARY COMMISSION,
CENTRAL OFFICE, WASHINGTON, March 15, 1862.
Recent movements have much reduced the reserve stock of supplies at the depots of the Commission, and at the present rate of issue they will soon be exhausted. It is, therefore, necessary to ask that renewed and increased contributions should be made, especially of the articles enumerated below.

Waste will be avoided by sending, in all cases, to the nearest depot of the Commission. All requests for supplies made to local secieties or individuals should be referred to the Associate Secretary of the Commission nearest the point of demand, who will be able to need them more promptly, and at less expense, than they can be met from other sources.

GLUTEN CAPSULES PURE COD-LIVER OIL4.

The repugnance of most patients to COD-ENFER OIL and the inability of many to take it at all, has induced various forms jof disguise for its administration that are familiar to the Medical Profession. Some of them answer in special cases, but more often theywhice neutralizes the usual effect of the Oil, proving quite as unpalatable and of less therapeutic value—The repugnance, nauses, &c., to invalide, induced by disguist & the Oil, is entirely ohviated by the use of our OAPSULES. OOD-LIVEB OIL OAPSULES have been much used lately in Europe, the experience there of the goodressults from their use in both hospital and private practice, saide from the naturally suggested advantages, are sufficient to warrant our claiming the virtues we do for them, feeling assured their use will result in benefit and deserved favor.
