An act relative to the limits of Ocwigsburg, Schuylkill CORM), was passed.

A supplement to the act incorporating the North Philadelphia Plank-road Company was considered.

Mr. DENNIS opposed the bill, and reviewed the history of the organization. In 1868, the plank road had its charter changed, but it was not published until 1800. From that thue to this, every Legilacure has been called on to do sumething for the concern. The partles who constructed the work entered into it as a speculation, and, having tost, now come to Harrisburg for pecuniary aid: aid.
Mr. DUFFIELD declared that it was strange that anyone so recently from the high exercise of the Gospel should stand up in the House and object to relieving a poor man, whose means had all been sunk in the enterprise, and who had been robbed. The road was accessed and who had been robbed. prise, and who had been robbed. The road was actually needed, and the act was but rendering simple justice to the unfortunate.

nister of the gospel in the Baptist church, took place at Buttonwood streets The church was well filled with a formance of the chair rendered still more impressive the by the Rev. Dr. Jeffries reading a portion of the Scripmanner in which he should conduct himself. He should be pure, and fond of neither wine or any other vices common to mankind, but must be pure and holy. Neither should be preach for fifthy lucre, but shall be pure and boly in every respect.

Dr. Jeffries, the pastor of the church, chose his text from Paul's Second Epistle to the Corinthians: tx., v. the Lord, and ourselves for your servant, for Jesu right in the eyes of the Lord and his fellow-man. The true minister works not for himself, but for the salvation of the souls of mankind. He works not for his salvation of the souls of mankind. He works not for his own advantage, but for all. Paul did not consider slaves as we have been considering them: men to be put up and sold to the highest bidder, upon the auxion block. No, Paul ment no such thing. The minister of Obrist is not a servant. Paul did not consider himself as anch, nor does ha meetion is either of his epistles to the Corinthians that he was a servant, but he might have considered himself more in authority than as a servant to his fellow men. This authority also belonged to his Corinthian brethren, for their obedience to Titus. The same doctrine would hold good with the ministers of the closes! The duty of a minister of the Cospal is in obeying his God, and he should device himself a servant in the field of labor, not for the advancement of his own personal case, but for the good of his people. He said that he was always sorry to hear ministers asy that they did not care to preach in this church because it was poor, nor in that church, because its congregation was not so learned as some other, and closed his remarks with an earnest appeal and exhortation for the ministry of God's words by the young man who was about entering upon the field of usefulness.

At the conclusion of the sermon, the ordination prayer was delivered by the Rey. Mr Castle, after which the charge to the young minister was delivered by the Rey. Joseph Kennard.

The hand of followship was given by the Rey. Heat Smith, who said that his task was a measure one and The hard of fellowship was given by the Rev. Hyatt

$2.75, without sales. The hand of followship was given by the Rev. Hyatt Smith, who said that his task was a pleasant one, and that he was pleased to be able to welcome his young brother to the field of labor. He compared the brave soldiers, who had gone forth to put down rebellion, to the young preacher, and said that both had gone, and were going, forth in a glorious cause.

After the reverend gentleman had shook the hand of welcome, which completed his ordination, a beautiful selection was performed by the choir, after which the doxology was sting, the benedletton pronounced, and the church dismissed by the newly-ordained minister.

The Temperance Committee's report of their labors The Temperance Committee's report of their labors during the past year was presented and adopted. The report of the Committee on Periodica s was read, and gave rise to a debate of over two hours in length on the question as to whether literature that was published outside of the control of the church, although conforming to the rules and regulations of the church, should receive the sanction of the Confevence.

What gave rise to most of this litigation was concerning the publication of the Methodist, a paper represented to have been started by private enterprise in New York, through which it is thought that the question of slavery should be promulgated, and to obtain the patronage of the Philadelphia Conference with the utilinate design of obviating the anti-slavery power of the Christian Ad-

The second Conference was held in 1774, and the third in 1775, which makes the Philadelphia Conference seat the oldest one in America and the Mother Conference, and the Conference now in session is properly the seventy-fifth of the Methodist Episcopal Church. pal Church.

The following named gentlemen were elected as trustees for the centenary fund: Joseph Cox and William Armstrong. Trustee for educational fund—A. W Milby.

The Missicnary report was then taken up and read. It stated that more money had been raised for missionary purposes during the past year, than had been during the preceding year. The announcement of the fact was received with approbation by the members. The Doxology was then sung, and the meeting adjourned.

wants of this hospital. Besides the choicest wines and brandies which have been donated, they have also been supplied with an abundance of under-clothes, so that every patient can receive a clean suit as often as is necessary, which adds greatly to the comfort and health of the patients. They trust that such applies will be continued. While the Government furnishes a full supply of the most substantial necessaries, there are a thou-and ways in which ladies, moved by patriotic motives, may show their kindnoss and their loyalty to their country, and may demonstrate that they feel it a privilege to contribute some token of resect to those who have suffered hardships, who have sacrificed all the comforts and endeaments of home, to protect our peaceful city from the ravages of cruel invasion. It is only just to say of the surgeon in charge, that donations made for any other motive would not be accepted. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

CITY ITEMS. FINE SCOTCH ALES AND LONDON BROWN Brour.-Mr. C. H. Mattson, dealer in fine family groceries, Arch and Tenth streets, has now on hand a fine lot of Scotch Alex and London Brown Stout, of the nures uslity, adapted for inval ds or table use, to which w invite the attention of our readers. We may state that on account of their ascertained purity, these articles have been highly recommended by some of our first physicians A New Science.—The matter of running sway has been reduced to a science by the rebels. At Tankees, they got a train ready, and as soon as they were whipped, they jumped into the cars, and ran off at th rate of twenty miles an hour. That heats Floyd's style which bas at length arrived at as much perfection as the elegant styles of Spring Clothing manufactured by Granville Stokes, at his Mammoth Temple of Fashion, No. 609 Chestnut street, where the finest and cheapest garments in the country can be obtained.

Exit Jeff!—The arch-traitor Jeff Davis informs his loving subjects that he is going West, for the purpose of taking command of the rebel army in person The next move will be a stampede for Mexico, and then a back-out to Europe, leaving his dupes to settle account with Uncle Sam. It would be true patriotism in Jeffer son to leave his country for his country's good; but we would prefer that he should take his departure by the hempen line. If the record of the past eightee conths could be wiped out, we would be content to allow lefferson to live and die in his own Mississippi, growin leek and fat upon hog and hominy, and making himsel look, at least, like a gentleman, by wearing garments from the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Bockhill & Wilon, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth. FATALITY OF UNIFORMS .- It would appear from numerous observations made by military writers that soldiers are hit during battle, according to the color of their dress, in the following order: Red, the most fatel: the least fatal. Austrian gray. The proportions are! Red, 12; rifle green, 7 brown, 6; Austrian bluis gray, 5. Thus we see how unwise has been the adoption of the gay and fanciful uniforms by some of our regiments at the commencement of the war. Of course, it is only necessary to consult these statistics in reference to our dress as soldiers; but, as civilians, we are only influ enced by taste. Beautiful garments, of all shades of colors, and of all descriptions, for Spring wear, are now offered at Charles Stokes' "One Price," under the Con-
