News from Rebel Papers. CHICAGO, April 1 .- The Tribune's special despatch dated Cairo, to-day, sava: Memphis papers, of the 27th. and the Charleston Mercury, of the 22d ult., have been received. President Davis, in secret session, has advised the Confederate Congress that the prisoners released by the Yankee Government on parole be absolved from their oaths, and be allowed to take part in the struggle for independence. He urged it as a retaliation for the infamous and reckless breach of faith exhibited by Lincoin in the excennge of prisoners. Memphis is being made to raise troops by conscription. Editors and compositors are not to be exempt except for The New Orleans Delta, of the 20th, referring to the gallantry exhibited by Captain Resker in defence of Island No. 10, says: One single battery has thus far nustained the brunt of the bombardment, republising the Federal gunboats and sending one of them back to Calto Crippled for repairs. The Memphis Appeal says the recent reverses of the Confederate army are nerving them with new faith, confidence, and hope, and it entertains no doubt of the ulti-A Foundling -The officers of the First ward found a new-born infant yesterday evening, at the corner of Broad and Eil-worth streets. New York, April 1, 1862. TCorrespondence of The Press.] Emulating the example of the hospital surgeons of the city, who held a meeting for the same purpose a few days ago, the "Sons of New England" met on Monday evening, at the Fifth-avenue Hotel, to take measures for the relief of our sick and wounded soldiers during their short stay in our city. A very large meeting assembled in the splendid dining room of the hotel, many ladies being prement. After organization, a resolution was prose sing the appointment of a committee to procure a place for a temporary hospital, and to take such other measures as might be deemed necessary. After much sion as to the exact wording of the resolution, it was finally passed, and the committee appointed. was finally passed, and the committee appointed.

The State of Maine has appointed Dexter A. Hawkins, of No. 10 Wall street, its agent to relieve all invalid or necessitous soldiers belonging to the Maine regiments who may arrive in this city.

The new postmaster, the Hon. Abram Wakeman, enters upon his office to-day. It is understood that one of his first duties will be to reorganize the carriers' department, which certainly needs some reformation. I understand that Mr. Taylor will resume his former position of assistant positions for the contract of that Mr. Taylor will resume his former position of assist-nant posimastor.

The marine losses for March have been very heavy, aggregating 77 vessels, of which one was a steamer, thir-teen were ships, thirteen were barks, eleven were brigs, thirty-seven were scheoners, one was a sloop, and one a steaming. Of this number twenty-five were abandoned at eas, including five ships; two sunk after collision; one was burned; two foundered; one was captured by the privateer Nashville, and burned; twenty-one are missing—no doubt lost—and fifteen were lost by going sahore, etc. Eashore, etc. and Fifth New York Volunteers, The One Hundred and Fifth New York Volunteers, Colonel Fuller, has received marching orders, and was to leave Rochester yesterday. This is the last regiment raised in the State. The work of recruiting was commenced about the 18th November, and in less than three mouths over seven hundred men were gathered into the Barracks. mouths over seven hundred men were gathered into the barracks.

Shorliv after eleven o'clock, last night, the chemical laboratory of Lvuis M. Dornback. corner of Fittieth street and Broadway, was burned. A terrible explosion was the first intination of the disaster. This shook the buildings for several blocks. A volume of red and blue flame shot up at least one hundred and fifty feet high from the building in which the explosion occurred, and at the same time beams, rafters, and huge plees of masoury were hurled through the air a distance of several hundred yards. It is not known that any person was in the building at the time of the explosion, and, as yet, no traces of human remains have been found.

The transport steamer Oriental arrived here to-day, from Port Royal, South Caroline, bringing news to the 28th of March. On the 30th, off Cape Hatteras, the Oriental passed the steamers Ericsson and Marion, bound south. The ship Wm. Cummings was going into Port Boyal as the Oriental came out. On the outward trip, when off Charleston, the Oriental was fired at by the steamship Florida, one of the blockading fleet, having been mietaken for the Isabel. McElroy's Bank-Note Reporter, published at Chicago, in the last two or three numbers quotes this money at par, but Thompson's and other responsible reporters quote the bank closed, and say they do not buy the notes, from which it is reasonable to suppose they are not worth anything. We know that lest fall notes on this bank were not taken at par in Chicago, nor could they be sold to any of the leading banks in that city at any price. Probably they are no better now. There is no crowd at the Sub-Tressury to-day. The work of paying the coupons on the October 1st treasury-notes goes on very quietly, as most of this issue was taken by the banks, while the first fifty millions of August 19th was chiefly distributed among the public. Over a million dollars of coupons had been deposited at the Sub-Treasury, so that all delay in the payment is removed. The amount of interest to be paid at the New York office will be but little short of $1,800,000.

The business of the New York Assay Office for March was very light. The deposits of gold were only $186,000; of silver $28,000. Gold bars stamped $381,984

BARLEY AND MALT are quiet. BARK.—There is a steady d-mand for Quercitron, with further small receipts and raise at $33.50 $\psi$ ton.

Corrox.—The market is quiet, and prices about the same, the demand, however, is very small.

CROCDEDIES AND PROVISIONS.—There is rather more doing without much of a change in prices. Of the former the sales are mostly confined to Sugar, and of the latter Lard is most in favor, both realizing full rates.

Serds.—The market is quiet, and some further small sales of Clover to note at $5.12 \times 5.25 $\psi$ bu. Nothing doing in Timothy or Flaxsead.

Whisky is unsettled, with sales of bbls at 24\pi25c, this 23\(\frac{1}{2}c\), and drudge, in a small way, at 23c.

CITY ITEMS.

Lecture by Dr. Schaff, on Political Athe-ism, at Handel and Haydn Hall, Last Evening. A lecture was delivered at Handel and Haydn Hall, last evening, by the Rev. Philip Schaff, D. D., on "Political Atheism." The lecture was given in behalf of a church enterprise in this city, of the German Reformed denomination, of which Dr. Schaff is one of the most minent divines in this country, occupying a highprofessorable in one of their principal institutions of learning. Though a German by birth, and strongly so in his accent, his command of the English, speaking extemporaneously, as he did, is remarkable. His lecture was marked with research, great familiarity with our political institutions, sound thought, and considerable humor. He was greeted with a large and flattering au-

After stating his subject, with a few remarks, of an in-After stating his sauget, what a belief in a Doity of C T Cobb, New York some sort was, according to the best ancient and modern authorities, universal; so much so, that he who formed an exception to this rule was a "fool" in leed, as the Pealmist had well said—the more so, as we were surrounded by ten thousand times ten thousand evidences in

But if there were comparatively few theoretical atheists in the world, there were, nevertheless, thousands who were such practically. Especially did this class figure among our politicians. Of course it was necessary to distinguish between the official and individual chara ter of our law-makers, who were but the agents and representatives of the people. God ruled the physical world by laws, and so He might be said to rule the nations of the earth; the human machinery employed being but the instruments employed or sanctioned by Him for executing His purposes. He held that both reason and the Scriptures united in ascribing te God infinitude in his attributes; so that He was everywhere present, at all times, and overruled by His own omnific will the affairs of the world. To deny this, was to degrade God to the character and level of a creature.

the character and level of a creature.

Political atheism worshipped the maxim, "the voice of the people is the voice of God." This was false, inasmuch as it could be clearly demonstrated that the popular voice was frequently the voice of God's worst adversary. It was this latter voice, for example, that had presented the fatal hemich to Athens' greatest philosopher, for denying a plurality of gods. It was this also that had clamored in the streets of Jerusalem, "crucify him!" and we need not go further back than the false voice of the people in a large section of our Union, as exemplified in the history of the present rebellion, to see this maxim completely overthrown. The voice of the people, then, was certainly not always the voice of the people, then, was certainly not always the voice of God. The people were made up of individuals, who, he admitted, in mere secular matters, if their minds were not jperverted by influences brought to bear upon them from without, might arrive at just and correct conclusions upon public questions. But here it was that the institutions influences of the political atheist were often fatally applied. Chieves applied.

He said it required great minds to make great mistakes, and the present rebellion, which he characterized as a most gigantic swindle, furnished a proof of this fact.

One great evil of political atheism was that it justified the right of revolution to an unlimited extent. He did not wish to deny this right allogether—by no means. If it could be demonstrated that a government had ceased to serve the purposes for which it was established, it properly forfeited its existence. There were several prominent cases in modern history which fully justified the extremity of revolution.

First among these, was the uprising of the Netherlands against the intolerable tyrang of Spain. Then came the English revolution in the Seventeenth contury, against the tyrang and hypocrisy of the Stuarts. Another instance in point was the French Revolution, an uprising of the people against a most oppressive tyranty. And even this, from its unwise extremes, had been a partial success, and had pared the way to a military desptism.

The next enumerated was the American Revolution.

a partial success, and had pared the way to a military desptism.

The next enumerated was the American Revolution, to which the precent rebellion had been most absurdly compared. Our forefathers had rised up to oppose it taxation without representation, "whilst the Southern people of this Union had done exactly the reverse, for they had in a great measure had all the representation without taxation. [Laughter.] The present attempted revolution in the South was, he said, the most causeless and unreasonable in the ample of history. revolution in the South was, he said, the most causeless and unreasonable in the annals of history.

The question might well be asked, then, "What are the rebels fighting for?" "Power" replied a man in the audience; but the lecturer evidently misunderstood this word for honor, whereupon, to the amusement of the audience, he told an anecdote of a conversation he had held with a gentleman some months ago, who said that there was a great difference between the principles or which the Notth and South were contending, alleging that, while the former were fighting for honor. This, said the lecturer, reminded him of a conversation once had between a French and a Swiss solder, the Frenchman asking the question, "How is it that you fight for money, while we, Frenchmen, fight for honor !" to which the other replied, that he supposed they were both fighting for the thing which they stood most in need of. This extemporaneous home-thrust was received by the audience as a palpable hit.

The lecturer held that the Constitution of the United extemporaneous home thrust was received by the audience as a palpable hit.

The lecturer held that the Constitution of the United States was not responsible for the political atheism which was now seeking to overthrow it. He then hastily reviewed the different relations which the Church and the State had sustained to each other, as presented to us in ecclesiastical history, from the commencement of the Church are a down to the reserve time. Christian era down to the present time. The proper and only normal relations between the two were those which

GRAND MILLINERY OPENING .- By reference to their card in another column, it will be seen that Messrs. Wood & Cary, No. 725 Chestnut street, will have their first grand opening of Spring Millinery in their "Retail Department" to-morrow, April 3. Mr. Wood is of the old house of Lincoln, Wood, & Nichols whose "openings" in former seasons were chronicled ar and wide as the most britliant and successful given in this city. To the ladies, who are chiefly interested in these semi-annual occasions, we may state that the preparations of Messrs. Wood & Cary, to render their Exhibition" on Thursday as attractive as poss and every way worthy the name and fame of Philadel phia Taste, are on the largest scale, their present stock mbracing every variety of the choicest novelties eithe of Parisian or American production.

TEAS AND COFFEE OF THE BEST QUALITY AT MODERATE PRICES .- Mr. C. H. Mattson, dealer in fine groceries, Arch and Tennh streets, has constantly on hand the best Oolong and other Teas, at moderate prices; also, the best old Government Java Soffee, a most deli cious beverage.

Boys' CLOTHING! Boys' Clothing! Boys' Clothing ! Boys' Clothing ! Boys' Clothing! Boys' Clothing Boys' Clothing! Boys' Clothing! For all ages and at all prices. For all ages and at all prices. For all ages and at all prices.

All styles and all materials. All styles and all materials, All styles and all materials.

At Charles Stokes' First Class Clothing Store, under Continental Hotel. THAT, sir, which serves and seeks for gain,

And follows but for form, Will pack when it begins to rain, And leave thee in the storm. Nothing can be truer than this, when applied to man But its application is lost, when it is made to refer to the elegant and durable styles of Spring Clothing gotten up at the fashionable emporium of Granvilla Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street, where the cheapest and finest garments in the city are produced. APRIL FOOLING .- Yesterday was the first of April, and we heard of a variety of tricks that had been played upon the unwary. Neat packages had been distributed over the sidewalks, well-filled pocket books had been looked at suspiciously, and some wide awake per-sons would even have hesitated to pick up altwenty-dollar gold piece if one had lain in their path. We heard of on cautious individual who refused to read the war news, for fear that a paragraph with a striking heading would enwith a first-rate notice of somebody's 100ds, A circum stance which reminds us of the fact that the best place in the city to purchase elegant and substantial garments in the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Bockhill & Wilson

READ THE FOLLOWING:

I have been a great sufferer for more than twelve years, which was contracted from a disease I took in California gold mines, by great exposure to cold by working in the water; nearly lost my life from inflammation of the lungs; had several attacks. After I returned to this city I had several pulmonary attacks here, some of acute inflammation upon the lungs; was treated by the most eminent medical men, but the cause of my difficulty remained unmoved. No medical man has been able to do me any permanent good by medical treatment. About three weeks ago I had a most severe attack of inflammation upon the lungs; my sufferings were indescribable. I resorted to medical treatment, which seemed to be unavailing, and I seemed rapidly sinking into the arms of death, when I chanced to see J. J. Balley, 219 Market street, who had been cured by Prof. Bollos, of 1220 Walnut street. Mr. Balley sdvised me to see Prof. B. at once, which I did, and in ten minutes (as strange as it may appear) I was perfectly free of my sufferings. At may appear) I was perfectly free of my sufferings. At the time Prof. B. treated me I was suffering with the

the time Prof. B. treated me I was suffering with the most severe spannodic cough, without any expectoration. It seemed I could not live an hour. He has treated me four times since, and I am perfectly relieved. This cure to me is still a wender of wonders. No shocks given; all was pleasant and agreeable.

I would cheerfully invite all of the sick to avail them selves of this new practice. I shall ever feel thankful to Mr. J. J. Bailey for informing me where I could be cured.

DR. A. H. STEVENS—DEAR SIR: I deem it a duty I owe you, and those who are suffering from disease, to state that under your treatment, by ELECTRICITY, for enly a few days, I found great relief from a complication of affictions. Among them was the GRAVEL, with which I suffered over thirty years, and for savaral months provide to my first visit to your office was obliged to use a catheter. The very first treatment relieved me from its further use; the second and third disactive in the control of the savarel months provided to gravel, and restored the urinary functions to a bealthy state. I had also suffered very much from Piles, of which I was entirely relieved. My wife had suffered which I was entirely relieved. My wife had suffered which I was entirely relieved in the urinary functions to a bealthy state. I had also suffered very much from Piles, of which I was entirely relieved. My wife had suffered much from a throat disease, of which she was also cured under your treatment. I am fully convinced that Electricity, in the various new ways you apply it, is destined to effect a great revolution in the cure of disease, and triamphayous all other systems of cure now in use.

ENGLISH ETYMOLOGY,
By HESSLEIGH WEDGWOOD, M. A.,
Late Fellow of Ohr. Coll., Cam.
With Notes and Additions by
HON. GEORGE P. MARSH.
Volume I, (A. D.)
Imperial Octavo. Price, Brown Cloth, $3.

The whole work will probably be completed in two more volumes, uniform with this. The mechanical execution of this work has received unusual care and study. The printing is by Houghton of the "Hiverside Press," and laid paper, delicately thirted, from long primer types, the notes of Mr Marsh being in the same type as the body of the page, but distinguished by brackets and the initial M. The size is the English Imperial Octavo, and the three volumes when completed, can be bound into one without making too bulky a volume.
