Public Amusements. Assembly Builbings.—Arother matinée will be given the Assembly Buildings this afternoon, at which there Bor Engelke's Quartette. All the gorgeous scenes in India, with the most thrilling and effective tableaux of the great insurrection, will be displayed, in all their wondrous effect. Shortly will be produced an excellent picture of the United States steam-battery Monitor. A new picture, descriptive of architecture, will be exhibited WALNET STREET THRATRE .- Mr. J S. Clarke will take a farewell benefit at the Walnut-street Theatre tomight, being the occasion of his last appearance in America. He is the leading American humorist, and his ento be remembered and talked of for years. NAVAL.-Com. J. R. M. Mullany has been ordered to report at Philadelphia, for the command of the United States steamer Bienville.

Sceretary Welles has announted John Sailor, Esq. of the Thirteenth ward, Master Laborer at the navy yard.

Mr. Sailor will enter upon his duties on the 10th of this CITY ITEMS. REMOVAL OF MR. WILLIAM H. RICHARD-SON'S UMBERLIA ESTABLISHMENT.—The old and well-known Umbrella and Parasol establishment of Mr. William H. Richardson has recently been removed to the Southwest corner of Market and Fifth streets, where we find his stock to be even more than usually complete in all its departments. In addition to his elegant stock of these useful articles of his own manufacture, Mr. R. has, as our readers are aware, lately a ided an admirable Military Tent of his own invention, which we are glad to fearn is becoming quite popular. We commend this establishment to the favorable notice of all visiting the city, as well as to residents here who have already made its acquaintance at its former location. OAKFORDS' SPRING STYLES .- The heautiful new Spring Sivies of Hate and Caps just brought out y Mesers. Charles Oakford & Son, under the Contin Hotel, are the subject of universal admiration in fashions. ble circles. This house is evidently determined not to be outdone in taste—hence the pre-eminence they have long maintained at the head of their department. Their elegant salesrooms are sure to present a bus scene to-day. We are authorized to state that their slock of Children's Hats will be complete in a few days. It will be the choicest stock of the kind that they have A POPULAR ESTABLISHMENT.—It is estimated that the popular confectionery house of Messrs. E. G. Whitman & Co., Second street, below Chestnut, is visited by an average of some ten thousand customers a week. The pressure to obtain their delicious, pure, fresh confections is so great, in fact, that one would suppose, n passing their store any day in the week, that it was the day before Christmas. Their fine tar and other pre ions for colds, choice cream chocolates, and emel of various flavors, are known to everybody, or at least they ought to be. "THE JAYNE'S HALL CRAVAT STORE."-

In another column of our paper to-day, the reader will find a spley Card of Mr J. Albert Eshleman, vindicating himself as the original proprietor of the "Jayne's Hall Cravat Store," which he claims to have established in 1857. It appears that another party has made an effort to rob him of his laureis. From our own knowledge of the point in controversy, we are bound to say that Mr. J. A. Eskleman is what he claims to be, the founder, and proprietor of the J. H. C. S. And our readers need hardly be reminded of this fact, inasmuch as his advortisements, both while at Jayne's Hall, and since his removal to his present attractive store, on the corner of eventh and Chestnut streets for which he has paid us hundreds of dollars-have been read in The Press all SAFE AND UNSAFE LIGHTS .- We would not for any pecuniary consideration recommend a portable light about the safety of which there was the slightest Soubt; but we do say, what we have seen demonstrated, that the lamps manufactured and sold by Messrs. Witters & Co., No. 35 North Fighth street, corner of Filbert, for burning the "Kerosene" oil, which they keep con-stantly on hand for rale, are as safe as a tallow-candic. FINE OLD ENGLISH PORTER AND SCOTCH

ALES .- Mr. C. N. Mattson, dealer in fine groceries, Arch and Tenth streets, has constantly on hand siebe for invalids or table use, the purest qualities of London Brown Stout and Scotch Ales, to which we invite the Montion of persons wishing a really superior and healthful article of this kind. SINCULAR FACTS.—It is singular that, while the warlike nations of Europe were experimenting upon iron-clad steamships, and anxiously discussing their ntility in actual wartare, America should at once have dicentral on antiraty may daying for measurabilly masing ing and assailing them. We are ahead of our brethern the other side of the water in ev the construction of vessels, but also in the introduction of the latest styles of clothing, which fact can be satisfied factorily demonstrated by paying a visit to the Mammoth Clothing Emporium of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chest ut, whose recent supplies of spring garments are attracting universal attention.

PRICE OF PROVISIONS IN CHARLESTON .- Provisions of every kind are extremely scarce and highcoarse sait selling here for 30 cents, a sack $15; tea, $1.50 per pound; bacon almost impossible to be had at any price; the commonest brogans, ordinarily worth seventy-five cents a pair, sell et four and five dollars, while for Basta the price is fifts dollars : cotton thread twenty-fiv cents a spool, and needles are one hundred times the usual price: matches are selling for one cent each, and scarc the C. S. A., like Charles Stokes' "One Price," unde the Continental, among the clothing stores of Philadel.

phia-matchless. WILLIAM H. RUSSELL, LL. D .- The famous correspondent of the Thunderer keeps on writing letters to the Times, describing things as past that never happened, and anticipating things that never will come to pass. The fact is the "Poctor" had better give over writing about American affairs, and if he must meddle in quarters night-schooling, and try and learn something of American manners, customs, and politics. By persevenance and practice he might yet attain sufficient skill and judgment to be trusted to write an occasional notice of the suits made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Bockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street,

So save your sentimental flash, Spare compliments, and give me cash Mr. Smith. - My love, your sex no gay attire, No "foreign ornaments" require; Your native charms are quite enough, But men are made of ruder shiff.

MRS. SMITH -And, therefore, you pretend to say They must be dressed in fine array; But if Dame Nature made you plain. Why can't you in that state remain?

PATRIOTISM AND PIETY.—AN excellent opportunity for the exercise of both these noble feelings is presented by attending the Lecture of the Rev. Dr. BUTLER, to be delivered in Concert Hall, on MONDAY EVENING next, the 7th instant. The subject of the lecture will be, "The Dark Bays of Washington, its Great Perils, and Wonderful Deliverance." Delighted thousands in the principal cities of our land have testified to the thrilling interest of his lecture in the hands of the patriotic and eloquent divine who delivers it. The proceeds of the lecture are to be devoted to the relief of a struggling Mission Church in this city. Thus the subject of the lecture appeals to the patriotism of the community; while the object for which it is delivered appeals to the piety of the Christian public. Can such an appeal fall of meeting a snitable response? It is hoped that the attendance on the occasion will give to this question an emphatic negation.

"THE JAYNE'S-HALL CRAVAT STORE"-THE PUBLIC UNDECEIVED,-I have noticed two cards in this column of the The Press, in which, by insinuation, I am made to appear as the proprietor of a concern at the corner of Eighth and Chestnut streets, which, for abvious reasons, retains the sign of "ESHLEMAN & FLETCHER," with the the sign of "ESHLEMAN & FLETCHER," with the word "Formerly," in diminutive letters, over it. The proprietor of that concern, whoever he may be, has, in the cards referred to, claimed the concern in question to be "The Jayne's-Hall Cravat Store" Now, as the "Jayne's-Hall Cravat Store" was established by myself, and continued under my own proprietorship until I removed it to my present location, at the northwest corner of SEVENTH and CHESTNUT Streets; and as the of SEALM and CHESINIT Streets; and as the impression that I have any connection whatever with any bogus concern would be detrimental to my credit among business nen, I wish to disclaim IT. I do, therefore, assert the insimuation that "the Jayne's Hall Crayet Store" is any other than my own store, at Seventh and Chestnut, to be a wicked falsehood.

store: is any other than my own store, at Seventh and Chestaut, to be a wicked falsehood.

I have been mortified, also, at having the public led to suppose that I had any thing to do with the astine contumn, in The Press, about "a mule's foot!" As I have struggled for several years to establish in Philadelphia a first-class Cravat Store—having commonead in Jayne's H. I: in 1857, and continued the enterprise thus far with gratifying success, paying my debts with money instead of a tered sign-boards—I am not willing, at this late day, to have the fruits of my labors impaired by the knavery of another. of another.

Respectfully submitted to the public.

Sole proprietor of "The Jayne's-Hall Cravat Store," now located at the

OFFICE OF MONUMENT CEMETERY,
APILL 2, 1862.

At a meeting of the Managers of the Monument Cometery, held this evening, the Fresident having announced the decease of JOHN M. CULEMAN, Esq., a member of the Board, which occurred, suddenly, on the evening of the Elst uit. the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

The death of a friend under ordinary circumstances is calculated to produce a degree of as liness of 'celing in those with whom the deceased has been fimiliarly in intercourse; but when such apparently in usual health, passes suddenly from time to eternity, the degree of sadness is much increased and the mind more strongly impressed with the solemu admonition thereby given.

The decease of our late friend and associate JOHN M. COLEMAN, Esq., under the latter circumstances, whils it produces feelings of sadness and farmishes such solemn admonitions, seems to demand of us, his colleagues, the expression of those feelings in a formal and becoming manner. Now, therefore,

Resolved, That, while impressed with those feelings, and acknowledging the admonitions thus convayed we humbly and reverently submit to the decrees of Him "whose ways are inscrutable and past finding out, in His dealings with the children of meu." We, nevertheless, cannot but mourn the occurrence of an event that has suddenly deprived us of a courteous associate and useful number of the Board—one whose kindness we cherished and whose counsel we respected.

Resolved. That we deem it a duty and privilege to mingle our sincere regrets with those to whom he was united and bound by closer and more endearing ties, and to tender to them our unfeigned sympathy and kindly condelence for the loss they have suatained in this sudden bereavement.

Resoired. That, as a mark of our appreciation of his amiable qualities as a man and as an asociate while living, and our respect for his memory, we direct these proceedings to be entered at large on the minutes of the Board, and that the members will attend the funeral in a hody. a body.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing proceedings.

Confederate Raggedness Great distress in Rebel Borders! Shocking lack of clothes! Ragged are the mean marauders 'Mid their other woes. Carnets, comfortables, blankets, Sheets, and odds and ends; All his ancient, tutter'd dry-goods Each man cuts and mends. These poor Rebels have forgotten How good clothes appear; Haven't had a rag but cotton All the present year. Out at elbows, all in fatters; Worn-out coats and hats; Soon the Rebel army scatters Like some frighten'd cats! But in good and handsome raiment Walk our people all;
People who have made cash payment
For their good and handsome raiment
At the great OAK HALL!

What would the ragged Confederates give if they only had such an institution as the great OAK HALL!

Loyal citizens of the United States, be thankful for the great institution which clothes you! Grand opening, TO-1:A1, of elegant spring styles, unequalted in this city in variety. Prices always moderate. Clethes made to order, and accurate fits guarantied.

MEDICINAL. TO THE DISEASED OF ALL CLASSES.

EXPRESSION FROM THE FOUNDER OF THIS FEW DIP COVERY, PROF. C. H. BOLLES.

More than two thousand invalids have been cursed by Prof. BOLLES, at his Institute, 1220 WALNUT Street, Philadelphia, fn less than three years, and thirty persons have been permanently cursed of old long-standing chronic diseases in twelve days, many of whose certificates are published daily, for the good of humanity. Prof. Bolles therefore is not compelled to publish old far-brought certificates, but is daily publishing testimonials of the most satisfactory and reliable character, and all of this gity, samsfactory and reliable character, and all of this city. A NOTHER CURE OF PARALY-

AND APOPLENY COMBINED.

READ THE FOLLOWING:

PHILADELPHIA, March 31, 1862.

Professors Bolles and Adams, 1220 Walbut street.

GENTS.: The remarkable cure which I have derived from your method of applying ELECTRICITY, compels me to thus acknowledge the great obligations I am under to you for snatching me, as it were, from an immediate death. About two years ago, while a resident of Cincinnast, Ohio, I was visited with an attack of paralysis of the lower extremities, which rendered me almost entirely unable to stand upon my limbs. I employed some of the most celebrated physicians to be found in that section, but received no apparent benefit, and after a lupte of about eighteen months was taken with a spasm, which one of my physicians pronunced a fit of apoplexy. Two weeks elapsed from that time before I became the least conscious of anything that had transpired, nor could I concentrate my mind or converse upon any subject without becoming very visionary and excited, until I placed myself under your valuable treatment.

While in Ohio, and after my friends, my family, and cited, until I placed myself under your valuable treatment.

While in Ghio, and after my friends, my family, and myself had forsaken all hopes of my improvement or recovery, my wife proposed that a visit to the East might possibly benefit me, and after consulting with our physician on the subject, obtained his consent and approval. After my arrival in Philadelphia my attention was called to your treatment by a pamphlet handed me by my father, which contained the names of some gentlemen whom I had been formarly acquainted with, and whose statements I could reply upon. I immediately made up my mind to place myself under your treatment. I have now been the recipient of four treatments, and I now feel perfectly satisfied that I am restored to a sound condition, and I therefore feel it my duty to gratefully as knowledge the benefits which I have received through your treatment.

Very respectfully, yours, &c., WILLIAM H SHAIN, No. 110 South Twentieth st No. 110 South Twentieth street.

N. B —Professor C. II BOLLES, who is well known to the literary and scientific world as the discoverer and founder of an entire new mode of applying Galvanism, Magnetism, and other modifications of Electricity, has been in this city nearly three years (at 1220 Walnut street.) testing his new discovery, in all of its varieties, on over FOUE THOUSAND INVADIDS, many of whom he has warranted, by special contract, and, surprising as it may appoar, he has not failed in a single warranted case.

From the commencement of Professor B.'s practice he has published certificates of cures daily of most obstinate mistadies, which had resisted all other treatment. Prof. B. has also issued a pamphlet containing complimentary resolutions and certificates from medical men in nearly all the cities in the United States; and in the same pamphlet he has cautioned the sick against trusting their lives and health in the hands of those in this city claiming to treat according to his new discovery of the Electrical Polarities of the Brain and Nervous System. This caution may seem severe on those using Electricity at hazard, but it is the soverity of truth, and is designed for the good of humanity.
