Mr. Fletcher, who at a previous meeting offered a re-solution relative to the employment of an assistant to Prof. Angele, of the Castral High School, called upon Mr. Hollingsworth, chairman of the committee to whom Vie resolution was referred, to make a report as to what had become of the same.

Decome of the same. Mr. Hollingsworth presented a report from the High School Committee, expressing their satisfaction of the manner in which the studies have been conducted in Prof. Angele's despartment. A communication was also read from Professor An-gele, drug his reason for the employment of an assist-ant. By means of the services of the latter, the pro-fessor states that better order is preserved, and the sunjis learn more rapidly.

Jeans or states that better order is preserved, and the supplis learn more rapidly. Mr. Fletcher was opposed to any of the professors having an assistatic without the consent of the Board. They should know the moral character and competency of this young man, as they do that of the others em-ployed in the High School. He therefore offered a reso-lution that the secretary he requested to inform Professor Angele that the component of an assistant br him man Angele that the employ ment of an assistant by him was in opposition to the views of the Board.

In opposition to the views of the Board. Mr. Riché offered, an a substitute, that the High-Bcheol Committee report on this matter at the next stated meeting, which was agreed to, and the Board adjourned.

RT. REY. BISHOP STEVENS .- The RT. REY. HISHOP STEVENS.—The Bt. Rev. Wn. liscon Stevens, D. D., of this city, assistant bishop of the 'rotestant Fpiceopat Church of the Dioceee of Pennsylvania, delivered his first discourses in his new capacity in Lancaster on Sinday last. In the morning he preached in £t. James' Church, Dake and Orange streets, where he ordained a young minister to the prisethood, and also administered the Holy Commu-mion and the rite of confirmation. His sermon was founded on the words of the familiar text, "Fer I am not ashemed of the Gospel of Christ." He opened the discourse by several becautiful historical allusions, and spoke aby and cloquently of the duties and obligations of the minister—what things he should exclew in his ser-mons and conduct, and an onling that that would be to the honor and glory of God. His solvice and admonition to the young minister hefore him were saltary, and given To the young minister before him were salutary, and given in the proper Christian spirit. His advice to him to "preach nothing but Christ and Him crucified" was ex-ceedingly well thined, especially in the present state of Ghins. The Bishop's appearance is much in his favor, and his reputation as a tearned and eloquent minister and writer has been established long since. His sermon on Sunday in Et. James' did hot detract from his high reputation, and ft was listened to with undivided attention by the large congregation.

In the evening he preached in St. John's Free Church, Spring Carden, to a crowded, attentive, and appreciating audience

THE JUNCTION RAILROAD.-The plan THE SUMPLICAT TATIENCED. — INC. PARE and profile of the Junction Rairoad, which is intended to connect the Philadelphia, Reading, and Pennsylvania Railt adg on the west side of the Schuylkill, were pro-pended to the board of surveyors on Monday by Mr. Smedley, surveyor of the Fleventh district. The exami-nation of the plane will be made at some future day.

The total amount of missionary contri-buttons, for the year, was $180.59, the greater part of which was devoted for the support of the Frankford-road Mission of this church. The attendance, upon the whole, was said to have remained about the same, although con-siderably utlected at first by Sunday drills. SYMPATHY FOR CAPTURED REBELS .- One of the must pleasing humanitarian phases of this war, we have in the active sympathy enlisted here in the North in behalf, not only of our own soldiers, but of captured rebels. A committee has just been formed in this city for the purpose of carrying out this Christian idea, composed of the following named gentlemen: Rav. John Jenkins, D. D., No. 1819 Pine street; Rev. appent has been adoressed by this commutee to the churches and Sabhath-schools of Philadelphia: "We crave the attention of the Ch-lettan community to the fact that, in the providence of God, large numbers of our Southern fellow-citizenes are under confinement in the Northern States as prisoners of war. Five thousand it is understood are in Chicago alone. "It has occimized to us, and to other members of the churches, that a favorable opportunity is thus presented for the manifestation of Christian kindness and love to persons who have unhappily placed themselves in hos-tility against the great national institutions which we hold most dear. "It is, therefore, proposed that arrangements be im-mediately made for supplying to these prisoners of war such religions reading as shall instruct and comfort them during their stay in the North, and, if possible, to fur-nish to each prisoner, in the shape of a Christian volume, to be carried to his home after he shall have been liberated, a memento of the good feeling and Christian care of his brethren in this section of our common country. WE INVITE ATTENTION to the card of Messra. Boyd & Stroud, No 32 North Fourth street, in another column of our paper to-day. The stock of china, glass, and general queensware, of their own direct importation, now offered by this firm, is one of, if not the most extensive and attractive in this city; and the fact that they are throughly prepared for trade is well attested by the burry and business commotion which, for some weeks post, has marked their warerooms. They are now deiving an unusually active trade. Country buyers should not fail to examine this stock before making their purchases. THE FINE CONFECTIONS made and sold by Mr. A. I. Vansant, at his splondid establishment, Ninch and Chestaut streets, under the Continental Hotel, are universul favorites. In addition to his fine imported and rare domestic fruits, the additions to his stock of confections in Chocolates, Creanis, Crystals, el celéré, which ha is constantly making, render hisstore the most attractive point in this city. His prices, moreover, are remarkably moderate.

NATURE is a great believer in compensations. Those to whom ske sends wealth she saddles with lawsuits and dyspepsis. The poor never indulge in woodcock, but they have a style of appetite that converts a Dischered into a sein on and a veal cutlet into a venidation into a venidation and a veal cutlet into a venidation into a venidation A three-inch thickness of a straw bed is as soft to their wearied limbs as the springlest of mattresses; and a substantial gray or the decent brown suit is as comfortable to them as the rich-est robes of "purple and fine linen." The cheapest clothing of the most desirable and comfortable fit can be had at Charles Stokes' "one price" under the "Contipental."

THE CONTINENTAL HOTEL SALOONS leading and most noteworthy feature, in connection with these beautiful saloons for ladies and gentlemen, is the extreme moderation of the charges, whether for luxuries or necessaries. All visitors are astonished at and delighted with the economical tariff which Mr Slevens has established-(and most wisely, as it will insure for him a permanent and rapidly increasing patronage)-and wonder how he is enabled to provide so luxuriously and economically for his guests. But wonderment should cease
