The Success of the "War Press"-Award of Premiums for the Largest Lists of Subscribers.

When we commenced the publication of the WAR PRESS, in November last, we cherished a hope that it would meet with the approba zion of the public; but we must confess that its success has far exceeded our anticipations. Subscriptions have rapidly poured in upon us from every loyal portion of the country, and wherever the paper has been introduced it has been most favorably received. Hundreds of letters warmly culogizing it, and scores of laudatory notices by our cotemporaries, have been forwarded to us. This generous encouragement will incite us to additional exerzions to please, instruct, and gratify our readers. We hope to gradually introduce such improvements and such increased attractions 2hat this journal will rapidly widen the present extensive sphere of its influence, and remain a popular, permanent, and flourishing "insti-Intion" long after the present war shall be gloriously terminated in the complete triumph of our gal'ant armies and the re-establishment of the authority of the Federal Government over every foot of the soil of the Republic. In our original prospectus we stated that we would award a premium of one hundred dollars to the person who forwarded to us the largest list of yearly subscribers by the 1st of April, 1862; of fifty dollars to the person who forwarded to us the second largest list by that time; and of twenty-five dollars to the person who forwarded to us the third largest Candor compels us to state that the competition for these premiums was not very warm. While we have obtained very large accessions to our list, they have generally come in the form of single subscriptions, or clubs made up by kind friends (to whom we are deeply secure a good newspaper, and who were uninfluenced by the premiums we offered. Having made a promise, however, we will faithfully adhere to it. Upon close examinazion of our books, we find that under the terms and conditions set forth in our prospectus, the

Under the direction of the President, General Lee is charged with the conduct of the military operations of the armics of the Confederacy. At the same time the President appoints four colonels as aids to himself, not to Lee, who also has four; and the Secretary of War is authorized to employ awenty-two additional clerks. This looks like business; but what earthly use the President con twenty-two additional clerks This looks like business; but what earthly use the President can have for four more aids (he has one already), except as overseers to Lee's aids, and to reduce Lee himself from a commanding general to an orderly sergeant, no one can tell. The Enquirer of this morning says, in effect, that the less the President resembles Washington, the more we ought to support him; or, in other words, the worse the ruler is, the more the people's obligations are great.

The city defences, says a correspondent, consist of fertifications so close to the town that once with of fertifications so close to the town that once with-in the range of the guns in these fortifications, the enemy could, with their rified cannon, shell us out. In keeping with this folly is another. Negroes from the interior counties, where their labor can be applied to some purpose, are hurried off to the pe-ninsula, or to Suffolk, to work on entrenchments, while the percess in the border or avveced our while the negroes in the border or exposed counties, whose masters would be glad for the Government to take them and keep them until the war is ever, are left to be stolen by the Yankees or to run

A Supreme Court is being organized, and Congress is considering in secret session, the prepriety of sending commissioners to France for the special of sending commissioners to France for the special object of bringing about an alliance. Judge Monroe, of Kentucky, hopes to become one of the judges of the Supreme Court. Major Bumford, it is said, refuses to be exchanged, on the ground that he is a native of Texas, or something of that sort, and does not wish to fight on the other side. Several of our apothecary stores were closed yesterday in consequence of a hint from General Winder that he would permit no more extortion. Four foundrymen were arrested yesterday for refusing to take the oath of allegiance. For two days the weather has been gloomy, showery, and warm, weather has been gloomy, showery, and warm, 3ike April.

The following is from the Richmond (March 14) correspondence of the Charleston Mercury: The debate yesterday showed that the members were eager for the loaves and fishes at a time when our public mex should be setting the example of the most austere economy. During the debate, Boyce let fall some ominous remarks. He said; Boyce let fait some ominous remarks. He said: He, however, objected to a high salary at this time. This Congress will have devolved upon it a great mission. It may be that, in the progress of this revolution, they may be compelled to save the country at all hazards and by the most startling measures, and it would be necessary, in order to do that, that they should have the confidence of the people; and what would give that more fully than disinterestedness in regard to money matters?
He feared, if they increased their salaries, that they would diminish that influence which it would be necessary for them to have in order to work out be necessary for them to have in order to work out this great mission.

Other signs are not wanting. The thunder is muttering. The Examiner, for example, compares the President to a crazy man dancing on top of a chimney. A loose brick gives way, and he falls to the earth, crushed into a jally. The Examiner hopes that Sydney Johnston may not prove a "loose brick."

General Bonham publishes a card in this morning's Enguirer, sustaining fully the position taken by the Mercury in its article on the President's treatment. Morcury in its article on the President's treatment to himself. The report continues that the President will not sign the bill creating the office and preportions the powers of commanding General Lee, who is simply detailed on duty here, and charged with the conduct of military operations. In the general worder assigning him is duty, nothing is said about rank or pay. This is no time for the President to the doing things half way and trifling with the sense and feelings of the people.

The Connecticut Election UCKINGHAM ELECTED BY SEVEN TO TEN THOUSAND The returns of the State election in Connection The returns of the State election in Connecticut show that the Union victory is more complete than even the first telegraphic reports indicated. Buckingham is elected Governor by a majority of from seven to ten thousand; the State Sanate is all Union, with, perhaps, the single exception of the Eighteenth district; and there is an overwhelming Union majority in the House. Governor Buckingham has gained very largely over his vote of last year.

The Hartford Courant says: 4 One year ago the Ropublicans of Hartford expressed their obligations to their triends in the country towns for having given a vote large enough to overcome the large majority against them in Hartford. Then Loomis had $25 majority; now Buckingham has 144—a gain of 499. This time Hartford comes to the relief of the country towns, and the result is the election of our Senator, who are the result is the election of our Senator. try towns, and the result is the election of our Senstor, our Judge of Probate, and one Representative. We ought to have elected both of our Representatives, and extremely regret that we did not do so. On the whole, the Republicans and Union Democrats of Hartford have reason to rejoice over the result of yesterday's work. The Breckinridge party had claimed the city by four hundred majority, and had not the loast idea of a defeat. The blow is a crushing one to them, and we trust it will open their eyes to a realization of the odiousness of their professed principles in countenancing Jeff Davis' rebellion.

CITY ITEMS.

From an advertisement elsewhere, it will be seen that a lecture is to be delivered this (Thursday) evening, at the Eleventh Baptist Church, Twelfth street, above Bace, by the Rev. J. Hyatt Smith, on the following subject: "Striking Revelation of God's Hand in the Present Crisis. for the Salvation of the Nation." There are three reasons which will contribute to render this lecture one of the best-attended of the season. It is to be delivered in behalf of a benevolent object; the subject is pregnant with interest to every intelligent observer of passing events, and the lecturer is one of the most eloquent clerical champions of the Government living. His lecture, to-night, will be a rare treat. DR. BELLOWS ON MANASSAS .- The Rev. Dr. Bellows, of New York, is announced to deliver a "conversational lecture," at Concert Bail, on the evening of the 15th instant, when he proposes to describe the ap pearance of Manassas, three days after its evacuation by
