Major and Brigadier Generals.

Mr. WILSON (Rep.), of Massachusetts, from the ComMilison of Military Affairs, reported back the bid to itset the number of major generals and brigadier senerals, with an amendment, making the number of major generals thirty instead of twenty. The amendment was adopted. rais thirty instead of twenty. The amondment was adopted.

Mr. HALE (Rép.), of New Hamshire, moved to strike out "two hundred" and insert "a hundred and eighty" as the number of brigadier generals.

Mr. WILSON, of Massachusetts, said he hoped the bill would pass. He thought one hundred and fifty brigadier generals were enough, but about one hundred and nine-ty-five had been sent here for confirmation.

Mr. CLARK, (Rep.). of New Hampshire, thought we ought to make the bill according to the requirements of the service, and not according to the requirements of the service, and not according to the number of appointments. The chairman of the Military Committee thinks 150 brigadier generals enough, and yet we refuse to cut the number down, because we have got two hundred appointments to act upon, and have not the manliness to strike any of them out.

Mr. WILSON said that he thought one hundred and fifty brigadier generals were enough; but the Presi-Were necessary.

Referred.

Rules of Debate. Mr. HALE moved to take up the resolution offered by him some time since in regard to the rules of debate in the Senate. Not agreed to—year 17. nays 22.

Homestead Bill.

The bomestead bill was then taken up.
Mr. POMEBOY (Rep.), of Kansa, was opposed to any bill which at this time would tend to deplete the treasury and weaken the Government, when it was in need of all its recources. If this bill was of such a character he would be against it. But he contended that the public lands had produced no revenue for the last five years. There were land warrants already issued which would require seventeen years to take. The spready settlement of the public lands would produce a far greater revenue to the Government than any sale of them. If a thought the Government had no right to speculate in the public lands. Covernment had no right to speciate in the Hought 100 Covernment had no right to speciate in the public lands. The history of the great wonopoly of the public lands is written in broad lines all over the country, and also in the old world. Thirty thousand land warrants cover the whole of Creat Britain, while in Ireland two and a half Personal Liberty. Mr. CARLILE (U.), of Virginia, introduced a bill in elation to personal liberty. Confiscation Bill. The confiscation bill was taken un.

Speech of Mr. Howe. Speech of Mr. Howe.

Mr. Howe (Bep.), of Wisconsin, referred to the Senator from Delaware (Mr. Saulsoury) on Friday. Ha was torry to bear the Senator predict the enslavement of the whole African race. The Senator took high ground above negroes; but he will have to get rid of such sentiments as those he expressed on Friday or he will not be able to keep ahead of the blacks. He was in favor of a confiscation bill and the punishment of the rebels, but he thought the bill before the Senate was not worth the paper it was printed on. He contended that we had no authority to pass such a bill, and ought not to have such authority. There was no such power in the Cohetikation as pass such as one, and origin not on lave such au-thority. There was no such power in the Constitution as the bill assumes. It says that certain persons have com-nitted teason, and if they commit any more tney shall be stripped of their property. Why not thus conven-tionally stake man's property for any other crime? The penalty for crime ought to be visited on the individual penalty for crime ought to be visited on the individual only when convicted or crime. If we could by legislative act take away a man's property for rebellion, we might take away his property for going to came meeting, if we chose to declare that a crime. He ebjected to the attempt to execute the penalty by legislative act, thatead of by the judgment of a judicult tribunul. The bill, if passed, will punish a great many innocent persons, and let the guilty escape. He thought the guiltiest persons were not included in the bill at all. The Government owes it to itself and to the people to bunish the leaders of this rebelinon, and that is sait there is of it. He thought if it had not been for the desire to do comething to diminish the power of slavery, or of those who hold slaves, no such measure as this would ever have been thought of. He was silling to vote for a offender.

Mr. FOSTER (Rep.), of Connecticut, said an indif-erent person, listening to the debates on this bill, might hink there were two parties in the Genate—one striving o defend the Constitution, and the other indifferent to city. Interest out in solid the Schole, and stored situets and amendments making thirteen propositions, only two of which have been examined by the committee. He was in favor of the bill which will do the most to crush out the rebellion. He contended that under the bill of the Senator from Illinois, no that under the bill of the Senator from Illians, no property is to be seized except in the opinion of the Treetient it will be best to do so. That certainly was not as severe as has been claimed against the bill of the Senator from Vermont, (Mr. Cellamer.) which authorizes the President to seize and requester the property of rebris, rell the perishable property, and hold real estate thi judicial proceedings are restored. He contended that the bill of the Senator from Vermont was decidedly the most stringent; for although like the other bill it was dependent on the will of the President. Yet it provides for the taking of all the property of all the rebris. As regards the slaves, the bill of the Senator from Vermont frees all the slaves of the persons convicted of treason, and provides that the President may free the slaves of persons who continue the rebellion after a certain time, but does not propose to touch the slaves of the loyal men at all. He couldnot believe that, under the Constitution, we had any power to confiscate the real estate of a rebel longer than life, and did not believe the President would undertake to sell real estate under these circumstances, but would hold if for the handt of the Covernment.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. Indemnity to Kausas. Mr. ALDRICH (Bep.), of Michigan, introduced a bill ademnifying the people of Kansas for losses and depre-ations. Referred.

Punishment of Treason. Mr THOMAS (Rep.), of Massachusetts, introduced a bill for the punishment of treason and the more effectual suppression of the rebellion. Referred to the Judiciary Committee. The House passed the bill amendatory of the act to rovide increased revenue from the imports to pay the interest on the public debt and for other purposes, and roved the 5th of August last. The pext speaker was the Rev. Wesley Kenney, pastor of the Fifth-street M. E. Church. Many things said by Mr. Kenney evidently touched a responsive chord in the hearts of those who have more recently shared the pastoral kindness and efficiency of this faithful, exemplary, and eminently useful divine. HABEAS CORPUS PAMPHLE-That the fruit lies in the "Via Media" was never more clearly exemplified than in the controversy now rading between the above parties. Horace Binney so actends that in the Executive lies the right to snapend the Writ of Habeas Corpus, under the contingencies mentioned in the 9th Section of Avidel Lit of the Constitution. His opponents as ardently advocate that the power lies in Congress. Lawyer-like, these gentlemen plead their reinct that, though it is evident, from the debates in the geveral conventions, that our forefathers considered that the power was to be invested in Congress, yet the grant was not made, as is clearly shown by Mr. Binney in his Second Part, lately issued. See pages 12, &c. Now, it is also evident that no such power was granted to the Executive. Where, therefore, does it had I I not granted, it surely remains in the State Covernments, who had this right prior to Federation, subject, of course, to such restrictions as were contained in this reverties. to such restrictions as were contained in their respective Constitutions. This is a novel view of the matter in controversy, but that it is entitled to consideration will be proven by reading the many pamphlets written on the subject, Lineteen in all, which can be purchased at my store. JOHN CAMPBELL. m 3-3t* A NOIENT SLAVERY DISAP-A PROVED OF GOD."
