would either take specie or the bills of their own bank, on which he could get the specie if he desired. The directors refused to do either, and the stockhoider immediately commenced a sail against them.

The case has been carried through all the courts, and is now before the Court of Appeals, the last resort under State jurisdiction. The currency in which they offered to pay him was one fourth per cent discount. This discount on fifty six dollars—his dividend—is just fourteen cents, it saying had it argued in soveral courts, it must have cost him several hundred dollars by this time, probably se much as the whole amount or his bank stock. The bank is slee in the mire just as deep as the stockholder is in the mud By refusing to pay their own bank bills they have run up a nice hill of custover on item of fourteen cents, which will, to more or bear extent, affect the profits of the institution.—Syracuse (N.Y.)
