FROM GEN. HUNTER'S DIVISION. The Camp Kettle, a small paper published by the 100th Pennsylvania (Roundhead) Regiment, contains the following items of intelligence:

REGIMENTS OF CONTRABANDS. REGIMENTS OF CONTRABANDS.

General Hunter, pursuant to instructions from the War Department, has resolved to organize two regiments of contrabands for the purpose of relieving the Union soldiers from many duties that can be quite as woll performed by the blacks as by the Northern troops, with the effect of preserving many lives to the army for more responsible duties. If the rebels use the blacks against us, the rule may work in the other direction as well, and just, possibly, better. We shall see. Who was it said "the world didn't move?" world didn't move?"

THANKS, The undersigned decires to express, on behalf of the 100th Regiment Penna. (Roundhead) Vols., his heartfelt thanks to the patriotic ladies and ottizons of Lawrence, Mercer, and Washington counties, Pennsylvania, for their liberal contributions to the hospital stores of the regiment. Long before the tape officials locked after the interests of our sick, these home contributions met every want, and supplied all our necessitios. May the choicest-blessings fall upon those who have remembered us.

Colonel, commanding 100th Regiment Penna. (Roundhead) Vols.

SPECIAL ORDANS

The following order explains itself, and, we may add. meets the hearty approbation of all, except those personally interested in selling or drinking : HRADQUARTERS SECOND BRIGADH,
NORTHERN DISTRICT, DEPARTMENT OF THE SOUTH,
BRAUFORT, S. C., May 9, 1862.

[SPHCIAL ORDERS NO. 24.] The sale of all intoxicating drinks, whether spirituous or fermented, is, from this date, abs lutely: prohibited in the town of Beaufort and within the limits of this command. All persons found violating this order will be immediately sent beyond the limits of this command, and By order of Brig. Gen. STEVENS.

HAZARD STEVENS, Capt. and Asst. Adj. Gen. FREE LABOR.

The trial of free labor in South Carolina is progressing steadily and satisfactorily. Many of the deserted plantations are showing signs of a new civilization. Under the benign rule of Gen. Hunter the slave falls very naturally into a free man, and the ex-slaves 'themselves say that twelve "free niggres" do more work for pry than twenty slaves did under the lush. Northern enterprise, under the supervision of competent men, is giving intelligent direction to the dark mind of the servile race of this hotbed of rebellion, and it would seem as if a just retributive Providence was about to demonstrate on the soil of South Carolina the greatest problem of the age, viz: That slavery is not necessary to the production of cotton, even in South Carolina. NBWS.

Our distant friends ask wby we do not publish more news in relation to the doings of the troops in the "Dopartment of the South." In reply we merely state that such intomation could be used by a present enemy, long before it would gratify the curiosity of distant friends. It is sufficient to say that the "Department of the South" is doing its duty, and that in any event it will continue to do its duty. Entire confidence in those in command lore, and a very high standard of discipline, are hopful omens of future success, as well as present safety, and with this mestre itom of military news, our friends must for the present content themselves, relying upon letter-writers for more extensive information. HEALTH OF THE TROOPS.

HEALTH OF THE TROOPS.

The morning roport of the 100th Regiment Pennsylvania (Roundhodd) Volunteers only shows seven men in the hospital, not one of whom is not able to walk about the beautiful hospital grounds during even the hottsat part of the day, and as it is by much the largest regiment in the brigade, it may be inferred the rates of others are about the same Indeed, we know the other hospitals might as well shut up, for all the custom they get. Of course there are always some men on the slock list that are not very sick.

The troops here drill early in the morning and in the evening after 4 o'clock, and at these times the atmosphere is very pleasant. The balance of the day is devoted to all sorts of rest and recreation. Gymnastics occupy a large portion of the time, and quite an amount of ingenuity is shown in the various apparatus under the ingentity is shown in the values apparatus nature the cool shade of the magnificent live case amongst the va-rious camps. In one company of the 100th Regiment we notice a bathing establishment, under the charge of one of the members, formerly attached to a "water cure." It is every nicely and ingeniously gotton up, and we are pleased to see liberally patronized. Altogether, with easy drills and gymnastics, the troops here are doing very finely.

One day last week a colony of bees "awarmed" upon a bush beside one of our picket posts, and a couple of the boys seeing they were "Secesh," captured them, and Colonel, who has them located on the upper plazza of his quarters, under the folds of "the old flag," and the little be seem to thrive very well under "Yankee"

The weather here is delightful, with but little rain, and although the middle of the day brings the mercury to eighty or ninfty in the shade, the sea breeze compensates for it, and comes up the bay as cool and grateful as an a lee-cold lemonade." We have just tried the last named article and can recommend it. VANIA ROUNDEBAD VOLUNTEERS SINCE ITS OR-

GENERAL NEWS.

THE ADIRONDACKS ON FIRE.—The woods on the Adirondack mountains, in the vicinity of Clinton Prison, and all through Northern New York, in fact, are on fire and burning rapidly. The prison was only saved by a change in the direction of the wind, the walls of the institution being at one time exceedingly heated from the near approach of the flames. The prisoners were all ready to be sent to the mines in case the fire communicated to the prison. Wood, Willard, & Prentice's shoe shop was saved by considerable exertion. Large numbers of houses I are been destroyed. On Lake Champlain, the snoke from the fire is so dense that the steamboats are compelled to ring their bells constantly, and to run at a very slow rate of speed. The smoke entirely envelopes the light houses and hides them from the view of the pilots. The citizens of Clintonville turned out en masse to fight the flames. The Peru Iron Company have lost a large quantity of wood, and other parties have suffered very heavily. The sight of the burning woods is described as grand indeed.

SENSIBLE REMARKS..." The unbroken series of reverses which have overtaken the Confederates must demoralize their armies unless composed of men of superhuman courage and endurance, and it is really difficult to see for what object they can now prolong the war. It is to be remembered, however, that the Jews at the fall of Jerusalem never gave in to the Romans, but were exterminated or utterly scattered by that power. This doom of utter infatuation fell upon the Jewish nation judicially, and the same thing may take place with the slavehelders."—Montreal Witness. THE LONDON EXHIBITION. -Theophile Gautier

THE LONDON EXHIBITION.—Theopinic Gautter, in a leiter to the Paris Moniteur about the opening of the London exhibition, says that the architecture of the building, for want of a better title, should be termed "The Mechanical," and adds that "it unites the characteristics of the railway statism, the market and the green-house." As a general thirg, the foreign correspondents are ruther disappointed with the architecture of the building, though its wonderful contents excite their unlimited pends.

AMERICAN LIFE.—Mr. F. O. C. Darloy was commissioned by Prince Napoleon, while the latter was visiting New York, to make four drawings illustrative of American life. The drawings have been executed in India ink, and exhibit the powers of the artist to the best advantage: "I hey are entitled respectively: "The Unwilling Laborer," "Repose," "The Blacksmith's Shop," "Emigrants Attacked by Indians." It was here the first gun was fired at the flag: A sacrllege so great can only be wiped out by a terrible penelty. A PRETTY LARGE FORTUNE.—Mr. Weed, in one of his letters, speaks of a miser who died in Holland, leaving placet-seven tons, of gold. This may be deemed an exageration. But it will not be so "censidered when it is known that 100,000 guilders (of the value of 40 cents) is estimated at one ton's weight. Consequently 9,700,000 guilders (about $4,000,000) would weigh 97 tons. A pretty large, but not a very extraordinary fortune.

THE CITY.

SIGNS OF RETURNING PROSPERITY. At no previous scason has there been so much energy and life displayed in the different mechanical branches as at present. The ship yards, foundries, and machine shops, on the Delaware front and elsewhere throughout the city, present signs of great activity, and labor in all the various branches of ship building, engine building, and marine steam machinery for vessels of almost all the various branches of ship building, engine building, and marine steam machinery for vessels of almost all descriptions, now in progress of rapid construction, from the iron-clad man-of-war "New Ironsides," the largest of her class yet commenced in America, including several first-class merchant steamships, down to tug-boats, freight steamers, and barges.

At the ship yard at the foot of Reed street, two merchant steamships are building; one for the Charleston and Bavanuah Steamship Campany, the largest and most complete of her kind ever built in this country. Length, 230 feet; breadth of beam, 38 feet; depth of hold, 16 feet, and to carry 1,550 tons burden—expected to be launched early in July. The other is a first-class steamship for the Philadelphia and Boston Steamship Company. Length, 220 feet; breadth of beam, 31 feet, and depth of hold 18 feet. She will be finished in a manuer similar to the "Saxon," already on this line. There is also building at this yard a first-class steam tug-boat for Mr. Stephen Flanigan, to ply on the Delaware. Saveral tug-boats have lately been launched at this yard.

At the yard of Neafe & Levy, two Iron steamers are being constructed for the Philadelphia and Mew York Steam Propeller Company, called the Ironsides and Anthracite, each 120 feet in length. The steamer Norman, for the Philadelphia and Boston line, a wrecking tug for Baston underwriters; a large iron freight steamer for Baltimore, 200 feet in length. This firm has been very actively engaged on other vessels of various descriptions for some time past. They make all the machinery for vessels constructed by themselves, besides furnishing the steam engines, bollers, &c., for vessels built at other yards.

Vaughan & Fisher, Albertson & Brother, and Hillman & Streaker are building steam-tugs for the Delaware and elsewhere. Simpson & Neill's sectional dock, at the foot of Christian street, is alive with business; vessels of all kinds are constantly being placed on their sectional dock and marine railway for repairs. Government vessels are brought here for repairs when the docks at the navy yard are occupied. This firm is also building a large steam barge. The immense machine and boiler works of Morrick & Son have been run to their utmost for some time with machine work for the Government and others. They are now rapidly fitting out the New Ironsides with her boilers and engines, and completing her iron plating.

and others. They are now rapidly fitting out the New Ironsides with her boilers and engines, and completing her iron plating.

Perhaps at no period has such general activity prevalled in the ship yards, foundries, and muchine shops of Philadelphia connected with ship building, and marine engine building, in all their branches, as at the present time. This state of affairs is highly encouracing for the industry and resources of our city; thousands of mechanics are finding active employment at good wages, and everything in that line goes "merry as a marriage bell." There is one thing Philadelphia wants yet, and she ought to have it; and that is a national foundry located here. Her present labors prove beyond doubt or cavil her capacity and adaptability for such work, and the Government would best consult and scours her own interests, as well as that of the nation, by ordering a national foundry at Philadelphia.

As another sign of returning prosperity, we might mention that there are now more new buildings in course of completion than were creeted last year, and the number this season will compare favorably, if they d, not exceed the average of the past two or three seasons. The easy condition of the mency market, and the absunce of any very extensive manufacturing or commercial operations, have had a tendency to run capital into real estate investments and securities. There is no speculation as nons, have use a tendency to run capital into real estate investments and securities. There is no speculation as yet, but a steady forward movement in the business which promises to be as permanent as it is safe. Prices are advancing somewhat, and in fact there is a wide margin in this particular, between the almost total inactivity. of last year, and opening prospects of the present time; and, doubtless, before long they will reach a point at which profits may be realized in the sale and exchange of houses, as well as of lots for new improvements.

A CURIOUS CASE.—Yesterday, in the Criminal Court, a novel case came up, in which was developed the fact that a cabman had been shipped on board the ship Lancaster without his consent. It was introduced in a sort of informal way by the counsel for a man named Stewart, who was charged, with drugging a misn named John McCoy.

John McCoy was sworn.—He said that he met Stewart in the street, and took several drinks with him, and when he came to his senses he found himself on board a vessel, acout fifty miles from the Breakwater; he was not a sailor, and came ablore with the pilot; when he got back to Philadelphia he understood that Stewart had obtained $30 from Mr. Taylor, the shipping master of Mr. Penrese, as an advance on McCoy.

Mr. H. Hubbell, the counsel for Mr. Stewart, remarked there was nothing about $30 in the case. His client was, charged with giving drugged liquor to McCoy, and on this charge he would like the case investigated.

Mr. Taylor was sworn.—He testified that he was the shipping master for Mr. Penrose, a merchant; he bolioved that Stewart was a boarding-house shipper; the ship Lancaster sailed a short time since, and was one hand short; Stewart came to him and said he had a good hand; Stewart then brought McCoy in a wagon to the site; McCoy was stupafied withiquor; he was placed on board, and the ship started down the river; when he came to conclusives somewhere down the hay, and it was found that instead of his being a sailor, he was nothing but a Jerrey cab divier or hostler belonging to Camden, he was sent achore; after he had been shipped Stewart reactived $30.

Mr. Hubbell said this had nothing to do with the case. A CURIOUS CASE.—Yesterday, in the ADVERTISING IN THE SUNDAY PA-PERS.—The following correspondence has taken place between the City Controller and the City Policitor as to the constitutionality of the departments of the city advertising in Sunday apaers:

CHABLES E. LEX, ESQ, CITY SOLICITOR—Dear Sir. I have been importuned by several citizens to get your opinion in regard to the constitutionality of the departments of the city advertising in the so-called Sunday papers. You will oblige me by giving your views at an early day.

Respectfully,

GEORGIE W. HUFTY,

City Controller.

CHOIGE W. HOFTY,
City Controller.
The following reply was sent by the City Solicitor:
George W. Hupty, Esq.—Dear Sir.: I have exsmined the act of Assembly, passed at the last session of the Legislature, relative to the advertisement of municipal notices. The current of decisions in Pennsylvania has always been that papers, executed or notices given upon Sunday are illegal. I incline, therefore, to the opinion thatlyou should not approve bills for advertisements in the so-called Sunday papers.

Yours truly,

CHARLES E. LEX, City Solicitor.

ARREST OF FUGITIVES FROM JUSTICE.

The authorities of Washington have succeeded in capturing James Mowbray and Al. Riley, two fugitives from justice in Philadelphia. Mowbray was arrested upon a ball-piece, at the instance of his security, who had him arrested at Washington. Riley is a sharp fellow, who was arrested in this city, and committed to prison for vagrancy; but while being conducted from the Mayor's office to the prison, they traversed a passage in which was a door locking with a spring; the officer led the way, and when he passed the door, Riley sprang back and slammed it, locking the officer in and walked away at his leisure. Riley was taken out of his cell at Washington for a moment, to give him air in the guard-room. The attention of the officer in charge was drawn away for a single moment, and Riley slipped up to the bunk-room of the Second-ward station, and dropped himself from the second-story window. Persons entside saw him, but did not give notice to the police, and he was off for several hours. Sergeant Downer found his hiding place, and returned him to the cell, and he has at length arrived safely in this city, where he will await his trial. ARREST OF FUGITIVES FROM JUSTICE.

THE ENLISTMENT OF SEAMEN.—Much

THE ENLISTMENT OF SEAMEN.—Much difficulty exists in obtaining good seamen for the navy, and it is increasing every day. This extraordinary demand has been caused by the large increase of versels to the navy, and the consequent large force of able men required to man them. Almost all the seamen of the merchant marine have been shipped in the national service, and yet men are wanted. So scarce are they, that at the shipping office, in the city, the weekly averace of men examined and shipped does not exceed twenty five, and the number often falls below this figure. Seamen, ordinary seamen, and landemen are taken; also, a small number of boys.

The seme difficulty is experienced in obtaining han's for the merchant service. Many offer themselves who are totally ignorant of the duties required, and the capitains ore often deceived by having green hands thrust upon them. A large number of foreign seamen have been roceived since the breaking out of the rebellion. These men have all been naturalized, or have declared their intentions to become citizens. They make good, sailors, and are willing to die for the flag of their adopted country.

Yesterday morning, Lieut, fleury Rolando and Acting-master's Mate Cluster V. Kelly, of the United States navy, left the navy yard for Baltimore in a special train, with a detachment of seamen to join the new steam guipout formake her trial trip. She carries, an illustrious name, which will never be diegraced while the stars and stripes wave above her deck. POLICE CASES .- There were but two Police Cases.—There were but two cases heard yestorday afternoon before Police Magistrate Beifler. One of them was rath r of a novel character. A young man, of good character and, respectably connected, was charged with taking a trunk away from one of the hotels on the Delaware front of the city. Although the taking of the trunk could not be directly charged to him, yet it was testified to that he brought it back the next morning before any charge had been mide against him, and apologized to the owner, saving that he had been intoxicated, and had taken it for a lark. No felonious intent could be proved, and he was therefore discharged, after a reprimand.

The other was the case of highway robbery, and the accused in this case was named Timothy Mulhern.

Mr. A. B. Gook testified that he was one of the conductors on the Richmond and Schuylkill Passenger Railroad. On Monday afternoon he wont to Egglesfield, and there was attacked by Mulhern and another man, and had a gold watch, valued at $65, taken from his person. That Mulhern took it, he was positive.

Mr. S. Overing, superlatendent of the road, testified to seeing the robbery committed. Detective Lamon was there at the tire, and he called his attention to it.

Detective John Lamon testified to so ing a bustle up the street, and thought all was not right. Then the first witness called out that he had been robbed; he started after the thief, who ran, but caught him at Reglesfield. Mulhern had nothing to say, and was committed to answer the charge of highway robbery.

ARSON CASE .- On the 14th of April ARSON CASE.—On the 14th of April last a hay barrack, situated on the premises of Henry Dewees, in Arlinaton township, Montgomery county, and just outside of the city limits, was destroyed by fire, the barn and out-buildings making a narrow eccase. Jonaiderable mystery attended the circumstances of the fire, and accordingly a committee of the Union Mutual Insurance Company of Montgomery county communced an investigation of the affair. To sid, them they requested the best eft of the knowledge and experience of Fire Marchal Blackburn, of this city. Dr. Blackburn consented to go beyond the limits of his balliwick to make the desired investigation, and it was accordingly proceeded with. After a careful search the result was arrived at that a young woman, named Eliza McOalvey, who had been employed as a domestic in the family of Mr. Dewees, was conceined in the matter. She was accordingly arrested on Monday, at Shoemakertown, and brought before Justice Birchell, and was committed to the county jail at Norristown, to answer at the August term of the quarter sessions of Montgomery county the charge of arson.
