-From statistics it appears that, in 1829, there were only 449 Roman Catholic chapels in Great Britain. Now there are 1,019. Then there were 447 priests; now there are 1,388. In 1829 there were no colleges; there are now 1,250 monesteries and 182 convents; and it is a fact, that at the present time there are more pricets in England and Scotland, in proportion to the Catholic population, than in Ireland Itself.

CITY ITEMS.

IMPORTANT TO THE LIADIES .- We are sure that the ladies will bear us out in the opinion that the dry goods house of Mr. J. M. Hafleigh, tanccessor to L. J. Levy & Co ,) Obestnut street, above Seventh, is handsomely sustaining the reputation of that nonular old Philadelphia establishment. His stock of elegant silk and dress goods of every description exhibits excellent taste in all its departments, and, judging from the throng of fashionable custom which has marked this house during the precent season, we doubt, if the same degree of activity has been experienced by any other house in the trade. We invite the special attention of the ladies to Mr. Baffeigh's advertisement, in another column of our paper this morning. In visiting his store, yesterday, for the purpose of "posting" ourselves on the latest novelties of the season, we sere shown a superb line of French Organdies. Just opened, direct from Paris. They are exquisite fabric-, and the styles are beautiful. They will, no doubt, go off rapidly.

FORTY DAYS IN JERUSALEM .--- We invite attion to the advertisement, in another column, of a lecture to be delivered in this city on Tuesday evening next. in the church corner of Broad and Sansom streets, (Bev. Mr. Chambers',) by William White William', Beq., of New York, recently retarned from the Holy Land. The subject of the lecture will be, "Forty Days in Jerusasalem, or a Sketch of Palestine and a Description of Jelem." Though a young man, there are few who have travelled | more extensively or more effectively in the in teresting region of which he is to speak than Mr. Wildiams; and being a gentleman of culture and fine linguis-tic ability, his lectures have everywhere been received with pleasure and instruction by those who are interested in Bible subjects, and with enthusiastic attention by all The lecture will be illustrated with maps, charts, pictures costumes, curiosities, and relics. Mr Williams is a rising young star in the lecture world, and as his aim and object is of the most raiseworthy character, the proce ds being for the benefit of Bible objects purely, we bespeak for him a crowded audience on Tuesday evening. NEW CARTES DE VISITE OF DISTINGUISHED MEN, BY GUTERUNST .- The splendid new ground-floor gallery of Mr. F. Gutekunst, No. 704 Arch street, has Decome one of the most attractive centres of art in this city. A large portion of the pictures which he now makes for the trade in this country and European cities, are to be had at his counters; also, an elegant assort ment of Photograph Albams in which to press Among the latest additions made to his collection of Cartes of a public character, we may name those of minent Presbyterian divines; Rev. Dr. Hodge, of Princeton; John Bright, the great friend of America in the British Parliament; Rev. J. Newton Brown; Rev. John Patton, D. D., of this city ; John Jackson, the well-known preacher in the Society of Friends; a superb picture of Garibaldi, taken from life; Edwin Forrest, the great American tragedian ; and the Rev. Henry A. Boardman, D. D., of this city.

NEW CIRCULATING LIBRARY .--- Mr. Wm. Bro. herhead, of 218 South Righth street, whose advertisemen may be found in another column, has opened a circu g library, on the English plan, never before attempted in this city. The library embraces books of every description, and new publications are added as scon as issued. The latest productions of the English publishin houses are received by every steamer, and the French press will not go unrepresented. The best plan for the reader would be to call at the depository and obtain a -catalogue.

THE REWARD OF JUDICIOUS ENTERPRISE .--It is not every business man whe knows how to distinmish between enterprise and recklessness, but the man who sagaciously anticipates the wants of the people, and supplies them, is certain to achieve success. This is precisely what the popular Philadelphia caterer and pro prietor of the Restnurant, southwest corner of Chestnut and Fourth streats-Mr. J. W. Prico-has dene in making the recent sciendid addition to his dining facilities. He has doubled his capacity for accommodating the public, and he is serving his guests so sumptuously that they mays trabled their number in consequence of it. Price has "hit the nail on the head," and we challenge ary city in the Union to produce his equal as a caterer to the gustatory wants of the inner man. The quantity of firstquality meats, served in the highest style of the culinary art, daily consumed at his dining rooms, is enormor He is now feeding his patrons on princely fare, and des terting them on delicious strawberries, smothered in ice cream. What a picture for a hungry man-
