to unite with the people of Philadeiphia in doing honor to the patriot Brownlow. If my public duies permitted, nothing could be more agreeable to me than to be present on Friday exening, at the reception to be given to Mr. Hrownlow. The honors proposed are most appropriate. Multitudes of our people, it deed, are freely giving their blood to sustain popular Government in America, but no soldier of them all has shown more courage, or rendered more useful service to the cause, than the herole Brownlow. And the full ap-greating circumstance of the day; for it exhibits strongly the wide-spread knowledge and judgment of our people; shows how well they understand the frue nature of the coalest, and the facts arising in it; and how cer-fain they are to appreciate real service and heroic con-ruct, even when preformed in the remotest scenes and without pageantry.
