THE WARMEST DAY OF THE SEASON .- Yesterday was the warmest day of the season, the thermometer at 3 o'clock P. M. indicating a temperature of 96% degrees in the shade. We heard of a number of persons being overcome from the effects of the heat, which was most intense. During one part of the day the streets were quite deserted of people and those who made their appearance were clothed in loose and light garments similar to the summer suits made to order at

In addition to a large number of patients there were also present many of the officers of the institution and invited friends, all of whom seemed to participate fully in the enjoyments of the occasion. Were the name of the exhibitors and delineaters mentioned, the anexcellence of the exhibition. The spirit-stirring strains other airs, were evidently justly appreciated and admired. We cannot but believe that every visitor must have been highly gratified to observe the general good order which was maintained by the patients, who, by that and other manifestations, displayed their interest and gratitude. The Superintendent of the department, with the gentlemen who exhibited their flue transcripts of landscape scenery, statuary, portraits, and other views, must feel amply repaid for their efforts on Triday evening by the benefits which obviously resulted to the Casloral amusoments of this and a similar character, Candlar ectures on popular subject, realings and reci-cations judiciously selected combined with some amployment of time in industrial labor, are so manifestly advantageous to the physical and moral benefit of the unfort nate patients, that we cannot fail to be gratified by the special attention which is now being bestowed in that direction. With increased facilities, and a building inclusing more of the modern appliances of science, and in every other respect better adapted than the present edifice cities of the Union in philanthropic endeavors. at SANSOM-STREEC CHALL, at which J Miller MoKim Eta, a member of the Committee will make wasnet AT SANSOM-STREET HALD, at which J. Miller McKim, Eq., a member of the Committee, will make report of a recent vieit to the Sea Islands of South Carolina.
Mr McKim's examination as to the condition of the negroes on these islands, and their efforts as free laborers, was a very careful one. Every facility for his investigation, was rendered by General Hunter and the other military commanders, with all of whom he had intimute interconress. To the public generally, Mr. McKim's narration will be of the greatest interest, especially at a time like the present. To those who have contributed in any way to the relief of the Fread Backs, it cannot but afford pleasure to learn, as they will, that their aid has poved timely and effective. The Committie are glad to be able, in this way, to make report as to their labors.
