AN APPEAL FOR THE UNION.

BY HON. ROBERT J. WALKER, Late Senator of the United States, Secretary of the Treasury, Governor of Kansas, &c., &c.

LETTER FIRST.

LETTER FIRST. WASHINGTON OITY, June 28, 1862. Whilst our great rebellion attracts the attention of the world, with us it is a question of existence. Our armies, eventually, must triumph, but then re-mains the difficult task of restoring, throughout the revolted States, the supremacy of the Constitution. We must not only continue to maintain the just dis-tinction between the loyal and disloyal, the deluded masses and the rebel leaders, but we must also re-member, that the reign of therror has long been su-preme in the South, and that thousands have been forced into apparent support of the rebellion, by threats, by spollation, by military force of con-scription, and not a few, driven out as mendicants, by the ruin of their homes, and the loss of their means of subsistence. With the exception of South Carolina, whose nor-mal condition for more than thirty years before she struck down our flag at Sumpter, would seem to have been that of incipient treason and revolt, no other State really desired to destroy the Union. A seorgt association and active armed conspiracy in the South, aided by traitor leaders, North and South, and an organized system of falsehood and misrepresentation, drove the masses, by sudden aution, violence, and terror, into this rebellion. And yet, under all these circumstances, the aggre-gate popular vote of the South exhibited a large majority against Secession. Wor should we forget that it was a Northern Pre-gate popular vote of the south exhibited a large majority against eccession. Nor should we forget that it was a Northern Pre-sident, yielding to Secession leaders, in opposition to the particets of the South, who, by the whole power of Executive influence and patronage, at-tempted to force slavery into Kansas, by the crime, heretofore without a name or an example, the Fon-Gany of A Construction. This was the tolling of the first hell, algorithms to patriots, but the concerted GERY OF A CONSTITUTION. This was the tolling of the first bell, alarming to patricits, but the concerted signal for the grand movement of the assassins, then conspiring the death of the Union. We should also remember, that, although a Northern President urged the Lecompton forgery upon Congress, thus mainly contributing to the downfall of the Union, yet, when the vote was taken in the fall of 1860, a majority of the popular suffrage of the South was given to those candidates for the Presidency who had denourced and opposed this measure, over the candidate, (now in the traitor army), who gave it his support. Thus, on this, as en every other coca-sion, where the people of the South have not been overborne by violence and terror, they have re-jected at the polls the action of the Secession leaders.

President, rejecting the advice of the patriotic Scott, refused to reinforce our forts, when menaced or beleaguered by traitors, and announced, in his or beleaguered by traitors, and announced, in his messages, to our country and all the world, the Se-cession heresy, fatal to all government, that we had no right to repel force by force, on the part of a State, seeking by armed secession, to destroy the Union. In other words, that we, under such oir-oumstances, would be the traitors, and the South the defenders of the Constitution. It was then that the absurd political paradox was announced by the President, that a State has no right to seceed, but that the Government has no right to prevent its se-cession. It was this wrotched dogma that para-lystd our energies when they were most needed, gave immunity to treason, and invited rebellion, rendered our stocks unsaleable, and induced thou-sands, at home and abroad, to believe that the Fe-deral Government was an unreal phantom, which deral Government was an unreal phantom, which eristed in name only. Who does not know that if Andrew Jackson, a Southern man, had then been President, the re-bellion would have been crushed by him in embryo, as it was in 1833, and all the blood and treasure, now expended, would have been saved to our coun-try and mankind?

The state of the second state of the course of the deluded masses of the South that they heard such pernicious coursels, and from such a source. If, as our army advances, there has not been an open, general return of the masses to the Union, we must recoiled that when we did occupy parts of the South, and then withdraw, how soon the resurging tide of the rebellion swept over the devoted region, what scenes of horer and desolation ensued, how the homes of these who had welcomed our flag were given to the flames, whilst death was the portion of others. But let us crush out the our fing were given to the finmes, whilst death was the portion of others. But let us orush out the wery embers of this rebellion, drive out to other lands the rebel leaders, give to the ruined and de-luded masses ample assurance of pernanent pro-tection, and they will resume their allegiance to the Union. As to those brave and devoted patriots at the South, who, throughout the Secession fronzy, maintained, at the risk of life and fortune, the cause of the Union the results of the Government maintained, at the risk of life and fortune, the cause of the Union, the resolve of the Government to protect and oherish them is manifest. As a final result, we should not desire to hold the Southern States as provinces, for that would fatally exasperate, and tend to perpetuate the contest, in-crease our expenses, destroy our wealth and reve-nue, render our taxes intolerable, and endanger our free institutions. When the rebellion is crushed, we should eask a real neofication (the close of the we should seek a real pacification, the close of the war and its expenses, a cordial restoration of the Union, and return of that fraternal feeling, which by murdering the people on whom he also obtruded them, thus paying off former crimes committed against the LIBERTIES of one people, with crimes which he urges them to commit against the LIVES of another." The flag of England was then the flag of slavery, and not of slavery enly, but of the African slave and not of slavery enly, but of the African slavery, trade : and wherever slavery now exists, England may look upon it and say. This is the work of my hands; mine was the price of blood, and mine all the anguish and despair of centuries of bondage. This war, then, is mainly the work of England.

ral and artificial, by land and water. The last census exhibited to her our numbers increasing in a ratio, n aking the mere addition, in the next twenty-five years, qual to her whole population, and our wealth augmenting in a far greater pro-portion. Ste saw our mines and mountains of coal ard iron (her own great element of progress.) ex-ceed hers nearly a hundred fold, our hydraulia power, in a single State, greater than that of Great Britani, a single American river, with its tributa-ries, long enough to encircle the globe, and that England might be suchored as an island in our in-land sens. She witnessed Connectiont, smaller than many English counties, and with but one sixth the population of some of them, appropriating more money for educition in that State than the British Parliament for the whole realm; that we had more Parliament for the whole realm; that we had more heads at work among our laboring classes than all Europe, and she realized the great truth that know-ledge is power, reposing on common schools for the whole people. She me sured our continental area, laved by two occass, as also by the lakes and the gulf, with a more genial sun, and a soil far more fer-tile and productive than that of England, and nearly thirty times greater in extent. She saw us raise within the loyal States a volunteer army of three-fourths of a million, without a consoript, the largest, and far the most intelligent and effective force in the world, and millions more ready, whenever Parliament for the whole realm ; that we had more the world, and millions more ready, whenever called, to rush to the defence of the Union, whilst a great and gallant navy rose as if by enchantment from the ocean. She marked the rapid transfer of the command of the commerce of Table transfer of the command of the commerce of the world from London to New York. She observed the transcendent success of our free institutions, and, with that "fear of change perplexing mo-narchs," she realized the approaching crash of thrones and dynasies under the moral influence and advancing match of our republican empire. To insure cur permanent division was to destroy us. Hence, she encouraged the South, acknowledged her as a be ligerent, welcomed the robel flag and war vessels into her ports, protected them there, enabled them to clude our cruisers, and prepared to aid and sustain s avery. For a time, with the ex-ception of Couden, and the immortal John Bright, we seemed to have had soarcely an influential friend in Ecgland. Her masses favored us, but friend in Ergland. Her masses favored us, but four fifths of them are excluded from the polls by restricted suffrage. For a time, king ootton nevor had more loyal subjects than those who then con-trolled the press and Government of England. Our Union was to be severed, the Southern Confederacy acknowledged, the blockade broken, free trade between the Fouth and England established, cotton given her, sud refused us; we were to be forever out off from the Guif and the Lower Mississippi; Portland (the Star of the Enst) was to become a British eity and Maine, always loyal and patriotic, was to be wrested from us and reannexed to the was to be wrested from us and reannexed to the British crown. It was the carnival of despots, exulting over our anticipated ruin, in our death struggle in the great cause of human liberty and struggle in the great cause of human liberty and human progress. And yet it was England that forced slavery upon the South against its earnest protest, and colonial acts vetoed by the British crown. Then, during our colonial weakness and dependence, the kings and queens and parliaments of England, not only legalized and encouraged the African slave trade, but gave chart wand monopolies for the wrotched traffic. Then the lords and noble ladies, the blood royal, the merobant princes, and even the mitred prolates of England, engaged most extensively in this accursed commerce, and thousands of the rich and noble of England enjoy now, by inheritance, action would be, by scenes of rnin, death, and deso-lation. Nor should we forget how zealously. from first to last, Virginia, Maryland, and Delaware, in framing the Fede-ral Constitution, enstained by Washington. Franklin, and Hamilton, and by New York, Peansavania, and New Jercey, opposed the continuance, for a day, of the African slave trade, and how they were oreitorne by the un foutunate continuence, for a day, of the African slave trade, and how they were oreitorne by the un foutunate continuence, for a day, of the African slave trade, and how they were oreitorne by the un foutunate continuence, for a day, of the Grougia and the Carolinas, legalizing the execution tro file icr twenty years, and how fearfully the predic-tions of these great prophet statesmen, George Masca, of Virginia, and Luther Martin, of Maryland, have been fulfilled, that this fati measure, by the force of its moral in filence in favor of slavery and by the rapid importa-tion of segrees here, would menace the peace and safety of the Union.

The set of the set o

There's have to have by the second have by the second safety of its Union. As the North, next to England, was mainly responsible for forcing slavery upon the South, honor demands that the whole nation, as an act of instice, and as a measure that would greatly exait the character of the country, the uld hear any loss that may arise from a charge of sys-tum by any State. Indeed, under all the saorifice, and all the glory of such as near of the country of the country, the uld hear any loss that may arise from a charge of sys-tum by any State. Indeed, under all the saorifice, and all the glory of such as achievement, to the South only. It will be a grand bistorical fact in the progress of humanity, and must adorn the annals of the nation. Especially, let it never be said that we of the North first alled in forcing slavery upon the South, and then, by one sudden act, extinguished it is blood and the total ruin of our coun-try. Whilst the census and other statistics show that one-sixth of the free blacks of the North first alled in more, and whilt the North is closing her doors more and more every day against life further introduction of negrees, if the slaves are to be manumitted, their number being four millions, it ean only be gradually, by successive State ac-tion, aided by Congress, and colonization abroad, so as to remove this discordant element and ultimately leave our country, as irose and happy homes, for the while race of ly. It is in vain to deny the prejudice in the North against our country, as free and happy homes, for the white race of ly. It is in vain to deny the prejudics in the North against the negro rece, constantly increasing as the numbers multiply, accompanied by the stern refusal of social or rolitical (quality with the negro, and the serious appre-hension among their working classes of the degralation of labor by negro association, and the reduction of wages to a few conts a day by negro competition, all de-moristrating, as a question of interest, as well as of hu-namity, that it is best for them, as for us, that the ze-paration, though necessarily gradual, must be complete and clernel.

nabity, that it is best for them, as for us, that the se-paration, though necessarily gradual, must be complete and eternal. Wherever the vote of the people of any. State of the North has been taken on this question, it has been uni-furnly for the exclusion of the free negro race. In the midet of the exclusion of the free negro race. In the not the doption of their celebrated. Topeka Constitution, they eubmitted the free negro question in Kan-ass, when the Republicans acted alone upon the question of the adoption of their celebrated. Topeka Constitution, they submitted the free negro question to a distinct vote of the people, who, by an overwhelming mixity, voted for their exclusion. The recent similar overwhelming yote, to the tame effect, of the people of Illinois, is another clear test of the present sentiment of the nation. That entiment is this, that the negro, although to be regard das a many and treated with humanity, belongs, as they believe, to an inferior race, communion or asso-cistion with whom is not desired by the whites. Those who regard the slavery question as the only, or the prin-cipal difficulty; are greatly mistaken. The negro ques-tion is far deceper. It is not slavery, as mere political institution, that is sustained in the South, but the great-er question of the intermingling and equality of races. In this aepect, it is far more a question of race than of slavery. If, as among the Greeks and Romans, the white race verse enslaved here, the institution would instantly disappear.

This has the mean same process, built, was prace onnected with that of the South, and with Mestico. T desired them, 'however, to 'accelerate this action, by making it a part of the compact of Texas with the Federal ornment, that the proceeds of the aslas of hor public lands, exceeding two hundred millions of acres, should be devoted in all of the colonization described in this extract. The principle, however, was adopted of State sciton by irrevocable compact with the Federal Government, by which, provision therein was made for abolishing sinvery in all such States north of a certain parallel of latitide, Tembracing a territor, largor than New Englasinvery in all such States north of a certain parallel of latitide, Tembracing a territor largor than New Englasinvery in all such States north of a certain parallel of latitide, Tembracing a territor, largor than New Englasinver in all such States of Congress then cited by me. The doctrine restsupon the elemental Go-vernment, was then Clearly established, in portest ac-cordance with refeated subnerity of the nation, and a State, acting by compact within its limits, and will be full as example. The doctrine restsupon the slemantal prin-ciple of the combined subnerity of the nation, and a State, acting by compact within liss limits, and will be conduced any of the process there would be very great, and no ob-action would be interposed by the poo-ple of any of these countries. The statements of my let-iter are true, that there, the "free blacks and emani-pated alaves" "would find a home" "admirably adapted to the arey rates of the social equals, a position there engreation. to some of the Northern States is not yet prohibied, nor exclusion from the right of auffrage ordained, yiet he social ban it compilet, on othly, are marriage, but they hold no onfices in the North, are marriage, but they hold no onfices in the North, are marriage, but they hold no onfices in the North, are marriage, but they hold no onfices in the North, are strue of gradual emancingatis on t R. PURE COD-LIVER OIL.

PURE COD-LIVER OIL. The repugnance of most patients to COD-LIVER OIL, and the inability of many to take it at all, has in-duced various forms of diagnize for its administration that are familiar to the Modical Profession. Some of them answer in special cases, but more often the vehicle nontralizes the usual effect of the Oil, proving quite as unpalatable and of less therapeutic value. The repug-nance, nances, aco., to invalids, induced by disgost of the OOD-LIVER OIL OAPSULES have been much need latory in Europe, the experience there of the good're-suits from their use in both hospital and private practice, adde from the naturally suggested advantages, are suf-fletont to warrant our claiming the virtues we do for them, feeling assured their use will result in benefit and deserved favor.
