Conrad's Devotional Poems * The late Robert T. Conrad, who died four years ago, at the early age of 48, left behind him a tragedy entitled " The Heretic," said to be in the possession of Mr. Edwin Forrest, who purchased it from the author, and the volume of Devotional Poems before us. The poems are introduced by some stanzas to Mr. Conrad's mother, still surviving, and a prose preface, both written by Mr. George H. Boker. The stanzas are touching and simple; we regret that the preface is not biographical. The only permanent notice of Conrad's life occupies less than half a page in Appleton's New American Cyclopædia-too brief a record of a man so gifted. Mr. Boker, who appears to know him well, and estimated him highly, ought to have written a biography rather than preface. Conrad was a man of great talent-able as a speaker, as a writer, as a poet; a man rather

It is greatly to his credit that even his political opponents-we doubt whether he had an enemy-greatly loved and admired Mr. Conrad. His nature was genial, and his manner ominently gentlemanly. He loved literature for its own sake, and, as was said of Goldsmith, admired what he touched. In the volume before us, perhaps more of the inner man is exhibited than in any of his productions previously published. It has been said, "An. undevout Astronomer is mad," and this may be as truly applied to the Post. Mr. Conrad. these poems show, was deeply impressed with the serious and saving truths of revealed religion-though, perhaps, with a lofty contempt for all that savored of hypocrisy and Pharisaism, he did not wear religion on his sleeve "for daws to peck at." Mr. Curtis says, with great truth : What if they cry, who pry and probe, "Lo! here's a speck, or there a flaw !" He scorned the dust upon his robe

The manuscript was submitted to Mr. Boker (by Mr. Eisenbrey, a son-in-law of the deceased poet) for such revision as might better adapt it for publication. THE FUTURE OF THE KAM FLEET. As no hostile fleet floats on the Mississippi or its tribu-taries, it is likely that the function of the ram fleet is at an end. The Arkansa is up the Yazoo river, but is blockaded in by the same means by which we are kept out. It is possible that the rebels are hoping to finish her, so as to make her impregnable, that she may, at the next great rise, come out and scuttle our whole fleet. It is also certain that they are constructing shore batteries with which to resist the ascent of our boats. The large transports up the river will doubtless be burned on our approach.

Anoller reconnoissance by rams and gunboats is in contemplation up the Yazoo, to complete the destruction of the Arkanses. After that shell have been completed it is supposed the rams will be taken for Government des-patch boats, for which they are admirably suited, being proof against rifle shots and field artillery, and when lightened of their load of logs will be very fast.

Sickness in the Fleet.

[From the New York Post] A gentleman from Commodore Farragut's fleet, off Vicksburg, who has just arrived in this city, gives some interesting statement: about the condition of matters at that place. The story is not calculated to impress ono favorably in regard to the management of affairs. THE GUNBOATS.

THE GUNBOATS. Commodore Farragut left New Orleans for Vicksburg on the 2d of May, arriving there on the 11th. The reason for this slow voyage was the defective construc-tion of the gunboats. They are bid ssilers and totally unlit for sea boats, according to the oft-repeated decla-ration of the regular ccean sailors who were with the avredition. expedition. PAYING REBELS FOR THE USE OF A FERRY BOAT.

One of the boats got aground near Eodney, and a ferry boat belonging at that town was employed to take her off. This accupied some hours. The ferry boat was the property of several rebels, and by order of the comman-der of the expedition, a lotter of acknowledgment was sent them, enclosing one hundred dollars for services.

SHELLING VICKSBURG.

The gunboals took position by the town, but not being in sufficient force did not attempt bombardment. The practice was to rail up of an afternoon, when the western sun favored them, and throw a quantity of shells into the sun favored them, and throw a quantity or seens into the city. Captain Porter and his fleet arrived on the 231 of May, and proceeded at once to hombard the place. The effect was manifest, and considerable dismay was produced. Gaptain Farragut arrived at Vicksburg on the 28th. Be took eleven vessels with him from New Orleans, but for some cause three of them were compelled to turn back. The bombatdment was now continued with in-creased vigor. The batteries were repeatedly silenced, and the men serving them would run away; but they were met by bodies of cavalry, and compelled to resume their places at the guns.

SICKNESS ON THE FLEET.

An unusual amount of sickness prevailed among our men while the fleet lay off Vicksburg. On one vessel twenty men out of ninety-two were prostrated by disease. Intermittent fever, degenerating into typhus, was the nore common disorder, but cases of scurvy were nume-

ous. Our informant was attacked by fever, and lay helpless Our informant was attacked by foren, and lay helpless slone a week, when he was granted leave of absence, it being supposed that he could not long survive. He then left for the North, performing much of the journey upon a helpital boat. He had not been long a passenger on that vessel, where a liberal supply of wholesome and nutritious food was furnished to the sick and wounded, before he began to rally; and when he had arrived at Cincinnati, he was nearly recovered. The cause of this libres must be attributed to the in-sufficient and unwholesome food which was supplied to the men on the fleet. The heat, too, was excessive, the thermometer ranging from 100 degrees to 105 degrees in the shade. But the heat did not create sickness—it was the famine.

the femine. But two supply boa's reached Vicksburg from New Orleans during the month, and at one time the advance fleet actually abandoned the place and set out down the river in quest of provisions. At Natchez they fell in with a supply vessel, which partially relieved them. NOTHING TO BE DONE THLL & LAND FORCE ARRIVES. -THE WHITE RIVER FORTIFIED AT DUVAL'S [Special Despatch to the Chicago Tribune] VIOKSNURG, July 12, via GAIRO, July 15. Your correspondent has been down to the point immo-diately opposite the city. The town is apparently de-serted, nobody being visible except a few solviers in the batteries. The batteries are so planted as to be little visible from the river, and are evidently copable of making a slout defence. A rebel flag was flying from one of the spublic buildings, and a hospital flag from one of the larger buildings in the city. The Vicksburg and Shreveport Railroad is badly washed up, and hes not been in running order for two months past. The rolling stock is all upon the Southern end of the arrival of a large land force, no active move-ments will be attempted. To-day, nothing whatever is doing, even the mortars being silent. AFFAIRS AT FORTRESS MONROE.

Description of the Merrimac Number Two, now at Richmond-Important Drawings Found on Board the Teazer-Efforts to Blockade the James River.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 14, 1862. A few days previous to the evacuation of Norfolk by the rebels, says a correspondent of the Tribune, "Merrimac No. Two" was towed from the nawy yard in that city up James river to Richmond, where a large number of mechanics have since been engaged in plating her with iron and preparing her for service. Her armor is in plates instead of bars, her sides of wood, and six feet thick; and she will have all the timprovenents suggested by the carcer of the Merrimac. In the haste of the evacuation, her boilers were left behind on the dock at Norfolk; but she has since been supplied with others at Richmond, which circumstance has occasioned a delay in her coming out. She has received the engines of the Arctic, commanded by Osptain Hartstein in his Northern explorations. These engines were taken out of the vessel at Norfolk soon after her return from her memorable voyage. The FORTRESS MONROE, July 14, 1862.

These engines were taken out of the vessel at Moriok soon after her return from her memorable voyage. The name of the new steamer or ram has been changed to the Bichmond, and is about two-thirds the size of the Merrimae (or Virginia,) will draw about ton feet, and is represented as being altogether more formidable than theo alayer of the Cumberland and Coogress. Deserters, ss-cnped prisoners, and others represent that she is nearly ready to make her appearance in the James river, and alsoughter of any number of our gunboats is confidently conneed on. It is said that the obstructions at Fort Dar-ing have been to countrived as to let her dron through, as

Ready to make the appearances in the Jennes river, and a sharphiter of any number of our gunbonts is confidently connected on. It is said that the obstructions at Fort Dar-ing have been re contrived as to let her drop through, as did the Tenzer the other day. These are substantially the particulars as they have been obtained from various sources, and are believed to be mainly correct. They have for some time been in the possession of the Government, as were the main facts concerning the Merrimac, long before she made her ap-pearance in the Roads. Whether, as in her case, no heed will be paid to them, I am unable to say. That some sort of iron-cled steamer or ram is constructing at Richmond, there can be hardly a doubt. Tritoners taken at differ-ent times, and without any knowledge of each other's story, concur in the general statement. But there is in-formation much more direct and trustworthy; sad theogh in some respects the information gathered through different sources, may be erroneous, there would seem to be little room for questioning the main fact. On board the rebel gunboat Tenzer, captured a few days since, were complete and elaborate drawings of the Bionitor, sud a contrivance to be used in capturing her, the main features of which are two steamers connected by a chain cable-one to go on each side of the Monitor, which would be drawn along by the two steamers thus attached to her. There were also minute specifications as a part of the plan of expure, and details of men as boarders, while others were to be provided with iron plates it cover the openings in the Monitor's decks; others with compounds to pour down her pipe and flue; others with compounds to pour down her pipe and flue; others with compounds to pour down her pipe and flue; others with compounds to prove disclass of all subtaries and infermal machines and their different locations. It is conjectured that the submarine cable found on board of her related to this branch of the rebel service, in which it is supposed he was engaged when she ured. The efforts of the rebels to blockade the James river, and ont off supplies from General MCClellan, have as-sumed quite a serious shape. There are so many points between Harrison's Landing and Jamestown where musketry can be employed with almost unerring cor-tainty that this species of blockade has become even more effective than atillery or heavy guns, since sharp-shooters in tille-pits and ambuscades bid defiance to the shooters in rifle pits and ambuscades bid defiance to the gunbeats, while artillery and land batteries cannot stand shooters in rifle-pits and ambuscades bid defiance to the gunbeats, while artillery and land batteries cannot stand their fire.

On Saturday our transports were fired on repeatedly from what is known as old Fort Powhatan, situated on a bluff about forty feet above the water, on the west side of the river, about the milles below Harrison's Landing, where the inter makes a sharp turn, and is very narrow, and where the fort bears directly on a channel for a stretch of two or three miles as you approach or go up. The Pacific, having in tow a schooner, was fired on at this robut on the Pacific, with great heroism, while the shot were flying around him, went back and picked up his tow, and proceeded. Captain John Pennington, of New Jersey, of the balk Mustang, was shot through the body by a rifle ball. Though he yet survives in the bospital there, he is believed to be in a critical condition. The mail-boat. Warner was fired on also, and struck several times by musket shot, but no damage was done. Two or three gunboats shelled the place, but the artillor y held out for some time. The sharp-shooters seemed to regard the shelling very little. They have the effect to intimidate navigators who have no fear of heavy guns, and for this reason the former are really most mischierous. The gunboats never al size article shores the sharp shooters general belief is that the rebeis are engaged in constructing batteries, which they will open shorty, with the view of closing the river. [Correspondence of the New York World.] OFF VICKSBURG, Miss., July 4. We have heré anchored in the stream, above and bolow the little town of Vicksburg, the sea-going flect of Far-regut, the gunboat factula of Davis, the mortar fleet of Porter, and the ram fleet of Ellet. Of the former, we have above the city two second-class frigates, the Hart-ford (flag-ship) and Bichmond; two sloops-of.war-Oneida and Iroquois-and four sea gunboats, Nos. 1, 2, 4, 6. Of the river gunboats, we have the Benton, Ga-rondelet, Louisville, and Chichmati; six mortar boats, nnder Capi. Maynadier. Further below, to the Balize, are stationed, at intervals of a hundred miles, gunboats as pickets. Two gunboats, the St. Louis and Mound City, are also left at Mirmphis; two, Pittsburg and Cairo, at Fort Pil-low; two, Lexington and Conestoga, (wooden), have gone up the White river as coaroof for transports. One, the Sumpler, (captured), is reported on her way down, the Essex (rebuilt) is daily expected), the Eastport (new) is to be ready in a few days, and the Tier (wooden, repsired) is to be ready for patrol duty along the river at once.

THE FORTHFIGATIONS. We yesterday took advantage of the enemy's pacific disposition, and walked across the peninsula to the point at which the mortar sloeps are moored, about fhree miles below lue town, and then walked up the shoro so as to stand face to face with the city, and observed at our liciarce the works of the enemy. We were in plain sight of the rebels, as they were in plain sight of us, there being only the narrow river, three-quarters of a mile wide, between us.

Thomas Stone, Stat. The following is a list of United States soldiers who have died from wounds in Melvern Hills Hespital : J. L. Graham, 620. Lieut. Mulroy. W. F. Oribbs, 83d. The position of the main body of the army near Har-rison's Landing remains unchanged. Theor's Lebhning remning minimized. Yesterday a suma-dron of the 6th United States Gavairy vent out a mile beyond the picket line for the purpose of preventing sur-prise to a fatigue party on duty at a point in the rear. The enemy's vedettes were discovered half a mile injet-vance. For upwards of two hours the two parties eat quictly watching the movements of each other, until at length the enemy hecamo exceedingly restless and aboved signs of hostility. The 6th allowed him to ad-vance a few yards and then gave him a volley from their carbins; a fow shorts were fared in return by the rebels, after which they turned about and galloged off to their original position. No one was injured on our side. The enemy lost three wounded and ono taken prisoner. The prisoner is of a dull, stupid temperament, and little in-clined to conversation. Nothing of interest or value was e'idited from him. At night the pickets, however, we might safely, as far as meeting the enemy in force is con-cared, take three thousand men and, walk straight our pickets were advanced one miles. The main force of the inte occupied by the cavairy, consequently, our pickets were advanced one miles. The main force of the rebels is not less than fifteen miles from our exte-rior line. That would locate them on Trent and Gaineas' Hills, the former of which is on the west and the latter on the east side of the Chickhonminy. We do not sup-pose for a moment that the rebels are so regardless of life and health as to choose for a camping ground tho mire and swamps in the violinity of Fair Oaks. THE ENEMY STRENGTHENING HIS WORKS. THE EXEMT STRENGTHENING HIS WORKS. We are inclined to think that the excitement of the movements under fire may have exaggerated the num-ber of batterics and gurs, and, as for the batteries in the streets, it is probable that the story brought by deserters is simply that field artillery has been planted in eligible positions to oppose a landing of troops should it be at-tempted. We are inclined to put the number of guns at thirty, though we saw men at work in two places undis-turbed, as if erecting new earthworks or bomb-proofs. DELAY PROBABLE IN THE OCCUPATION. In the case of Vickshurg, as in the case of Pillow.

found out they could be seen from the pilot house of the Warner. I may mention here that sheets of iron have been placed all around the pilot houses of our mail hoats, and that nearly every boat that leaves here makes provision in some manner to protect its pilot house, so sure are they that they will be epened upon by the rebel batteries at no distant day. The rebel's know the vast importance that the James river is to our army, and they are not going to remain idle. Our gunboats caunct be too vigilant in watching the river backs, lest some powerful batteries may open on them when they least expect it. Positive information was received last evening about 4 or 5 o'clock that the tebels were putting up a very strong battery on the other DELAY PRODABLE IN THE OCCUPATION. In the case of Vicksburg, as in the cases of Pillow; Island No. 10, Columbus, and Henry, there seems to be a strong probability of a long pause. The troops which are necessary to hold and occupy the place are not here; no one can say when they will be here. The six regi-ments of Gen. Williams, three thousand men, are insuf-ficient for the task, and weeks may elapse before we may get any from Gen. Halleck's command. That the fleet are down here at all is due more to the energy and ex-cessive bravery of one man than io any professional segacity or ardor on the part of those to whom the duty legitimately belonged. If Col. Ellet had not boildy puehed down and opened the way, carried the request of Commodore Barragnt to Commodore Davis, it is not likely that we should have been in front of Vicksburg at this hour.

was received has evening about a or o bouck that the rebels were putting up a very strong battery on the other side of the liver, opposite our camp. There is nothing to prevent their deing so. The river is about half a mile wide at the place designated, which is opposite our hower landing.

HEROISM OF THE BANS IN LEADING THE WAY.

HEROISM OF THE RANS IN LEADING THE WAY. We cannot think of the enterprise of those five frail rams publing their way down between four hundred miles of hostile shores, not knowing at what moment a masked battery might open upon them, or a robel fleet make its appearance, or the diabolical guerillas fire into them, without exclamation of admiration for the heroism of the brave men who volunteered in the hazardous ser-vice. When we reflect that they had not as much as a howitzer amoog thum, and must depend for their safety upon their speed and their piercing beaks, there is some-thing audacious and spirited about the attempt which commands our highest admiration. THE LOSS SLIGHT. The demage done by the reled shots to our heats is side of the iver, opposite our camp. There is nothing to prevent their ding so. The iver is about half a mile wide at the place designated, which is opposite our lower landing.

The available tugs and steamers commonced towing our schooners, bar es, &c., up the river to our middle landing, we have three regular wharves, or as we call them, landings, being about a mile apart—and at eleven o'clock last night nothing was left in harm's way. Some of the folks whose ounters are convenient to the landing were much scared, as they expected the battery would open en their position during the might. The 3d Massachusetts Battery was sent down, and they stationed themselves on the river bank, ready to respond to the rebels, should they commone to shell uswith a flag of trues, under the direction of Col. Switzer, one of Gen. Modelilar state. They were sent up yesterday with a flag of trues, under the direction of Col. Switzer, one of Gen. Modelilar state. They were and up yesterday with a flag of trues, under the direction of Col. Switzer, one of Gen. Modelilar state. They were also three, and others. They proceeded as far as Turkoy Bend, when they met Dr. Cullen, medical director of the Confederate army.
The doctors of the different armies dined together, and the utinost good feeling prevailed on the occasion. Polltics were not alluded to during the long interview. Three of our urgeons, who are not wounded, were also brought down with 35 of our badly wounded.
Dr. Cullen informed Dr. Watson that every care would be taken of our wounded, were also brought down with 55 of our badly wounded reensels vory flaghy of Dr. Cullen, and says he has every reason to believe that our wounded, were also brought down with 35 of our badly wounded Pennsylvania prisoners in Richmond, copied by permission of Dr. Cullen, medical director of the Confederate army:

<l commands our highest admiration. THE LOSS SLIGHT. The damage done by the rebel shots to our beats is indeed very slight, compared with the amount of powder expended. Four of the eight vessels were struck, some of them receiving two and it ree balls through them. On those which succeeded in getting through them, on the set which succeeded in getting through the set which thread back suffered more heavily. One of them had a ball to penetrate her steam cheet, which killed four men and scalded fitteen others. The loss in the whole engagements, as I learn from an officer of the fleet, in all thirteen killed and thirty-two wounded. I have been particular to arrive at this state-ment, as the first reports stated the loss much greater. The damage to the vessels is very slight and such as can readily be repaired. The Hartford had six shots in ler bull and the Richmond two. The losses of the enemy in the engagement we can, of course, know but little about. An unreliable report from a deserter says they had a hundred and fifty killed ard wounded. It is also said that if we had kept up the bombardment half an hour longer the piace would have been abandoned. A RECONNDISSANCE WITHOUT FORCE.

A RECONNOISSANCE WITHOUT FORCE. The journalists yesterday made a tour across the penin-sola in the blazing while sand, while the thermometer was near one hundred. A journey of ten miles in vari-ous round-about ways, to avoid swamps and bayous, brought us up the Louisiana shore, oppetie the city, and we passed along the front of the batteries. We could lock right into the streets of the city; we could see the houses baking in the sun; we could see the batteries as we moved us, carefully watching for the while puff of grape and canister, so that we might dodge behind a tree or bank. Not a shot, however, greated us. We could perceive men working at the lower batteries, and senti-nels pacing on these of the buff. Here and there could be seen a figure crossing a street, and on another occasion a troop of cavairy galloping along the top of the buff. Theor seemed to be a cesas-tion of hoshilties on their part, not a single shot being fired during the alternoon. The only symptom of life in the place beside was the town clock on the Court House, which rang out the iours as if its gilded hands pointed down to the haunts of trade and peace as of yore. A large wharf boat still lies moored at the bank, a flat boat, and these are all that is left to remind us that it was once the centre of a large trade. The motars from the upper side of the peningula were, tory only appreciable from the strip of new earth thrown-ur, but which is found to contain two guns when examined by the gisss. A quarter of a mile to the left is still another battery, on the bluff, of four guns Mid-way up the bluff, and immediately below the last-mon-tioned battery, stands the Marine Hospital, a large brick structure. At a distance of four hundred yards from the corner of this house are two batteries; mounting three and two guns respectively. These are all the batteries discernible below the place, and I should add that men are seen working on the creat of the hills half a mile be-low any of these, but, if mounted, the guns are masked. All of these batteries cannot be seen at once. Above the city, so far as the eve can discern, are two batteries, located on the ridge of a jutting spur; they mount four avd two guns. These are all the fortifica-tions which can be seen from the opposite shore when the whole hillside is sprend out in panoramic form. Com. Farragut's officers state that, in passing the batteries on Saturday lash, new batteries were discovered, and the smoke kept popping out from a hundred places where they were never expected. There are also reports in the ficet that batteries are being thrown up in the streets, and speculation takes a high range of the number of guns opposed to us: THE ENEMY STRENGTHENING HIS WORKS. ur, but which is found to contain two doing, even the mortars being silent. THE FORTIFICATIONS.

I've conscripts who had deserted were hanged in Vicksburg the latter part of last month. MENPHIS, Sunday, July 13-10 A. M. By the Federal ram Thompson, we have news from our correspondent at Vicksburg of the 10th inst. He re-ports nothing of importance being dome at that point. The rebels seem to be strengthening their position below the tours.

The tools seem to be strengthening their position below the town. Last Sunday morning, after a good deal of gness-work shouting on Saturday night, directed wherever strange sounds were heard in the darkness, nine dead Confede-rates were picked up, killed in their tracks. On the 3th, four more were found, smong them a captain and licutement. This is about the only fighting, there has been done since the 26th of last month. The bombardment still occasionally knocks down a house lown, but no one was injured. The fight of Colonel Fitch with the rebels, sent yes-

teday, took place on what is called Grand Prairie, about four miles back of Aberdeen, Arkansas. Tha rebel commander was Capitain Wheat. Among the captured, all of whom were brought up yesterday on the Gelden Ers, was one lieutenant.

 Day before yesterday, Capt. Dircks, who is raising a company in this city, with four men, went on the Raleigh and Belivar road to recruit, yesterday morning, about two 'clock. They were attacked in the woods by a band of guerillae, numbering about twenty. After a short struggle, in which one of the rebels was shot by Capt. Dircks, and several others wounded, they took to their heels. leaving Capt. Dircks master of the field. The captain and one private were slightly wounded.

Affairs at Lexington-The Raid in Woodford County-The Fight at New Hope Station.

Tuesday : Tuesday: We were in error yesterday in saying that the fight at New Hope Station, on Friday, was between a detach-ment of the 35th Ohio sand the rebels. The only member of the 35th Ohio was the noble commander of the Union forces, Gol. Moore, to whose judicious arrangements and ekilful management the success was due. Col. Moore did so well that it is not remarkable that our informant should have thought he was the "55th Ohio. The Union should have thought he was the 55th Ohio. The Unio should have thought he was the .55th Ohio. The Union forces, however, were made up entirely of convalescents of the various hospitals, and they represented nearly every State in the Union. When Dr. Pering ave his con-sent that euch of them as could stand the journey could go, there was no difficulty in making up the force. The ohief trouble was to prevent those from going who were unfit for the service. And, although the rebel main-ders attacked the train in the night, the convalescents left the cars and speedily formed for battle. THE WOODEORD COUNTY MAD

THE WOODFORD COUNTY RAID.

THE WOODFORD COUNTY RAID. We received very little information posterday as to the movtments of the marauders who appeared as suddonly and unexpectedly in Kentucky. By despetch from Ver-sailles, Woodford county, we learn that a force of five hundred rebel cavatry, under Jack Allen, passed through Versailles about 3 o'clock last evening, going in the direction of Georgetown, by way of Payne's Station. It is said, also, that a band of rebel cavalry made their appearance yesterday between the Junction and Bards-town, and the Bardstown branch of the Louisville and Nasbville Bailroad. We have nothing later in reference to the movements in Shelby county. FROM LEXINGTON.

FROM LEXINGTON.

[From the Lovisville Journal, 15th.] We learn from Nashville that Col. Owen, of the 60th Indiana, surprised and cut to pieces five hundred gue-rillas shove Burksville, Kentucky, about eleven o'clock on Saturday night. The Nashville Union has other ex-cellent news which it withholds for the present, but it adds that our plans are all that can be desired. The Nashville Union sistes that a company of gue-rillas, ninety in number, were busily enguged in drilling in an old field between Gallatin and Hartsville, and otherwise preparing themselves for the work of murder and highway robbery, as taught in the code of Ferguson and Morgan, being an improved edition of John Mur-rell's ethics. While absorbed in the drill some compa-nies of Col. Boone's regiment pounced upon them, and easpurch the whole gaug, who were taken to Nashville on Vriday.

A private lefter received yesterday morning by a gen-tiemon of this city from a highly respectable merchant in Lexington contains the following: Laxington contains the following: Laxington and the space. The shout of a thousand is now ringing in my cars on the cars, ready to start to Frank-fort at a moment's notice. Business entirely suspended, and the city under martial law. The telegraph cannot be used for private messages.

Winchester Again Threatened—The Depots at New Creek Broken Up. HARPER'S FERRY, July 15, 1862.

The aspect of affairs in the vicinity of Winchester and throughout that section of the valley of the Shenan-doab is very unfavorable, and fears are entertained that we shall soon have trouble. In consequence of the threatening appearance of matters at Winchester the stores and all other valuables of the army have been threatening appearance of matters at Winchester the stores and all other valuables of the army have been safely removed here by way of the Potomac and Win-rhester Railroad. Winchester Railroad is the second and solutions. The friends of the South here and at Maritina-been removed over a mile from the town, near the forth-factions. The friends of the South here and at Maritina-burg are "acting as if they had heard good news," and express their confidence that the rebels will make a raid into the Valley as far as Winchester before many days. The force at Winchester, if compelled to retreat, will fall back upon this place, which we can hold against vasity superior ddis. The morements of our forces I cannet state, but I believe that General Pope has them go posted as to foil Jackson, should he venture too far. There seems to be a general impression here that Win-chester will be the scene of a fierce battlo before a weak. It is rumored that Jackson, with one half of the large army which he took to Richmend so suddenly, has re-turned, and been reinforced by the numerous guerilla bads about the connetry. Morees, Martinsburg, and other places have been boken up, and the stores removed elsewhere, so that the rebels can have no temptation along the line of the Bal-timore and Ohio Bailroad. There is not much prospect of their interfering with the trains on this road, as they are well guarded by Adjutant General Miles here, and Gereral Kelly at Cumberland, both of whom are under the command of Major General Wool of this department
