The Academy of Fine Arts. The late exhibition was, with few exceptions, very creditable to our artists. During its continuance, various notices of the pictures appeared in the papers, some of them characterized by sound critical judgment, others by indiscriminate praise of inferior performances, and flippant censure of works It certainly seems unfair, that an artist who has devoted years of life and study to attain excellence in the most difficult branch of an arduous profession, should, when he exhibits the result of his labor, have sentence of condemnation passed upon it by persons either incapable of appreciating its merits or too uncandid to acknowledge them. It may not be amiss to test the value of certain objections made to the fine picture of Mr. Rothermel, No. 40, "Christ among the Doctors." It has been said: "It looks hasty and ill-studied as a composition, and in action it is poor." On the contrary, few pictures give evidence of such mature thought in the composition, and skill and force in the execution; the figures are well posed, and finely balanced. No meagreness of material can be detected in any part, while the canvas is not crowded. The eye is not compelled perforce to dwell upon the principal figure, by any emanation of light, but is naturally directed there by the appropriate action with which the other characters in the piece express their rapt attention to his discourse. The heads of the Doctors are characteristic and argumentative, the color rich and harmonious in a remarkable degree, and there is a solidity and firm-

It was objected: "They are apparently in the temple, and yet a light custing strong shadows comes from the spectator, with a background open to the heavens." The truth is the picture is not illuminated by the distant opening thus spoken of, nor does the light shine in from the front, but enters from the left side, as any person conversant with art will at once see by the projection of the ness in the texture of the flesh that delights the

Again it was objected: "The tone of the picture is of course subdued, in order to give 'prominence to the central figure, but a mere halo of light never yet made a picture imposing or sublime."
As we before remarked, there is no halo of light from the central figure at all. The artist has not reserted to this hackneyed expedient to express the divine character of the child, but finely contrasts his softened lineaments, with the strongly marked and very expressive heads by which he is sur-He has not taken advantage of the trick in art, formerly resorted to by the great painters employed by the Church, by representing the persecutors of Christ with the most hateful or devilish aspect, so as to be enabled to reach, by contrast, a great benignity and sublimity of expression in his countenance. There is a rare justice in this picture by Mr. Rothermel, which will become more perceptible the more it is studied; the Doctors are a collection of heads of the highest order of the Jewish type, with which we judge fault will not be found in this enlightened age, for the merit of a picture cannot justly rest on religious prejudices. It is asked, "Where are the eager-questioning eyes, already glowing with divine truth, the loving smile, and the rosy cheeks and ouris of childhood?" The true measure of the merit of a work of art will always be best estimated by those persons who have studied nature the most carefully; those who look for something supernatural in art, must fail in judgment, for man, as the mostperfectly formed being that is presented to our eyes, is therefore the proper study for the artist, and the only accessible standard of perfection. Again : this was no time for loving smiles. He was disputing with the Doctors, who, according to St. Luke, were astonished at his understanding and answers; besides, he was at the time twelve years of age, and impressed with the gravity of his mission, for when his mother, who had been seeking for him three days, and at length found him in the temple, said: "Son, why hest thou thus dealt with us? behold thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing," he preplied, "How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" The earnest expression the artist has given to his countenance is certainly more in accordance with the text, and the sentiment of the narrative, than would be boyish smiles, rosy cheeks, and a curly head.

The Recruiting Fund.

To the Editor of The Press: Sir: To your independent paper is due the original idea of a grand public meeting, and likewise through your columns was the first munificent subscription of one thousand dollars made. It rejoices the sons of labor to witness the alacrity that marks the response of capitalists to our country's call. Can not we who toil for our daily bread do something? We are the masses. Our aggregate subscriptions, drops though they may be individually, will amount to more than capital or the most lavish liberality can equal. We fill the armies, and we. too, can help to raise and sustain them. In every subscription taken up in this city for great national or philanthropic ends labor has contributed more than capital. The one day's earnings of the workmen in coription made to the fund for the relief of the suf-larers by yellow rows at Norfolk and Portsmouth in that year, and the total of contributions from workshops to the same fund exceeded the total of

The liberal capitalist of to-day, who subscribes his one, two, or three thousand dollars, was but a few years since a mere "journeyman." We are, or hope to be, the capitalists of the future. Why? Because our glorieus land is still the land of liberty, law, order, and constitutional government. Let us then give our share. Besides sending our brothers and sons to the battle field, let us give one day's fruits of our brawny arms, and show again that the Philadelphia mechanic, in soul, energy, intelligence, and liberality, is the peer of the proudest One who can give only his

Bounty for Volunteers.

To the Editor of The Press: Sin Where all are willing, give all an opportunity. Tens of thousands of our men and women would gladly contribute their mite to the good work, were opportunity offered. Now, I propose that our people arrange themselves under the trades and professions to which they severally belong, and in this manner contribute to the cause of the machinists' fund, the doctors' fund, the shoemakers' fund, lawyers' fund, &c. "Many mickles make a muckle," and perhaps no more notable instance would hereafter be quoted of the truthfulness of this saying than the present, if the foregoing proposition be adopted.

JULY 26, 1862. Written for The Press.] WANTED. BY ELMER RUAN COATES.

Wanted: the muscle and nerve of the nation To meet in a glorious band, To carry the beautiful Star-Spangled Banner Through each rebel State of our land. Wanted: the ardor that loveth the Union Far more than the dollar or fame; Wanted: the courage that made us a power And gave us a Washington's name.

Wanted: the village, the farm, and the mountain To swarm with the legions of true; Let them assemble in manner defiant A-singing the "Red, White, and Blue." Wanted : the hands that have gathered the harvest To glean from the liberty tree; Wanted: the men of the loom and the anvil To loom and to strike for the free.

Wanted: the energy, heart, and endurance, That gathers new might on its way; Wanted: the hand and the eye of assurance; That yearn for a rebel to slay. Wanted : the wisdom to see that our trouble Has naught of the holiday fun; That hope and forbearance must leave us forever And yield to the sword and the gun.

Wanted: the mother to arm her own darling, Affection, awhile, to be flint; And children to work on the lint; Wanted: the sighs to be heaved for the Union, The tears for the dying and lame; The bosom to swell o'er the trinkets the rebels Have carved from the bones of the slain.

Wanted: a union of action and feeling, To guide on the eld ship of State; That generals vanish the selfish ambition, And plan for our nation so great; Wanted: a fun'ral of faction and party, Let all politicians be there: Wanted: the mood and the soul of devotion That leads to the spirit of prayer.

VI. Wanted: the fife and the drum to be playing That music in which we delight. National songs from the family piano And mottos that centre in fight; Wanted: the men and the women and children, And all the resources in store: Wanted: that effort and spirit of iron-Wanted : [ An end of the war.

In the month of February of this year, the Peansylvania Coal Company, with a view to break down the prices of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, offered coal at Port Ewen, on the Hudson river, at the unprecedentedly low price of $2.80 per ton, equal to $3.20 in New York.

To enable Schuylkill coal to meet this price, the Schuylkill Navigation Company and the Reading Railroad and the Delaware and Raritan Canal Company transported coal from March to Luly Company transported coal from March to July from Schuylkill Haven to New York at $1 65 per

Without 5 per cent. allowance for waste and present pretty nearly the extent of the ability of the respective companies. Let us see how the proposed route will stand in this competition should it be renewed. Both of the Schuylkill carriers charged, up to the 1st of July, from Schuylkill Haven to New York, $1.65. The new route, then, cannot obtain any more, but must propose either to make a profit to its owners at this rate, or to carry 133 miles for $1.20 gives 9.10 of a cent per ton per mile to carry coal up grades of 25 feet per It is said that some of the railroads in Schuylkill county are dissatisfied with the profits of carrying coal all down grades at 1½ cents per ton per mile. However that may be, nine-tenths of a cent mile. However that may be, nine-tenths of a cent up grade will not pay.

Under the severe competition of last spring the Lehigh Valley and the New Jersey Central reduced their charges to 1½ cents per ton per mile, as above stated, and probably cannot afford and will not go lower, especially as they would be obliged to reduce the rate on their present tonnage from Lehigh and Scranton, and thus lose more than they could possible gain.

Assuming, then, that they would not go below last spring's rate of 1½ cents, which is the lowest they ever charged, what would that leave for the new road?

or, if they charged 1½ cents per ton per mile for their 30 miles, the cost by their route would be 30 cents higher than by the Schuylkill to New York. Lastly, taking the charges as they stand on all the routes to day:

Halleck's Record on Confiscation. his order no. 3 explained. Much is said shout General Halleck's Order No. 3, and it is generally held up as something worthy of the dark ages. Here is the order:

"BY. LOUIS, NOV. 20, 1881.
"ST. LOUIS, NOV. 20, 1881.
"GENERAL ORDERS NO. 3:

"I. It has been represented that important information respecting the numbers and condition of our forces is conveyed to the enemy by means of fugitive slaves who are admitted within our times. In order to remedy this svil, it is directed that no such porcens be hereafter permitted to enter the lines of any camp, or of any forces on the march, and that any now within such lines be immediately excluded therefrom.

"2. The General Commanding wishes to impress upon all officers in command of posts and troops in the field the importance of preventing unauthorized persons of every description from entering and leaving our lines, and of observing the greatest precaution in the employment of ager is and clerks in confidential positions.

"By order of Major General Halleck,
"WILLIAM MCMICHAEL,
"Assistant Adjutant General."

The matter, it will be remembered, was brought up in Congress, when are Juliar year a letter, showing how General Halleck understood his order and his duty. It was as follows:

To Hon. F. P. Blair, Washington. ages. Here is the order :

Was as lollows:

To Hon. F. P. Blair, Washington:

DEAR COLONEL: Yours of the 4th inst, is just received. Order No. 3 was in my mind clearly a military lecessity.

Uncuthorized persons, black or white, free or slave, Uneuthorized persons, black or white, free or slave, must be kept out of our camps unless we are willing to publish to the county everything we do or intend to do. It was a military and not a political order.

I am ready to carry out any lawful instructions in regard to fugitive slaves which my superiors may give me, and to enforce any law which Congress may pass; but I cannot make law, and will not violate it.

You know my private opinion on the policy of enacting a law confiscating the slave property of rebels in arms. It Congress shall pass it, you may be certain I shall enforce it. Yours truly, H. W. HALLECK.

shall enforce it. Yours truly, H. W. HALLEUK.

A CARD FROM DR. PLUMER—By God's good providence I was born under the Government of the United States Under the flag which floats over its Capitol I have always lived. Of my own free choice I expect to live and die under its noble Constitution. I have never thought of a better, nor desired a different form of fundamental law.

I religiously believe, and I have uniformly held and taught, that civil government is the ordinance of God. I believe the Government of the United States is the ordinance of God to me and to my children, as it was to my parents before me. When any man is chosen our Chief Magistrate I accept him as the minister of God to me in civil affairs. I regard it as my solemn duty and my high privilege to sustain this Government; and against any and every attempt to destroy it, I intend to sustain it in word and deed—by precept and example—with my prayers; with the little worldly goods I possess; and, if called thereto, with my life. I would not live under it, if I could not heartily do these things. I have often spoken and written for it, but never against it. For better and for worse, I own no other Government than that under which I now enjoy all my temporal blessings. I have long ago written, and I still maintain, that there is no provision in our form of government for secession, and that secession is revolution.

Of these things I have so long and familiarly spoken, both publicly and privately, and they have for many years entered so fully into the very elements of my principles, that I was surprised when I was told that any one thought it would be proper that I should avow them any more publicly than I had already done, in order to prevent a misunderstanding of my true position. more publicly than 1 nau and true position.

The opinions of medical men, after having been instructed by Prof. BOLLES, 1220 WALNUT Street, Philadelphia, in the application of Electricity as a therapeutic agent.

Philadelphia, in the application of Electricity as a thorapeutic agent.

Extracts of Letters from medical men, after having fully tested the discovery of Prof. Bollles:

W. R. WELLS, M. D. Buffalo, N. Y., after a year's practice, writes to Prof. B. as follows:

I think my faith fully comprehends the fact that Electricity, correctly applied, according to your discovery, is abundantly competent to cure all curable diseases. My experience and success, after extensive practice, fully warrant this assertion. Were I sick with a fatal disease, I would far sooner trust my life in the hands of a skifful Electrician than all the "pathles" on earth besides.

BUFFALO, N. Y. W. R. WELLS, M. D. MCCARTHY, M. D.

P. W. MANSFIELD, M. D.: For the last nine months I have made Electricity a spe-cialty, and my faith is daily increasing in its therapeutic effects, and I believe; when applied according to your discovery, it will cure all curable diseases, among which re numerous cases never benefited by medicine.

D. McCARTHY, M. D.:

I am fully satisfied that Electricity, when understood according to its polarities and their relations to the fixed laws of the vital economy, as taught by you, is the most powerful, manageable, and efficient agent known to man for the relief of pain and cure of disease. I would further state that I have for the past few weeks used Electricity in my practice, to the exclusion of nearly all other remedies, and have been eminently successful, and consider it a universal therapeutic.

DAYTON, Ohio.

D. McCARTHY, M. D.

AMOS GRAY, M. D.:

I would recommend my brothren in the medical profession to avail themselves of an opportunity of becoming acquainted with Prof. Bolles' new method of applying Electricity, which I think is not known to medical men, except those who have availed themselves of his instruction, for I am very confident that much injury must be the result of a wrong, unskilful application of so powerful an agent.

Nichigan.

H. G. KIRBY, M. D.:

What I have now to say is from actual observation, as I have spent most of my time for the last two months with Prof. Bolles, and have witnessed the effects of the Electrical agent on from fifteen to twenty-five patients a day, suffering from almost every form of chronic disease; and, as strange as it may appear, in a majority of cases, a perfect cure was effected in from five to fifteen days. And I will here remark that most of his patients were afflicted with long-standing complaints, considered incurable by all other known remedies.

H. G. KIRBY, M. D.

CINCINNATI, Ohio.

DAVID THURSTON, M. D.:

I believe your discovery to be a reliable therapeutic agent, and feel it my duty to recommend it. Since I have received instruction from you I have applied it in cases of Aphony, Bronchitis, Chorea, Amenorrhoza, Ashma, and Congestion, and find that I have the same success that you had when I was under your instruction. I invariably recommend medical men to avail themselves of an opportunity of becoming acquainted with your new method of applying Electricity.

DETROIT, Michigan. DAVID THURSTON, M. D.

MARVIN GODDABD, M. D.:

Prof. Bolles: A great revolution in my misd and practice has taken place since I became acquainted with your new discovery of applying Galvanism, Magnetism, and other modifications of Electricity as a curative agont. I have found by many experiments that Electricity is a safe therapeutic agent in all senute and chronic cases when applied according to your discovery. I desire that medical men should become conversant with your discovery.

CLEVELAND, Obio. MARVIN GODDARD, M. D. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 10, 1859.

Prof. BOLLES—DEAR SIR: The more I investigate this system of practice, the more confident I am that it is all-powerful to meet the ten thousand diseases to which fissh powerful to meet the ten thousenn unscases to which has heir.

You, who first discovered Electricity to be a reliable therapeutic agent, should be considered a great benefactor of the race, for it is the only reliable system of cure for the woes and ille of suffering humanity. It is strange that physicians have become so wedded to their several systems, brought up from the darkness of paet agos, that they will close their eyes against the light now beaming forth through this system of practice. All other systems I regard as the morning star to the rising sun.

P. SHEDD, M. D. Prof. BOLLES: Prof. BOLLES:
The nearer I conform to your system of application the more successful I am, and as I have examined all the guides and works published upon the subject, and seen nothing in reference to your theory, I do not hesitate to say I believe it to be original with you, and the only reliable system extant for curing disease.

Respectfully yours,
TORONTO.

UHAS. BANDALL, M. D.

TORONTO.

The opinion of a medical man, after thirty years' practice, fifteen in Allopathy and fifteen in Homecopractice, inteen in Anopathy and inteen in Homeopathy:
Prof. Bolles—Dear Sir: I never have, since you gave me instruction in your new discovery of applying Electricity, and God forgive me if I in the future ever do, practice either Homeopathy or Allopathy. I have been strictly governed by the philosophy you laid down, and for the best of reasons—namely: That I am generally successful, and I frankly say to you that I am done with medicine forever.
My success has been creat since I have them in New. My success has been great since I have been in Newark, N. J.

GLUTEN CAPSULES PURE COD-LIVER OIL. The repugnance of most patients to COD-LIVER OIL.

The repugnance of most patients to COD-LIVER OIL, and the inability of many to take it at all, has induced various forms of disguise for its administration that are familiar to the Medical Profession. Some of them answer in special cases, but more often the vehicle neutralizes the usual effect of the Oil, proving quite as unpalatable and of less therapeutic value. The repugnance, nausea, &c., to invalide, induced by disgust of the Oil, is entirely obviated by the use of our CAPSULES. COD-LIVER OIL CAPSULES have been much used lately in Europe, the experience there of the good results from their use in both hospital and private practice, aside from the naturally suggested advantages, are sufficient to warrant our claiming the virtues we do for them, feeling assured their use will result in benefit and deserved favor.
