Important Order from General McClellan.

Seizure of Rebel Property—Employment of Contrabands—No Marauding to be Allowed —Peaceable Inhabitants not to be Molested—Suspicious Persons to be Arrested.

GENERAL ORDER—NO. 154.

CAMP NEAR HARRISON'S LANDING, Va., Aug 9, 1862.

The Major General Commanding directs the attention of the officers and soldiers of the Army of the Potomac to the following Executive order by the President, which has been officially published:

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, July 22, 1862.

EXECUTIVE ORDER.

First. Ordered, that military commanders within the States of Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas, in an orderly manner, seize and use any property, real or personal, which may be necessary or convenient for their several commands for supplies, or for other military purposes; and that, while property may be destroyed for proper military objects, none shall be destroyed in wantonness or malice.

Second. That military and naval commanders shall employ as laborers, within and from said States, so many persons of African descent as can be advantageously used for military or naval purposes, giving them reasonable wages for their labor.

Third. That, as to both property and persons of African descent, accounts shall be kept sufficiently accurate and in detail to show quantities and amounts, and from whom both property and such persons shall have come, as a basis upon which compensation can be made in proper cases; and the several departments of this Government shall attend to and perform their appropriate parts toward the execution of these orders. By order of the President.

EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

No official copy of this order has been received at this headquarters, and the General Commanding has for this reason delayed the issuing of a general order to carry into effect the views and directions of the President. Some recent occurrences in this army have, however, shown that it has become necessary to do so, to prevent this executive order being made a pretext for military license.

The order of the President accords so substantially with the course uniformly pursued by this army on this peninsula under the orders and instructions of the General Commanding, that no material change in any respect is required thereby in its conduct and government.

Personal property necessary or convenient for supplies or other military purposes of this army will be, as here tofore, seized and used by the proper quartermasters or subsistence officers, upon the orders of commanders of army corps; or, in case of troops employed on detached service, where army corps commanders are not accessible, by order of the officer in command of such detached force.

In all cases the officers thus making the seizures shall take an account showing the kind and quantities of property seized, and from whom, and the place, value, and its estimated value; and the names of the persons from whom the same shall have come. Whenever circumstances admit of so doing, receipts will be given to the owner or their agents, specifying simply the particulars above mentioned. Copies of all such accounts and receipts will be transmitted in the usual manner, by the officers making them, to these headquarters.

All officers and soldiers of this army are enjoined and ordered to abstain from all seizures of private property except in the mode above prescribed; all other appropriations will be regarded and punished as pillage. The idea that private property may be plundered with impunity is, perhaps, the very worst that can pervade an army. Marauding degrades as men and demoralizes as soldiers all who engage in it, and returns them to their homes unfitted for the pursuits of honest industry. This army is composed mostly of men who have left their homes at the Commanding, to whose care they are entrusted, owes it to the parents who have sent their sons, and to the communities that have sent the flower of their youth, into the military service of their country, to warn and restrain them from an evil so pernicious.

The order of the President requires the application of a similar rule in the use of real property. This, however, does not apply to such lands and fixed buildings as may be required from military operations—to wit: marches, camps, pasturage, hospitals, depots, quarters, and damages occasioned by active hostilities; but no use should be made, or injury done to real property, beyond what is actually necessary or convenient for military purposes.

The destruction of any species of property in wantonness or malice is expressly prohibited by the President's order, as well as by the usage of war in all civilized nations. All commanding officers are earnestly enjoined to exercise the utmost vigilance on this subject. Straggling and trespassing are the invariable indications of a tendency to this description of crime.

Inhabitants, especially women and children, remaining peaceably at their homes, must not be molested; and wherever commanding officers find families peculiarly exposed in their persons or property to marauding from this army they will, as heretofore, do all in their power with safety and without detriment to the service, post guards for their protection.

In protecting private property no reference is intended to persons held to service or labor by reason of African descent. Such persons will be regarded by this army, as they heretofore have been, as occupying simply a peculiar legal status under the laws, which neither the military authorities of the United States are not required to regard at all in districts where military operations are made necessary by the rebellious action of the State Government.

Persons subject to suspicion of hostile purposes, residing or being near our forces, will be, as heretofore, subject to arrest and detention until the cause or necessity is removed. All such arrested parties will be reported, for the Provost Marshal General, with a statement of the facts in each case.

The General commanding takes this occasion to remind the officers and soldiers of this army that we are engaged in supporting the Constitution and the Union of the United States, and in suppressing rebellion against their authority; that we are not engaged in a war of rapine, revenge, or subjugation; that this is not a contest against population, but against armed forces and political organizations; that it is a struggle carried on within the United States, and should be conducted by us upon the highest principles known to Christian civilization.

Since this army commenced active operations persons of African descent, including those held to service or labor under State laws, have always been received, protected, and employed as laborers, at the South; and it shall be the duty of the provost marshal general to cause lists to be made of all persons of African descent employed in this army as laborers for military purposes, such lists being made sufficiently accurate in detail to show from whom such persons shall have come.

Persons so subject and so employed have always understood that after being received into the military service of the United States, in any capacity, they could never be reclaimed by their former holders. Except upon such understanding on their part, the order of the President as to this class of persons would be inoperative. The General commanding therefore finds authorized to declare to all such employees that they will receive permanent military protection against any compulsory return to a condition of servitude.

By command of Major General McCLELLAN,

S. WILLIAMS, Assistant Adjutant General.

Escape of Unionists from Richmond—An Interesting Account.

Lieutenant F. Murphy, of the 67th New York Volunteers, who was taken prisoner at the battle of Savage Station, in company with Captain Oakey, 5th Pennsylvania Reserve; Lieutenant William Biddle, 1st Regiment Rickles Brigade, and a Mr. David McAvery, a Union citizen of Richmond, arrived here on Saturday very interesting narrative of the manner in which they eluded their enemies:

We escaped from Richmond Prison—a place heretofore used as tobacco warehouses—on the morning of the 7th, by tearing off a board from the rear of the house, which led into an alley. While groping our way in the darkness of the night, in the most silent manner, so as not to wake the sleeping sentries, we discovered another hole awake in front of the house, which did not suit us as it was best to be done. Finding the coast was clear, we slept on a cellar-door all night. Early the next morning we visited a house occupied by a lady of the most thorough-going Union principles, who furnished us with food and clothing. We also met other Union friends here, who did everything in their power to aid our escape.

In order to escape from here successfully they forged exemption tickets, which represented them to be employees on Government contract work in the Eagle Works. Finding those would not work, General Winder being the only person who could issue a pass, they were obliged to turn back, and tried another point to the left of the city. They had not proceeded far, when they were halted by a sentry, to whom they made the excuse that they were black boys, going for water. They could not pass this way, after satisfying the sentry they were all right, they returned towards the city, but when out of sight, concluding that to the left was their safest direction, they took that course, following the course of a river which stands ready to save this Union; when that great duty shall have been accomplished, the power and virtue of the same patriotism will assail the tyranny in its own entrenched camp. In the free country, the progress of despotism is marked by its attacks on the property of the citizen; this is the commencement of its dark design.

They pulled from here to West Point, where they arrived at three o'clock the following morning; after securing their boat to a stake, being wearied and exhausted, they slept soundly until six o'clock in the morning. When they awoke they discovered the town, but not knowing whether it was the home of friends or their enemies, were somewhat puzzled as to what course to pursue. They concluded finally to pull for the town, and had not been under way but a few moments when two men jumped into a sailboat and gave them chase. They succeeded, however, in reaching the shore at the point where the Matapony and Pamunkey rivers form the York. They unexpectedly came across some picketa here, whom they supposed rebels, but the lieutenant who was in command of them recognizing Captain Oakley as an old friend, their toils were brought to a close.

ASKING BRITISH PROTECTION.—A few days will show whether there will be in this city a repetition of the St. Louis political scandal. In St. Louis, some days ago, the British Consul was besieged by numbers of recreants, claiming to be subjects of Queen Victoria, to escape the threatened conscription. The scenes it presented baffle description. An incensed crowd of Irishmen, recognizing some of their own countrymen among the applicants, pre-sented them in a very peculiar style to the British representative—the style being headforemost down one or two flights of stairs.—Cincinnati Catholic Telegraph.

Progress of Recruting.

THE DRAFT IN MASSACHUSETTS—GOV. ANDREW'S ORDER.

Governor Andrew, in his order dated from the Executive Mansion, Boston, August 12, says:

The assessors of the several towns and cities, in preparing the new enrollment, are instructed to include the names of all citizens, of whatever color, who at the date of the order—August 4, 1862—were between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years. No exemptions are to be deducted from the enrollment, except of such men as are plainly and visibly disabled by some permanent defect from doing military duty.

ARREST FOR RECRUITING IN NEW JERSEY FOR SICKLES' BRIGADE.

The first arrest under Gov Olden's order against recruiting in New Jersey for regiments from other States, was made in this city yesterday, by Capt. Beardsley, of the 12th Regiment, by order of Col. Carman. It is alleged that authority has been given by the Secretary of War for Sickles' Brigade to recruit in the several States in which it was originally raised, and, among others, in New Jersey—several companies of the brigade coming from Newark and Paterson. Capt. Nolan, of the company from this city, formerly commanded by Maj. Toler, opened a recruiting office a few days since in Market street. The fact becoming known to Col. Carman, he caused his arrest yesterday.—Newark Advertiser, Aug. 14.

NO DRAFT IN BOSTON.

The enlistments of the last two days prove the utility of the determination of the great body of our citizens to make recruiting their business for the present. The enrollment lists have swelled beyond expectation, and yet they come. Meetings are being held in all portions of the city and the greatest energy is displayed. Men are fast apply ing at the stations, and if a week or two more is allowed, Boston's quota will be answered by volunteers.

VERY PROPER AND SENSIBLE.

The President of the Chicago Street Railroad Companies has determined to discharge all able-bodied men, and employ instead women and boys.

SOLDIER'S HOME IN BOSTON.

We are glad to see the movement on the part of our Municipal Government towards providing a soldier's home for invalids who may return disabled from the war. We hope the measure will be promptly followed up and consummated.—Post.

EVADING THE DRAFT.

Several skedaddlers were arrested at Bellows Falls the other day en route for Canada. Forty others by the Boston train were detained at Rouse's Point, they looked so remarkably able bodied.

It is stated on Sunday night a schooner left Newburyport for the Provinces with some sixty persons on board fleeing to escape the draft.
