RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE. Our Churches and the War. The war has had an apathetic effect upon religion, at least if we may judge from outward manifestations. A large proportion of our churches, of all denominations, excepting the Catholic, have been closed for some weeks past, and in many cases the few that are open have been slimly attended. Of course, there is a reason for this beyond mere indifference. An unusually large number of our citizens have this summer availed themselves of a trip to the country; those left at home have had their church-going seal materially abated by the now more absorbing topic of War, and many who, sixteen months ago, were regularly seen in their places of worship have either since fallen in their country's service or are new in the field. War, too, is the theme in most of the pulpits that are occupied; war constitutes the staple of our religious exchanges; its recognized claims alone have saved the noon day prayer meeting from a collapse, and in a good degree the war is supplying the only present materials for Christian activity. Church members have stopped discussing creeds, and are, irrespective of names; shaking hands with each other on the now religious and paramount daty of saving the Union. The Old School Presbyterian is vicing with the Methodist in making sacrifices for the common cause; the Quaker, forgetting his scruples of other days, is sending forth his sons to uphold the standard of freedom; Protestants are greeting Catholics as brethren inspired by a common real; Christian associations, formed out of all denominations, are all doing what they can for the soldier's comfort, and the soldiers in return, without regard to former prejudices, are praising the Sisters of Charity as so many angels of mercy. When, therefore, religion, from whatever cause, takes on this practical and homogeneous form, the mere absence of Church religion, so to speak, (Churchanity and Christianity are not always synonyms,) is not necessarily a symptom of religious decay. Besides this, even the outward forms of religion will soon resume more of their accustomed appearance in our midst. The first Sunday in September will bring with it an influx of citizens

The moral effect of this can hardly be over-estimated. With few exceptions, indifference on the part of any citizen has been construed. from the pulpit, into covert sympathy with rebellion, and rebellion has been fearlessly held up by a the sand champions of the Cross as the king of crimes against God and the State. Nor has this ecclesiastical loyalty been without its practical fruits. We doubt if there is a single regiment in our army to-day that does not owe a portion of its truest men to the patriotism of the pu pit; and it is not saying too much to add, that four fifths of the great benevolent movements that have been set on foot since the war began, for the benefit of the soldiers, originated in the churches. No good man will underrate the value and importance of having praying men in our army. We are in a contest to sustain the Right, and moral science is at fault if victory and triumph do not ultimately crown the efforts of those who most consistently rely upon the

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH, NORTH AND SOUTH .-The Episcopal journals are discussing the question whether to hold, or to postpone, the triennial Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States. The meeting will fall due in Oatober. The Northwestern Church argues for indefinite postponement on the ground-"That the Southern bishops and delegates from the Southern dioceses could not obtain safe conduct going and returning through the military lines, *

* * and therefore that they cannot attend."

"This," says the writer, "will destroy the general nature of the Convention, and suggests the prudence of postponing the attempt to assemble it to happier times."

power of the Arm that moves the world.

Another suggestion is thus stated:

"To meet without them, acknowledging the separation, is, upon church principles, to acknowledge the independence of the Confederate States."

It is due to the Episcopal press to state that it has very generally opposed this postponement on the ground that the Church ought not, just now, to be showing too great deference to the enemies of the State. The Christian Witness—the Episcopal paper of Boston—however, while it hopes the Convention will be held as usual, appeals in advance to the delegates—

"To avoid all subjects of legislation which shall, in any way, interfere with a full restoration of our separated members in the unity of the Spirit, and in the bond of peace, when this rebellion will have been suppressed."

A cotemporary makes the following excilcation of this suggestion by the Witness:

"That is to say, when the Convention meets next October, let the members be careful to pass no resolution or whisper no opinion likely to grate upon such fastidious ears as those of the Reverend Major General Bishop Leonidas Polk!"

TERBIFIU ADVENTURE WITH A BOA CONBTBIOTOR.—One of the most thrilling incidents which ever came to our knowledge occurred, a few days since, in a "side show" with Van Amburg & Co.". Menagerie, where two enormous snakes—an anaconds and a boa constrictor—are on exhibition. The keeper was in the act of feeding them when the event occurred. The boa around the middle as a man's thigh, had nust swallowed two rabbits, when the keeper introduced his arm and body into the osge for the purpose of reaching a third to

His shouts of distress rone once brought several men to his assistance, and among-them fortunately was a well-known showman, named Townsend, s man of great muscular power, and what was of much more importance, one who had, been familiar-with the habits of these repulsive monsters all his life. BOUND-HOUSE BURNED — LOSS $25,000.—The round-house at the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad caught fire between 11 and 12 o'clock Friday night, and was in abright blaze before it was discovered, rendering the subduing of the flames impossible. There were five engines in the house at the time, viz: the Seneca, Chippewa, Apache, Shelby, and Stranger, none of which were recovered but the Stranger, which having come in with the express train that night, had steam up and was run out through the bleze. The entire roof, which was timplated on wood; fell in, with all the lining of the building, leaving nothing but the bare walls st uding, which are considerably damaged. The loss on the locomotives and building is $25,000 at the lowest calculation.

Mr. Nottleton, of Hannibal, the Auditor, was here last fall to estimate the value of the building with a view of insuring, but whether he took out a policy or not is not known here. Fortunately, the turn-table was saved with but slight damage, and no hindrance or inconvenience to the road will therefore accrue from the disaster. Repairs to both the house and engines will be made immediately. The fire originated either in the oil room or carpenter's shop, and is supposed to have undoubtedly been the work of an incendiary.

WHY THE BLACK REGIMENT WAS DISBAND.

ED—ANOTHER VERSION.—The Hilton Head correspondent of the Tylome says: "The lat Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers has been disbanded. Justice to the men demanded that General Hunter should pursue this course. Under a regimental organization for three months, these negroes have been drilling, performing useful fatigue duty, but have not received a cent of pay. Eceing their fellows employed as servants for officers and as laborers in the quartermaster and commissary departments. Obtaining good wages without being subject to restraint inseparable from camp life, these black soldiers have lately shown some dissatisfaction, and clamored for fusitive. General Hunter, always quick to redress grievances, at once dishanded the regiment. He had repeatedly appealed to the War Department, in behalf of these patriotic freedmen, and had tacity, if not expressly, received its sanction to keep the organization in existence, as the sending down of uniforms, accourtements, and arms for it fully proves. But Congress adjourned, making no provision for paying the regiment, and there remained, under the circumstances, no alternative than the one which was adopted." WHY THE BLACK REGIMENT WAS DISBAND

TH-E CITY ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION OF A BRAVE OFFICER.

RETURN OF COLONEL JOHN K. MURPHY. Yesterday afternoon Colonel John K. Murphy, of the 29th Begiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers, arrived in this city, after an imprisonment of nearly three months in the vile and loathsome prisons of the Southern hierarchy. When it was announced yesterday morning that Colonel Murphy would arrive during the day from Baltimore, preparations were made to give him such a reception as could be possibly gotten up on so short a notice.

Colonel Murphy was taken prisoner at Winchester. He has proved himself a brave soldler, and is beloved by all the men of his regiment. A committee of Councils took the matter of getting up a procession in hand, and the several regiments now in the process of formation in our city were invited to participate. The lieutenants of the police, at their usual levee, were also directed to assemble at the Baltimore Depot, with as many men as they could conveniently muster. could conveniently muster.

The train bearing the distinguished Colonel arrived at the depot, Broad and Prime streets, about 1 o'clock, and as he slighted he was greeted with long, loud, and continued cheering from his friends, who were assembled upon the platform. The Colonel was accompanied by Lieut. Col. Curry, and Captains W. D. Rickards and W. Bickards, Jr., and Lieutenants James O. Linton, Geo. E. Johnson, Jos. McGuigan, and John H. Goldsmith, of the 20th Regiment. the 29th Regiment.

The Colonel received the congratulations of his numerous friends in the sitting room of the depot. The greetings were very warm and cordial, especially between the Colonel and some of the members of the regiment, who were present. The committee of Councils were also introduced and cordially welcomed the gallant Colonel back to his old home. Ohief Buggles had the charge of the arrangements for the procession. In consequence of the military being mostly in camp, and the notice being short, they were unable to participate in the demonstration. Several companies of the Scott Legion, and about 400 policemen, were stationed at the depot. Beck's Band was also in attendance. Barouches and carriages had was also in attendance. The procession proceeded, along Washingten avenue to the Union Volunteer Refreshment Saloon amid great cheering. The whole party entered and sat down to a bounteous repast that had been provided. After doing justice to the good things spread before them, Hon. Elishs W. Davie, late Speaker of the House of Representatives, and now colonel of the 140th Regiment P. V., at the conclusion of a bounteous repast, arose and said: He had a pleasing duty to discharge in infroducing Col. John K. Murphy to those present. It was not necessary where he was so well known to do so, but it was right that the brave soldier should speak for himself. And it must fill his heart with joy and gratitude to find this large assemblage of the mothers and wives of his brave command here to meet him on his retura smilling welcomes through tears of affection and gratitude. The speaker said he had long entertained feelings of warm personal regard for the brave soldier whom they had met to honor, and to day he felt proud of him as a Pennsylvanian. The brief time allotted did not allow the committee time to have made such preparations as they would have desired, but when he saw such an asternblage composed of so many fair damptars as this the had met to honor, and to day he felt proud of him as a Pennsylvanian. The brief time allotted did not allow the committee time to have made such preparations as they would have desired, but when he saw such an assemblage composed of so many fair daughters as this, he felt that it was indeed an honor. He bid Col. Murphy welcome, thrice welcome, to his home and native city. Three cheers were now enthusiastically given for Col. Murphy, who, in responding, said he could not be placed in a more awkward position than in attempting to make a speech This reception had far surpassed anything he could expect. His sole aim had been to serve his country—how far he had succeeded his superior officers must testify. In returning to his native city, he was glad to find that she was not behind-hand either in her chilstments or her devotion to the flag we all love and serve—He had heard Philadelphia frequently spoken of in the army in terms of praise, and he never listened to these flattering remarks without feelings akin to pride. The Colonel described the pilgrimage of himself and comrades to captivity, and the miserly rations were a half pound of sour bread, and three ounces of fat pork, to each man per diem. The pork, he said, could be better described in the language of another, and that was, that it was necessary to place a brick upon it to keep it in position. It was not a very polite description, but was expressive of the facts. The Colonel said he deeply felt the compliment paid him. His furlough was for ten days, when he hoped his health would be sufficiently restored to permit him again to take the field, in behalf of that flag for which he would willingly lay dewn his life in defending. The Colonel related how it was he came to be captured. It appears that, being sent to one particular spot, during the battle, the rebels tried to flank him. Discovering this, he alighted from his horse, and, calling on a soldier to hold him; made a reconnolessance. The rebels had, in the meantime, delivered a pretty severe fire in the

who had the matter in charge. THE POST OFFICE.—Some time since the attaches of the Philadelphia post office raised a bounty subscription of nearly one thousand dollars. It was at first contemplated to organize a company, and divide the fund among those who enlisted, but the time was found to be too short to complete this organization. A meeting was held at the post office, on Thursday evening, to determine in what manner the subscription should be finally disposed of. Edwin Booth, Esq, chief clerk, occupied the chair. It was moved that a committee be appointed to report as to the disposal of the fund. This was agreed to, and the committee, through Mr. George Levis, chairman, reported the following reso-

Resolved, That the Oitizens' Bounty Fund Committee be entrusted with the proper distribution.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

An address was made by Mr. Booth, which was received with much applause. He stated that this meeting, like the one over which President Lincoln presided some time since in Washington, was without any precedent. The time was propitious, however, for the employees of the Government, now in the Post Office at Philadelphia, to show their patriotism. Although the amount which they contributed might be considered small, yet it was an offering which, like the little stream of water trickling upon the roots of a giant forest tree, might help to nourish and strengthen the creation of many years. It was an evidence of the earnestness of those he saw around him, and as such would be appreciated.

After the cheers which his eloquent remarks had caused had subsided, the meeting adjourned.

REV. J. WALKER JACKSON, the distinguished patriotic divine of the Methodist Church, we observe by an advertisement in this morning's edition, will preach to morrow morning, in the Arch street M. E. Church, northeast corner Broad and Arch streets. This is a new society, but lately formed, and is under the pastoral charge of the Rev. A. Rittenhouse, a young and talented preacher, and it is stated by many of his hearers that he has not his superior in the Philadeiphia Conference. The society is weekly adding to its number, and is composed of the most prominent people in the Methodist connection, and citizens of the immediate neighborhood of the west end of the city. It was the intention of the society to commence the erection of a chapel, preparatory to a beautiful church edifice, this fall, in the neighborhood of Broad and Arch streets, but the demands of our Government upon all men for their aid and support has caused its exponement for the present; but we understand the "sealing" men identified with the enterprise will, at an opportune day, push the work successfully forward. It is known that the men who are the main contributors to this enterprise, immediately on the receipt of intelligence that the Government desired known that the

A FORMIDABLE WEAPON.—Yesterday afternoon the Rafael Repeating Rifle, a new invention, was tested with great satisfaction at the Bridesburg ersenal. The trial took place in the presence of a commission, under the direction of Lieutenant Laidly, selected by the War Department. The gun is very simple in its construction, and is placed on wheels a trifle larger than the common target rifle. It throws a one-and a-quarter ounce ball, and is intended rather to be used as artillery, and drawn by men instead of horses. Twelve men are sufficient to attend to moving and firing it. It is said the piece can be fired and well sighted at least one hundred times per minute. It has been fired twenty rounds in five seconds. At a recent trial the built's eye of a target nine hundred yards distant was struck five times out of twenty. The gun tranges about a mile and three-eighths, at an elevation of five degrees. Captain Ericsson, speaking of this kind of weapon, says that ten thousand men with guns of this kind would be equal to thirty thousand men with the ordinary pleose. Colonel Doubley, in charge of Fort Corcoran, says that having held one of the guns and experimenting with it two weeks, he ascertained that he could defend the fort with only a force of one hundred men, while it would require four hundred men with the ordinary guns. The guns are made in New York. A FORMIDABLE WEAPON.—Yesterday

THE NEW CURRENCY.—The new issues of postage currency, to subserve the public wants in the way of change, are now in use. They are of four demoninations—five, ten, twenty-five, and fifty cents, and are printed on the same style of paper now used for treasury notes. The twenty-five-cent note is about one-third as large as a dollar bill. The centre is composed of five five-centstamps with the head of Jefferson upon them. The figures "25" are upon each upper corner. At the top are the words "Postage currency. Furnished only by the assistant treasurers and designated depositorles of the United States," and under the design are the words "Receivable for postage stamps at any post office", On the reverse side are the figures "525". It seems that Cummins went into the place on Thursday evening, and after drinking had some words with one of the girls who tend bar. He was then set upon by Smith and a girl and was severely cut upon the head. The wound was of such a character that the physician who examined it, thought at first that Cummins had been shot, but probing the wound, was unable to find any ball. The injuries of Cummins are considered dangerous. Smith was committed in default of $2,000 ball. Chara Dayton, one of the girls employed in the establishment, was also arrested and held to bail.

THE FORGERY OF LAND WARRANTS. THE FORGERY OF LAND WARRANTS.

—The case of Christopher Armstrong, charged with forging applications for bounty-land warrants, was resumed yesterday in the United States District Court. A son of the accused was put on the witness stand by the Government, to testify against his father, but he refused to answer any questions, and was committed by Judge Cadwalader for contempt of contr. The morning was consumed with the proof of the forgery of the alderman's signature to the application forwarded to Washington. A number of experts were also examined to establish that the writing in the documents was that of the accused. The standard of comparison was an affidavit made some time since by Mr. Armstrong. Some of these witnesses pronounced a portion of the papers to be in the handwriting of the accused, but were undecided in regard to others.

A THIEF NICELY CAUGHT.—For seve ral weeks past, Mr. Thum, a brush-maker in Third street, near Quarry, has missed from his shop the sum of $200. Suspicion rested upon a young man named Chas. Simpson, who resided next door, and a trap was set to catch the rogue. This plan was carried out on Thursday, and proved successful. The key of a fire-proof safe, was placed in an exposed place, in the rear of the store, owners.

The difference between fact and faction, of permanently curing the sick and suffering of their diseases, or advertising to cure, and showing but little or no evidence of cures, can be well appreciated by the anxious inquirers after health, upon attentively reading the following synopsis of certificates from some of the most reliable gentlemen in Philadelphia, who were permanently cured by Prot. BOLLES, 1220 WALNUT street, and after they had been given up as incurable by the most eminent medical men of this city:

The following is a statement of facts in reference to my condition and astonishing cure of Epilepsy:

For fively years newlous to my knowledge of Prof. C.

H. Bolles' discovery of the therapeutic administration of Galvanism; Magnetism, and other modifications of Electricity for the cure of all acute and chronic diseases, I had been severely affliced with Epileptic: Fris of the most obstinate character, and had abandoned all hopes of ever being cured, as I had for years tried the treatment and received the counsel of the most eminent Medical Men of the State, with a view of obtaining relief if fentry, Zouave, and knit.

ment and received the counsel of the most eminent Medi-cal Men of the State, with a view of obtaining relief it any ceuld be found among the Old Schools; but all my efforts were unavailing, and, therefore, all hopes were abandoned, as I then knew of no greater skill for the our-of obtainate cases than in the Old Schools. About six months ago my mind was turned to investigate the new discovery of Prof. C. H. Bolles, 1220 Walnut street, and, after noticing several certificates of cures which were published, and some from persons with whom I was acquainted and knew them to be reliable men. I was inand, after noticing several erroticates of three whom were published, and some from persons with whom I was acquainted and knew them to be reliable men, I was induced to call on the Professor and obtain his opinion of my case. After he had examined me about ten minutes, he frenkly informed me that he could cure me, and offered to give me a written warrantee of a complete cure, and, in case of a failure, to charge me nothing. This at first seemed an impossibility; but the frankness and earnestness, of the Professor convinced me of his scientific accuracy in the diagnosis of my case. He disclosed all my sufferings and symptoms for five years past as well as I knew them myself. I will here state, for the good of humanity, and especially those suffering as I was, that I am perfectly cured. I further would state that more than four months have elapsed since my cure, and I have had no symptoms, and, therefore, feel confident that I am cured. I shall take pleasure in being referred of at any time by any one suffering as I was, and any information of my condition previous to my cure will be freely given to any one at 1542 North Thirteenth street.
