ARREST OF CHARLES INGERSOLL-THE REASONS FOR HIS ABBEST .- Yesterday morning Charles Ingersoll. Esq., was arrested by Deputy Marshal Schuyler on a charge of uttering disloyal sentiments in his address, on Saturday evening last, at the Demo-cratic mass meeting in Independence Square. Sundry affidavits had been filed, recounting the charges against Mr Ingersell, and it was on the strength of one of these charges that the arrest was made. Mr. Ingersell was taken before the proper authorities, and put under heavy bonds to appear and answer to the charge to-morrow. The speech of Mr Ingersoil and his arrest were among the principal topics of conversation in the city yesterday and last evening. There was no excitement, however, and last evening. There was no excliement, however, attending the arrest. It was generally known among our citizens on Sunday that an attempt would be made to have Mr. Ingersoil taken into custody. One of our reporters, who was present at the meeting, furnished us with a complete and accurate report of the speech complained of but which, on account of its treasonable character, we suppressed from these columns. We now present it in full, it being the only correct report yet published:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: I rise to support these resolutions, and I would support, if necessary, resolutions that are a little stronger. But the truth is, that the time for discussion and for resolutions has passed, and we are arrived, fellow-citizens, at wi hin six weeks of the time when we are to come to the ballot-box, and to settle, I hope forever, the questions that have been for the last eighteen months distracting this country, and in regard to which so much effort has been made to bring the great Democratic party into disrepute. Fellow-citizens, as I understend the Democratic party is now the majority of the people of Pennsylvania [Applause.] We have a majority in Philadelphia, in the city, and in the state; and I trust, that our brethren of the neighboring Northern States will prove in Uniober and November, when their elections are to take place, that the Democratic party is in a majority there also—[a voice, "I is in a majority in the army!"]—and I am sure that in the States of Maryland, Missouri, Kentucky, Delaware, and whatever Southern States remain with us in the Union, the Democratic party is also in heavy majorities; so that, when we come in the rolls, in the fall, we come for a review of the party is the fall, we come for a review of the process. SPEECH BY CHARLES INGERSOLL. cratic party is also in heavy majorities; so that, when we come to the pulls, in the fall, we come for a purpose, which purpose, now almost accomplished—within six weeks of its come to the polls, in the rout, purpose, now almost accomplished—within six weeks accomplishment—is the cause, and the only cause, why the accomplishment—is the cause, and the only cause with the accomplishment—is the cause, and the only cause, why the Democratic party has been so lately denounced in all the Republican papers, and for which this very meeting, at which you are peaceably assembled here to night, to make known your grievances against the Government of the United States, has been threatened. [A voice—"By the Bulletin."] I do not know the names of the papers—I Bulletin," I L'oo not know the names of the papers—I do not read them—there are few papers, gentlemen, now in Philadelphia which a Democrat need read. But, I remind you, fellow citizens, that all Democrats who have ventured to come to this meeting have been denounced as trailors, as encouragers of rebels, as disaffected persons, as men unworthy of the name of American citizens, and who disgrace their party name as Democrat. I say, the reason of this denunciation, and the only reason, is that this Democratic narty is in the majority, and is about the this Democratic party is in the majority, and is about to take power from the Government. I say that if you do your duly in the fall, it the men of this State, and the citizens of other States, do their duty, and rally to the Democratic party (the only rallying point that can save the country), we shall take the power forever from the hands of the Republican party and the Republican papers. [Cheere.] And the Republican leaders may well cry out against this meeting, or against any meeting for rallying the Democratic party, because in these meetings and that rallying, I say, can be heard the knell of their power. Was ever anything so monstrous as that we should be denounced, that this peaceful meeting should be denounced, with its ocean of faces that I see looking up here new? I see no armed men, no rlot, no disturbance, no disorder. I have heard no sentiment disaffected to the Union or Constitution, or to anything we ought, to be well affected to. I say is it not monstrous that the purpose to his Democratic party is in the majority, and is a or Constitution, or to anything we ought, to be well at-fected to. I say is it not monstrous that the purpose to hold this meeting should have been denounced in all parts of the country? and is there any other reason or motive that can be conceived of for denouncing it, save that which I have suggested to you, save that we are in a majority? Gentlemen, if we were in a minority, if majority? Gentlemen, if we were in a minority, if ore was no fear of us, if those who denounce it did not know that we are about to withdraw them from the treasury and from power, you would have heard no denunciations of this meeting.

Now, gondemen, what are we going to do? [Voices—What was the meeting preliminary to the October election. I have seen you assembled here before. It is no new thing for the Democratic party to the October election. I have seen you assembled here before. It is no new thing for the Democratic party to hold a meeting preliminary to the October election; and what are we going to do? [A voice—Sare the country.]] We are going to save the country, agyou say, sir; then we are quietly going to the ballot-box, and we hall deposit our voice against the pairty now in possession at Washington. Is there is an interest of the anti-American, or anti-Democratic? [Urles of "Ro, sir-ee!"]. Is that treason? Is that rebelion? Is that idea anti-American, or anti-Democratic? I went to know whether any Government that ever excessed so much power has, with 1,300,000 men—or not to count the 600,000 not yet in the field-has, with 700.

to count the 660,600 not yet in the field—bass, with 700,000 men in the field, ever accomplished results so insignificant? Here we are, on this twenty-third day of August, 1862, without accomplishing any reauts towards the suppression of the rebellion. We were told it would take but sixty or ninety days to crush out the rebellion. Mr. Seward writes to all his correspondents, and gives it out in every direction, that sixty or ninety days is to be the limit: [A voice: 4 Like a good many more, he know'd nothing.'] Well fellow-citizens, with what object has this war been prosecuted? I hear from my friend, (Mr. Witte,)—and I am very glad to hear it—that the Savernment have taken it into their heads to declare that this Abolition scheme is dead. But what has been the whole object of the war hitherto? [A voice: 4. To free the nigger.'] To free the nigger! Now, has there been any other object?—and if they could accouplish that object, where should we be? If those four milliens of negroes were turned loose into the Northern and bouthers States together, where, gentlemen, would you and I be? [A voice: 'We might all go'to four milliens of negroes were turned loose into the Northern and Founhers. States together, where, gentlemen, would you and I be? [A voice: "We might all go to Ireland and Germany," and laughter] Are we to adopt them? In what manner are those negroes to be disposed of? Why I will tell you what will become of them, gentlenen, and I do not suppose the Abolitionists will much regret it. Those poor negroes whom the Abolitionists love much less than you and I do—those poor negroes would have their throats cut in a war of races, and that would be the end of this scheme of the Abolitionists. races, and that would be the end of this scheme of the Abolitionists.

I say further, fellow-citizens, that a more corrupt Government than that which now governs us never was in the United States, and has been seldom seen in any European part of the world. It is necessary to go to the older regions of Asia to jund as much corruption as exists in this Government of Mr. Lincolm.

[At this polut of the speaker's remarks, a young man in srmy uniform called out, "You are a list; this is the best Government that ever existed." This interruption created quits a commotion, and the mass of humanity in front of the platform swayed, to and fire tumultancely, amid cries of "put him out," "hang him," "fight," &c. Order being comparatively restored, the speaker resumed his remarks.]

I was saying, fellow-citizens, that this is the most corrupt Government that ever disgraced the United States. Look at the fortunes made in contracts [Oheers.] Look at the reports of the Senate and House committees—Republican reports, made by their own members—and there you will see the evidence that anything so corrupt, that anything half as corrupt as this Government of the United States, as now composed, was to refuse to pass a vote of censure upon a Republican Senator whom a committee of that body reported against as having received a bribe of twenty or thirty thousand dollars, it matters not which, from a contractor—[appleause]—that same Senate to get at them in order to increase their own majority. Well, now, fellow-citizens, I say if you choose to put down this Government, to go quietly to the ballot-box in October and vote against this Government, who is to say nay to it? Is that treason or disminon? [Cries of "No," and cheers]—What are we told? We are told by this Government [a voice: "it is treason, freedom is treason, the press is treasonable. What will this Government for organize itself, treason to so far as the sworl is necessary. But I say, tellow-citizens, that the idea that is now given out by these people at Washington, that we I say further, fellow-citizens, that a more corrupt to the existing Government, is a thing so monstrous as never was heard of in any country. [Voices: " We will never was heard of in any country. [Voices: "We will support the Constitution!"]

What is in the way? Well, I do not understand if we have the majority there is anything in the way. They tell us we can be arrested. All [Gaughter and applause.] Well, I see our friends in different parts of the town (some in the Twelfth ward, the other day) have been arrested. But, after all, fellow-citizens, these arrests are not such terrible things. If they arrest you, they must feed you, clothe you, lodge you; and, in these hard times, there is something in that. [Laughter, and cheers for Augersoll. A voice: "They don't take care of your wife and children."]
No. they don't take care of your wife and children. No, they don't take care of your wife and children. [Laughter] I know of nething else that they pretend to put in the way of our march to the ballot box except an arrest, and I flatter myself that though they may arrest you and we, they cannot arrest the whole Democratic party. [Cheera] You cannot arrest the Falls of Niagara; you cannot arrest the cean. The Democratic proportion of the four hundred thousand voters in Pennsylvania—you cannot arrest them. Therefore it is, fellow-citizens, we are every day closing up for this election day, and when that day comes and the Democratic party shows its majority throughout this State, and, as I hope it will throughout the North, then the wind is taken out of Mr Lic coln's sail; and though we shall not then he in the possession of power, I want to see the Federal Gover ment that will dare, in the faze of an ascortained mejority of the whole country, to carry the unconstitutional and an arrest the country. No. they don't take care of your wife and children Fellow-citizens, I will now give way, as it grows late and other speakers are waiting to address you. TWENTY-FOURTH WARD HOSPITAL.

POLITICAL STABBING CASE. - About POLITICAL STABBING CASE.—About 10 o'clock on Saturday evening two men named Wm. Medford and Henry Davidson, got into a dispute about politics, at Ludwick's drove yard; at. Fortisth-atreet and Lancaster avenue, Twenty-fourth ward. From words the parties came to blows, and Davidson, it is said, struck Medford with his fist, knocking him down. Medford got up, and is said to have drawn a pocket knife, with which he is alleged to have inflicted three stab i upon the perion of Davidson, one in the breast, another, in the back, and another in the hand. The wounded man was conveyed to the Pennsylvania Mepital, but is not considered in a dangerous condition. Medford was arrested, and had a hearing before Alderman, Kooken, who committed him to await the result of the injuries inflicted

THE LATE REAR ADMIRAL READ. The funeral of Rear Admiral George C. Bead, of the United States navy, will take place at en o'clock this morning, at the Naval Asylum. The officers of the army and navy, the clergy, civil authorities, and friends are invited. The deceased was born in Ireland, and entered the navy of the United States on the 2d of April, 1804. His commission as lieutenant was dated on the 25th of April, 1810; in the year 1814 he stood number ten on the list of lieutenants, and was attached to the brig Chippewa list of lientenants, and was attached to the brig Ohippewa on the Mediterranean station. In 1827 his name stood number twenty-nine on the list of captains, which rank he held to within ten days of his death, when, by the late act of Congress, he was promoted to the grade of rear admiral on the retired list.

In 1832 Admiral Read commanded the frigate Constellation on the Mediterranean station; in 1840 he had his broad pennant on board the frigate Columbia, as Commodore of the East India Equadron. In 1846 he had his broad pennant on board the frigate United States, as Commodore of the African, and afterwards of the Mediterranean, squadron. This was his last cruise, being, by the action of the first Retiring Board, in 1865, placed on the list of retired captains.

on the list of retired captains.

The Navy Register of 1861 gives him twenty three years and eleven months sees service, six years and four months chore or other duty, and twenty-six years and six months unemployed. months shore or other duty, and twenty-six years and six months unemployed.

Admirel Read figured conspicuously during the last war with Great Britain. He took part in several actions, among them the capture of the British frigate Guerriere, by the United States frigate Constitution, and his conduct was honorably noticed on that occasion. His death occurred fifty years and three days afterwards, the action having been fought August 19, 1812. He was a gallant officer and courteous gentleman, and a man of commanding personal appearance. He was exceedingly particular regarding etiquette, and had great respect for rank, and, his reputation in the service was that of a severe disciplinarian, but very just withal. The Admiral retained through life a strong brogue, and many amusing stories are told of him, in which the Irishman forms the prominent part. One of them, familiar to almost every officer of the United States navy, is characteristic of the man, and we give it:

of the United States navy; is characteristic of the man, and we give it:

On one occasion, when in command of the navy yard of Philadelphia, he was travelling between Baltimore and the latter city, and in the pars made the acquaintance of a young gentleman, whose appearance and conversation pleased him. On arriving at Philadelphia they parted, the Admiral expressing himself much gratified, and detiring a continuance of the acquaintance. The next morning the Admiral was seated at his office, when who should enter but the friend of the day before in the uniform of a passed midshipman, for the purpose of report form of a passed midshipman, for the purpose of reporting for duty. The Admiral looked up, much astonished; and, after a pause, remarked: "Be jabers, only a passed midshipman? Sure, and I thought you were a diplomen?" Admiral Read married a daughter of Commodore Dale, sister of Edward C. Dale, Esq. of Philadelphia, who survives him. He leaves no children.

AFRAID OF THE ASSESSORS.—Numerous are the plans resorted to te mislead the assessors in the discharge of their duties, some of which are very amusing. An old lady in the upper section of our city, amusing. An old lady in the upper section of our city, after having waited some thirty odd years, recently united herself to one of the storner sex. Upon being questioned by the assessor as to the number of male persons residing in her domicile, she flatly denied that any of the male gender lived in the house, and after the officer left was congratulating herself to the neighbors on how nice she had fooled the assessor. What was her consternation, about half an hour afterwards, upon opening the door, to find a small slip of paper, stating that her———, the idol of her old age, was enrolled for military duty, &c. It seems the assessor had learned the truth at a neighboring house, and had thereupon slipped the document under the door.

Another case has come under our notice, where a shoemaker residing in one of the lower wards of our city, upon hearing that the assessors were coming, immediately wended his way hatless and coatless to a neighboring recruiting rendezv.us, and enrolled his name as one of his country's defenders. The assessor shortly afterwards arrived at the residence of the shoemaker. The lady of the house attended the summons to the door, but she appeared to be semewhat ignorant of her husband's size, see, weight, or even whether she was favored with any domestic appendage of that kind. While the conversation was progressing, the proprietor was favored with any domestic appendage of that kind.

While the conversation was progressing, the proprietor made his appearance with a very broad arin on his physiognomy, and saluted the officers as follows:

"Yell vat, you want; you want's to draft me; you no sharp; I gets de bounty, he—he; I be's von soldier, ha—ha. Aint you fooled?"

It seems that the valorous shoemaker, supposing that he was; to be immediately drafted, had (when he had the was to be immediately drafted, had (when he had learned of the appearance of the assessor in the row where he resided) joined a volunteer company so as to procure the bounty. Numerous other incidents might be chronicled where the people have been misled, altoge-

The notice agent reported the contention of Stol. 10 ter support cases.

The census of the house was reported as follows:
Whole number in the house, 2,363; admitted during the last two weeks, 145. Same time last year, 2,687; decrease, 324. Births, 3; deaths, 21, eloped, 49: bound, 2; discharged, 114; number furnished meals, 51; number furnished meals, 51; number furnished toggings, 24.

After the transaction of some unimportant business in reference to the rules of the board, adjourned.

BEING IMPROVED.—Many of our pub. lic school-houses have received useful and necessary repairs during the vacation, now nearly completed. In the First section, the Jackson. Weccacos, and Poliock school buildings have been repaired throughout. The Mount Vernon, in the Third section, has had a cost of mastic put upon the front, and the interior of the building painted. In the Fourth section, at the Ringgold school glass partitions are being put up. The interior is to be painted and otherwise improved. Some of the school buildings in the Fifth section are also being repainted, which is also the case with the Zane-street and Filbert-street school buildings, in the Ninth section. The Monroe Secondary, in the Fourteenth ward, is being reflored, and new shutters are being placed upon the Hancock school building. At the Northwest school, in the Fifternth section, the yard is being paved, and the George Wolf school, in the Eixteenth section, repainted. The roofs of the Webster and Harrison school buildings are being repaired, and glass partitions are being placed in the Manayunk school building, Twenty-first section. All these improvements are to be completed by the first of September. Being Improved .- Many of our pub

The difference between fact and fiction, of permanently curing the sick and suffering of their diseases, or advertising to cure, and showing but little or no evidence of cures; can be well appreciated by the anxious inquirers after health, upon attentively reading the following synopsis of certificates from some of the most reliable gentlemen in Philadelphia, who were permanently cured by Prof. BOLLES, 1220 WALNUT street, and after they had been given up as incurable by the most eminent me-THE PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL 1862. tiemen in Philadelphia, who were permanently cured by Prof. BOLLES, 1220 WALNUT street, and after they had been given up as incurable by the most eminent medical men of this city:

The following is a statement of facts in reference to my condition and astorishing cure of Epileosy:

For five years previous to my knowledge of Prof. O. H. Bolles' discovery of the therapeutic administration of Galvanism, Magnetism, and other modifications of Electricity for the cure of all acute and chronic diseases, I had been severely affliceed with Entlep'ic Fits of the most obstinate character, and had abandoned all hopes of ever being cured, as I had for years tried the treatment and received the counsel of the most eminent Medical Men of the State, with a view of obtaining relief if any could be found among the Old Schools; but all my efforts were unavailing, and, therefore, all hopes were abandoned, as I then knew of no greater skill for the cure of obstinate cases than is the Old Schools. About six months ago my mind was turned to investigate the new discovery of Prof. C. H. Bolles. 1220 Walnut street, and, after noticing several certificates of cures which were published, and some from persons with whom I was acquainted and knew them to be reliable men, I was induced to call on the Professor and obtain his opinion of my case. After he had examined me about ten minutes, he frankly informed me that he could cure me, and offered to give me a written warrantee of a complete oure, and in case of a failure, to charge me are the mount of the professor and obtain his opinion of oure, and in case of a failure, to charge me are the coure, and in case of a failure, to charge me are the coure. This at first seemed an impossibility; but the frankness and earnestness of the Professor convinced me of his scientific accuracy in the diagnosis of my case. He disclosed sil my sufferings and symptoms for five years past as well as I knew them myself. I will here state, for the good of humanity, and especially those suffering as I was, that I am perfectly cured. I further would state that mere than four mouths have elapsed since my cure, and I nave had no symptoms, and, therefore, feel confident that I sin cured. I shall take pleasure in being referred of at any time by any one suffering as I was, and any information of my condition previous to my cure will be freely given to any one at 1542 North Thirteenth street, Philadelphia.

N. B.—It will be well for the diseased to recollect that Prof. B. has given a word of caution in his pamphlet, to guard them against trusting their health in the hands of those in this city claiming to treat diseases according to his discovery. This caution may seem severe on those using Electricity at hazard, but it is the severity of truth, and designed for the good of humanity. See advertisement in another column.

The repugnance of most patients to OOD-LIVER OIL.

The repugnance of most patients to OOD-LIVER OIL, and the inability of many to take it at all, has induced various forms of disguise for its administration that are familiar to the Medical Profession. Some of them answer in special cases, but more often the vehicle neutralizes the usual effect of the Oil, proving quite as unpalatable and of less therapeutic value. The repugnance, nauses, act, to invalids, induced by disgust of the Oil, is entirely obviated by the use of our CAPSULES. OOD-LIVER OIL/OAPSULES have been much used lately in Europe, the experience there of the good results from their use in both hospital and private practice, aside from the naturally suggested advantages, are sufficient to warrant our claiming the virtues we do for them, feeling assured their use will result in benefit and deserved favor.
