Publications Received. From Charles Desilven, 1229 Chestnut street: Gilham's Manual of Cavalry and Infantry Tactics. This is the work of which large numbers were supplied by the State Government for the use of the officers of Volunteers. It has been largely adopted in our militar, schools. That gallant soldier, the late General Kearney, gave his testimony that the publication of Gilham's Manual was "most useful to the country," as a comprehensive, complete, and reliable book. He added, "I regard it as the best Military Book that exists. There is no duty, either of the Staff or of the Line, that is not thoroughly explained." Sully's Manual for the Non-commissioned Officers of the Infantry and Riflemen of the United States Army. This little book is indispensable to the non-commissioned officer, teaching him his duties and giving a glossary of military terms, with an appendix containing the Articles of War.

From T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS, 306 Chestnut street: The Mystery. By Mrs. Henry Wood .- A novel of intense interest, by the author of "The Earl's Heirs" and "The Channings," and fully equal to these popular fictions. It is printed from the author's manuscript, and has not yet been published in England.

Les Misérables. Part IV. St. Denis. This contains the adventures of Jean Valjean, Marius, and Cosette, mixed up with the stirring insurrectionary movements in Paris at the funeral of General Lamarque, in June, 1832. (Carleton, New York.) Take and Unlike. A novel, by R. S. Roe, author of "I've been Thinking," " A Long Look Ahead," &c. (Carleton, New York.)

Our Danger and Our Duty. PRILADELPHIA, 48 North Tenth Street.

To the Editor of The Press : SIR: I have been in this country over nine years and. although I have not declared my intention of remaining permanently, have no idea of leaving it, even In these sad times. I am a most fervent well-wisher of the Union. I am not entitled to vote, and if I was I should never use the privilege, for I believe the Americans themselves know well enough how to make Ia wa for themselves and all that are permitted to live under them. I wish they would enforce them rigidly when they are made. It is, however, with great disgust that I constantly hear persons, some abusing the curved Republicans, others the infernal Abolitionists, and again others damning the hypocritical Democrats. Surely, this does not in either case forward the end we ought all to have in view—namely, the suppression of the accursed rebellion. Our eyes should be steadfastly fixed on the rebellion, turning neither to the right nor lett. We ought all to be prepared to make sacrifices for this end, however painful it may be to do so. I have consented to my eldest son joining a company from this city; he is under the age prescribed, but his desire was so great to do his part in support of the Union that I could not, with my sincere and professed views, throw any obstacle in his way. Excuse me if I urgently press upon you the necessity of doing all in necessaries and prosecusive and prosecus of the consense of the pressure In these and times. I am a most fervent well-wisher of me if I urgently press upon you the necessity of doing all in your rower to awaken our citizens from the dream of in your power to awaken our citizens from the dream of security in which they appear to be slumbering to assess of their approaching danger, and impress upon them not to be nisled by the prevailing idea that we can easily conquer the rebels; it is this overstrained confidence that has placed us in our present position, and the sooner we abandon every idea but that of crushing out the rebellion, the sooner we shall have the chance of doing so. The North have it in their power, if true to themselves, to make this country at least one of the greatest on the face of the sarth; but, from their apparent on the face of the earth; but, from their apparen lethergy, it might sincest be feared that they may permi lethargy, it might almost be feared that they may permit it to become one of the least, by submitting t dishonor-able compromise to bring the war to a speedy termination. I wish I could write as strongly as I feel, and, instead of being an old man, could add my services to the cause. The sincerity of my feelings is the only apology I have offer for trespassing on your time.
Yours respectfully,
AN ENGLISHMAN.

Weekly Review of the Philadelphia Markets. SEPTEMBER 12, 1862. The exciting news from the seat of war, and the approach of the rebels to our own border, has completely parairzed business, and the operations of the past week have been of a very limited character. Bank is more inquired for. The Flour market is firmer, but without much change in prices. Wheat is active at full rates, and for Corn and Oats prices are steady. Coal is firm at the advance. Coffee, Sugar, and Molasses are very quiet. Cotton is unsetted, and has further advanced. Fish are selling slowly. No change in Hemp or Hides. The Iron market is firm. Lead is in better request. No change in Lumber. In Oils there is more doing, Provisions are in good demand. Salt is firm. Tallow and Teas are as last quoted. Wool is less active. In Dry Goods there is a fair business doing, and prices generaly The Flour market continues dull, with but little demand either for export or home use, and prices, if anything, favor the buyers. MEDICINAL. CONSUMPTION

WONDERFUL SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY OF PROF. O. H. BOLLES, 1220
WALNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

READ THE FOLLOWING OAREFULLY.

The difference between fact and fiction, of permanently curing the sick and suffering of their diseases, or advertising to cure, and showing but little or no evidence of cures, can be well appreciated by the anxious inquirers after health, upon attentively reading the following synopsis of certificates from some of the most reliable gentlemen in Philadelphia, who were permanently cured by Prof. BOLLES, 1220 WALINUT street, and after they had been given up as incurable by the most eminent medical men of this city:

The following is a statement of facts in reference to my condition and astonishing cure of Epilopsy:

For five years previous to my knowledge of Prof. O.

H. Bolles' discovery of the therapeutic administration of Galvanism, Magnetism, and other modifications of Electricity for the cure of all acute and chronic diseases, I had been severely affliced with Epileptic Fits of the most obstinate character, and had abandoned all hopes of ever being cured, as I had for years tried the treatment and received the counsel of the most eminent Medical Men of the State, with a view of obtaining relief if any ceuid be found among the Old Schools; but all my efforts were unavalling, and, therefore, all hopes were abandoned, as I then knew of no greater skill for the cure of obstinate cases than in the Old Schools; but all my efforts were unavalling, and, therefore, all hopes were abandoned, as I then knew of no greater skill for the cure of obstinate cases than in the Old Schools. About six months ago my mind was turned to investigate the new discovery of Prof. C. H. Bolles, 1220 Walnut street, and, after noticing several sertificates of cures which were published, and some from persons with whom I was acquainted and knew them to be reliable men, I was induced to call on the Professor and obtain his opinion of my case. After he had examined me about ton minutes, he frankly informed me that he could

What are its symptoms? It usually begins with a short, dry cough, which soon becomes habitual, but for some time nothing is raised except a frothy mucus. The breathing is somewhat difficult, and upon slight exercise much hurried. A sense of tightness and oppression at the chest is often felt. As the disease advances the patient becomes thin in flesh, is afflicted with loss of appetite, great languor, indolence, and dejection of spirits; and may continue in this state for a considerable length of time, but is very readily affected by slight exposure or fatigue. If these occur, the ough becomes more troublesome, and is attended with expectoration, which is most copious and free very early in the morning. It is sometimes streaked with blocd. At this stage night-sweats usually set in, and in some fits of coughing or a sense of fullness or suffocation, is experienced. The pulse becomes full, hard, and frequent, the hectic flush tinges the cheeks, and the dire malady is fast hastening to its close. You now ask, "Is there a cure?" Consumption has been and can be cured by the use of my Tar Cordial, even in apparently hopeless cases. This assertion I make with the ability to present the most complete evidence of its truth. Space will not admit of my giving the contents of the many thousands of testimonials to its value, which I have been and am receiving from men and women of unquestionable worth and reputation. I have had a number of these certificates printed in circular form, which I will send you free on application. Whether you now determine to try the medicine or not, send for the circular. After years of study and experiment, I offer this medicine, believing it to be the best remedy for all pulmonary and bronchial diseases, If you cannot be benefited by the use of the Tar Cordial, I believe you are beyond all earthly aid. Yet if there are better curative agents, I carnestly advise their use. The best remedies, the best care, are needed by those afflicted with this disease. Because I believe this to be the best, I ask you to try it. Many, not only of the people, but physicians of every school and practice, are daily asking me, "What is the principle or cause of your great success in the treatment of Pulmonary Consumption?" My answer is this: The invigoration of the digestive organs—the strengthning of the debilitated system—the purification and anrichment of the blood, must expel from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds. While this is effected by the powerful alterative (changing from disease to health) properties of the Tar Cordial, its healing and renovating principle is also acting upon the irritated surfaces of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving the pain, subduing inflammation, and restoring a healthful tendency. Let this two-fold power, the healing and the strengthening, continue to act in conjunction with Nature's constant recuperative tendency, and the patient is saved, if he has not too long de-

The Pine Tree Tar Cordial will cure Coughs, Sore Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Asthma, Oroup, Hooping Cough, Diptheria, and is also an excellent remedy fo diseases of the kidneys, and female complaints. Sold wholesale and retail at my Medicinal Depot, N. 10 North Second Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA. THE GREAT AMERICAN

DYSPEPSIA PILL A Cure warranted for $1, or the money refunded.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA? Dyspepsia has the following symptoms: 1st. A constant pain or uneasiness at the pit of the pmach, which is caused by a permanent contraction of the stomach upon undigested food. It generally begins inmediately, or a short time after eating; is often very tere and obstinate. d. Flatulence and Acidity.—These symptoms arise from the indigestion of food, which ferments instead of disceting. 3d. Costiveness and Loss of Appetite. - These sympons are the effects of the unnatural condition of food in the stomach, and the want of pure bile and gastrio juice. The stomach is often painfully distended by wind: the appetite is sometimes voracious. 41. Gloom and Depression of Spirits. This state unfits many for the enjoyment of life, and is caused by the impure blood furnished by imperfect digestion. In this stage of the disease many persons commit suicide; There is a constant foreboding of evil, and an indifference and positive inability to perform the offices of life. 5th. Diarrhaa .- After being at first costive, the sufferen is afflicted with diarrhoea, which is owing to a diseased condition of the bowels, produced by the undigester food, which is evacuated in the same condition as when eaten, and, of course, gives no strength to the 6th Pains in all parts of the system arise from the action of impure blood upon the nerves. They are felt chieff in the head, sides, and breast, and in the extremities. In many cases there is an uneasiness in the throat with a sense of choking or suffocation. The mouth is often clammy, with a bad taste and furred 7th. Consumptive Symptoms and Palpitation of the Heart. Many persons pronounced as having these diseases have, in fact, nothing but Dyspepsia, the lung and beart disease being only symptoms. 8th Cough.—This is a very frequent symptom of Dys pepsia, and leads very often into confirmed consumption. 9th. Want of Sleep .- A very distressing symptom, toms, which are speedily removed by our medicine, but if neglected, are quickly followed by numbness and sudden death. 13th. It is impossible for us to give all the symptoms of Dyspepsia in so small a space, but the above are considered sufficient—if we add that the patient loses his memory and attention to surrounding objects, and frequently becomes morose and sour in disposition. We should say, however, that pains in the joints and stiffness of the limbs, which go by the name of rheumatism and neuralgia, are very often produced by Dyspepsia. Also, a hardness of the muscles of the abdomen, which become contracted and hard; and in some cases the belly sinks, instead of being gently prominent. In cases of general debility, use WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL with the PILL. N. B.—All orders promptly attended to on receipt of the money. Price One Dollar per Box. WONDERFUL SCIENTIFIC DIS-offered to give me a written warrantee of a complete cure, and, in case of a failure, to charge me nothing. This at first seemed an impossibility; but the frankness and earnestness of the Professor convinced me of his and earnestness of the Professor convinced me of his scientific accuracy in the diagnosts of my case. He dis closed all my sufferings and symptoms for five years past as well as I knew them myself. I will here state, for the good of humanity, and especially those suffering as I was, that I am perfectly cured. I further would state that mere than four months have elapsed since my cure, and I have had no symptoms, and, therefore, feel confident that I am cured. PURE COD-LIVER OIL. The repugnance of most patients to COD-LIVER OIL.

The repugnance of most patients to COD-LIVER OIL, and the inability of many to take it at all, has induced various forms of disguise for its administration that are familiar to the Medical Profession. Some of them answer in special cases, but more often the vehicle neutralizes the usual effect of the Oil, proving quite as unpalatable and of less therapeutic value. The repugnance, nausea, &c., to invalids, induced by disgust of the Oil, is entirely obviated by the use of our CAPSULES. COD-LIVER OIL CAPSULES have been much used lately in Europe, the experience there of the good results from their use in both hospital and private practice, aside from the naturally suggested advantages, are sufficient to warrant our claiming the virtues we do for them, feeling assured their, use will result in benefit and deserved favor.
