SPECIAL NOTICES.

A QUESTION. BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL. Tome, schoolboys, sit, your skill to try. I'll give you an Equation : Not hard enough to make you sigh With trouble or vexation.

To Tower Hall came lately, To see the finest stock in town And they admired it greatly. Both garments bought, but Smith bought more Than Brown—this point remember;

Two gentlemen, named Smith and Brown,

(The clother were excellent, I'm sure, And suited to Beptember.) The number each one bought, from ten Substracted, leaves a sum

Which, multiplied by the number's self, To twenty one does come. How many garments, now declare, Did Mr. Smith obtain ?

How many, too, did Mr. Brown, At moderate prices gain ? Now, lade, if you, these things to tell, Possess the skill and power. Your parents should reward you well With suits from Bennett's Tower.

Our stock of ready-made Clothing for Fall and Winter the largest in Philadelphia, and is being in reased each is. We buy and sell for each only, therefore, at the lorest possible prices. To WEB HALL. No 518 MAB-MKT Street, Philadelphila.

There seems but little left to us of language which the horrors of this war have not already called into use to express the noble impulses, the self-sacrificing devotion, the unfluching bravery, of those who have yielded all, even life itself, to the service of their country. How faw are the hearts in our midst who, in addition to the general sorrow, have not been called to suffer individual grief for those near and dear to them, fallen in this terrible struggle.

When the loss of so many good and brave has been, and is to be, chronicled, it seems invidious to give prominence to any particular case. But to the father, the mother, the brothers, and sisters, one name in that dread mother, the prothers, and eleters, one name in that dread list stands forth in letters of crimson, bringing to them serrow and grief, desolating their late happy home, pros-trating the bright hopes which the manifested bravery of the loved one, so suddenly called from his bright career, had raised, making all dark and desolate, crushing out had raised, making all dark and desolate, ordshing out all joy.

He was called, to be sure, whilst in the path of duty, taken in the exercise of those powers and attributes which constitute the brave soldier, and which render his death glorious before the world. But will that glory assuage the mother's grief? Will it compensate for the loss of the devoted son, the darling brother? It will be a source of pride in after years, but the present affliction is bevond the consolations of pride.

To thousands who read over the list of the killed in the battles in Maryland, the name of Lieutenant A. W. PEA. To thousands who read over the list of the killed in the battles in Maryland, the name of Lieutenant A. W. PEA-BODY, Company A. 72d Regiment P. Y., will bring no particular care. Yet, whilst I write, many near and dear relatives are mourning in him the loss of a brave, true heartled young patriot, a kind. offestionate son and brother; one who, although he had not arrived at manhood's age, laid his best gifts upon the alter of his country. Belonging to a regiment noted for its daring bravery, Lieutenant Peabody participated and made his mark in most of the principal battles of Virginia during this war. A brief elckness, caused by injuries and exhaustion, kept him a few weeks from his command, but he has ened back to sid in driving the invaders from the borders of hir native State. Part of the price of success was his

He died for his country.

FRESHMENT SALOON, September 2s, 1862.

TO THE FUBLIC—In order to disabuse the popular mind, in regard to a subject of some importance to the public, we deem it our duty to state that the report, inpublic we treen it our outy to state that the report, in-dustriously and teemingly systematically circulated by intermeddiers, that the Union Volunteer Committee furnishes refreshments to two-thirds of the soldiers pass-ing through our city, either to or from the scene of war. IS FALSE IN EVERY PARTICULAR. We have IS FALSE IN EVERY PARTICULAR. We have bitherto fed fully one half the soldiers, and hold ourselves in readiness to continue to do so promptly and at ALL TIMES. Inasmuch as, in a number of instances, liberally disposed parties, through voluntary misropresentation, have contributed one third only of certain sums of money to the Cooper-Shop Salson, and two-thirds to the other, we think it simply an act of justice to conrectes and to the public, to suggest that, as the labors of both Committees are equally divided, the donations should also be equal, as the public no doubt desire.

"There is no writer of the present day who excels this author in ours simplicity of style, and natural interest and truthulness of parrative... In the natural of families his books are read and reread with grafit, and over increasing delight." "LIKE AND UNLIKE is, we think, superior to any other of Mr. Roe's works; it is one of these natural do-mestic stories which appeal directly to the heart, and while it involves all the charms of a dramatic narrative. it has the further merit of conveying instruction as conduct in life." "It is a healthy, storling book, worth its weight in gold. Every seeker of a novel with unapproachably pure tendencies, will be charmed with LIKE AND UNLIKE."

GENERAL ORDER, NO. 14. The troops sent from this city to Harrisburg, under the recent orders of the Governor of the Commonwealth, having been by him ordered to return to their homes and having been by him ordered to return to their homes and to be discharged from further service under the said orders, it is hereby directed:

1. That the commanding officers of regiments, or of companies, who have received from the city of Philadelphia arms, accoutrements, musical instruments, overcosts, blenkets, knapsacks, haveracks, canteens, knives, forks, spoons, plates, camp kettles, mees pans, ammunition, or supplies of any kind for the use of their respective commands, do for thwith return the same to the Quartermenter's Department of the Home Guard, at the City Arsenal, in Race street, below Broad street.

2. The arms, accoutrements, and musical instruments that have been 'issued to the companies of the Home Guard are excepted from the above order, and will be retained by the said companies for their use.

3. The uniforms of the Home Guard, hereafter, will be similar to the uniforms adopted for the regular army of the United States, the regiments of each arm conforming therein to the uniform of the corresponding arm in the said regular army. It will consist of the army hat, a dark blue blouse, and light-blue pantaicons, with the proper trimmings to designate corps and grades of rank.

4. The companies that have been formed in the wards and preciucits, and which are not component parts of existing military organizations in this city, are respectfully invited to attach themselves to the Home Guard, in which they will be organized as regiments, or incorporated with the old regiments thereof, as they may prefer.

MEDICINAL.

MONEUMPTION. DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP FOR THE CURE OF COUGHS, COLDS, AND CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC, FOR THE OURE OF DYSPERSIA, AND ALL DE-BILITATED CONDITIONS OF THE STOMACH. DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, FOR DISEASES OF THE LIVER, OR TO ACT AS A GENTLE PURGATIVE.

All of these threemedicines are often required in curing Consumption; though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cared many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the atomach and liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vassels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public of th lie as the only set, cortain, and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all those morbid con-ditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspopela are often forerunars of Con-sumption, and when they manifest themselves they resimption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been proved by the thousands of cures it ban sands through a peried of more than twenty years, in, all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most of the public stream of the constant of the cure.

Which may be used with confidence in all cases which admit of a cure. If the patient will persayerlogly follow the directions The patient will perseverage follow the utrections which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wested to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of this medicine has aved the life of the patient and restored him to perfect health.

(57 Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such designations and many others have been consily for the patient such accounts for many constants. circumstances; and many others have been equally for-tunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies / Pulmonary
Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts that often, when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, creep-most alerming symptoms, such as a violent cough, creeping chills, pight sweats, and general debility, even to such a degree that they are coliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physician; they may still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very eadly disaged, and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Schench's medicines.

Also, in Forofulous diseases these medicines are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores and now all healed up. This shows its purifylog properties, which must be done to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Contumption it is of the tumost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone to the system. Hence, it is necessary to strongthen the appatite of the patient and to improve the digestion. Proper nourishment's required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for the diet of consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's pamphlats, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most highly nutritious articles tuitously. In general, the most highly nutritious articles are to be preferred, but the digestive organs mut be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Sea Weed serviceable. This requirement is met by the Sea Weed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.
When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect, the system of the patient is invigorated, and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and health manner. Then the healting powers of the Pulmonic Syrup will complete the cure.
Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and liver complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and to restore its healthy action. They have all the efficiency which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of mess," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These pills cure the most co-tituate contiveness, sick head sche, piles, billous affections, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or observated all other diseases which arise fro n a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver. One box of these pills, valued at 25 cents, will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the flew Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient, and assist the Putmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, and all symptoms, according to the judgment of the physicians, indicated speedy death. The lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by speedy death. The lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Dr Schenck's three great remedies.

Dr. Schenck piedges himself to effect a cure if the patient will apply to him before his case is altogether desperate; that is to say, before the vital organs are too far gone to admit of any cure, except by a miracle.

Dr. J.H. Schenck is the inventor of that celebrated instrument, called "Schenck's Respirometer," with which he makes examinations of the lungs, with the cortainty of discovering their true condition. The charge which he makes examinations of the inings, with the ce-tainty of discovering their true condition. The charge for an examination with the Respirometer is three dollars. As gisted above. Dr. Schenck, himself, was cured of Consumption, in one of its most hop-less stages, by the use of the Pulmonic Syrup. Experienced physicians de-clared that he could not live a week; yet now, after a lapse of twenty-five years, he is in perfect health, and weighs more than 200 pounds.

Satisfactory evidence of all these statements is exhibited at Dr. Schenck's Office, in Philadelphia, No. 39 N. Sixth street. For particulars, see the pamphlet, which is supplied, without charge, to all applicants, at Days where Dr. J. H. Shenck will be professionally in October, November, and December:
