OBITUARY. LIMES ON THE DEATH OF CAPT. COETLAND SAUNDERS, OF THE CORN EXCHANGE REGIMENT, WHO FELL AT THE BATTLE OF ANTIETAM, SEPTEMBER 17.

He sleeps! alas! the sleep which knows no waking;

Bade he adien to home and loved ones dear,

Stranger, tread solily on the patriot's bed; Ceare your wild tears, ye hearts with anguish breaking, One here more lies numbered with the dead. All the emotions of his fond heart checking,

Bade he adien to home and loved ones dear.

No thought of danger or of foeman recking, fave of his country, e'er to him most near.

Answered he nobly to a nation's calling,
Bravely he pursued where duty led the way,
First in the ranke, death's missiles round him falling,
Econ on the ground the gallant solder lay.

Wrap, then, around him our beloved emblem,
Fit winding sheet for one so young and brave,
A d in that land where death nor foes can part them,
The loved shall meet again: the land beyond the grave.
