It is this: Every men placed upon the National Union State, Oitr, and County Ticket thands fairly and squarely pledged to a FULL, HEARTY, AND 'UNCONDITIONAL SUPPORT OF THE NATIONAL ADMINISTRATION IN THE PROSECUTION OF THE WAR AND THE SUPPRESSION OF THE REBELLION. They stand outlicly pledged to this course, without any qualification or reservation of any kind. The men placed on the Democratic State Committee Mr. Francis W. COLONEL BIDDLE AND THE SE-ONND DISTRIUT.—in June, 1861, in what was then the Second District, the Republicans nominated Mr. O'Neill The Democrats nominated Colonel BIDDLE, then away in the military service. They asked no pledges from him The Philadelphia Inquirer (June 25) and all the Republican papers opposed the De motratio nominee. The demand-made of him by his opponents was that he abouted adden hims if to their policy. (Appliting 2). The

The demand made of him by his opposents was that he should pledge himself to their policy, (abolition?) The Press said:

"Odonel Biddle has many qualities to commend him to public favor, but...he can scarcely expect to fully gain public confidence if he does not pletge himself to gain public confidence if he does not pleige himself to give an unqualified support to the war policy of the Government." To all which Colonel Biddle revised to a few lines by telegraph: "I will give no partisan pleages; I will try to do my duty in whatever sphere it may please God to place me" A No-party Convention was called, which nomina of another Republican, Hou Wm. M. Meredith, who, however, did not run. Colonel Biddle was elected, and, though his district has since been "gerrymandered," the independent voters will elect him samin.

His course in Congress has been so unexceptionable that his enemies are reduced to vague misrepresentation and abnes. They cannot ofte a voto or an act that was unworthy of a Philadelphia Representative; he voted with Eddar Cowan and Crittender, and the Conservative man of all paries. They misquote his parient letter denousing the vice corruptions in the War Dapartment before the dismissal of Cameron, which, as everybody now knows, were so monstrus that "man began to say that the war was to be made a Black Republicantial".

The old Whig journal, the National Intelligencer, published at Washington, endorses the course of Col. Biddle as follows: "We are pleased to hear that the Hon Charles J. This is a proper trivate of espect to one who has equally well screed his country and countrymen in the battle-field and in the councils of the nation."—National Intelligencer, August 28, 1863

C. J. BIDILE'S RECORD—He first proved his patrictism and valor upon the battle-fields of Mexico. When Sumpter fell, he entered the Pennsylvania Reserves, and, while commanding in Maryland and Virginia, made his regiment, the famous "Bucktails," a splendid example of discipline and officiency. While thus absent, being nominated by the 'e-mocraey for Congress, he replied: "MY pressar rost tion is most congenial to Me. But I will not place My own preference in opposition to the recell's wish "After his slection to Congress, a General's commission from the Federal Government was off-red to him, but he declined it "As incompatible with the

He did not, however, quit the field for the first session of Clorgress. At the beginning of the second session, in December, 1831, the army going into winter quarters around Washington, he then took his seat, at the urgent request of his constituents. In answer to an address from them, he wrote a letter boldly denouncing the favoritism and corruption by which the strength of the nation was paralyzed and its life blood drained, at the most critical period of the war." of the country, we have accounts of men being raised and brought forth to fill up the ranks of regiments. The papers tell us that in-Tennessee and other parts of the country where our armies move, we are filling up the ranks of the army. I believe we have to-day one hundred and fifty thousand more men under the pay of the

When, lately, the State was threatened with invasion, he offered his services; but without waiting for rank or command, he gave the exemple that was needed, by joining one of our city organizations and marching with it to the scene of danger. His course has always been hold and pure and independent; the course of a man who cannot be bribed or scared from what he thinks the path of duty. He has never been a partisan politicalan. TO THE CITIZENS OF THE THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

PHILADELPHIA, October, 1862.

Feeling a deep interest in the result of the coming Election, we take the liberty of addressing you in reference to the Union Congressional Caudidate for our District. And we do so not as partisabe, but as citizens, teeling that much greater interests are at stake in the coming election than those merely of party. Our Government is in the midst of a most wicked rebellion, at negling indeed-for its very existence, and while our armies are battling for that Government in the field, we feel it no less our duty to sustain it at home. Two candidates for Congress are presented to the citizens of this District for their support, one nominated by a Convenicidates for Congress are presented to the citizens of this District for their support, one nominated by a Convention representing only a Political Party in opposition to the National Administration, and the other by a People's Union Convention of Citizens who have declared in all their assemblages, both local and Stare, their determination to stand by the Government in its efforts to suppress this unboly rebellion. The question for us, then, to consider is, which of these candidates shall we support? We think there should be but one answer fr m every patriotic citizen, and that is, "We will uphold and sustain our Government in this its hour of trial by every means in our power." If we fail to do so by a vote of approval at our election, we jeapordize every great in-means in our power." If we fail to do so by a vote of approval at our election, we jeapordize every great interest of the country, already threatened by an insolent and unnatural foe.

We therefore earnestly and cordially ask you to support LEONARD MYERS, the Union candidate for Congress, and we do this the more cheerfully from the fact that he is a man of ability, of unblemished character and integrity, has been a resident of the district for more than twenty years, and, we feel assured, will, if elected, do honor to himself and creoit to his constituents, whom he will truly and faithfully represent.

PHILADELPHIA, OCTOBER, 1862.

PHILADELPHIA, OCTOBER, 1862.

To the Voters of Philadelphia: We earnessty as your co-operation in re-electing to the office of Mayors of the Clity, our present excellent Chief Magistrate. At all times it is of the highest importance to so larges a community a cours that its principal executive officer should be, an upright and prudent man; but, in times like the present, when no one can foresee what a day or even an hour may bring forth, it is indispensable that he should not only possess these qualities, but unite to them a coim and clear appreciation of whatever may happen, and an inflexible determination to perform his whole duty at every heard.

During the period that Alexander Henry has been hisper of Philadelphia, he has shown himself to be eminently fitted for the office; courageously, but without ostentation, he has accomplished the most valuable reform; peace, good, erder, and quiet have prevailed ever since he was placed in charge of our municipal administration; the preson and property of the citizens have been alike protected, every resident has felt a sense of security, and to strangers Philadelphia has presented a most attractive reputation. To insure a continuance of this state of things, it is urgently required that there stould be no violent changes in the local government.

A substitution of an entire new price for that which has proved itself so efficient during the past four years might, in the distracted condition of public affairs be attended with serious danger. The forembency of a new and untried men as Mayor, whatever his marrits might be, might produce and aggravate this danger. We therefore appeal to you, bot in any partisan sense, but in the interest of the entire City, to give your carnest attantion to this subject. We do not enlarge upon the suggestions we have thrown out, because every reflecting man must see the vast consequences they involve. We beg you to think of them and to give your influence and aid in behalf of Mr. Henry, whose success in the approaching election in low ri

TRIOT.—The Union Party present the name of m. BUSSELL THAYEB, whom we believe to possess all the qualifications necessary for a BEPBESENTATIVE Of his ability there can be no question. He is thoroughly Independent, and the breath of slander has never yet approached his high moral character. This all admit. The Breckinridge Democracy have presented the name of OHARLES W. OABRIGAN. What is the history of Mr. Carrigan? A few years ago the people of Philadelphia elected him BEGISTER OF WILLS, an office mr. Usrrigan? A 14w years ago the paople of Pulariaphis elected him BEGISTER OF WILLE, an office worth, it is said; $15 000 a year; and ver, at the end of three years, Mr. Carrigan was a DEFAULTER to the State for $6 644 40, as is shown by the Public Pacords, (District Cou t for the City and County of Philadelphia, March Term, 1860, No. 1,742) Has Mr. Carrigan to this day paid up the amount abstrace of from the Public Treasury? NO! It has been paid by his Suretees, HENRY M. PHILLIPS and Charles S Boker's Administrator, and they now hold the judgment recovered against him. So much for the question of honosty.

Is he Independent? If elected, and a question affecting the interests of the People of Pennsylvania should be before Congress, would Charles W. Carrigan be a free agent to vite as he thought best for the interest of his State? No! It would be in the power of Henry M.
Phillips-to say to him, "Mr. Ourrigan. I hold a large judgment against you as a public defaulter. You must vote on this question as I shall dietale, otherwise I will issue an execution against you, and throw you into prison, from which you know a defaulter cannot be relieved under the Insolvent Law." What think you? Would
Mr. Carrigan he an Indexeduat Converserbative? Ponunder the Insolvent Law." What think you? Would Mr. Carrigan be an Independent Representative? Ponder well these truths, and vote accordingly on next THE SECOND SENATORIAL DIS-TBICT comprises the Niuth, Tenth, Thirteenth, Fourteeuth, and Fifteenth wards.

The opposing candidates for Senator in this District are THOMAS GREENBANK and JACOB E RIDGWAY Bast your vote for THOMAS GERENBANK. oc10 4:* FOURTH AND GEORGE STREETS

FIFTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

—Mr THAYEB and his friends have been trying to make copital by alleging that Mr. UARBUAN'S survices paid the State a portion of the money due by Mr. C. The whole story can be told in a few words, and the truth of it will be vouched for by Son. JOHN C. KAOY, late Attorney General. There was some cirpute about the accuracy of the account, and, Mr. KNOX's torm of office being about to expire, he pressed for a settlement during his term. Mr. C. gave an amicable action and confession of judgment. The gentlemen whose names have been so unceremoniously and disrespectfully published loaned to Mr. C. part of the mozer, receiving from him at the same time securities for the money so loaned.

They have made no complaint, and the sympathy evioced by Mr. THAYEB and his friends is more interested than sincere.
