gifted without opening the stove at all, or allowing the acape of a particle of dust. The stove, as it now is, we are bound to admit, is a decided improvement upon the stove we cologized in 1861. We hazard nothing in saying that it will more than pay for itself before it is half worn W J Cooper, Lencaster E Steinbach, Akron, O out, in actual saving of fuel. We might quote scores of letters received by Mr. Spear within the last three months, in confirmation of the opinion we have here expressed, but as our aliusion to the subject is already lengthy, we will merely introduce a few lines from the following:

HUNTINGDON, Sept. 20, 1862. JAS. SPEAR, ESQ: Dear Sir : I have bought stoves from you before, and Dear Mr. I have been a Lehigh Antidustor, No. 8.
Let me know by return rail the lowest you will send me one for, fixtures, &c.
Respectfully,

P. S.—I was fooled last spring by an advertisement in the praising M— 's celebrated Air Tight Gastonsuming Cook Stove, into buying one, and I do say it is the greatest humbug that ever came out in the shape of a patent. For the purpose of preventing others from being cheated in the purchase of this stove, you may make guch use of the above as you see proper. I have actually thrown the stove away, and am now cooking on a template old stove, until I can get another.  [ANOTHER.]

HUNTINGDON, October 6, 1862. JAMES PPEAR, ESQ : Dear Str.: Your Lohigh Antiduster was received in good order, and I am so well pleased with it that I though a letter of acknowledgement was due you. I have used a great many kinds of cook stoves, and I am certain this one is the best by far. The draft is complete, certain this one is the best by ter. The trust is complete, and no stove could bake better than it does, or do the work with less fuel Respectfully,  A WELL-DESERVED TRIBUTE-The following extract from a letter addressed by the lady of one of the most popular officers in the United States Navy, to Mr. F. Gutekunst, the eminent Photographer of this city, has just been received at his galleries, Nos. 704 and 706 Arch street, and kincly handed to us for publication WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. -, '82.

Ur. F. Butekunst, Philadelphia: ifr. F. Guttekunst, Philadelphia:

DEAR Sin: You will please accept my thanks for your kind attention in sending me the photograph of my husband, of Imperial size. I consider it the best likeness ever taken of him, not even excepting your excellent carte de virité of him; whist, as a work of art, I have not seen anything to equal it. I am much gratified with it. I will ask you to have a copy made for me of this Imperial size, which I wish to present to a friend. Please direct to me as follows:

— also another dozen of the cartes de visite, X face, and enclese bill.

Yours, truly,

 P. S.—We may state that the above is but one of scores of letters of a similarly flattering character that are daily finding their way through the mail to our celebrated ar-Mat. townsman. Mr. Guiekunst. INSTALLATION SERVICES OF THE COATES-STREET PRESERVERIAN CHURCH.—By reference to an announcement in another column it will be seen that the installation services of the Rev. James Y. Mitchell, as pastor of the Presby terian Church, Coates street, below Fourth (late Rev. George Duffield's), will take place at that church to-morrow evening. Rev. Dr. Adair wil preside, the Rev. Dr. Brainerd will preach the sermon, Bet. T. J. Sheppord will deliver the charge to the pastor and the Rev. E. E. Adams, D. D., will deliver the charge to the congregation. FAIR IN AID OF THE SOLDIERS .- We take pleasure in calling attention to the fact that a fair is now being held at the Booms over Shoemaker's Piano Store, No. 1011 Chestnut street, for the aid of the sick and wounded soldiers in our hospitals. This is a worthy object, and ought to be pationized liberally. ARMY AND NAVY CLOTH HOUSE .- As the article of materials for Army Clothing is now the most prominent item of trade and traffic, and as it is of the nimost importance to the Government that such good should be obtained from competent, honest, and reliable sources, we have pleasure in calling attention to the card of Mr. William T. Snodgrass, No. 34 South Second street, which appears in another column of our paper to.day. Mr. Snodgrass has long occupied a prominent position in his department of trade, and his superio smilling for obtaining goods and the fact that he is devoting special attention to this branch, all combine to give bim advantages which, we are sure, will be appreciated. In many respects his stock is certainly unroundled by any other in Philadelphia. FINE CONFECTIONS FOR THE SEASON .-Messrs. E. G. Whitman & Co., Chestaut street, below Fourth, next door to Adams & Co.'s Express, has now ready their latest and choicest fresh Confections, adapted for the fall season. They use only the purest materials in manufacturing, make all the choicest goods in their line that ingenuity could invent, treat their customers with kindness, liberality, and respect, and sell at turning to his home this evening without carrying with him a budget of E. G. Whitman & Co.'s Confections to make wife and children happy. Try it on our recommendation. It will pay.

PHOTOGRAPHY IN PHILADELPHIA. To demonstrate that Philadelphia has outstripped every other city in the Union in the photographic art, nothing more is necessary than a visit to the splendid exhibition and oreinting galleries of Mesara Broadbent & Co., No. 912 and 914 Chesinut street. The beauty, perfection and general excellence to which these gentlemen have carried this invaluable art of preserving in an imperishable way the form and features of the living and the dead, are worthy of all praise, and well deserve the substantia recognition they are receiving at the hands of the public. WHERE TO BUY YOUR NEW FALL SUIT .-After a general survey of the ready-made clothing field we are fully warranted in saying that all who are about do when by panes. C. Persons wishing good fruits, preserved in this excellent way, will always find them in best quality at this store. reader, What kind of light do you use? If you have not yet done so, be advis d, and go immediately to Mesers. HALL,
719 Chestnut street,
W. H. CARRYL. SENSATION AND AMPUTATION .- A German of the Second Michigan Regiment, in the ho pital at Washington, had his arm amputated. His description of the sensation he felt from his fingers, which lately be. longed to his arm, caused frequent bursts of merriment from the other patients He said, "I veels der tings mit mine vingers ven I knews I'se got no vingers dare, un it makes me mat ven I veels der tings all de time mit mine vingers ain't dare any more dare shtill." People may ile at the mystified German, but he stated the truth. But this delusion is not kept up in all things. A man who has been wearing a warm overcoat until it is worn out, can't imagine, when these cold days come, that he has his favorite coat on, but will find that the only way to make the imagination complete will be to go to Chas. kee', under the Continental, or some other place, and A HUGE HORTICULTURAL SPECIMEN.—There is a plant in the Island of Sumatra, the circumference of whose fully expanded flower is nine feet; its nectarium is calculated to hold nice pluts; the pistils are as large as cow's horns, and the whole weight of the blossom is computed to be fifteen pounds. This gorgeous arrangement would be rather too much of a good thing if worn in the button-hole, and it would be in particularly bad taste, especially if the suit of clothes eclipsed by it was made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of I bill and Wilson, Nos. 603 at d 605 Chestnut street, above

Sixth. This floral giant might come in good play to conceal a shabby coat made by some inferior Sobneider. Some MEN ENVELOPE THEMSELVES in such an impenetrable closk of silence, that the tongue will afford us no symptoms of the temperament of the mind. Such taciturpity, indeed, is wise if they are foolish, but Scolish if they are wise. The best cloak for a man to envelope himself in, is one that is purchased at the Palatial Clothing Emporium of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street, where garments of the latest styles and fashion can be obtained at remarkably low prices.

SPECIAL NOTICES. COTOBER LESSONS. BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL. The scenes of October

To spectators sober, Will lessons of value impart; And your hearing and sight, If you use them aright, Will improve both your brain and your heart. As each green leaf grows brown, And comes fluttering down, Until the proud tree is left bare,

So, one by one, perish The hopes that we cherish, Till earth can no longer look fair. Thus many may be On the top of the tree, Who soon may be torn down by fate, And be trodden on then,

By the pitiless men, Who admired and praised them so late. Now, too, breezes chilly Call out to us shrilly To clothe curselves snugly for Fall, And not shake, like the leaf, At each wind, but be brief,

And reek comfort at famed Tower HALL Where may be found the largest and most complete assortment of seasonable ready-made Clothing in Philadelphia, comprising all qualities, styles, sizes, and prices. Every one can be suited. Having made our purchases before the recent advance in prices, and buying and selling for cash only, we are enabled to offer equalled inducements to purchasers. FOR THE SICK AND WOUNDED, Under an order from the President of the United States, a national system has been established by the SANITABI COMMISSION for the safe transmission SANITARY COMMISSION for the ease transmission and indictous distribution of articles contributed by the people, for the sick and wounded of the Army and Mavy. The system, after being well tried, has been formed and recommended by the President, the General-in-Chief, and the Surgeon General. The security it offers against misappropriation is practically perfect, until the contributions are delivered in the hospitals, where they necessarily pass from the control of the Commission. Of more than a million articles sent through one of the largest of its channels of supply, it has been ascertained that not one hundred have miscarried, or been dishonesly used. Discreet and trustworthy agents are constantly employed in visiting all divisions of the army, including those on the Southern coast, the Mississippi, and the Weatern frontier, to observe their wants, to direct supplies where they are most needed, and to Three boxes for $1; the best in use. Try it. Sold sippi, and the Western frontier, to observe their wants, to direct supplies where they are most needed, and to secure, as far as practicable, their honest uso. The Commission does not undertake to deliver articles to individuels, and declines to receive contributions with any restriction as to their destination, within the limits of the force employed in the service of the Nation, it being one of its secondary objects to strengthen the sentiment of National unity wherever it can come in antagonism with State or local pride. The distribution of hospital supplies is but a branch of the work of the Commission. It employs the best professional talent which can be obtained in the country, to sid its larger purpose, to do all that is possible for the health and vigor of our fighting men, to lighten their burdens, and to sustain their spirits under the privations and harsenips which are an essential part of successful warfaffe. For this purpose, contibutions to its treasury are solicited. They may be tial part of successful warrare. For this purpose, one tributions to its treasury are solicited. Read the Translator's Notice of the Work. "ANDREE DE TAVERNEY" is the fit conclusion of the great series to which it belongs. Not a few other writers have taken incidents from the reign of the Sixteent ouis, and wrought books upon them, but this work of Alexander Dumas alone has comprised the whole drama of the downfall of French monarchy, whose last econe beheld the fogs of passion roll away from before it to reveal the unknown form of the guillotine. All is wonder how the throne of the beautiful Maris Antoinette could ever have crumbled, till one here sees the motive thoughts of the revolutionists. When some o hem acted through love of liberty, many, like Billot, by a thirst of revenge for injury, a still greater number from hate, poverty, and evil instincts, how could royalistshough every one a Charny or an Andres de Taverney hope to maintain it?

We form the acquaintance of how many in this book? The King, the Queen; Oliver de Charny, dying beneath he axes and the pikes of the sans-culottes, gasping : "For the Oneen I'm dying, as fell my brothers!" Then Andree, his wife, who would not save her life with silence, when that silence might cast doubt on her opinions; th epentant Gilbert; Catharine Billot, "widow without having been wife;" the good, simple Pitou, whom all must like, and Billot, the inflexible Patriot. Then, the country scenes form that repose for the mind, which may he over excited by the bloody scenes of city riots. One turns gladly from the storming of the Tulieries by the mob, to the quiet, natural pictures of provincial life; from the gory-streaming locks of heads borne amid yells on pikes, to the seas of verdure of the forest, where a sweet-smelling breeze murmurs sleepily; from the spirited speeches from the rostrum: through which winds Robespierre's " hush!" like a serpent's hiss-to the revolution in miniature at Villers Cotterets. Andree de Taverney will prove to be Dumas' greatest book, and nust have a cale unparalleled in the annals of literature Copies of " Andree de Taverney will be sent at once to any one, free of postage, on remitting One Dollar to the ublishers, in a let er.
