installation Services at the Tabernacle Baptist Church. The ADDUCE coment that the Rev. Daniel C. Eddy, D. p, would be installed last evening as pastor of the Tobernacio Baptist Church, attracted a crowded audiance to the large edifice of that congregation, Chestput street, above Eighteenth, at the appointed hour. This church has been without a pastor since the departure of the Rev. Dr W. T. Brantley from its pulpit for Scoresis, about a year ago, the congregation, in the mean time, having been supplied from Eunday to Sunday by frient clergymen of the denomination. The exercises last evening were commenced with an audem sung by an excellent choir, led by Mr. John M. (sad, of the church at Fifth and Buttonwood streets.

sepening prayer was offered by the Rev. William F. D. D. after having made a few introducremarks relative to the object of the meeting. criptures were read by the Rev. J. H. Castle, the apter of Isaiah having been selected, which in turn an allowed with a prayer by the Rev. James Cooper. INSTALLATION SERMON BY DR. IDE. har slugleg a hymn, the Rev. George B. Ide, D. D., of the most distinguished clergymen in the Baptist mistion, and to whom the task of preaching the inand allow sermon was committed, aunounced as his text it was not so much upon the prophetic aspect of test that he wished to dwell as upon its sublime marsh learner. And first, he would utter the broad decirculien, that pieus men were the most efficient preretress and restorers of national prosperity; pious men err, in fact; the nation's hope, a point which he then preceeded to illustrate. There were many, he said, who similed that God created the world, but who denied, practically, that the same Being now exercises his correposated an hority over it. He denied that there ves any human government on earth that wis strictly founded upon Ohristian principles. There was no such thing, in the true sense of the torm, as a Obristian nation under heaven. God's supervision extended to every member of the human family, and so too it embraced the history and destiny of nations. His rule over the world was as fixed a fact as was bis covernment over his own church. The whole sphere in which we live was in short a great spiritual laboratorr, in which the grand problem of redemption was suking out. Nations, as soon as the great objects d Ocd's grace were popularly frustrated, always med away; in proof of which, instances in point wen cited. And so it would be, until God's great spiritual temple was complete; then the scaffolding would be removed. The pointed rod that pro-tects our awellings from the destroying thunderbolt was not more essential to our physical safety than work plotts men to the safety of a nation. Without national vielue, no nelion could stand. Virtue was omnipotent mariring every bosom with the bravery of a hero, and the might of a host. This virtue could only be main-bated by a rure Obristlenity. The ministry whom God ted appointed, and the men whom He sanctified by listrace, had for their chief mission the extending of rate Christian influences, of which they were the this accredited conservators. Thus it was that the pices men of a nation became the substance thereof. Pictor was, of course, the great medium through which tistings were secured; but he begged his hearers temember that acceptable and availing prayer could le offered by those who believe in Christ, and trust alim for salvation. Praying men were, therefore, the security, defence, and actual life of a nation. The noble Sourage of faith, and the devotion of patriotism, were for the Christian to exercise as no one else could. And never was there more need of such heroism than was now prescoted to value our own beloved country, the life and liberty of which, he said, were now being threatened by abstted by corrupt nations abroad. The preacher's portrainne of "refidious Albion" was terrible, but just, and thrilled with the very essence of eloquence. The duty demanded of religious men and religious bodies at this time was not neutrality, as had been inti-Lated recently, in a sister city, by a body claiming to be "the church." The triumph of our Government would be the triumph of virtue and freedom, whilst the triumph of rebellion would be attended with opposite results in the direct form. But the country must not be abandoned. For this every Uhristian in America should live, and, if need be, die Unfortunately, as a nation, we had gone after tow and strange gods—the North rampant after Mammen, the South after Moloch. Under their impulse the rebellion had been inaugurated, and the true God allempled to be displaced. We might rest assured, howarer, that Jehovah would not easily submit to this usur-Pation. If pardon should come, it would be not on account of the wicked many, but for the sake of the righteoms few. In view of this he (the preacher) was sorry to see such unwonted languor and lethargy and spiritual inth as the churches of this land, the great body of tellerers, now presented. There was throughout our country a growing unbelief, a spirit of irreligion. The inroads which the war had made upon the sanctity of the Sabbath were breaking down the embankments and allowing the billows of vice to roll in lite a flood, and were deeply to be regretted. But he rejoiced that the church in which he was then speak-102 had preserved a better state of things. In these blous times, they had resolved to build the walls of Zien by calling to their pastorship one whe was both a Christian and a true patriot—one who had wissly mingled

a most intemous and Godless Slave ollgarchy, aided and

INSTALLATION GEREMONIES At the close of the sermon, the Prayer of Recognition was offered by the Rev. P. S. Henson, paster of the Broad-street Baptist Church, which was followed by Inother hamn. The Hand of Fellowship, was next ex-tended to the candidate for installation, Dr. Eddy, by the Rev. Jos. R. Kennard, D. D., in fitting words of congratulation and welcome—welcome on behalf of his new charge, 6 pastors of our city, and to our city of Brotherly Love. As pastors of this city, there was among them no compelition for greatness; he hoped there would be none; but he hoped that there always would be much competition for goodness. He especially invited his brother to meet them in their ministerial gatherings, and to engage in furthering the united interests of their holy religion. This duty was very impressively performed. The new bator, who is a fine looking gentleman of about forty Stinmers, simply bowed his response to Dr. Kennard's tordial words of welcome. appointment, the oustomary address to the con

THE NEW AIR-TIGHT GAS-CONSUMING COOK-ISC STOYE.—We have, in more than one lustance, called the attention of our readers to the great Cooking Stove of Mr. John S. Clark, whose warercoms, No. 1008 Marto street, are now teeming with customers daily from all Paris of the city and country. The fact is, Mr. Clark had made a decided hit for the season. The stove we teler to has the economical peculiarity of consuming but one ten of coal in six months in doing the cooking and baking for a large family, which, now that coal is felling at very high prices, is a great consideration, not Only with people of moderate means, but with everybody. hor is this high claim a mere assertion, such as are too Men made by irresponsible parties. Mr Clark is one of our oldest and most respectable manufacturing mer-chants, and his word is his bond. Besides this, he has sovered hundred of the most undoubted testimonials to Prove that what he claims for this admirably-constructed Move is strictly true. Among the latest and most gracetil libutes to the merits of the stove in question is an idlicrist in a late number of Godey's Lady's Book, of which the following are brief extracts. The article "THE NEW AIR-TIGHT GAS. CONSUMING COOKING Thete stoves are considered by those who have examired them one of the greatest improvements of the age. It is, in fact, the most efficient and economical Noting stove ever invented, and hundreds of flattering katinonials endorse their merit. It will be borne in alled it has the distinction of consuming but one ton of tool in six months. Extraordinary as this may seem to betsons who, perhaps, are burning six times that amount that the heat passes directly under the bottom, and then completely encircles the sides and top, making it a most extraordinary good baker or roaster. It has four boiler holes, two over the oven and two over the fire box. "For baking or cooking purposes this slove has no superior in the world. Any person can call and exemine there stoves at the store of the patentee, J. S. Clark, 1008 Market street."-Godey's Lady's Book and Magazine, September number. HIPPLE'S GALLERY, 820 Arch street, contains many fine specimens of Photographic art, among which are noticeable some beautiful life-size Photographs, and a large collection of finely-executed Cartes de titile, productions of the establishment. This Gallery possesses the rare attraction of having the reception and operating rooms on the first floor. ELEGANT FANCY FURS .- Messrs. Chas. Oakford & Son. Nos. 834 and 836 Chestnut strest, are now leading the Fur ma ket in this country. Their present Hopo, Bowen, 24 hours from New York, with stock of these choice, rich articles for winter-wear, is the largest and most varied that they have ever offered, and their sales within the last few days have been enormous. No lady should think of purchasing a set of fars without examining this splendid stock. RICH, NUTTY OLD MADEIRA .- Mr. C. H.

Mattsco, dealer in fine family groceries, Arch and Tenth streets, has now in store a fresh lot of rare Old Madeira Wine, of the finest flavor and undoubted purity, expressly adapted for medicinal purposes. A SPLENDID STOCK OF FINE MILITARY GOODS, for officers in the army and navy, can now be found at Oakford & Son's, under the Continental Hotel.

MCCLELLAN HAS THE GAPS .- The tolegraph informs us that General McOlellan has the gaps (in the Blue Ridge,) and the enemies of the General insist that he has always been afflicted with the "gape" in the drowsy sense. All men in prominent positions are partionlarly liable to censure and ridicule; but we do not recollect ever to have heard any person who had the temerity to utter a single word in disparagement of the elegant garments for soldiers and civilians made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Bockbill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth. Big Things .- London is a great city, and

New Yorkers regard their city as an immense municipality, and Philadelphia, in equare miles, excels either of them. But if the Mayors of Nineveh and Babylon could revisit the earth they would laugh at the pretensions of the moderns The area of Babylon was 285 equare miles, surrounded with a wall 100 feet high, 75 feet thick, with 100 brass gates; and Nineveh contained 216 square miles, surrounded with a wall 100 fest high, and wide enough for three charlots to drive abrenst. Yet, with all this, they had no ready-made clothing stablishment, where their citizens could be clothed andsomely and cheaply, a we can, with Charles Stokes's first-class Clothing Store, under the Conti-

THE INVENTION OF CARRIAGES.—The earliest invention of carrieges is ascribed to Ericthonius, o Athens, 1486 B C. The charlots used at the Olympic gemes, and those in which the Pharaohs of Egypt rode, were, doubtlets, inferior to an American "trotting wagon." In France carriages were not used until the reign of Henry II., 1547, and England boasted of none before 1555, in Queen Elizabeth's day, when they were called "whirlicotes." Speaking of "cotes" reminds us of the fact that the most elegant garments, (coats, vests, nd pants,) are to be found at the mammoth one price Clothing Bazaar of Granville Stokes, No 609 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.
