amusing to see how artfully blackbirds were passed off for reed birds by interested parties, upon sundry raw youths, blooming with "beauty-spots," and particularly green. The cause of the lack of birds during the past season will not operate in the present one. Partridges have been particularly plumpy, and ducks will prove more plentiful this season than they have for years. The first of October, the time fixed by law for the commencement of the shooting season, is thought by many to be rather early. Most of the birds are not sufficiently grown, and not worth the trouble of bringing down. In Maryland, the twentieth of October is the date designated, and perhaps this arrangement would be found better to Pennsylvania also.

CALIFORNIA JOE, OF BERDAN'S SHARP-SHOOTERS .-- We were yesterday visited by Mr. Truman Head, known in the army as " California Joe," of Berdan's Begiment, 1st United States Sharpshooters. This gentleman rendered himself famous at the siege of Yorktown by his unfailing accuracy in bringing down the enemy. He is a native of Burlington, Otsego county, New York, and an old hunter of much experience ; his trappings having extended over the States of Florida, Mississippi, Arkansas, and California. His experience in the southwestern section of the Union dates through a period of over twelve years, during which time he enjoyed the freedom of the forest, and underwent the trials and dangers inseparable from the life of a hunter. The nickname of California Joe was applied to him by a newspaper correspondent, and since obtained universal sanction among his fellow-soldiers At Yorktown, the regiment to which he was attached approached within eight or nine hundred yards of the enemy's breastworks, and concealed behind brush and foliage, rendered essential service in scaring the rebels from their cannon. On one occasion the enemy was compelled to desist from loading a thirty-two-pounder for upwards of half an hour. Every attempt to load the gun rceultid in the shooling of one or more of the cannoniers. The subject of our shetch generally used Sharp's rifle, and was sometimes materially aided by the addition of a telescopic sight to his piece. In consequence of the too frequent use of this magnifying glass in discerning the movements of the opposing force, his sight became materially affected. The symptoms of this becoming alarming, he applied to the proper authority, and was honorably discharged from the service. He was well known throughout the Southern and Western country, and for the last twenty years has maintained his reputation as a dead shot. In apprarance he is a determined, courageous man; and though fifty three years old, he appears to possess the strength and agility of a man of twenty. He has always been noted for temperate habits, and never tasted liquor until he ontered the army, and very soldom partook of either tea or coffee before his thirtieth year. Tobacco and all other minor excitements were totally di carded by him, and he is now what may be emphati cally termed a man of nerve. Mr. Head will visit the Volunteer Befreshment Saloons to-morrow afternoon, when he will doubtless be entertained in that generously hospitable man: er for a hich the establishment has alway been noted. It is his intention to return to California within a short lime, there to spend the remainder of his days in pursuits conger ial to his natural taste. THE DRAFTED MILITIA.-The difficuity existing in regard to the disposal of the drafted men, whether they shall be allowed to maintain their own organization, or whother they be taken individually and scattered throughout the regiments already in the field, is one which is now exciting much attention. The law which calls there men into service, expressly yields to them the choice of efficers, and the power of company and regimental organizations. An important order in reference to the subject has been promulgated from the War Department. In the "order," it is stated that, "in cases where regiments require one or more companies to complete them, organized companies may be taken; also, as far as practicable, regiments will be filled with man taken from the sections of country in which they were originally raised." It is officially stated that Gen. McClellan has requeste that the drafted men be reserved for the protection of the borders of Maryland and Pennsylvania, and also for the occupation of the forts in the vicinity of Washington city, while the men now in occupancy of such forts be moved forward for active operations with the army.

THE INITIAL SNOW STORM. - The snow

peason was fairly inaugurated yesterday, and the blasts of winter were anticipated by those of autumn. In the year 1860, the first snow fall occurred on the 2d of December; in the year 1861, no snow fell until the 6th of December. The 7th of November marks the snowing era of 1862, and a very good specimen we have had of it. Daylight, yesterday morning, ushered in the descent of the starry-flakelets, and sunset beheld thoroughfares and alleys soaked and slushy with those specimens of nature's ermine. All the wintry epithets which could possibly be brought together were used on this occasion. Everybody remarked that it was a disagreeable day, and everybody else said "Yes, it was a disagreeable day." Cloaks and furs were displayed in fanciful profusion; gum-shoes were at a prem um; coat-collars were put up, and so were umbrellas. The slippery pavements were sources of infinite trouble to straight-backed pedestrians, and of

U. S. Marshal E. D. of Pennsylvanis. ROCHESTER, N. Y., September 10, 1859. PROF. BOLLES-DEAR SIA: The more I investigate this system of practice, the more confident I am that it is all powerful to meet the ten thousand diseases to which You, who first discovered Electricity to be a reliable Yon, who first discovered Electricity to be a reliable therapeutic agent, should be considered a great benefac-tor of the race, for it is the only reliable system of curs for the woss and ills of suffering humanity. It is strange that physicians have become so wedded to their several systems, brought up from the derkness of past ages, that they will close their eyes against the light now beaming forth through this system of practice. All other systems I regard as the morning star to the rising sun. P. SHEEDD, M. D.
