Ford, commanding the brigade, and stationed on the heights, it ongth, in stice to that officer, to be known that the testimony slore the commission disclused the fact that, from the h day of September, the day on which Golonel Ford sumed command, until the 13th, when he evacuated, insisted night and day that the attack on Harper's erry would be made through Solomod's Gap, the only pproach to the mountain, and that he also insisted upon the fortification of said gap as the only means of defence alinst an overwhelming foe. Colonel Ford ordered apt PotV's battery to that position, and insisted that it would remain there; and, notwithstanding said battery longed to his own regiment and brigade, it was rempforily ordered away by a superior officer, in the ice of the foe, leaving Colonel Ford without any de-nece whatever, except cavalry and infantry. Cabinet on Thursday. Members from all parts of the country, and even from the continent, hurried to Lon-don. All the ministers were in the metropolis but the Premier, and he did not think it necessary to leave his anug quarters in Hampshire. In the course of the morn-ing police was sent to each Cabinet Minister that the meeting was postponed, and conjecture has been busy ever since to secont for an act so unusual. According to not evelope a watter with evelope the formation ever since to account for an act so unusual. According to one version a split exists on the American question, arising out of the conflicting views put forth by Mr. Gladstone and Sir G. O. Lewis; according to another and more probable surmise, there, is reproct unanimity, and the ditermination respecting affairs in America is to let events run their course "In a matter of deep importance like, this, some previ-ous consideration, before the Oabiaet met, was no doubt ceemed desirable, more especially as Lord Lyone was on the point of returning to Washington, but he is not, it now appears, to be the bearer of any default policy on the part of the British Government. He knows exactly what the sentiments of its leading members are, and those sentiments we presume, from the course which has been taken, are exactly these put forth by Sir George Cornewal Lewis, whether in opposition to Mr Ghadstone, or with bis concurrence, matters not, so long as there is this point in his marrative, the Captain took occasion to pay an elequent and feeling tribute to the simple and kind-hearted people of those frozen shores. Truthful, brave, honest, eincere, hospitable, they wore the perfection, he said, of a happy and uncorrupted race. They had no laws and necded none. Furning the two years he passad among them he had never seen a guarrel, and in many traits they were releas for the imitation of more favored communities. The Captain referred with great emotion to the death, on the way out, of the Equimaux guide and interpreter, who had been present at a meeting of the Go-clety two years and a half ago, and whom he had taken with him as a companion and mouth-plece among his own picple. But the poor follow did not eur-vive to reach his native shore again. He supired at sea, and was consigned to the deep, regretted by all in the ex-pedition as an irreparable loss. The Captain, from this episode, trurnet to a most elaborate describion of the visibily of Froblaher's Straits, which he became con-vinced was but a great bay, and not a channel extending through the main land. The result of his explorations during the two years' detention may be summed up as amounting to the accurate examination of one thousand miles of see-coast, hitherto, but, little, if at all, known; the identification of Prince William's Land, but, may or with his concurrence, matters not, so long as there is no outward or visible sign of disunion."

The Army and Navy Gazette confirms these views. It says:

It says: "It may be inferred the Government is not inclined to depart from the policy it has hitherto pursued in refe-revce to the contest between the South and North-not, from the fact that the Council did not sit, but from the expressions of the Ministers individually and from the specure of the Ministers individually and from the written elucidatures of his meaning, which have been spectrement. Sin G. C. Lowis and Mr. Gladstone, and the written elucidations of his meaning, which have been published by the latter—but Lord Lyong may neverthe-less be able to represent to the American Government the views of the British Ministry as to certain contingeacles, and to indicate changes of policy which may be forced on them by the advent of certain events. The Union as it was can never be restored, but at the same tige the North must succeed in obtaining possession of all the ma-ritime cities and of all strategic points, and will eventu-ally overthrow the large Southern armies in the field, un-less its arm be paralyzed by a financial cataolysm, or ar-rested by internal political discord." rested by internal political discord."

GLADSTONE'S EXPLANATION. (From the Manchester Guardian.)

On the 15th October a letter was addressed to Mr-Giadtone by a gentieman carrying on business in this city, complaining that the language used by the right honorable gentieman in his speech at Newcastle-upon-Tyne, with reference to the American war, had misled not enly himself, but the "whole commercial communi-ty of Manchester." He has received the following re-niv: ply:

FEARFUL EXPLOSION OF A LABD TANK.— On Tuesday evening, at the packing house of Pulsifer & Williams, in Chicago, a large iron lard-tank exploded with a terrific force that threw it from the first floor clear through the other four itories above, to the roof, wrecking that portion of the building, and descending to nearly its former location. Another full tank stood near, which was thrown from its foundation, and its contents splifed...At the time of the explosion there was no one in the building but the engineer, Patrick Lynch, who escaped with his life, but was severely scaled about the face and hody. The building was closed at the time, and the effects of the concussion upon it were such that a por-tion of the west wall sprung out reversal inches beyond the windows in the upper stories. and the whole edifice— a very large one—was terribly shaken. -A student (says the Cologne Gazette), travelling a few days back on the railway to this place to light a few davs back on the railway to this place to light a cigar, took a phosphoric match from a box which he had just before nurchased at Elberfield. The matches being tightly packed, the young man introduced his finger nail between them to extract one, when a small portion of phosphorus passed under the nail and isnited. Although the fisme was immediately extinguished, the hand had swelled so much on arriving at Dusseldorf that a surgeon advised its amputation." The student would not consent, and proceeded to Cologne, but on arriving there, the swelling brd so much extended as to render the amputa-tion of both hand and arm necessary. REFORM IN RUSSIA —A. letter received in Paris from St. Petersburg, dated the 13th instart, gives some detail respecting the reforms introduced by the Ozar into the administration of justice. Trial by jury is to be established as it exists in France. The administration of justice is to be completely independent of the Govern-ment. Magistrates have been appointed for the examina-tion of criminal matters. All judicial proceedings are to be public. The judges hold their appointments for life, and they cannot be removed from one brench to another without their own consent. The Senate is authorized to form itself into a fourt of Oassation, and it is to be divided into several sections, of which each is to have its particular attributes. THERS—M. Thiers, it is said, has just entered into its particular attributes. THERS.—M. Thiers, it is said, has just entered into an agreement with a publisher for a history of France from J615 to 1843. However, a Paris letter says: "The friends of M. Thiers formally contradict the intention attributed to him of writing either a history of the Be-storation or of the reign of Louis Philippo. M Thiers, they say, entered in April last on his 66th year, and his bistories of, the French Bevolution, and of the Consulate and the Empire, are sufficient for his career as a writer. All that may be expected from him henceforth will be the publication, in volumes, of his speeches from the tribune, and and me namphiels on the Beaux Arts, to which he now and some par phiets on the Beaux Arts, to which he now devotes bimself more than ever."

ILLINOIS COTTON. - sample of cotton, raised at Cedar-creek Landing, thirty-six miles above Gairo, Illi-nois, was recently forwarded to a manufacturing firm in Providence. E. I., for inspection. The following an-swer was returned: "I have examined and shown to others the rample of Illinois cotton you enclosed. I can only asy, if such cotton as this sample can be produced in Illinois, all that is required is quantity, to keep manu-facturers from going to the co-called Southern Confede-recy for surplies. If the a woolly appearance, like much upland cotton, but it will make handsome goods. It is now wor: h about sixty cents per pound." SILVER AT WASHOE. —The Silver Age learns from a pretty reliable source that the Ophir Company are ship-ping weekly, from their works in Washoe county, the sum of not less than $60.000 in bulion, and some weeks it amounts to nearly $100.000 in value. At thierate the yield of the mine will probably reach the enormons sum of three million of dollars this year.
