FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

THE MONEY MARKET. PHILADELPHIA, November 8.

The money and stock circles, were rather quiet fo-day, and there is not much change to notice. Gold was steady all 1810331%, closing on the latter bid. Old demands at 1310 101 At the set of indebtedness were steady closed at 126 bid. Certificates of indebtedness were steady clostu as and Quartermasters' vonohers ruied at 2023 at von the Government scourities were without discount. Money is very abundant, and the chaunels change. Investment rather clogged. No change in the

The stock market was without much activity. The market closed steady. We jeern that the Seventeenth and Nineteenth Baliroad is compictely out of dobt, and has besides a considerable anking fund. It is managed by gentlemen who are largely interested in the road, on the most economical principles, and running, as it does, through a rapidly imoving neighborhood, the receipts are daily increasing, and compelled the placing of new cars upon the road. The company will declare their first dividend next Jaouary, and we welcome it to the list of interest-paying securities. The United States Mint paid out this morning, exclu-

size of the amount issued to the several banks, the sum of fifty thousand dollars in postage currency. Drezel & Co. auote:

Sir Ann Eliza, Richards, New York, Wm P Clyde. (Correspondence of the Philadelphia Exchange.); LEWES, Del, Nov S:

Lew ES, Del, Nov S: Lew ES, Del, Nov S: Yesterday we had one of the severest N and NE gales, accompanied with rain and snow, which we have expe-rienced for several years. The bark Antietam, brig. Amelia, schooner Kedron, from New York for Tucker-ton, NJ, and schooner Yolant, light, (before reported by teigraph) came ashore during the storm. The bark come on the basch outside, nearly opposite the light-house; the brig Amelia is inside the point of the Oape, both filled with wster. The two schooners are high on the beach, one inside and the other outside the point. Considerable damage was done to the shipping in the bar-bor. Towards night the gale moderated, and the wind changed to the west; this morning the sen unas high, but we hope to be able to communicate with the yessels at tho-Breakwater during the day. CITY ITEMS.

ELEGANT STOCK OF GENTLEMEN'S FURNISH-ING GOODS .- As the season is now at hand for buying good warm under-clothing, gloves, hosiery, neck-ties, scarfs, mufflers, and a host of other necessary articles of dress and comfort, suitable for winter weather, we would recommend our readers to examine the princely stock of this class of goods offered by Mr. John C. Arrison, Nos. 1 and 3 North Sixth street, first door above Market. His popular old Gents' Furnishing Goods Emporium (formerly J. Burr Moore's) has long occupied a prominent place in this important branch of our trade and manufactures, and we can safely tay that it never offered as great attractions to buyers as at the present time. Mr. Arrison's stock of rich dressing gowns for gentlemen is the largest in the city. Give him a A GRACEFUL AND SENSIBLE WAY for a gentleman to spend a moderate amount of money, is for him to go to Charles Oakford & Son's, Nos. 834 and 836 Chestnut street; ander the Continental Hotel, and select a se of their megalilicent Lisdics' Furs, for wife, daughter elater, or some esteemen lady friend. Last week this was done in hundreds of instances; and the inducements which this celebrated old Fur house is this seasof offering to buyers, will secure to it an enormous trade We advise our friends to make their selections early. FINE QUALITY OF SUGARS .- Mr. C. H. Mattson, dealer in fine family groceries, Arch and Tenth refined sugars, from the best refiners in the United tary trappings for Army and Navy officers.

rich cargees burnt at sea by his pet pirate, and he is consequently after the P. P. with a sharp stick. We trust that John, or somebody else, may speedily catch the raw-bead-and-bloody-bones genileman, and that the bold buccancer may be treated to a hempen neck-tie at the end of one of his own yard arms. Whoever brings to pass this much-to-be desired consummation deserves to erjoy, for the remainder of his useful life, the privilege o getting his Sunday clothes at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Bockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth. BIG THINGS .- London is a great city, and New Yorkers regard their city as an immense municipality, and Philadelphia, in square miles, excels either of them. But if the Mayors of Nineveh and Babylon could revisit the earth they would laugh at the pretensions of the moderns. The area of Babylon was 265 square miles, surrounded with a wall 100 feet high, 75 feet thick, with 100 brass gates; and Nineveh contained 216 square miles, surrounded with a wall 100 feet high, and wide enough for three chariots to drive abreast. Yet, with all this, they had no ready-made clothing establishment, where their citizens could be clothed handsomely and cheaply, as we can, at Oharle Stokee's first-class Clothing Store, under the Continental

AN OLD FASHION STILL IN VOGUE .- Falling in love is an old fashion, and one that will yet endure. Cobbett, a good, sound Englishman, twitted Malthus, the anti-population writer, with the fact that do all he could, and all that Government could, sy, all that twenty thousand governments could, he could not prevent courting and falling in love. "Between fifteen and twenty-two," said he, " all people will fall in love." This is the age at which young men generally show their taste and good ndgment by wearing the handsome and durable styles of clothing, gotten up at the one-price emporium of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Ohestnut street, Philade phia.
