LYE AND EAR INFIRMARY, No. 337 North SIXTH Street—It is with no small gratification and pleasure that I am able to refer to my is bers as an oculist and surist during the past eight months in the city of Philadelphia. Rumerous cases of deafness, some of which have been for years standing, and very many affections of the Eye and Harr, when sight and hearing, have been successfully troated; and the profession has, from time to time, been astonished at my almost mireculous success, both medically and surgically. I will warrant a cure in every case where the organs are perfect in formation; and I entreat all those who are afflicted to avoid pretending quacks, who have no confidence in their own ability.
