CITY ITEMS. Auniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association. The eighth anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city was held, at Concert Hall, last Association in the presence of a very large audience, the ball having been completely filled—the platform by hall parine and officers of the Association, and the orobesoffising by a large company of excellent singers, selected from some of our best city choirs. George H. Stuart, by virtue of his office, presided on the eccasion. After singing the flist home on the programme, the Surjetures were read by the Rev. J. H. Alday, of this Softman and Pasim having been selected in connection city, with other passages. A prayer was next offered by the Rev. George Bringhurst. We omitted to state, a'so, that prayer was offered in the ante room, by the Rev. that produce the clergy ascended the platform. THE ANNUAL REPORT. the annual report of the Association was next read by Mr. James Grant, a prominent member of the organiby Michael Republic and condensed statement ration. It was a well-written and condensed statement of the doings of this body during the past year. From it was the religious fine with the principal work of the Association this year has been done through the medium of its army remailtee. The latter was organized July 4, 1861, since which time 59 public meetings have been held in the vafous churches of the city and suburbs, at which the aggregate sum of $3,037 92 was collected. Of this amount, om of $2,704.15 has been expended in the purchase of books, traces, and hospital stores, for discribution among the soldlers in the camp, on the battle-field, and in the hospital. These durations were stated as follows 26,460 soldiers' hy mn bocks, 8 450 books of a religious character, 586,260 pr ges of tracts; 800,000 pages of old hiele, and 31,000 old religious newspapers. Beside, this, they have distributed a large quantity of reading matter and bodily comforts, sent to them for this purpos by Christian friends, amounting in value to about $1,000. The Governor of the State having requested this committee to arrange, and keep for reference, an alphabetical tist of all the Pennsylvania soldiers in the city hospitals, they are about to undertake this duty, and hope in a short time to have at the rooms of the Association a book containing their names, where they are from, and the nature of their diseases or wounds. Toanks to the churches were expressed for their liberal assistance in furthering the efforts of the Association in behalf of the soldiers. Special attention was also called to the following fact: A member of the Association having learned that the article of milk was not supplied to the hospitals by the Government, undertook to furnish it by cription, and as the result of his efforts there have hean furnished, since March last to the various hospitale. 23,000 quarts of the best milk at a cost of $1,800. It is designed hereafter to hold quarterly meetings, or a total character, for the promotion of free intercourse and Christian fellowship. Their library of 2,700 volumes is free to all. according to the treasurer's report, the total receipts for the year have been $1,219 22, and the expenditures statement includes the financial operations of the army Special allusion was also made in the report to the fact of the term of office of their beloved president, George H. Stuart, Erg., having expired, and the excellent manner in which he had presided over its affairs. Mr Stuart in atill its bonorary president, his active successor being After the reading of the report a hymn was sung, entitled "The Better Land," which was followed with a

RETIRING ADDRESS BY MR. STUART. At this point George H. Stuart, Esq , who has occupled the chairmanship of this Association from its commencement, made his retiring speech. He said that were it not for the cheering words whispered in his ear by a minister on the platform, ' fear not, for I am with thee.' just before rising, he should shrink from the duty now devolving upon him. There was, he said, a slight mistake in the printed programme. He did not intend to make a " retiring" speech. He was enlisted for the war [Applause] He had many years ago volunteered in the work of combatting the rebellion which commenced in Eden, and, God helping him, he would not retire from the ranks of the Ohristian soldiery. It was tre that in accordance with a provision in their conestation, which he had helped to ferm, he had passed the age to which the privilege of office-holding is the Association was restricted, but he meant, never theless, to continue an active member in that body. Mr. Stuart spoke with much feeling of the past history of the Association during his connection with it, and was freently interrupted with enthusiastic applause. He would love to dwell on the fature of this Association, did time permit. Its present position and doings were, ver, intensely fruitful of reflection and encouragement. He concluded by thanking the Association, one bearance with which his many imperfections had always been treated at their hands.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS BY MR. COOKMAN. Mr. George Cook man, the newly elected president of the Association, was then introduced, and delivered his inaugural address. He was received with three rounds of applause. He thanked the Association for the mark of confidence they bestowed upon him in electing him to the highest office in their gift. His trust and reliance was in God for the ard unus responsibilities he wasabout to assume He thanked his brother Stuart for the kind allusion he had made to him, and breed upon their body to go forth with strong hands and hearts, and die, if need be, in the service of their a torable Master. They might indeed meet with discouragement, the world might sneer ard the devil aim at them his flery darts, but this should not dishearten. They knew in whom they believed, and He never failed to own and honor His servants. The lattle cry of Pulaski, of the nevolution, "Forward, brothers, forward !" was he said, applicable to the batthe in which they were engaged as an association. He concluded his remarks amid applause, and then as sumed the duties of he chair during the remainder of Alter another hymn there was an ADDRESS BY REV. DR. EDDY. The Bey, Daniel C. Eddy, D. D., late of Boston, was the next speaker. He opened by saying that if there was one thing for which young men should be profoundage in which history was being written a volume in a day. He had heard a scholar dwell with rapture upon the Angustine Age. True, we had no Olceros or Horaces, but we had a Robert Raikes and Sabbath schools; we tal a George Washington and civil liberty; a Robert Inlien, and the electric telegraph, which were of infitilely more importance to the world.

all our great men came up from obscurity. They were born mud, but died marble. [Applause] The ladividual instances enumerated by the speaker to confirm this re mark were greeted with storms of applause, until he came to the name designated as the Moses of our day, who was to lead forth the enslaved from bondage, who had been a rail-splitter, the enthusiasm of the audience was overwhelming. Dr. Edd) 's speech throughout was a great hit His elequent words, uttered in a voice of silvery clearness and mastive power. interspersed with wit no less than the thrilling centiments of patriotism which he poured forth, secured for him an enviable place in the front rank of our most eloquent divines. Dr. Eddy is the newly-installed pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church in this city.

After another hymn there was a collection taken up, which was followed by a powerful and characteristic address from the Rev Joseph T Daryes, of New York, a closing hymn and benediction. The occasion, upon the whole, was one of the most interesting in the history onstrate that Philadelphia has outstripped every other city in the Union in the photographic art, nothing more is necessary than a visit to the splendid exhibition and Operating galieries of Measure. CAMERON'S EUROPEAN EXPERIENCE .-The American minister to Bussia tells some interesting stories of what he saw during his sojourn in Europe He not only saw the exterior and interior of Bussia itself-its public and domertic life-its nability and its serfdom-its Emperor and its Empress-but he travelled, and observed intelligently the manners and customs of Italy, Germany, France, Scotland, Ireland, and England. He declares that he saw nowhere, either in Great Britain or upon the continent, such elegant, comfortable, and substantial garments, as those that are made at the cate persons requiring a gentle stimulant. ABEL'S STEREOPTICON .- No public exhibition, within living memory, has been so successful in this city as the Stereopticon. Pone has more numerous elements of superiority. It is not a panorama daubed by the rapid brush of a scene painter, but a series of pic tures painted by the true pencil of light-the great Sun himself. These pictures, whether they represent Art or Nature, antiquarian relics or fac-similes of existing objecis, are infinitely correct—for they cannot be at fault, and must be true. Moveover, they are clearly and ably described by a gentleman whose mind is highly cultured. who does not repeat mere guide's talk, but is tully acquainted with the subjects he illustrates. The number of subjects exhibited every evening varies from 70 to 90, and, at present, to suit the public demand, a great many war scenes, showing the reality of our Civil War, are presented. Every atternoon this week there will be a special exhibition for young people, on which, to vary the interest, some amusing comicalities are introduced. The intelligent horse, (a most ingenious combination of science and art,) is part of this programme, and bids fair to be as celebrated and popular as Bitz's canaries and "Bobby." The teachers in our principal schools are largely patronizing the Stereopticon, because they consider it the best system of object-teaching yet made

CARD TO THE PUBLIC .- The undersigned, sole agents in Philadelphia of Messrs, STEINWAY & BONS, Piano manufacturers, of New York, warn the public that, for some time past, systematic efforts have been made by verious parties to sell very inferior planes, by misrepresentations calculated to deceive, to the great injury of Mesers. Steinway & Sons, as well as the public. One plan resorted to, is to place upon pianos a name an like that of Steinway & Sons, that those unaccustomed to the name of that firm may be readily decrived. Another plan is to represent that a certain manufacturer was recently a foreman for Mesers, Steinway & Sons, which is not the case. Various methods are adopted by which these deceptions are successfully carried on. Planos are sold at private rooms, where but a single one is found at a time, and the attention of the public is attracted by an advertisement appounding a great sacrifice. This course allows great latitude in deception. Another course pursued is to obtain one of Steinway & Sons' Planes and injure it, and then compare it with those of other makers 12 good condition. All these efforts are but additional proofs of the superiority of Mesers. Steinway & Sens' Planes, which have recently taken the first prize medal at the great International Exhibition, in London, in this

By a peculiar construction of the scale and bridge on the sounding board, they are enabled to give nearly double the ordinary length of the string, from the bridge to where the hammer strikes the string, which produces most extraordinary effects. The power is greatly increased, and the harmony produced is truly wonderful, giving an entire new quality of tone, which is deep, rich, sweet, and melodious, with a singing peculiarity to each note, unlike to any Piano ever manufactured heretofore.
