The Federal army of the frontier has retired to Springfield, Missouri, thus placing nearly two bundred milles between the two hostils forces. WHAT THE MILITIA CAN DO. It is under contemplation "in high efficial circles" to order out the militis of Missouri to hold the various posts along the Arksness border. This will release fifteen or twenty thousand volunteers from garrison duty, and ren-der them available for the field. The glan of leaving this work to be done by the State militia was advised in your columns some weeks since, and found a warm approval from all the efficers and soldiers who would thus have opportunity of getting outside the State. Springfield, Houston, Rolla, Pilot Knob, and several interior towns are held by volunteers from the various Western and Northwestern States, who are anxious to be brought to the front wherever the enemy can be found. GEN. CURTIS' ARMY. At General Curtis' hesiquarters yesterday, news was received direct from Little Bock. The rebels have a force of about six thousand at that point, with three thousand at Cotton Plant, east of White river. At Ar-kansas Post, sixty miles above the mouth of the Arkansas river, and on the last bluff on that stream before the Mis-missippi river is reached, is a force variously estimated from six to nine thousand strong. The rebels have de-termined to make a stand there, to prevent the naviga-tion of the Arkansas river. In a few weeks the Arkan-sas will be high enough to navigate with light-draught boats, as far up as Little Rock. This contingency the rebels are now preparing against. THE ABKANSAS BUYER. The lower part of the Arkansas is exceedingly tortu-cus, and at the point where the robels are now stationing themselves the stream makes a wide aweep around the base of a bold binf. The robels have taken the guns from the wreck of the gunboat Ponchattrain, and are monthing them so as to command the river. They have fitteen hundred negroes at work throwing up fortifica-tions, and they are entiting a road through the timber south of the Arkansas river, in the direction of the Washita. The troops at Arkansas Post are pretty wall armed, and have a goodly supply of ammunition, but they are suffering for clothing and commissary stores.
