Congress of Vienna, and not a little contributed in that prihiant assemblage of princes and ambassadors to the successes of the great diplomatiat. Returned to France, she obtained a separation from her husband, and thences the obtained a separation from her husband, and thence-forth devoted hereelf entirely to the duties devolving upon her as presiding genius of her nucle's household. Twenty years thus spent ended by giving her complete accendency over the mind of the Priace, and a mas-tery over his will such as no one possessed before When Telleyrand was lying on his death-bol, as full of Excepticism as ever, she insisted that he should become reconciled to the Hely Mother Ohurch. He smilled in answer: "I have never, been in a hurry, yet always arrived in time." But the Princess would allow no more isets, and forthwith introduced Abhe Dunaplouw a gest. mrived in time." But the Princess would allow no more jests, and forthwith introduced Abbs Dupanloup, a zeal-ous missionary of the Uburch, since then deservady promoted to Episcopal duties Talleyrand, helpless like a child under the barning gaze of his niece, ropeated every word diotated by the abbé, and on the morning of the 20th of May, 1838, with trembliog hands, already in the agony of desth, signed a paper by which he confessed bimself a true christian and fa thful son of the Catholio Apostolio Church. When, a tew days after, his last will and testament was opened, it was found that Talleyrand had left the griest bulk of his for-tune, amounting to near iswenty millions of france, to his beloved nece, Princess Dorothea. "A man living in falsebood; yet.ou what you can cell a falseman," says In falsehood ; yet hot what you can call a false man,' says Thomas Carlyle, summing up his character. THE PRINCESS IN LOVE IN ADVANCED YEARS.

Thomas Carlyle, summing up his character. The PRINCESS IN LOVE IN ADVANCED YEARS. By a singular fresk of nature and chromistances; Princess Dorothes, h-ving devoted the morning of her life to diplomatic intrigue, was fated to give the evening to the passion of love. By the death of her elder sister, as beceme, in 1845, sovereign owner of the Dachy of Segan, a midiatized principality of about a hundred guare miles, with some filty thousand inhabitants, situ-sited in Lower Bliesia. Thereupon the Princess left France and settled at the old Sohloss of Sagan, a magni-ficent palace, turnonded by vast gardens, built by Wai-lenstein, and filted up with all the pomp and splendor of a royal residence. In the conrise of the dus visits of congratulation paid by the fendal lords of the neighbor-hood, Prince Felix of Lichnowsky mate his appearance: the head of an cld nolls famity, possessing large landed estates in Austrian and Prussian Silesia, and celebrated for the géniality of its members for several generations. "A tall, fine, and emineutly handsome man, with a halo of remators around him, Felix of Lichnowsky made a dtep impression on to Princese. Bus invited him to stay at her Schloss, and before long she declared herself, without becitation, der py and madiy in love with him. Notwithstandir g the difference of age, the Princess being fifty three and Prince Felix but thirty-one, he professed to reciprucate bes felixes and agreed to take up his abode at Segan. The u-fon of hearts was soon drawn still closer by a unlon of tudgets Prince Felix directed his oredi-tors to apply at the Schloss of Sagan for payment, and the Princess was ioo much in love not to take the hint thus given, and paid heifs to the amount of very nearly the legacy let to her by her greet nucle. The FRINCESS' MEMORES. Princers Dorothes, Duchess of Sagan, died, as already stated, a few weeks sgo, on the 19th of Septembor last, at her royal residence. She retained her extreme beauty almost up to it e day of her desth, and wonderful stories at the close of the arts ahe employed to preserve the per-fection of graces with which nature had gifted her. For intellect, too, was unimpaired to the last.eand the closing years of her earcer were occupied in the complication of memoirs, destined to see the light of day, at, the same paried as the historical the compliation of memoirs, destined to see the light of day at the same period as the historical notes of Prince Talleyrond, ordered by solemn injano-tion, to remain unopen for thirty years after the death of the writer. It is very likely, therefore, that the year 1868 may reveal much that is yet dark in the history of Europe during the Nasoleonic period, showing how mighty events, produced by the armed struggle of mil-lions, under the goldance of military genius, have been not unfrequently counteracted by the slient intrigues of a few bold and re tless spirits. Even the Mephisto-philes of the French revolution, and arch diplomatist of the nineteenth century, mut needs appear in a new light when seen under the inspiration of the fair eyes of a Ger-man princess.

PROF. BOLLES: A great revolution in my mind and practice has taken place since I became acquainted with your new discovery of applying Galvanism, Magnetism, and other modifications of Electricity as a curative agent. I have found by many experiments that Electricity is a safe thorspentic agent in all acute and chronic cases when applied according to your discovery. I desire that medi-cal men should become conversant with your discovery, CLEYELAND, Ohio. MARVIN GODDARD, M. D.: delphia.

is all powerful to meet the ten thousand diseases to wmon flesh is beir. You, who first discovered Electricity to be a reliable therapeutic agent, should be considered a great benefac-tor of the race, for it is the only reliable system of cure for the woos and list of suffering humanity. It is strange that physicians have become so wedded to their several systems, brought up from the darkness of past ages, that they will close their eyes against the light now beaming forth through this system of practice. All other systems I regard as the morning star to the rising sun. P. SHEDD, M. D.

PROF. BOLLES: The nearer I conform to your system of application, the more successful I am, and as I have examined all the guides and works published upon the subject, and seen nothing in reference to your theory, I do not headiate to say I believe it to be original with you, and the only reliable system extant fuzzuring discuss. Respectfully yours, TORONTO. OHAS. RANDALL, M. D.
