CITY ITEMS. "HERE AND THERE IN BRITAIN."-Those our readers who were fortunate enough to hear the great lecture by Mr. Gough on the above sub-

when last delivered in Philadelphia, will not filingly forego the pleasure of hearing it again tohight, at the Academy of Music; and to those who e then prevented from hearing it we would say, 0-night, by all means, although to do this th comfort and certainty it may be necessary to apply early to-day for tickets, as the sale of them in nce has been very large. The noble object in thalf of which these lectures are given is another *son why they should be liberally patronized. MR. F. GUTEKUNST, the unrivalled Phoographer, has made a capital show of imperial phography of late. He has many elegant specimens oition at his popular galleries, Nos. 701 and Atch street. J. E. Gould, corner of Seventh and Chestnut streets, is the only one in Philadelphia who keeps the popular and truly beautiful Geo. Steck de4-tf THE CLASSICAL SOIREES of Cross & Jarvis commence next Monday evening, December 15,. at Foyer of Academy of Music. Programmes at the A CASE OF PITY.—The Duke of Somerset, surnamed the Proud Duke, and of whom it is related that he rode all through Europe without ever leaning back in his carriage, used to say: "That he pitied Adam, because he had no ancestors." It ould have been more practical and a good deal more mon-sensical to have pity on our first parent, because he was compelled to put up with a fig-leaf suit, instead of being to procure comfortable garments at such an establishment as the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth. CHRISTMAS PRESENTS!—Get: a beautiful Steck Piano of J. E. Gould, corner of Seventh and

Chestnut streets. CAUTION TO READERS OF THE DAILY PAPERS.—The abominable puffing paragraphs, writen by some poor "would-be-wits," intended to atract attention by pretending to give some valuable or startling information, has become so common, that the only way to do is to read such looking paragraphs bottom side up-because, when you read a ine that runs thus: "Buy your clothing at Mr Charles Stokes' one-price Clothing Store," under the "Continental," you may know it was only to get this line in it was written, consequently it is useess to read further.

WINTER CLOTHING.—We would call the attention of our readers to the large and extensive stock of Fall and Winter Goods now on hand at the palatial clothing house of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. Every garment sold at this depot is not only warranted in fit, fabric, and fashion, but, owing to the depressed state of the markets, is sold at the lowest cash price. All orders re ceived and attended to at the shortest notice. The most experienced cutters and workmen are employed, and every satisfaction is guaranticd. Those in quest of a good winter suit would do well to call at No. 609 Chestnut street before purchasing elsewhere.

Prices to suit the times. J. E. GOULD, ocll-stuth 40t, SEVENTH and CHESTNUT. GREAT TRIUMPH!—SCHOMACKER covery in the manufacture of the Piano Forte. By a peculiar construction of the scale and bridge on the sounding board, they are enabled to give nearly double the ordinary length of the string, from the bridge to where the hammer strikes the string, which produces most extraordinary effects. The power is greatly increased, and the harmony produced is truly wonderful, giving an entire new quality of tone, which is deep, rich, sweet, and melodious, with a singing peculiarity to each note, unlike to any Piano ever manufactured hereto-The music-loving public are respectfully invited to call at our. Warerooms, No. 1021 CHESTNUT Street, where they can examine this great improvement in the Piano Forte. SCHOMACKER & CO., no13-1m 1021 CHESTNUT Street.
