THE CITY. NW...NW by N...NW. SSW.....S.... A SUMMER'S DAY.—Yesterday upon one of the muddiest corners of one of the muddiest streets we saw a very sour and crusty old man talking with a very sweet and generous-tempered-looking lad. The cheeks and forehead of the one were tenderly flushed with the delicate, glorious glow of youth, and those of the other seared and wrinkled with the myriad imprints of time. That lovely stereoscopic picture flashed by and vanished in an instant, resembling in the green gladness of its wintry gloom and summer bloom the golden temperature of the day itself, framing it in airy brightness. Yesterday was a souvenir of summer, the remembrance of a happy dream—the air one bloom of radiance, the blue and dream—the air one bloom of radiance, the blue and misty skies, flecked and filmed with fleecy vapor, blew like the breath of rosebuds over every quick-ened sense. Each happy countenance reflected the happy day. Beams of sunlight flashed on features sparkling as those beams themselves. The ludicrous side of the picture was that furnished by lymphatic looking old ladies and phiegmatic old gentlemen, doleful damsels perspiring under the weight of the third volume of some "Julia in Jeopardy," to be returned to the circulating library, and foreigners who had not yet been thoroughly acclimated. Just as a splendid number of a newspaper is supposed to contain a small portion of everything, so does a splendid day crowd into a few hours all varieties of natural did day crowd into a few hours all varieties of natural beauty, artificial grace, and ludicrous anomaly. Yes-terday was a subject of remark all over the city, and was welcomed bytevery lover of "blue and gold edi-tions" of the weather. CONSTRUCTION OF A COAL PIER.—The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company are building a coal pier 150 feet wide and 500 feet long at.

New Castle, on the Delaware river, whence to ship coal seaward when communication between the Richmond piers and New York, via the Delaware Richmond piers and New York, via the Delayare and Raritan Canal, is cut off by the suspension of canal navigation in winter, and when the Delaware river at Richmond is obstructed with ice.

Coal trains bound for the winter pier at New Castie will pass down the Junction Railroad on the west bank of the Schuylkill to Gray's Ferry, and thence over twenty-seven miles of the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railroad to the New Castie Railroad junction, and over the Wilmington and New Castle Railroad to New Castle. On the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railroad, between Gray's Ferry and the New Castle junction, there are four places where the grade going south exthere are four places where the grade going south exceeds twenty feet in the mile, and at one point west of Chester the grade is thirty-one feet in the mile.

LIBERAL CONTRIBUTIONS.—The Citizens'

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF SURVEY. The Board of Survey met yesterday morning, at ten o'clock. The committee on petition of Andrew R. Snyder for drain in Sixth street, between Thompson and Master, reported and offered the following resolution, which was carried: lution, which was carried:

Resolved, That Andrew R. Snyder be authorized to put a drain in Sixth street, north from Thompson, to the distance of one hundred feet, and that it be made of pipe eight inches in diameter.

Mr. Shedaker presented a plan of the revision of grades on Dock street, between Third and the Delaware river, and asked that a day be fixed for examination upon the ground; next Thursday morning, at ten o'clock, was fixed for said examination. A resolution was passed that the track of the Navy Yard, Broad-street, and Fairmount Railway Company, north of Callowhill street as far as Girard avenue, be located upon the centre of Broad street.

The meeting then adjourned.

EXPENSES OF THE ALMSHOUSE.—The appropriation to the Guardians of the Poor for the propriation to the Guardians of the Poor for the current year was $240,453. Before the 1st of January, 1863, it is estimated that of this amount about $15,000 will merge into the city treasury. The items thus far exhausted are as follows: Tobacco, soap, lime, and starch, $1,350; purchase and repairs of stoves and cooking apparatus, $500; and lumber, $1,150. The first item mentioned is short $25.07 for paying bill for soap, and the second short to the amount of $232 for paying bill for castings. In the hospital department the unexpended balances up to yesterday amounted to $1,055; insafin dances up to $2,260; house generalize and Blockley estate, $1,500; but-door expenses, $4,500; and for relief of out-door poor nearly $16,000.

NEW STYLE OF OIL PAINTINGS.—A new system of painting in oil colors has just been discovered, by which a picture far superior in every particular to the ordinary painting of the artist, can be produced, and at a much less expense. Copies of these new pictures have been extensively circulated, and have already received the endorsement of some of our most prominent citizens. The new discovery has been applied to Stuart's portraits, which by this method are now placed within the reach of every one. The portrait of Washington, as produced by this new system exhibits the analysis. by this new system, exhibits the appearance of a great improvement on the old. ATTEMTED SUICIDE.—A Mrs. Taye, aged about fifty years, jumped into the Schuylkill, at Fairmount, on Sunday last, and narrowly escaped being drowned. She was rescued by Officer Benckert, of the Park police, and conveyed to her residence, at Thirty-third and Bridge streets. The poor woman has two sons in the army, and seemed much depressed in spirits. She allowed that she had nothing to live for in this world, and for this reason made the attempt to take her own life.

STREET WASHING.—Yesterday the contractor for cleansing the streets removed some of the soft mud on Chestnut street, from Ninth down, by washing it off with a long hose attached to the fireplug. The mud, on account of the recent rains, was so thoroughly saturated as to render it a matter of impossibility to take it up by means of the machines, or to carry it off in the city dirt-carts. For fear of the water freezing the work was done about noon, and gave a certain portion of Chestnut street quite an improved look.

FUNERALS OF VOLUNTEERS.—John Hanna, who died from wounds received in the action at Shepherdstown, Va., was buried from the residence of his brother, No. 750 Eric street, on Sunday last. The funeral of Jus. H. Travers, aged 22 years, of Baxter's Fire Zouaves, also took place from No. 552 Penn street. The funeral was attended by the Weccaco Fire Company, members of Baxter's Zouaves, and the Sail makers Association.

DUFFIELD. -An alternate writ of mandamus has been served upon each of the Democratic members of the Common Council who voted to declare the seat of Mr. Duffield, Republican, of the Eighteenth ward, vacant. The case comes up in court to-day.

GUARDIANS OF THE POOR.—A stated meeting of the Board was held yesterday afternoon. The population of the Almshouse was reported

The treasurer, since last meeting, paid into the city treasury $1,149.

A communication was received from the Junction Railroad, stating that they had located their railroad through the Almshouse property, alongside of and adjacent to the ground now occupied by the West Chester Railroad Company, and at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors, a resolution was adopted that the engineer and secretary of the company be authorized to make application in form to the Board of Guardians to enter upon and take possession of such property, belonging to the city, as may be necessary as right of way for the construction of the Junction Railroad, and to further arrange, if possible, with said Board for such jury or board of viewers as may be necessary to fix upon the value of property so used, and to perfect title to the railroad company. It is requested that a committee of the Board of Guardians be appointed, with a view to conference on the subject.

The communication was referred to the Committee on Farm, in connection with the president.

Mr. Whitall called attention to a growing evilpointed out to him by the visitor of the Third district, that many children are buried where the expense should be chargeable to other parties than this board. Many of these cases should receive the investigation of the coroner.

Mr. Server said that the expense of burying a child is about one dollar. If the coroner assume the responsibility the county will have to pay an

Mr. Dickinson submitted, from the Committee on Manufactures, a report of the extension of the water and gas-pipe on the premises. The amount saved to the city by using pauper labor was $1,326.11 on the usual charge for furnishing material and doing work of this character. 1,656 feet water-pipe were laid, 7 new fire-plugs placed in position, and 406 feet gas-pipe added to the usual quantity.

Resolutions of regret at the resignation of Miss Ann Robinson, matron of the Children's Asylum, were read by Mr. Erety, and adopted.

Mr. Server offered the following:

THE POLICE.

Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.]

Arrested on Suspicion.

At the hearing yesterday afternoon a man calling himself Charles Wisner was arraigned before Alderman Beitler. There was no specific charge against him. But having been arrested, it was necessary to give him a public hearing. Detective Taggert testified that, on the night of December the 3d, the prisoner was arrested on the landing at Walnut street just as he came from the New York boat. The officers who made the arrest acted certainly in the most bungling manner. They had evidently supposed the stranger to be somebody else, and he was let off on the same night. Early next morning a package of counterfeit notes, "Cuyler Bank" and "South bridge Bank." Massachusetts, amounting to five he had been arrested the evening before. On Sunday might he arrived again from New York, and was arrested. Mr. Taggert said that, athough he had nothing to publicly state at the present time, yet he would like the prisoner held until Wednesday. The prisoner stated that when he was a warrested. Mr. Taggert said that, athough he had one hundred dollars in his poches. This money had been taken by the case of the second of the coal-breaker, sories, and solutes; also, Railroad leading from the said Greenwood Tract to the coal-breaker, with the would like the prisoner held until Wednesday. The prisoner stated that when he was a warrested to the form with said from the said Greenwood Tract to the coal-breaker and second of the coal-breaker, sories, and solutes; also, Railroad leading from the said Greenwood Tract to the coal-breaker, sories, and solutes; also, Railroad leading from the said Greenwood Tract to the coal-breaker, sories, and solutes; also, Railroad leading from the said Greenwood Tract to the coal-breaker, sories, and solutes; also, Railroad, and the browning to eat. The alderman replied fast meals would be furnished him. Wisner was then taken down stairs. Without some explanation, the arrest of Wisner may seen pathe-patraking of an outrage more than may than else. He was just as he came from the New York boat. The officers who made the arrest acted certainly in the most bungling manner. They had evidently supposed the stranger to be somebody else, and he was let off on the same night. Early next morning a package of counterfeit notes, "Guyler Bank" and "Southbridge Bank," Massachusetts, amounting to five hundred dollars, was found just at the spot where he had been arrested the evening before. On Sundry night he arrived again from New York, and was arrested. Mr. Taggert said that, although he had nothing to publicly state at the present time, yet he would like the prisoner held until Wednesday. The prisoner stated that when he was an arrested he had one hundred dollars in his nocker. The prisoner said he would like to have this money, as he desired to have sometiming to eat. The alderman replied that weals would be furnished him. Wisner was then taken down stairs. Without some applanation, the arrest of Wisner may seem rather partaking of an outrage more than may thing else. He was in the New York Penitentiary for a term of five years, and is only known to some of the oldest and shrewdest officers in Philadelphia. The prisoner is about fifty years of age; has three daughters who dance and sing in lager beer and other concert saloons. He is regarded as a dealer in counterfeit notes, but was never known to pass any of the spurious stuff. In his private business dealings, he bears the reputation of meeting his engagements in a fair and square manner.

Grant Mr. Alderman Welding.]

Juvenile Delinquents.

Five boys, giving the names of James Philips,
Hugh Philips, Frank Philips, John McCoomb, and Michael Irvin, were arraigned before the alderman yesterday on the charge of breaking open a fruit and candy stand near Sixth and Chestnut streets, on Sunday afternoon. These boys were ragged and dirty. Some of them sold newspapers occasionally, but they did not belong to the regular class of news boys who make a living at the profession. One or the accused had already been in prison. They have led a sort of Bohemian life in the streets, alleys, and by-places in our city for some time past. Alderman Welding did not know whether or not they were beyond reformation. He gave them a lecture on their evil habits, to all of which they seemed to be entirely indifferent. After this talking to he sent them to the House of Refuge.

them to the House of Refuge. [Before Mr. Alderman McMullen.]
Obstructing the Baltimore Railroad.

Obstructing the Baltimore Railroad.

Three draymen, named Wm. Hopkins, John Anderson, and John Sunning, were arraigned before Alderman McMullen on the charge of obstructing the Baltimore Railroad track, on Washington avenue. They had their drays upon the track, and would not get off when requested to do so. Besides this, it is alleged, they tantalized the conductors of the cars. The superintendent of the road had them arrested, and they were put under bail. It may be a matter of some moment for track obstructors to remember that the United States mail is taken over this road, and it is rather a serious affair to place any obstructions in its way.

Larceny of a Shawl.

A short time since a broche shawl disappeared rather mysteriously from the residence of Mrs. Catharine Smith, on George street, below South. On Sunday night, a woman named Catharine Martin, who leads a sort of vagrant life, was arrested, and taken to the Southwark Hall lockup. Yesterday morning she was recognized as a person who had been about the house of Mrs. Smith, and, upon further investigation being made, the larceny of the shawl was fastened upon her. She was committed to answer.

Convicted and Scatenced.

Josiah Bright, who was arrested a short time since on the charge of selling counterfeit bank notes, was tried in the Court of Quarter Sessions yesterday. The evidence was positive, and the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. The judge sentenced him to a term of four years and nine months in the Eastern Penitentiary. Bright has long been known to the police of the principal large cities in the country. Though a dealer in bogus money for many years, yet, somehow or other, he was always lucky enough to escape. One time he gave up the idea of "pushing the queer," as it is called in the police vernacular, and tried his hand at burglary. He forced a house on School lane, Germantown, but was caught. For this offence he was sent for a term to the penitentiary, but was restored to liberty through executive elemency. But very little was heard of him from that time until about three weeks ago, when he was arrested on the present charge, which ended in his conviction and sentence yesterday. He is an aged man, rather good-looking, has gray side whiskers, and has appeared upon Chestnut street hundreds of times, looking and acting like a perfect gentleman, both in dress and demeanor. Though he dealt by the wholesale in counterfeit notes, yet he seldom attempted to pass any of the trash upon the unsuspecting. [Before Mr. Judge Ludlow.]

The many Must be Truth.

The many Must be Truth.

The many Must be Truth.

The many Many Before the Alderman last evening. Among them was a pretty intelligent looking man, who was picked up from the mud on Walnut-street wharf, where he was in danger of being run over at any moment. How he got into the station-house was a problem that he could not solve. On being arraigned he looked pale and bewildered. The Alderman asked him his name.

"James McCloskey, sir."

"Where do you live?"

"In Burlington, sir."

"You were drunk this afternoon."

"Yes, sir; the evidence must be truth."

"Well, what have you to say for yourself in explanation?"

The witness, raising his hands, above his bead and the statement of the statement of the statement.

the witness, raising his hands above his head, replied:

"My dear friend, I'm sorry that I ever came to Philadelphia; I'm sorry; yes, sir, I am very sorry. This is the first time that I was ever before a court. If you let me off, sir, I shall go home a sober man."

"Then you do admit you were drunk? What did you get drunk on?"

"Brandy and whisky, sir; there's no denying that." Here he made a lurch ala Timothy Toodles, but was saved from falling by the officer.

"I am a respectable citizen of Burlington, sir," said he, recovering himself; "and if you let me off I'll-yes, sir-I'll never come back to the city."

"You are fined," responded the magistrate. "Officer, take him below."

"Look here, squire, I've got no money to pay the fine; won't you let me off? Upon the honor of a gentleman, sir"—here he reached the exit door, and the sound of his retreating footsteps soon ceased to awaken the least echo in the main hall.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE. Supreme Court at Nisi Prius -- Mr. Justice

Thompson.

THE DOUGLASS-MITCHELL CASE.

Douglas vs. Mitchell. The case was not concluded yesterday, as was anticipated, and will accordingly be resumed this morning. The testimony of William Wright, one of the firm of Wright & Hunter, Ninth and Walnut streets, given at a former trial, was read in evidence. He is at present seriously ill, and his attendance in court could not be had.

The testimony sets out that at one time, in 1853, while at Mr, Mitchell'soffice on business, he observed him in conversation with two colored men, one of whom he called Douglass; Mr. Mitchell was engaged in calculating interest on a large sum of money; after they left the office he inquired if it was Douglass the printer; Mr. Mitchell replied no, that it was an intelligent and industrious colored man from South Carolina, who had accumulated considerable property, and had some eight or ten thousand dollars deposited in his hands for investment.

The testimony of a clerk in the employ of the southworth Paper Company was also read. He identified the paper in the $3,500 note, and the paper on Douglass' paper patterns, as being of the same kind, and of a kind manufactured by their company for the Southern book stores.

John P. Owens, Esq., testifled that in the summer of 1853 he called on Mr. Mitchell for the purpose of getting him to negotiate the sale of a ground rent had not the money himself, but he could probably get it from a party whose money he controlled. Mr.

Owens went there several times, and the last time he saw a colored man of Mr. Douglass' size and complexion, though the witness could not positively identify him, pass into Mr. Mitchell's back office, and shortly after come out. Immediately afterwards Mr. Mitchell called Mr. Owens in and stated that the mr. Introduct carted in A. Owenin and stated that the negotiation had fallen through.

Samuel W. Depue testified that he called on Mr. Mitchell, at his office on Fourth street, below Chestnut, with Mr. Douglass, at his request. Mr. Douglass told Mr. Mitchell that the witness was his friend and would attend to any necessary business while he was absent. was absent.

He took a couple of notes out of his pocket and asked Mr. Mitchell to calculate how much interest was due on them; Mr. Mitchell did so, and asked Douglass if he wanted the interest; Mr. Douglass said that he did not, as he had no special use for the money at that time; Mr. Mitchell said if he did want it, he would give him a check for it; these notes were the notes on which the suit was brought; they entered and went out the back office door. Mr. want it, he would give him a check for it; these notes were the notes on which the suit was brought; they entered and went out the back office door; Mr. Wright came in while they were there, and when they went out they left him there.

Afterwards, in the summer of 1853, upon witness' return from New York, he received a note, written from Boston by. Mr. Douglass, which caused him to see Mr. Mitchell again. The letter was postmarked New York; though dated Boston. The witness told Mr. Mitchell that he had received a note from Mr. Douglass, saying he had written to him and expected he would have sent him some money. Mr. Mitchell said he had received a letter from Mr. Douglass, and also one for Douglass' wife. He expressed astonishment at Douglass' sending to him for money after he had received a letter from Mr. Douglass, and in favor of his wife. He said he would write to Mr. Douglass himself.

The witness also detailed the incidents of the interviews between Douglass and J. Eastburn Mitchell, the executor of Thomas S. Mitchell, substantially the same as Mr. Mitchell himself described them.

Other witnesses were called during the day. Mrs. McCants, the mother-in-law of the plaintiff, testified to interviews with Mr. Mitchell, in reference to the purchase and sale of the ground rents, and that the letter to her from Mr. Mitchell, of July 31, a copy of which appeared in his letter-book, was burned by her immediately after it was read.

Samuel Roberts testified that Douglass tendered him the $2,500 in payment of the purchase money of a house and lot, which he declined to accept, and then Douglass referred him to Mr. Mitchell to see if the note was not all right. The witness, however, wanted a bond and mortgage, and finally Douglass the note was not all right. The witness, however, wanted a bond and mortgage, and finally Douglass accepted this.

Other witnesses were called and examined, and the case had not been concluded at three o'clock.
