ALONG THE WHARVES-NAVY YARD.-Delaware avenue presents, at the present time, indientions of unusual prosperity. Vessels are arriving and departing as in the good old time, when Philadelphia was famed for its mercantile greatness. The exports from this port are daily increasing. The articles exported are of an extensive and varied character. Bleadstuffs, however, are the most con. spicuous, and they are sent to all quarters of the world. Until lately flour was sent principally to England and the West Indies. Since Monday, 400 bbls. flour were sent to France, a country which has seldom made any drain upon Philadelphia for the staff of life. Our imports are not so large, and this fact contributes to our wealth, for we gain by the excess of what is sent away. The chief articles of import are oranges, raisins, lemons, coffee, molasses, saltpetre, and such articles as are, in a manner, the exclusive property of other nations. . The present number of vessels lying at the wharves is about 70. Of these 13 are ships, 14 barks, 13 brigs, and 20 schooners. The ships are the Wm. Cummings Valley Forge, Crescent City, Fanny McHenry, Lizzie Moses, Kate Prince, Frank Boult, Western Ocean, Westmoreland, Constitution, Tuscarora, Tamerlane, and Wallace. Most of these are Liverpoo packets, and are chartered for that port. The ship Kate Prince is loading at Lombard-street wharf with coal for the Government. This vessel is of very large dimensions, and is capable of carrying about 1,800 tons. The brig Herald is taking on board mate rial, already finished, for three locomotives, intended for a railroad under the control of the Brazilian Government.

The wharves at Richmond show the same activity

The wharves at Richmond show the same activity which has long been their characteristic. At the navy yard about 2,500 men are steadily em-ployed, and the utmost stir prevails about the pre-mises. The new man-of-war. Monongahela is pro-gressing rapidly. It is expected that she will go into commission on the 26th inst. Most of her officers have already been assigned. Captain McKinstry will be in command; John Water, first lieutenant; M. W. Thomas, second lieutenant; J. D. Fletcher, gunner; Wm. Green, boatswain. Chief Engineer. Ohoates has been detached from the Pawnee for this vessel.—The Monongahela is provided with two Oncates has been derived i for the Pawhee for this vessel.—"The Monongahel is provided with two brass 24-pounders; two 12-pounders, smooth bore; two rifled 12-pounders; two Dahlgren 11-pounders, and one 200-pounder rifled Parrott. The Dahlgrens weight 16,769 pounds, and the Parrott gun 16,520 pounds. The gunboat Lodona, iron-elad, will sail in a few days. 'She cariles a battery of thirteen guns.' The gunboat Patroon, found unseaworthy, will be sold next Friday at the navy yard.' She still 'lies near the receiving shin, her guns having been taken off. The repairs to the Pawnee, De Soto, Hendrick Hud-son, and Rotan, are unogressing with great rapidity.' Son, and Rotan, are progressing with great rapidity. Workmen are in great demand, and even to such an

son, and Rotal, are progressing wild great rapidly.
Workmen are in great demand, and even to such an extent that requisitions are often made upon workshops in the city for assistance. The keel of the Tonawanda has been haid, and the stern-post put up in the lower end of the yard. The Juniata proceeded on her trial trip-a day or two ago, but was sobliged to put in at the breakwater, on account of a break in the bed-plate of the machinery. She returns to the navy, yard inmediately for repairs.
The Board of Examiners, now in session at the navy yard, have recommended the following gentlemen for promotion in the Engineer Corps of the navy: Second Assistant Engineer B.O. Bampton, to be first assistant engineer; Third Assistant Engineers Newton Champion, John Wilson, E. J. Whittaker, W. B. Clark, Alfred Adamson, James J. Kelcher, Thomas C. Brecht, to be second assistant engineers, Mason W. Mather, Binghamton, N. Y. J. Jefferson Brown, New York. As acting third assistant engineers, W. D. Park, Philadelphia, Pa.; C. W. Breaker, Philadelphia, Pa., James E. Fallon, Lawrence, Mass.; Noak W. Moffet, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE TRADE IN FURS.—Dealers in furs are doing quite a brisk business this year, and realizing handsome profits. Furs rise higher in estimation in proportion as the thermometer ranges lower. Gar-ments in this material are therefore rapidly coming into use for the season. The most noticeable fact is the enhanced cost of furs of all descriptions, compared with former years, owing to the circumstance that a large number of trappers and hunters have gone from the forests to the war. The regular sources for the supply of furs are thus cut off in a measure, so that the collection of skins and peltries is scarce half that made heretofore. For the same reason furriers are less troubled by competition in the market, and have little fear that their limited stock will not meet with ready sale. The styles of ladies' furs remain about the same as last year, as the cost of fur apparel is too great to admit of the caprices which control in other departTHE POLICE. [Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.]

[Before Mr. Alderman Beitler,] The Robbery at the Continental. Wm. Henry Johnson, the colored man who was arrested a few days since on the charge of puriodning a number of articles from the Continental, came up for a final hearing, before Alderman Beitler, at the Central Station. The superintendent of the depart-ment of porters made a statement, he having been qualified at the first hearing. On the 8th of Novem-her, a pair of boots belonging to Mr. Collis, of Provi-dence, were missing from room number 96, which apartment the owner of the boots occupied. On the 5th of the same month a pair of lace boots, the pro-perty of Mr. Hirsch, of Harrisburg, were stolen. On November 28th a pair of boots were atolen from number 51. These belonged to Mr. Eudelott, of New York. The proprietor of the Continental had to pay $7.50 for another pair of boots for his guest, the boot-maker having to be sent for on Sunday morning. The witness had some talk with the defendant on the subject of the robbery. He admitted that he had taken two pair of boots, and nothing else. Q. Was he employed at the Continental 1 A. Yee, sir, as a servant to Mr. Olwyne, since de-censed. Q. How long a time 1

ccased. Q. How longs time? About six weeks or two months. Mr. Olwyne had two or three servants during his sickness. Q. Had you any conversation with the defend-ant about a cane?

ant about a coane? A. Yes, sir. He said he took the cane, but had taken it back, and placed it near the private pantry. This cane wes found in Mr. Olwyne's room. There was also a dollar and some postage stamps stolen from the pantry. The evidence here closed, and the defendant was committed to await his trial. In order to convict, it is necessary that the owners of the lost property shall appear on the day of trial.

is necessary that the owners of the lost property shall appear on the day of trial. Alleged Robbery of a Soldier. Theodore Peters, a cab-driver, was arraigned be-fore the Alderman last evening, on the charge of robbing a one-armed soldier, named John Gehring, who belonged to Company K, 65th Pennsylvania. The soldier had been in two battles, and was wound-ed in that at Fair Oaks, by which he lost his left forearm, amputation having been performed a few inches below the elbow. He was paid off and dis-charged from the hospital at Baltimore on Monday morning last. He arrived in Philadelphia on the same night, and stopped at the house of Mr. Buck, on Carpenter Street. He had with him forty-seven dollars, which he gave to the landlord for safe keeping. On Tuesday morning the money was re-turned to him, and Mr. Gehring employed acab-driver to take him to a friend's house on Callowhill street, where he expected to meet his sister, whom he had not seen since he had enlisted. Not being able to find her, he desired to be taken to the New York depot, but, by some means or other, he did not reach that place. It is stated that, during his travelling around, he handed a $20-treasury note to the eab driver efters, requesting him to put it into his (the owner's) left pocket, as he himself could not do so, because of the loss of his arm. Mr. Gehring says that the driver appeared to put it inch his (the pocket as desired, and the witness thought he really did so. The note has not been seen since. Informa-tion of the supposed robbery was left at the station, and, yesterday affernoon, Offleer Kerr, of the Re-serve force, arrested Peters at Water and Walnut streets, and took him to the look-up. The accused asseverated his innocence of the charge. He was identified by Mr. Gehring at the hearing, after which the alderman required bail in the sum of $800 to an-swer at court. Mr. Gehring the hearing.

[Before Mr. Alderman Harmer.]

Ibe fore Mr. Alderman Harmer.] Shot in the Eye. William McKeown, the proprietor of a public house situate on Gray's Ferry road, near the United States Arsenal, was arraigned before Alderman Harmer, yesterday morning, on the charge of com-mitting an assault and battery on Wm. Miller with intent to kill. The circumstances, as developed, are that on Thursday Miller made an attack on a tree-box in front of the tavern of Mr. McKeown and partly demolished it. Considerable wrangling oc-curred in consequence thereof, and finally Miller paid two dollars and a half damages. After this he went into the street, picked up a large-sized peble stone, and attempted to strike Mr. McKeown on the head with it. The old man, who is lame, pulled a pistol out, and fired it at Miller, the shot taking effect in one of his eyes, and also pep-pering his face all over. The wounded man was re-moved to the hospital, and McKeown was taken into custody. The defendant admitted to the police that he had shot at Miller, and would do so again, in self-defence. "It is a lame old man, that I am,", said he, "and I'll never let it be said that Billy McKeown allowed, anybody to dash his brains out with a allowed anybody to dash his brains out with a sthone." Under the circumstances, the magistrate required the defendant to enter bail to answer at court.

[Before Mr. Alderman McMullin.]

Alleged Robbery. J. Sharp, a young man who had arrived in town on Thursday, to "see sights," while wandering about, in the vicinity of Fourth and Shippen streets, was accosted by a female, named Catharine Beach-ler, who conducted him to a house in that vicinity. Of course he could not refuse to inhible, and the, re-sult was that at a subsequent nericed he found him. or course he could not refuse to inches, and he re-sult was that at a subsequent period he found him-self minus all his money, amounting to nine dollars and a half. He complained to the police, and Catha-rine was taken into custody on the charge of robbing Mr. Sharp. The evidence was such as to warrant the alderman in committing the accused to answer.

said proposed road, and no locomotive engines can be attached to propel any cars through the streets of the city. The bill concludes with a prayer for an injunction to restrain the defendants from building the railroad on the streets above mentioned; from making any track with more than two rails, or any rail which is not of the pattern, size, weight, and exact. height and measurement of rails now used by passenger railways in the city; from interfering with the streets until all the provisions of the city ordinance regulating passenger railways ishall have been fully complied with in every respect; from using steam as a motive power through the streets, and from carrying freight of any nature or kind through the streets of the city. An amended bill was filed yesterday morning, just before the argument commenced, charging that the Navy Yard, Broad-street, and Fairmount Railroad Company had entered into an agreement with the Philadelphia, and Trenton, and the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railroad Companies to carry the passengers, baggage, and freight of the transporting companies over their road, and had agreed with the Richmond and Schuylicill Passen-ger Railway Company to lay a third rail on the pre-sent track of that company, for the same purpose. After the reading of the bill, and amendment by F-C. Brewster, Eag. It sets out first a submission of the plán of the route of the Company, and the pro-posed connections, to the Board of Surveys of the city, and its approval by the Board. That it is the design of the company to begin their road at Broad and Prime streets, and connect it with the track of the plán of the route of the same northwardand Prime streets, and connect it with the track of the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Rall-road Company, and to continue the same northward-ly to Girard avenue, and there connect it with the railroad of the Richmond and Schuylkill Company; that, excepting that portion of it on the east side of Broad street from Washington street to Girard ave-nue, the whole track will be in plantifimilar to other city railways. The track on the eastern side of Broad street will really be a single track, yet allow-ing the use of cars differing in gauge, to attain which three 'rails' will be laid as now in use on Second and Third streets, from Market to Dock street. On this point the affidavit says: "The track will be laid on heavy coss-tics, placed?" four feet from centre to centre, upon and to which

"The track will be laid on heavy cross-ties, placed / four feet from centre to centre, upon and to which will be secured stringers of large dimensions-that on the western side being ten inches wide and eight inches high, and that on the castern side being six inches wide and eight inches high. Upon these stringers will be secured the wrought-iron rails—on the east stringer a single rail of the 'Tran' pat-tern, weighing 68 pounds to the linear yard, and on the west stringer two rails alongside, and parallel with each other; the inner or casterly rail will be similar to the single rail before described, and the outer rail will be an ordinary 45 pounds city passen-ger Tram rail.

Outside of and between these blocks, will be laid, the cobble stones previously used on the street. When completed it will be the most perfect railroad track that has ever been laid in this city, and pro-bably any other city, and will draw to Broad street the travel of ordinary vehicles which now seeks Thirteenth and Fifteenth streets; because a tram-way railroad is there laid." The affidavit further avers their right to run over the Richmond and Schuylkill road; that that com-pany has obtained the permission of the Board of Surveys to change the plan of their southern track on Broad street so as to conform to the track pro-posed to be laid by the Navy Yard company on the east side of Broad street, and the latter company, in consideration of a grant of a right of way over the same from Broad street to Howard, and of a certain sum to be paid to the Richmond and Schuylkillcom-pany for each passenger carried over the same by THE CITY AND COUNTY OF PHILADELPHIA. The full cape is still much in vogue among those who can indulge in such expen-sive luxuries, though the half cape takes the prece-dence of all other styles ; for while it is perhaps the mostgraceful, it also combines the other more essen-tial quality of comfort in a large measure, and can be worn to advantage with other garments, of what-ever, description. The victorine is also a favorite with many ; but the mink collar is the latest novel-ty, and commends itself for general use. The furs formerly in vogue—such as martin, fitch, etc.—have gone into disuse. Chinchilla and gray squirrel are the leading styles for children and misses. The cheaper grades are made up, as usual, from a variety of animals, but these find their principal market at a distance from the great centres of popu-lation, where comfort is the main consideration, without special regard to appearance.

The bright and tasteful drapery, the white sheets and pillow-cases, and showy woven coverlets, and the beautifully delicate finish both within and without the ears, were quite attractive. MONUMENT IN MEMORY OF AN ESTIMA-BLE LADY.—A magnificent monument has just been BLE LADY.—A magnificent monument has just been erected at Mount Vernon Cemetery to the memory of Madam Gardel, by her husband. The lady was well known in past years as the proprietress of a fe-male seminary on Chestnut street, above Ninth. Af-ter her marriage to Mr. Gardel she paid a visit to Egypt, where she died. Her remains were brought home to Philadelphia, and interred in Mount Ver-non Cemetery, where the monument alluded to has just been completed. It is a beautiful, pyramid-shaped obelisk, covered with life-sized statuary that is designed to illustrate the life and virtues of the deis designed to illustrate the life and virtues of the de ceased lady.

For his bravery upon that memorable occa-sion he has been promoted to the rank of brigadier general of the First Brigade, Pennsylvania Re-serves. Captain R. J. INTERESTING TO DRESSMAKERS. - The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that dressmaking is a manufacture, and as such, if carried on to an extent exceeding one thousand dollars ried on to an extent exceeding one thousand dollars per year, including price of goods, requires a license. The dressmaker is required to make monthly re-tures and to pay a tax of three percent, on the whole value of her manufactures. When a dressmaker makes up goods belonging to her customers, she is required to make return of the same, and to pay a tax upon them; but she is authorized by the law (section 69) to add the tax to her bill for labor, and has a lien upon the dresses until the bill is paid.

The Bethlehem Robbery.

The Bethlehem Robbery." The two brothers Klottsman, arrested on the charge of robbing the Young Ladies' Seminary at Bethlehem, Pa., made a full confession of their guilt. While going up in the cars, one of them sud-denly seized a bayonet, and attempted to stick him-self in the throat with it. It was caught by the other brother, and thus the tragedy was prevented. Upon arriving at the scene of their recent nefarious operation, they made a full confession. They said they, climbed up an arbor, and finding the doors and windows unfastened, entered the seminary, and helped themselves to as many things as they could windows unfastened, entered the seminary, and helped themselves to as many things as they could well carry away. All the jewelry which the "bride," at the hearing on Wednesday said belonged to her, was identified as the property of several of the young ladies of the seminary. The female has, of course, thus been caught in a positive fabrication, and will insure her conviction on the charge of a receiver. There are certain circumstances connected with this affair, that, for obvious reasons, should not be made public at the present time—from which it would appear, that the marriage certificate presented privately to the detectives, was for a certain effect. The detec-tives are too hard-hearted to misplace what little sympathy they have. One of the silver thimbles, claimed by this woman as a bridal giff, was stolen from the second story of the seminary.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

Supreme Court at Nisi Prius -- Mr. Justice Thompson. THE DOUGLASS-MITCHELL CASE ENDED-VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT.

Douglass vs. Mitchell. The jury in this case yes-terday morning brought into Court the following verterday monning brought into Court the following ver-dict: "The jury find for the plaintiff, and assess the damages as against Joseph W. Miller, administrator de bonis non cum testamento annexo of Thomas S. Mit-chell, deceased, at the sum of $10,450.84, in which is included the sum of $943.49, the costs of the pre-vious suit; and we find for defendants, Clara Mit-chell and Emily Witchell by their graviton Scored

Is included the sum of $943.49, the costs of the pre-vious suit; and we find for defendants, Clara Mit-chell and Linily Mitchell, by their guardian Samuel N. James." The finding of the jury against the administrator is but a formal reiteration of the former verdict in the suit in which the executor alone was the party defendant. That judgment bound only the person-alty, and in order to charge the real estate of the decedent in the hands of the heirs and devisees, Clara and Emily Mitchell, it was necessary to bring them in by sci. fa., as in the present case. In the former judgment they were, by law, entitled to make the same defence in this action that their testator could have done, and in living, to the original claim; and availing themselves of this legal privilege, they have combated the case anew, and won the fore-going verdict. Of the personal estate, against which the former judgment is a lien only, there is nothing left, Mr. Douglass having received some $500 some time ago, the balance on settlement of the executor's account. Mr. Douglass loses his entire claim. If he actually loaned the money, he is unfortunate in-deed; if it was a fraudulent claim, the verdict is a righteous one. The case attracted a great deal of attention, and caused much division of opinion among those who carefully watched its progress. SLANDER-ACTION FOR DANAGES.

SLANDER—ACTION FOR DAMAGES. Valentine vs. Myers. This was an action to re-cover damages for slanderous words alleged to have been used by defendant against plaintiff. Suit had been brought by Myers against valentine before one of the aldermen of our city, in defence to which Va-lentine presented and proved by his books of origi-nal entry a set off. Myers then charged him with having sworn falsely; that he had perjured himself; had sworn to lies, and was a perjured man. These expressions were repeated several times in the alexpressions were repeated several times in the al-expressions were repeated several times in the al-derman's office. Justice Thompson instructed the jury that where a party in a suit conducted his own case, he had a perfect right to criticise the testimony of his oppo-nent, and denounce it, at the time, in the terms complained of in this case, as offen as he thought proper, if he honestly believed it to be so, and did not do so maliciously, and that no damages could be recovered therefor. Under this instruction the jury found a verdict for the defendant. found a verdict for the defendant.

 I believe it is my duty, as a lover of humanity, to recommend this discovery of Professor BOLLES to the afflicted of all classos. There seems to be no guesswork, no confusion, no matter of doubt in his treatment. He proceeds on fixed principles, and according to fixed laws, which seem to me infallible and harmonious. He warrants, by special contract, the most obstinate, chronic and acute crases, and charges nothing, if he fails. I advise all of the diseased to try his treatment.

I employed some of the most celebrated physicians to be found in that section, but received no apparent benefit, and after a lapse of about eighteen months was laken with a spasm, which or of my physicians pronounced a fit of apoplexy.
