THE INSANE ASYLUM .- Through the courtesy of Dr. Jones, the able physician in charge of the male department of the Insune Hospital, we were lately permitted to spend a few hours with a temporary inmate of that institution. We traversed the ample grounds attached, and found much to interest us, in watching the various forms in which insanity presents itself. It was with feelings of sadinsanity presents itself. It was with feelings of sad-ness we gazed upon the sightless brain of more than one noble-looking forehead. We saw there mer-chants who had secured opulence, lawyers who had won distinction, artisans who had gained renown, and politicians who had enjoyed the profits of the spoils. These men are scarcely missed from the busy thoroughfare of a large city. Yet at one time they were important levers in their various callings. Now forgotten through affliction, they renew their several struggles and fight over old battles, and gloat over past triumphs in imagination, and that diseased. At no time during our prolonged visit did we note a case of violence, or of undue excitement. The pa-tients, subject to spasms of melancholy fills the heart with pity, as the beholders reads the trials so plain-ly depicted in the subdued and saddened expression of their countenances. Yet it was with pleasure we noticed the various means provided for their enjoywith pity, as the beholders feals the trials so plain-ly depicted in the subdued and saddened expression of their countenances. Yet it was with pleasure we noticed the various means provided for their enjoy-ment, as well as the patient forbearance extended to them by many of their attendants who filled po-sitions at once onerous and trying. The polite greeting extended us by many of the patients be-tokens a kindly courteous spirit, whose fires are still hurning. Idloxy is a charmed existence in compari-son with those whose minds are darkened. Their compass is a narrow one, but nevertheless, one of enjoyment; and this class fail to create that fieling of sympathy to which the heart rapidly attunes itself in the other. But it was Sunday evening, when the inmates were gathered together in the lecture-room attached to this building, to listen to the reading of the Scriptures, by their kind-hearted stewart, Mr. Jonathan Richards, that we gained a nearer and a better insight into their character. We have attended many religious gatherings, and churches innumerable, and we say it in all sincerity, we never witnessed a more attentive, orderly, or respectful congregation than that assembled on the evening mentioned. We confess we were surprised, in fact, amazed, and it was with feelings entirely different to those we have heretofore enterfained, we quitted this interesting circle. The selections from the Bible were proper and suited to their understand-ing. At the close of the reading the inmates left for their respective wards in the same order that they had preserved during their attendance. It is a question with us whether the preaching of God's word would .not. be attended with henefacent results. Many of our elergymen would deem it a boon to carry the glad-tidings of the Mcsish to a class whose condition appeals to us so for cliby and fervently. We cannot believe, except in rare cases, that any evil would result from the trial, and we hope soon to hear that steps have been taken towards such a consummation.

MILITARY.-The citizens of Lancaster have just performed a graceful act, in honor of the 79th Regiment P. V. We refer to the splendid suit of colors just presented to this gallant regiment, through a committee composed of the following-named genthemen: Messre, W. P. Brinton, H. E. Slaymaker, George L. Boyle, Lewis Haldy, Robert A. Evans, Andrew Mcixell, and M. D. Holbrook. The colors consist of the following pieces: A magnificent na-tional flag (regulation), made of extra heavy, silk, with the words "79th Regiment P. V." inscribed upon the contro string, one regimental flag theories Noth the words "79th Regiment P. V." inscribed upon the centre stripe; one regimental flag, bearing the State arms of Pennsylvana on one side, and the United States coat of arms on the reverse, with the inscription, "Presented by the City of Lancaster, Pa., to the 79th Reyiment P. V., for gallant conduct at Chaplin Hills, Ky.," and two beautiful blue markers, also containing the denomination of the regiment. The trimmings and mountings are all full United States regulation, complete in every particular. The flags were manufactured by Messrs Evans & Hassall, the large military furnishers of this city, the painting of them having been executed by Mr. Isaac Williams. We learn, also, that the same firm are now getting up, at their manufactory and warerooms, No. 418 Arch street, a number of State flags, to the order of Adjutant General A. L. Russell, for the use of the drafted men of Pennsylvania. We would state in this connection, that too much praise cannot be be-stowed upon Governor Curtin, Adjutant General Russell, and General Hale, for their unceasing vigi-lance and care for the comfort and honor of the brave legions which the Old Keystone has sent forth in the nation's service.

brave legions which the Old Keystone has sent forth in the nation's service. SOLDIER'S FUNERAL. — Yesterday after-noon the funeral of Oapt. John Horn, of Company D, 40th New York Regiment, took place from his late residence in Manayunk. It was attended by members of the regiment, by the Royborueb members of the regiment, by the Roxborough Lodge A. Y. M., the State Council of the O. U. A. M., and the Roxborough Home Guards. Capt. Horn, it will be remembered, was killed at the bat-tle of Fredericksburg. He raised a company in his own neighborhood, and has been in the war since it commerced. He had passed through many hard-fought battles, and never, until the fight at Fre-dericksburg. reserved a wound the State Council of the O. T. icksburg, received a wound.

among the poor German people. They talked flip-pantly of the whole subject, and finally induced the woman to buy the goods, she paying seventy-five dollars for them, twenty-three dollars of which she borrowed from a family who lived in the upper part of the house. The strangers jumped into their wagon and drove away. The goods, on being more closely examined, were found to be two dozen of damask napkins, five damask table cloths, a piano cover, and seven yards of shirting linen. The swindle was complete; the goods being worth about $20. During the conversation with the duped woman, one of the men said he tended bar on Eighth street. When she realized the fact that she had been swindled she started in search of the bar-tender, and, while doing this, met with a police officer, at Eighth and Race streets, to whom she re-lated the circumstances. The woman was accom-panied to the Central Station, where ithe whole affair was carefully examined, and Detectives Levy and Taggert were assigned the work of ferreting out the swindlers. It seems almost incredible that in Philadelphia such a swindle could be so successfully practiced. Philadelphia such a swindle could be so success practiced.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

District Court-Judge Sharswood. ACTION ON A DUE BILL.

ACTION ON A DUB BILL. Edwin Lafferty vs. Hugh McConnell. This was an action on a due bill given by defendant to plaintiff, who were partners, on the settlement of their partnership accounts. The amount of the due bill, $424.98, repre-sented the balance due by Mr. McConnell. The de-fence set up was that the payment of this due bill was conditional upon the conveyance to the defendant of a lot of ground at the corner of Eighth and Reed streets, which he had taken as part of his share of the assets of the firm. This lot was never conveyed to him on account of incumbrances existing against it. The plaintiff, on the other hand, alleged that the lot was taken by the defendant, as other lots were by plain-tiff, absolutely, as part of his share, and that the payment of the due bill was not at all conditional upon the conveyance clear of incumbrance. The evidence showed that the only reason why the lot had not been conveyed was on account of the in-cumbrances existing against it, the deed had been executed, and was ready for delivery. The jury-found a verdict for plaintiff for $421.95. Quin and McIntyre for plaintiff, and Theo. Ouyler for de-fendant. ATTACHMENT EXECUTION—A NEW FOINT. ATTACHMENT EXECUTION-A NEW POINT.

ATTACHMENT EXECUTION-A NEW FOINT. William J. Brenton vs. Joseph Thompson, Robert Adare, Jacob Hansell, Jesse Hansell, and Charles Johnson, late copartners, trading under the firm of Thompson, Adare, & Co., vs. Henry E. Wallace, garnishee. This was an attachment execution to recover a sum of money in the hands of the gar-nishee alleged to be the property of Thompson, Adare, & Co., of whom plaintiff is a judgment cre-ditor. It appeared that before the attachment was issued the interest of Thompson in the firm had been sold by the sheriff, and bought in by a person named Eckman. The remaining members of the firm then formed a new partnership, under the style of Adare, Hansell, & Co., and published a notice of the disso-lution of the old firm. Eekman brought a bill in equity against Adare, Hansell, & Co., the new firm, to compet them to account for all partnership assets and transactions of the old firm. After his bill was filed, a judgment was obtained by the plaintiff on this suit, and this attachment taken out.

this suit, and this attachment taken out. The defence assert that the effect of the sheriff's. sales of Thompson's interest was to make all the re-maining partners tenants in common of what had been the property of the former partnership, and, therefore, the attachment execution on the judg-ment against the old firm would not reach the money in the hands of the garnishee, which, moreover, it was contended was the product of property of the new firm.

new firm. The following points in this relation were presented: 1st. Whether the pendency of the bill in equity by Eckman is a defence to the garnishee. 2d. Whether the pendency of the attachment against Thompson, Adare, & Co., is a defence to the extent of Adare's interest. 3d. Whether the attachment lies against the stock in the hands of the new form

Judge Sharswood said that these points raised an entirely new question, and he would reserve them for the court in banc. The jury were accordingly instructed to find a verdict for plaintiff, which they did in the sum of $1,000. William S. Pierce and F. C. Brewster, Esqs., appeared for plaintiff, and J. Hubley Ashton, Esq., for the defendants.

UNION VOLUNTEER REFRESHMENT SA-LCON.-The large and splendid eagle recently presented to the Union Volunteer Refreshment Committee will be raised, upon the peak of the saloon. mittee will be raised, upon the peak of the saloon, on New Year's morning, at ten o'clock, when an in-teresting ceremony will take place. The Rev. Drs. Brainerd, Goddard, and others, will take part in the c remonies, and the 50th Massachusetts Regiment will be present, after which they will partake of a New Year's dinner. The eagle measures 22 feet 6 inches from tip to tip, and is splendidly gilt. After the ceremony of placing the great bird in his new quarters, a national salute will be fired from Fort incom in commemoration of the event.

RATES OF CARRIAGE HIRE .- The liverystable men have agreed to charge the following rates for attending funerals after January 1, 1863: To for attending funerals after January 1, 1863: To Mount Vernon, both Laurel Hills, lower end of Germantown, Cedar Hill, Frankford, and the new German burial ground, each, $3.50 per carriage—$3at present; Mount Moriah, $3-$2.50 at present; Monument, Odd Fellows', Gienwood, Mechanics', Cathedral, New Philadelphia, Franklin, Fair Hill, and Richmond Cemeterles, each, $2.50-$2 at pre-sent; all city funerals, $2-$1.50 at present. ARBIVAL OF SICK AND WOUNDED SOL-MERS.—About one hundred and eighty sick and wounded soldiers passed through the eity yesterday on their way to Connecticut and New Jersey, where they belong. They stopped at the refreshment saloons, where they were fed and their wounds dressed. These men were all wounded in the battle of Fredericksburg.

COUNTERFEIT POSTAGE CURRENCY .--- Lithographed 50-cent postage notes are now in circula-tion. They are somewhat smaller than the genuine, and the printing is very badly executed. They re-semble the currency that is much worn. Persons should closely examine all defaced 50-cent notes.

DELINQUENT TAX PAYERS .- The office DELINQUENT TAX TAYERS.—Ine onnee of the Receiver of Taxes was well filled yesterday with delinquents who were anxious to pay off their indebtedness to the city. Those who do not settle at the specified time will be advertised, and be com-pelled to pay the cost.

A CHILDREN'S FAIR, for the benefit of sick and wounded soldiers, is now being held at No. 119 Brown street. It is hoped our citizens will assist in developing a spirit of patriotism commendable in Young America.

THE LEGISLATURE.-A number of the Philadelphia members of the Legislature left the city during yesterday for Harrisburg.

THE POLICE.

Ibefore Mr. Alderman White.] Honorably Discharged. A young man was arraigned before Alderman White, yesterday afternoon, on the charge of at-tempting to pass a counterfeit five-dollar note, Sus-sex Bank, New Jersey, on a storekeeper near Sixth and South streets, on Monday evening. The evi-dence in this case is similar to that of many others of the kind, but the alderman, who has paid due at-tendion to, the ruling of the Criminal Court, dis-charged the defendant, and thus saved the county or the tax-payers the amount necessary to conduct the case to a trial by jury. The evidence was that if for two dollars, tendering the five-dollar note as stated. The storekceper did not like the appear-ance of the bill, and asked the customer if he had another. He replied none smaller. Hethen offered a $10 note on a Maryland bank. This paper looked very filmsy. The storekceper called in a police officer and the stranger was at once arrested. This missal of the defendant would be officially sanc-tioned by the judges of the Criminal Court. At the present time there are all sorts of paper bills cur-rent, and the best man or woman in the community might chance to get a bad one, and pass it. It is the guilty intent that makes the crime, and not the mere transfer of the note from one person to another. This has been ruled time and again by all the judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions. the judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions. Christmas Eve Tragical Affair. A case is now partly pending before Alderman White, in which the following facts are developed : Three men entered the cellar of Anthony Lawrence, on Fourth street, nearly opposite The Press office, on Christmas eve. It was not long before they over-turned the stove, and when remonstrated with by Mr. Lawrence, the proprietor, pulled him over the bar and beat him shockingly about the head. His wife was also put hors de combat. At the time these fellows entered there was a man present who begged them ito desist. This was Mr. Essex, a conductor on the railroad train between Philadelphia and Potts-ville. The party knocked him down, beat, and kicked him in a dreadful manner. He was picked pp some time after the attack and conveyed to the hotel of Mr. Petry & Bro., on Chestnut street, where he boarded and lodged while in Philadelphia. He recovered sufficiently to resume his position on the road yesterday, but is yet ill from the unjustifiable attack that was made upon him. While the trio of intruders were beating him and the cellar, sprang into a carriage they had in waiting, in front thereof, and drove away before the first police officer reached the seen eof outrage. Two of the cultars were bound over by Ald. White on Monday. The third one has so far escaped. It is understood that the action has been crossed before another alderman, who yesterday bound Mr. Law-rence over to answer the charge of assault and bat-tery. Mr. Lawrence still suffers severely from the brutal treatment he received at the hands and feet of the assailants.
