There is a ralmer feeling in Wall street, though we are unable to quote a lower price for gold. The fluctuations in gold are less violent to-day, and this allays somewhat the excitement created by the extraordinary jump from 140 to 147. Early in the day there was a strong pressure Ho to 147. Early in the day there was a strong pressure to lay at 149, but this was only temporary, and the price fell off to 147%, the quotation of last evening, with a quieter tone.

The husiness in speculative stocks was not large on the "first call," and chiefly for cash. Prices, on the whole, rule at about the quotations of this time yesterday, the advance established ast evening on the passage of the $100,000,000 treasury note bil through the House, having been lost.

The stock market is tame to-day, the erratic movements of gold checking the upward tendency The operators for the rise are awaiting further developments of the change in the money market, produced by the sudden depreciation of the national crefit.

After the Board the market was barely steady. Missouri sold at 62½ against 63½ carly in the day; Erie is quoted at 75½; New York Central 1024@117; Rock Island SS; Michigan Central 94%; Toledo Srk.

Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati sold at 100, which is an advance; Funama fell off 1 per cent., but Pacific Mail rose 1½ per cent.

HEADQUARTERS COMPANY A, FIRST REGIMENT ARTILLERY, P. H. G.
At a meeting of Company A, 1st Regiment Artillery, P. H. G., held at the Armory, January 12, 1833, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:
Resolved, I. That it is with very deep and poignant sorrow that we have heard of the death of our former fellow-member, ADOLPH G-RESOLVEN, Senior major and commanding officer of the Anderson Cavalry, who gallantly foil at the head of his regiment at the late battle of Murfreesbore. battle of Murfreesboro.

2. That we feel it our duty to pay a tribute to the monory of one whose every word and act justifies the conviction that he would never, at any time, fail to do his whole duty as an officer and as a man, and whose untimely death has robbed him of the fame which he timely death has robbed him of the fame which no would surely have won.

3. That his enlistment as a private, at a time when he could readily and worthily have secured high rank at an officer, furnishes a striking proof of the purity and unselfishness of his motives; but the rapidity of his promotion, and the admir-ble manner in which he discharged his arduous duties when left in command of his regiment, bear witness to the fact that his modesty could not long deceive any but himself as to his rare and great worth. worth.

4. That, honoring his memory and deploring his loss, we clain the privilege of tendering to the family of the deceased the respectful assurance of our profoundest sympathy.

SAMUEL DICKSON,
CHARLES VEZIN,
ROBERT BURTON,

ADOLPHE G. ROSENGARTEN, Major of the Auderson Cavalry, have been brought to this, his native city, for interment.

Major Rosen arten or mmenced his infiliarly career as a Sergeant of Company A of the 1st Regiment of Artillery of this force, in the spring of the year 1881, from which he entered the stryice of the United States, and served a term of three months with the Commonwealth Artillery, at Fort Delaw we. Subsequently he enlisted in the Anderson Troop of Cavalry, organized originally as a body-guard of General Anderson, of Fort Sumpter fame, but afterwards assigned to that duty with General Buell. The Anderson Troop was so well composed and its services were so highly appreciated, that the War Department directed that it should be increased to a full regiment, which was speedily done, and, in the assignment of officers to its command. Adolphe Rosengarten, already distinguished for military qualities, of a high order, was appointed one of its Majors.

The regiment was ordered into service with General Rosecrans, in Tennessee and much was expected from it, in the character of those who composed it. These exceptations were not realized. On the eve of battle, when ordered to the front, it is alloged that the regiment refused to obey its orders, and disgraced those colors which they had sworn to uphold and defend.

Major Rosengarien, being in command of the regiment, used every effort and made every appeal to induce the refractory men to return to their duly. He was but partially successful. Gathering some two hundred men only, from his entire command, he reported for duty, advanced to the front, and was immediately engaged in battle. Leading a victorious charge upon the enemy's cavalry, in the early conflict at Murfreesboro, in Tennessee, he fell gloriously, covered with wounds, at the head of his command, a martyr to insubordination.

Yet in his early youth at the time of his death, the country has to deplore the loss of an officer of the highest promise. It is ordered.

That an escort suitable to the rank of Companies A and C of the 1st Regiment of Artillery are etailed also for this service. etailed also for this service. Major Lewis A. Scott, of the 2d Infantry, will command the ESCOTE.

By order of A. J. PLEASONTON,
Brigadier General, Commanding Home Guard,
WM. BRADFORD, Asst. Adjutant General. jai6-2t

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS.
The business of this Company is conducted exclusively on the cash principle, which is now fully recognized as the only correct principle.
The law under which this Company is chartered provides that, if the capital should, from any cause, become impaired to the extent of $25,000, or more, the stockholders shall be called upon to make good such deficiency. This is the only cash Company in America which affords this safeguard to policy holders.
Dividends declared every three years, the next on March 4th, 1886.
Rates of premium charged by this Company are as low as 200 years' experience and the probable future rate of interest will justify.
