BRIGHTLY REQUESTED TO RESIGN HIS SEAT IN SELECT COUNCIL .- A memorial, containing nur crous signatures, has been presented to Mr. Brightly, the present sitting member of Select Council, from the Twenty-second ward. It reads TO EURDERICK C. REIGHTLY ESO -Dear Sir The undersigned citizens of the Twenty-second ward of the city of Philadelphia (Germantown) voted for you as their representative in the Select voted for you as their representative in the Select Council of said city, at the late election, and you have recently taken your seat in that honorable body. We voted for you because you received the nomination to that office from the National Union Party, as opposed to the Democratic party, and because you had, on several occasions, in the said Twenty-second ward, at public meetings and private conferences, and also at the National Hall, and at the National Hall, and at other places in said city, as well as by a printed cir-cular, over your own signature, formally renounced the Democratic party, with which you had hereto-fore acted, and had declared, as your belief, that fore acted, and had declared, as your belief, that that party, you so gladly renounced and denounced, was opposed to the best interests of the country. Relying upon your assurances, we cast our votes for you, and you were elected by the full vote of the party opposed to the Democratic party.

Under these circumstances, and observing the course you have seen fit to take since you have occupied your seat in the said Select Council, and believing that the votes you have given, and the general policy you have avowed, are in opposition to the ral policy you have avowed, are in opposition to the voice of the people who have elected you, and the principles proclaimed by you before the election, we respectfully request you to resign your seat in the said Select Council, so that the citizens of the said Twenty-second ward may elect in your place one who will fairly represent the large majority of voters

ARRIVAL OF CAPTAIN FULTON, OF THE BARK PARKER COOK .- Yesterday morning Captain Fulton, late of the bark Parker Cook, arrived in this city. His report states that he sailed from Boston for St. Domingo with a cargo, which was composed mainly of provisions. Whilst off the Moro Passage, November 30, his vessel was taken by the privateer Alabama. The charts and chronometer of the Par-Alabama. The charts and chronometer of the Parker Cook, the crew, and also a part of the cargo, were taken on board of the Alabama, and the bark was burned. The captain and crew were detained on board until December 5th. When off Cape Mais fell in with the schooner Union, for Jamaica, of and from Baltimore. Her cargo belonging to British subjects, the Union was released upon giving a bond for $1,500, and the captain and crew of the Parker-Cook released upon heart and conveyed to Tameiae. Cook placed on board, and conveyed to Jamaica. Thence Captain Fulton took passage for Baltimore, leaving the crew in charge of the American consul. Captain Fulton left this city yesterday for his home in Boston. He states that a brother-in-law of Jeff Davis, of the name of Powell, holds the position of licutenant of marines on board the Alabama. When Semmes comes across the "wrong customer" he changes his tactics, shifts his politics, and stretches his conscience. Captain Fulton himself was in irons, and experienced all the cruel kindness to be expected under the circumstances.

TER-CENTENARY JUBILEE.—The Ter-Centenary Jubilee in commemoration of the public adoption of the Heidelberg Catechism, of which a adoption of the Heidelberg Catechism, of which a notice appeared in The Press of January 5th, was opened with appropriate services, in the Race-street Reformed Church, last evening, by a general convention of the clergy and clders of the German Revention of the clergy and clders of the German Reformed Church of the United States. The proper sessions of the convention will open on Monday, at 9 A. M., in the Race-street Church, and among the first memoirs and essays read will be those of the European theologians, who have furnished contributions for the occasion. Simultaneously with the reading and discussion of these essays in English, they will be read and discussed in German, in one of the Reformed German churches in this city, (in Zion's Church, Rev. N. Gehr, North Sixth street, above Girard avenue, or Salem, Rev. J. E. Wiehle, St. John street, near Green.) Between three and four hundred delegates have already reported themselves, from this State, Ohio, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, and Indiana. The sessions of the convention will be continued during next week, and the occasion promises to be one of unusual theological and ecclesiastical interest.

THE NEW CHESTNUT-STREET THEATRE. This very elegant structure is hourly attracting the otice of every passer-by. The interior presents a very promising appearance. When finished the tout ensemble will be very rich and chaste. Unless the programme is changed (a not improbable event), the heatre will be opened next Monday evening a week, with Mr. Edwin Forrest in Virginius, Mr. Hackett appearing on the off-nights in his far-famed character of Falstaff. The house will accommodate seventeen hundred, and we are glad to see that the seats, with the exception of those in the uppermost circle, will be numbered and partitioned, similarly to those in the Academy. The proscenium boxes are capacious, and the whole of the prosceneum construction executed in rich and tasteful style. The mode of lighting the stage supersedes the necessity of the executed in rich and tasterul style. The mode or lighting the stage supersedes the necessity of the odious row of green shades, and thereby affords an unobstructed view of the actors' figures. Some time ago we published a very full account of this theatre' which it is useless to recapitulate. It is sufficient that this temple of entertainment is perfect in every detail, and a model structure of the kind.

FIRE LAST EVENING.—Between 7 and 8 o'clock last evening a building located in the rear of Second and German streets, in the Third ward, was discovered to be on fire by a little girl, who lived in an adjacent house. The building was used by Mr. John Lancaster, earpet and mattress manufacturer, as a place to store materials used in his business. The first story was pretty well packed with corn-husks. In the midst of this combustible article the fire seemed to burst out. The means of access to the place was by a small alley, the gate of which was fastened. The doors of the building were also found to be locked. There was an end window open, having several broken panes of glass, which offered facilities to any one disposed to fire the place. But the corn-husks near this window were not even charred. The origin of the fire is, therefore, one of the mysterious kind worthy the attention of Fire Marshal Blackburn, who will give it due consideration this morning. The probability is that spontaneous combustion was the cause. The broken window panes and damp weather operating upon well-packed corn-husks will cause internal heat enough to inflame. The loss will not exceed three hundred dollars. A large awning, valued at nearly a hundred dollars. A large awning, valued at nearly a hundred dollars, was destroyed. Mr. Lancaster was not insured. The firemen made a judicious application of water on this occasion. by Mr. John Lancaster, earpet and mattress manu-

Yesterday morning the funeral of Major A. G. Rosengarten took place from the residence of his father, in Chestnut street near Broad. The Major was formerly a sergeant in Company A, of the 1st Artillery Regiment of the Philadelphia Home Guard. This company was the only one in attendance as a military escort, although two companies of the 2d Regiment of Infantry, and companies A and C, of the Artillery, were detailed for the occasion, by order of Gen. Pleasonton; the whole to be under the command of Major Lewis A. Scott, of the 2d Infantry. Zid Infantry.

The family of the deceased hero, we understand, desired the obsequies to be conducted as privately as possible. Therefore the slimness of the military attendance. The funeral services were of quite an impressive character. Professor Birgfeld's full band was in attendance and discoursed most closure.

A NEW VESSEL.—This afternoon, the bark Annie C. Norton, recently constructed at Somer's Point, N. J., will sail for Port Royal, with a cargo of coal, destined for Government use. She a cargo of coal, destined for Government use. She will be commanded by Capt. E. A. Price. The vessel is double decked, full rigged, with a capacity of about 700 tons, and is intended for the West India and European trade. The following are her dimensions: Length of keel, 121 feet; length on lower deck, 130 feet; extreme length of upper deck, 140 feet; depth of lower hold, 11 feet 10 inches; between deck hold, 6 feet 6 inches; depth from ceiling to upper deck, 17 feet 4 inches; revenue measurement, 43:4-95 tons; carrying capacity in barrels, 5,600.

RETURNED.-Mr. E. M. Mason, a member of the Christian Commission, who visited the battle-field of Murfreesboro, has returned, and reports that, before he left, Thomas Moore, Thomas J. Mason, Jr., and Henry Williams, of Co. B. Anderson Troop, had arrived in camp in safety, after fighting in the advance four days.

That is about sixteen inches in diameter; this more than eighteen inches. It was made for a college in Mississippi, but the rebellion has annulled the contract. The contract price was about $10,000. It is probably the largest object-glass in the world.

THE POLICE. Before Mr Alderman Beitler, I Alleged Larceny. Alleged Larceny.

Aaron Cade was arraigned yesterday afternoon, at the Central Station, on the charge of the larceny of a barrel of sugar, the property of William King. The accused had secured the services of Mr. Daniel Dougherty to defend him. The main witness, Mr. King, testified that the barrel of sugar, worth $29.50, was rolled away from the curbstone in front of his store, corner of Second and New streets, on the day before Christmas. There were six or seven barrels on the sidewalk. The barrel must have been rolled away about half past three o'clock in the afternoon. away about half past three o'clock in the afternoon, but by whom I don't know. CROSS-EXAMINED BY MR. DOUGHERTY.

A. "In the morning, when it arrived."
A. "In the morning, when it arrived."
Q. "When did you miss it?"
A. "About four o'clock in the afternoon."
By Mr. Dougherty. "Twas a bold act to take it?"
By Witness. "Yes, sir."
Q. "Have you recovered." "Have you recovered it?"
"No, sir."
"What became of it?"

Q. "What became of it?"
A. "I discovered it on last Saturday."
Q. "You don't know who rolled it away?"
A. "No, sir."
That will do, Mr. King.
Officer Hart sworn.—On Christmas day I heard of the sugar being gone; at last, I found a barrel of sugar had been sold to Bernard Corr; he said he bought it from Mr. Cade. Went after Mr. King; he claimed it, from tare marks on the barrel; met Cade; he denied all knowledge of it; he went with me to Mr. Corr; he wanted to make a compromise, by paying for it; I told him I could not do any such thing. Cross-examined.—Q. Why did you not arrest Mr. Corr? A. I told him to come to the office.
Q. Why did you not arrest him, as well as Mr. A. Because he paid an honest price for it. Q. How do you know that?

A. Why, because he said so.
Q. Mr. Corr lives nearly opposite to Mr. Cade's A. Yes, sir; I believe he does. Q. Don't you know he keeps a hotel? Q. Don't you know he keeps a hotel?
A. He keeps some kind of a place.
Bernard Corr now took the stand. He testified that Cade owed him ten dollars, and desired him to take a barrel of sugar, and to pay the difference in the price. This was agreed to, and Mr. Cade rolled the barrel across the street, into the store. Witness was very busy with customers at the time, and Cade rolled the sugar out and then into another door. The sugar was examined, and finally witness purchased it at ten cents per pound, giving twelve or The sugar was examined, and finally witness purchased it at ten cents per pound, giving twelve or fourteen dollars to Cade, thus making, the barrel of sugar cost twenty-four or twenty-five dollars.

Mr. Dougherty was about to ask for the discharge of the accused, as there was no evidence that he was guilty of the charge. Mr. Hart, the officer, desired a continuance of the case, in order to obtain the attendance of a witness who had gone down the bay. The alderman postponed the further hearing until two o'clock next Monday afternoon. The accused promptly entered bail in the sum of $800 to appear, Not a Word to Say. The two young men, Francis Brown and Henry Williams, alias Adair, had a final hearing at the central station yesterday afternoon, on the charge of the larceny of chickens and a small chest of tea.

J. M. Curtin was called to the witness stand, but spoke in such a low tone of voice as to be scarcely audible a few feet distant. Police officers sometimes speak in such a low tone that they cannot be heard at the reporters' desk. They are inexcusable, and ought to know better. As near as we could understand the witness, he testified that he attends the store of Owen Weber, or Weaver, at Poplar and Hutchinson streets—the place was forcibly entered one night early this week and robbed of a canister of tea, worth about six dol-lars; it was identified as the property of Mr. Weber, or Weaver; the family occupied the house; a chisel was found on the counter; there were no marks on the shutter forced open; the shutter crack was large and would easily admit the chisel. (Chisel here shown and identified as the one found on the store counter.) The proprietor of the public house testified that he had no raffling at his house, on last Tuesday night, for chickens or anything else. The prisoners, as the Alderman remarked, had stated to Officer Mink, who arrested them, that they won the chickens at the iouse above alluded to "Have you anything to say?" said the alderman to the prisoners.

Not a word of reply came from either of them. 'You stand committed to answer the charge of burglary; bail must be entered before the judges of the court. Officer, take them down stairs."

Exeunt officer with prisoners. [Before Mr. Alderman Good.] The Effects of Ale. Among other things the youngster did, was to help himself pretty freely to some ale. The effect of this was remarkable. The barrel containing the health-invigorating liquid was overturned, the cellar remained uncleaned of rubbish, and things generally were in a much worse condition than before. The lad finally retired taking with him some articles he. lad finally retired, taking with him some articles belonging to Mr. Montgomery. For this he was sent to the House of Refuge.

Officer S. R. Smith, last evening, arrested four quite small boys who have been for some time past pilfering sundry light articles from the fancy goods store of Mr. George Doll, on North Sixth street. A man who had purchased the things from the delinquent juveniles was also arrested and held to await a hearing to take place on Monday afternoon at the Central Station.

Supreme Court of Pennsylvania - Chief Justice Lowrie and Justices Woodward, Thompson, and Strong. POLICY OF INSURANCE—CONDITION THAT INSU-RANCE SHOULD BE VOID IF PROPERTY SHOULD FUNERAL OF LIEUT. GRUBB.—The funeral of Lieut. E. W. Grubb will take place this morning. The funeral service will take place at the Spring Garden Presbyterian Church. Lieut. Grubb was a member of the original Anderson Body Guard, and was killed on the battle field at Murfreesboro, while bearing despatches from Gen. Rosecrans this city on writs of error. The actions in that court were all on policies of insurance issued by the companies to Wm. T. Mills, on the frame stable and stock generally of the omnibus establishment of Mr. Mills, on the neast side, of Till street, north of Market, in the Twenty-fourth ward of this city.

In all these policies was the following condition: "The insurance by this policy shall cease from the time that the property hereby insured shall be levied on or taken into possession or custody under an execution or other proceeding at law or equity."

On the morning of December 23d, 1856, the property insured at that time alleged to be in possession of two watchmen appointed by the sheriff, under an execution against William T. Mills, issued November 16, 1856, on a judgment obtained by Buchanan & Stevens, in September, 1856, was almost wholly destroyed by fire.

Strevel by fire.

The return made by the sheriff to this execution is that he "levied upon the personal property of defendant November 10th, 1856. On the morning of the 23d day of December, 1856, portion of said property was destroyed by fire, and sold the balance of said property was destroyed by fire, and sold the balance of said property was destroyed by fire, and sold the balance of said property was destroyed by fire, and sold the balance of said property was destroyed by fire, and sold the balance of said property was destroyed by fire, and sold the balance of said property was destroyed by fire, and sold the balance of said property was destroyed by fire, and sold the balance of said property was destroyed by fire, and sold the balance of said property was destroyed by fire, and sold the balance of said property was destroyed by fire allowers and assignment.

Mills to David W. Mills, of this stable property, dated November 16th, 1856. This bill of sale was the completion of an agreement or arrangement between them for the transfer of the samitus line, made in the latter part of the summer or the beginning of the fall of 1856.

The companies refused to pay the loss on the ground that the property did not belong to William Mills when he insured it; that he had already transferred it to his son, and that the insurance was a woulded by the alleged levy, and that when David W. Mills came forward to have the assignment marked on the policy of insurance, there was a material concealment on his part in not stating to the insurer that this levy had been made.

All these points were submitted to the juries in the cases, and they found in every case for the plaintiff. Error is assigned to the charge of the court on these points. Argued by John Clayton and Geo. W. Biddle, Esqs., for plaintiff in error, who were replied to by F. C. Brewster, Esq. The court stroyed by fire.

The return made by the sheriff to this execution is eclined to hear Wm. L. Hirst, Esq., on the same side.

The following other cases were argued:
The City of Philadelphia vs. The Trustees of University. Error to District Court of Philadelphia.
Argued by D. W. Sellers, assistant City Solicitor, for plaintiff in error, and by C. Biddle and B. Gerhard, Esqs., for defendant in error.

City of Philadelphia vs. Joseph R. Flanigen, Error to the District Court of Philadelphia. Argued by D. W. Sellers and F. C. Brewster, Esqs., for city, and by Eli K. Price for defendant in error. Supreme Court at Nisi Prins--Justice Read. Cooper vs. Lucas. A feigned issue, before reported. The case has been on trial several days, and was terminated yesterday by a verdict for the plaintiff. William Ernst, Esq., appeared for plaintiff, and M. A. Dropsie, Esq., for defendant.

District Court in Banc. STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS AS APPLIED TO CONFI-Culbert, administrator of Samuel Fleming, deceased, vs. William Fleming.

The following interesting opinion was delivered by Judge Stroud: The plaintiff intestate was a resident of Ireland, and entitled to a distributive share of the estate of Robert Fleming, whose domicile was in this city, and who died here. The intestate gave a letter of attorney to the defendant empowering him to receive such distributive share, and expressly directing that the amount so received should from time to time be remitted to the constituent in bills of exchange on London.

It was in clear proof that, in virtue of the letter of attorney, $1.513.74 were paid by the administrators of Robert Fleming to the defendant; that, instead of remitting it in the mode directed, he invested the money in bonds and mortgages in his own name. The defendant was an illiterate man, and transacted the whole business through an intelligent agent, who DENTIAL RELATIONS. whole business through an intelligent agent, who said that no notice of the receipt of the money had, as far as he had any knowledge, been given to the constituent in the letter of attorney.

The defendant offered no evidence, but relied upon the statute of limitations as a bar to the action.

With a change of names, dates, and sums demanded, this case corresponds in every important particular with Johnson vs. Humphreys, 14 S and R., 395; and the Supreme Court there decided that the statute of limitations constituted no defence. It may be laid down as the law of this State, that where a confidential relation subsists, such as that etween a bank and its cashier, an attorney-at-law and his client, or an attorney in fact and his constituent, the cashier, attorney at-law, or attorney in fact, will not be permitted to protect himself by the statute of limitations, in a suit against him by the statute of limitations, in a suit against him by the bank, client, or constituent, unless he prove a substantial compliance of his duties, in relation to the subject matter of the suit. Harrisburg Bank vs. Forster, 8 Walts, 12; McDowell vs. Potter, 8 P.S. R., 189; Johnston vs. Humphreys, before cited, and see Cowell vs. The Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company, 28 P. S. R., 329.

It was in this case a provision in the letter of attorney that the defendant should remit the money as received, from time to time, to his constituent, in bills on London. There was no evidence that he bills on London. There was no evidence that he ever communicated to his constituent the fact that he had collected the money, in whole or in part, and there was positive evidence that he had invested it in his own name in bonds and mortgages. Never was there a cause in court in which the losing party had more flagrantly violated the plainest principles of law and morality.

The verdict of the jury must stand, and the rule for a new trial be discharged. Rule discharged. cGrath and Hood for plaintiff; Nicholls and Brewster for defendant. Quarter Sessions-Judge Ludlow. The case of Chauncey Johnson, charged with at-tempting to steal money from the Bank of North America, was put on trial. When the defendant was before the court on habeas corpus in the Girard Bank case, the evidence was reported in full in our columns. The case was not got on until at a late our in the session.

Correction.-In our report of the case of Bogle vs. Vinslow, yesterday, we stated that Dr. Winslow had been called in, and treated the plaintiff for paralysis for four weeks. We intended to say that the Doctor had called on the plaintiff, and that some our weeks afterwards Dr. Longshore took charge of the case. It was in evidence also, and we believe we so stated, that Dr. Winslow was a physician of many years' practice, whose ability and skill were universally recognized and admitted by the profession, and the testimony of Drs. Gross and Goddard was that his skilful administration of chloroform was so well known that other physicians brought patients to him for his treatment.

The Use of Chloroform.

To the Editor of The Press: Sin: In the lengthy and interesting report of the case of Bogle vs. Winelow, you mention the name of Harbeson, who testified against Doctors Gross and Goddard, and, that the community might be able and Goddard, and, that the community might be able to judge correctly of the real weight of Harbeson's testimony, it ought to be known that it was his own testimony of his own standing. He gave in evidence that he was "a graduate of three years" (not telling of what school), and that the "tumor" he assisted to excise was removed five years ago—two years before he graduated. Indeed, we know only by his own testimony if he ever graduated at all.

Dr. Skillery, who was a blowed by 'Indee Have, to fore he graduated. Indeed, we know only by his own testimony if he ever graduated at all.

Dr. Skillem, who was allowed by Judge Hare to cross examine him, found he could not tell what important artery or nerve had to be excised or tied for the removal of "the tumor," which was likely the cause of the paralysis he attributed to chloroform; and Dr. S. told him that, one so young and inexperienced as he must have been two years before he was a doctor, should not presume to contradict so able a testimony as that of Dr. Gross.

He said: "If he was young, he knew as much about anatomy as Dr. Gross."

This is the full evidence of the young aspirant, and it ought to be added to that part which appears in the report of this morning's Press, so that the whole evidence might have its due weight. I hope this much will be corrected in your next.

As I have all the evidence for both sides, I can confirm what I have stated above.

With great respect, yours, &c.

READ THE FOLLOWING CAREFULLY.

About myelye months ago I had a severe attack of Diabetes, attended with other difficulties too numerous to mention. My desire for drink was constant, and although I drank gallons are day, my thirst was never allayed; I was only able to sice at short intervals, which seemed like a trance. The mucous conface of my mouth and throat had become so parched and feverich, that I was in constant misery I was also suffering from all the horrors of Dyspepsia, loss of appetite, Nansea, and frequent and severe attacks of vomiting; and so prostrated was my general system, that I was scarcely able to move about. I had availed myself of the science and skill of distinguished medical men, both of the Allopathic and Homcopathic school, and exhausted their catalogue of remedies, but found only temporary relief. In this condition, when every ray of hope seemed paralyzed, I heard of the discovery of Professor Botles in the use of Electricity, and the wonders he was performing in curing disease, and placed myself under his treatment; and, to the astonishment of myself and friends, in two operations my Diabetes was controlled, and other difficulties soon disappeared; my appetite has returned, sleep undisturbed, and, in fact, I feel like one made anew.

I would further state that I have seen other remarkable cures performed by Prof. Bolles, and would advise the diseased to call at 1220 Walnut street, and be restored to health. I shall be glad to give any one information calling on me.

Philadelphia, May Ist, 1800.

Read the following from a preacher of the Methodist Episcopal Church, No. 1833 Helmuth street, Philadelphia:

In attempting a definition of my disease, I can only give some of the many symptoms which, taken altogether, were the most horrid; and even medical men did not know my disease in the pelvic viscera, in five minutes after I entered his office, and offered to warrant a perfect curve in give some of the many symptoms. How ever, Professor C. H. Bolles, by whom I was cured, located my disease in the pelvic viscera, in five minutes after I entered his office, and offered to warrant a perfect curve in give applications. And I frankly admit that in gester the properties of the curve of the curve of the curve of the curve of the season of the curve of disease, if a right spolication could be made; and now I can comprehend, from its powerful effects on me, for a speedy curve, although no shocks were given. All was pleasant, and accomplished as if by magic.

All was pleasant, and accomplished as if by magic give most of my symptoms, for the benefit of a dering humanity. I had dyspensis, bad marsemus, or wasting of the tissues of the whole body; at times a difficulty of breathing, some palpitation of the heart, much bronchitis, trembling of the limbs after exercise, aversion to business and company; at times gloomy, inability to collect my thoughts vigorously on any subject, a loss of memory, pain in various parts of the body; suffered much from lumbago, deranged secretions of the kidneys and other glands of the system, constant dragging pains in the lumbar region, and severe nervous diziness.

I believed is my duty, as a lover of humanity, to recommend this discovery of Professor BOLLES to Ithe afficiency on me infallitle and harmonious. He warriers and the property of the most celebrated physical and

N. B.—It will be well for the diseased to recollect that Prof. B. has given a word of caution in his pamphlet to guard them against trusting their health in the hands of those in this city claiming to treat diseases according to his discovery. This caution may seem severe on those using Electricity at hyzard, but it is the severity of truth, and designed for the good of humanity. See advertisement in another column.
