RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE Rev. Mr. Baxter on the Second Advent. BY GRAYBEARD.

There are few Scriptural questions that have as many respectable name; identified with the two opposite sides of them as the question, Whether the Second advent of Christ is to take place before or oft r the Millennium of "a thousand years?" To Bible students this has been a problem of capital interest, from the days of the Apostles to the present time : and whilst there have been many insane attemp's at its solution, the reasonable argument bearing upon it are nevertheless so numerous and striking that for a professing Christian, at the present day, to admit that he has formed no opinion on the subject is a very poor compliment to his intelligence. As a general thing, the ministry of the Church have ignored this vital question in their pulpits, and in most cases, when they touch it at nil, it is merely to endorse or condemn the theological opinion of some standard authority, without venturing upon its independent investigation for the edification of their hearers. It is true there have been, and are, some honorable exceptions to this-enough to prove the rule. One popular mistake awakened in the minds of even some well-informed persons, whenever this subject is referred to, ought to be dispelled. I allude to the erroneous idea that the (pre-millennial) · Second Advent" will be marked by the destruction of the world. What the so-called Millenarians teach and preach is, that when Christ comes again to "reign" in the scene of his former humiliation, all the wicked then living, i. c. the false professors of religion-the "tares," which are to be separated. from the wheat and burned—are to be destroyed, and not the world (the Kosmos), or whole physical order of things, as some imagine, and have even the bad taste to ridicule in jest. From the fact that the resurrection and glorification of the saints are inseparably connected with Christ's return to the earth, as all Biblical scholars admit, that event becomes the proximate hope of the Church. No wonder, then, that the question as to when-whether before or after the "thousand years"-has enlisted the learning and research of some of the ablest divines ever since the commence. ment of the Christian era. Like all other questions in theology relating to unfulfilled prophecy, however, it requires mental powers of the first order to invest it with interest. It is the neglect of this prime necessity that has in some instances subjected the doctrine of the premillennial advent to obloquy. Tried by the "majority" test, it is safe to say that this doctrine is not popular in the Church at the present day, although it is certainly saved from contempt by the support of such eminent names in this country as Dr. Tyng, of New York; the late eminent jurist and theologian of this city, Joel Jones; the great Dr. Robert J. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, and Dr. Cummings, and a host of respectable cotemporaries in England. The last itinerant effort to agitate this subject in Philadelphia is now being made by the Rev. Mr. Baxter, a minister of the Church of England, who came to this country about three years ago, and has since been preaching and lecturing almost in in the States and Canadas. Since his arrival in this city he has preached in a number of our churches, frequently at Diligent Engine, and other public halls, on Sundays, and in favorable weather in front of the State House on several afternoons during the week. In my only opportunity of hearing Mr. Baxter, on a recent Sunday, in Zion Episcopal Church, Eighth street and Columbia avenue, I was not favorably impressed with his gifts as an original-ex-pounder of prophecy. He is a meek-looking man of about thirty-three, of mediocre ability, with a voice much better adapted for small audiences in-Considering the length of time, and the ardor with which he has devoted himself to the single idea doors than large ones in the open air. which he is endeavoring to disseminate, namely, that the present decade will in all probability witness the "Second Advent" of Christ, he betrays remarkable lack of skill in the presentation of his subject. He has evidently read what others have written upon the subject he discusses, but in his extemnore efforts he fails to systematize, or clear up his points, and hence to impress one with the idea that he knows himself what he is talking about. To use a military phrase, he does not seem to be "master of the situation," and could readily be placed hors de combat twenty times in the course of a sermon by a critical opponent, even though the latter might be opposing

His discourse, on the occasion referred to, was for the most part a disjointed jargon of assertions, mixed up with quotations from Scripture, often inmixed up with quotations from Scripture, often in-correctly made, and taken out of their proper con-to do so, and I carried it off the stage to Mrs. Heishimportance of studying the Scriptures, going to church, giving alms, and doing a great many pious things, in order to escape the vengeance which was about to break upon our sin-cursed world. He dwelt upon the signs of the times, among which were enumerated, without intelligent amplification, the symptoms of the resettlement of the Jews in Palestine: the revival of infidelity, the Papacy, and lawlessness; the rapid progress of the Roman Empire toward its final tenfold division; the conformity of the Napoleonic dynasty to that described in Scriptures as heading up in the Man of Sin, or the Antichrist, who was to be an infidel rejector of Christianity. Intimations were given that the present Emperor of France was to play this part in the great prophetic drama now approaching its final act, before the curtain drops upon the premilpursue their occupations as now (all except military men and army contractors, it may be supposed, as it is to be a reign of perfect peace,) but will live longer and enjoy the highest degree of happiness and prosperity; the wild beasts being tamed, sickness banished, nearly all men righteous, the earth almost an Eden, with the Jews restored and saved as its leading nation, and its mortal unglorified inhabitants ruled by Christ and his glorified saints, who are to be raised at His advent, and who will continually ascend and descend between the Heavenly Jerusalem and this globe, being wholly distinct from the earthly 2 ations whom they govern. Mr. Baxter, if he wishes to make his mark as an expounder of Scripture, commits a fatal error, by expositors and commentators have decided"-so and so. By quietly retiring to his study, and consulting these commentators, he could no doubt elaborate a readable, and, perhaps, convincing argument, that he is master of his subject, and seriously in earnest; but his extempore dissertations can do but little good, excepting in the effect which they may have to

AN ELOQUENT SERMON.-We have received, in neat pamphlet form, a copy of a sermon preached on Thanksgiving-day, in the Locust-street Methodist Episcopal Church, Harrisburg, Pa., by the Rev. Franklin Moore, D. D., formerly of this city. The sermon has been published at the request of a number of prominent residents of Harrisburg who were present when it was delivered, and in his reply to the request, Dr. Moore takes occasion to dedicate it affectionately to "all true Pennsylvanians." The discourse is founded upon Psalm c, 4:-"Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name."

Also I Samuel, ii, 24: "Only fear the Lord, and serve him in truth with all your heart, for consider how great things he hath done for you." In reading this sermon, we hardly know which most to admire, the spirit of true Christian philosophy which pervades it, the elevated patriotism which it breathes, its bold and uncompromising Union sentiments, or the glowing style in which it is written. The President's Emancipation Proclamation is reviewed and eulogised, and contrasted in a masterly manner with the pro-slavery doctrines enunciated by Alexander H. Stephens, Vice President of the so-called Confederate States. The sermon is a great tract for the times, and deserves to be widely circulated. Speaking of the bright names which Pennsylvania can boast in this contest, Dr. Moore says: "Our own Pennsylvania has her names to glitter in the throng of patriots, whom after ages will delight to honor-her Cameron, her Curtin, Knox and Grier, and Scott, and Ross, and Shannon, and Rowe. There, too, is her Forney, whom every man who has not bidden a long farewell to candor must admit, from his gushing utter-heart, the man who, if you take from him all public station, still, with his hand resting on the mighty Press, is a living power in the land—a states CATHOLIC .- The Right Rev. Bishop Rosecrans, brother of the hero of Murfreesboro, recently de-livered a lecture in Columbus, Ohio, before the St. Patrick Society, on the "Mission of Mercy to the Slave," which proved to be an interesting recital of the origin and practical success of an Order established in the Catholic Church by authority of a Bull of Pope Innocent III., at the instigation of John and Felix, who, in 1197, were fired with religious zeal to ransom from Moslem captivity the Christian captives which the ambitious Saracens had secured. The Bishop congratulated the Catholic Church that in her pale had thus been organized and fostered the first Emancipation Society devoted to justice, and

A letter from British Guiana says that the Jesuit Fathers are doing wonders there, the number of conversions monthly averaging as high as fifty-five. Interesting religious services have been held during the week at the Arch-street M. E. Church, in which the Revs. Dr. Smiley, Rittenhouse, and Ruth, participated. The meeting on Thursday evening was deeply interesting, more especially on account of the conversion of a soldier, who made his way to the altar on his crutches. To-morrow afternoon a Sabbath-school concert will be held by the

We have received the last number of this high-toned and well-conducted periodical, and have perused its pages of original, imperialistic, and classic thought with great interest. The articles on "Alexis De Toequeville," and "Alcuin, the Teacher of Charlenagne," are gens of critical biography, which will bear triumphantly a comparison with those admirable similar productions in the English Reviews. quest is as follows:

Dr. S. Updegrove testified that he made a postmortem examination of the body of John Keichline.

The face was much bruised and swollen, the region of both eyes being much contused, swollen and discolored. There were bruises also over other portions of the body, the left hip especially being much swollen and discolored. There was effusion of blood at the posterior portion of the base of the right hemisphere of the brain, and effusion into the lateral ventricles these effusions causing compression. ral ventricles, these effusions causing compression of the brain and death.

Wm. D. Franks testified that on Saturday, between 10 and 11 o'clock, Keichline went into Military Hall, and staid some time listening to the music; while witness was behind scenes, a lagerbeer glass was thrown; there was a disposition to make a row; while witness was getting Keichline towards the door, a blow was struck at deceased; this was the one that made the cut over the eye; he this was the one that made the cut over the eye; he received another blow on the side of the cheek; the blow over the eye was like striking a stone with a hammer; there were a half-dozen persons behind witness, who also received a blow which knocked his hat off; when the blow was struck witness turned around and told the men not to strike, that he could get Keichline out without a fuss; when the blow under the eye was given, Keichline was against the bar, and, therefore, did not fall; witness then got Keichline out; two men went away with him; the blow under the eye could not have been struck with the fist; it must have been some sharp instrument or a very blunt one; witness judged it was a knife or a billy; after Keichline got out he said, "I think I'll have a bad eye;" he appeared to be pretty well, although the blood came out pretty freely from under the eye. well, although the blood came out pretty freely from under the eye.

Nathan Cridlan testified to having met Mr. Keichline in Chestnut street, and went to Mr. Lelar's towards evening and had a drink; met Mr. Samuel Rusk; Mr. Rusk and Mr. Keichline had a bitter Rusk; Mr. Rusk and Mr. Reichline had a bitter argument, and Keichline said that he could throw Rusk; he then threw him down; then both laughed and had a drink; after some time had elapsed Rusk said that he could not do that again; the proprietor of the house said that he would not have anything of that kind; they then went into the street and had a tussel; Keichline did not appear to be angry, but Rusk might have been vexed; Rusk said that Keichline had bit him on the cheek; I saw the mark; I ran Keichline around into Chestnut street; Keichline around into Chestnut street; line did not have a mark; I parted good friends with Rusk; we then went to Jim Stewart's, Fifth and Walnut, and then into Library street, where Keich-line met some friends and we took a drink; while we were there (Military Hall) a glass was pitched on the stage; one of the men that was singing want-ed to know who done it; Keichline was pointed out as the one who threw the glass; the men concluded not to sing, and the whole crowd rushed off the stage at Keichline; I saw Mr. Franks trying to protect Mr. Keichline; after he had got into the street I saw that his face had been cut; Mr. Rusk was not there; when Rusk and Keichline were down, the latter was on top; Mr. Keichline did not complain until he came out of Military Hall, then his eye was bleeding freely; the difficulty at Military Hall was at a late hour of the night; this was several hours after the tussel with Rusk; at Military Hall there were a great many persons around Mr. Keichline; saw several of them strike at him from behind in different directions; after he came out Mr. Keichline said that he had been struck with a slung-shot; somebody then wanted to fight him; we went to the not to sing, and the whole crowd rushed off the stage somebody then wanted to fight him; we went to the druggist at Seventh and Chestnut, and he fixed his druggist at Seventh and Chestnut, and he fixed his eye; don't know the persons who were around Mr. Keichline in Military Hall; we went up Chestnut street and met a hackman; offered him two dollars to take Mr. Keichline and me home; he refused, and we slept at Miller's; did not see Keichline throw the glass; he said he did it though; all the injury he received he got in Military Hall; he was telting how he had been struck at a tavern at Eleventh and Parrish streets on Sunday, didn't know, surhedry Parrish streets, on Sunday; didn't know anybody around Mr. Keichline except Mr. Franks; the men around Mr. Keichline except Mr. Franks; the men who came oft the stage were the first to attack him. John Logue testified to having seen Mr. Keichline and Mr. Cridlan at a place on Chestnut street, on Saturday night; witness took the blood out of Keichline's eye, and then went with him to the drug store; asked him who cut his eye; he replied, a parcel of men at Military Hall—men who were blacked up; while at the drug store my attention was called to three or four men outside; went out. was called to three or four men outside; went out, but did not know any of them; one of the men wore a fur cap: did not see his face: didn't see any officer about; when they came into the saloon it was about a quarter past twelve o'clock; when we went to Elghth and Chestnut streets the three men did not follow; they did not say anything to us; I left Mr. Keichline at Eighth street; heard the men outside drug store talking, but don't know what they were

Lewis F. Newkirk, known as Frazier, testified that he and Alr. Mockerman were upon the stage together at Military Hall; as I was starting to dance a lager-beer glass fell between my two feet and bounded over the right foot; I picked the glass up, and went to the foot of the stage, and told the man to come up and those it is come. to come up and throw it over again; nobody seemed to do so, and I carried it off the stage to Mrs. Heishley, who was in the green-room; Mr. Mockerman told me to go on with my act; did so; the next thing I saw Mr. Franks had hold of the man whom I suppose threw the glass; then I saw another man raise a chair over Mr. Frank's head; thought it was intended for Franks, and jumped on a table in front of the stage over to the floor, and tried to get into the crowd where the fighting was going on; I was caught hold of by four or five men, and pulled back; when Mr. Franks had this man at the door I was not nearer than ten feet; saw no blows struck; in fact, I didn't know the man was struck; Mr. Franks had the man at the door, and I was pulled back by four men; I then went back to the stage; I was blacked, and had a red striped shirt on; saw no crowd around Mr. Keichline until after-Mr. Franks had hold of him; the glass came high; if I had been nearer, it would have struck me on the head; the bottom broke off the glass; the persons whopulled me back done so to keep me out of the fight; Mr. Francis and Mr. Carrigan pulled me back; think the man who had the chair up wore a fur cap; the nearest I was to Mr. Keichline at any time was about ten feet; can't say whether Mr. Mockerman left the stage or not; did not see any body with a slug shot or steel knuckles; did not see Mr. Keichline's face bloody; don't know the time of the disturbance; the fuss only lasted a few minutes; didn't heard any one say that he had struck Keichline; heard that he had been struck; I should judge that nearly everybody in the room were around Mr. Keichline; the only remark from the crowd I heard was, "put him out;" only two men are employed to do Ethiopian acts—Mr. Mockerman and myself.

Mr. Lomeardine, J. K. Search, Capt. Jim Francis, and Wm. Megahey further testified, but no further light was shed upon the matter. light was shed upon the matter.

PHILADELPHIA SOCIETY FOR ALLEVIA-TING THE MISERIES OF PUBLIC PRISONS .- On the second of February, 1776, a society was organized under the name of "The Philadelphia Society for. Assisting Distressed Prisoners." On the eighth of May, 1787, a number of benevolent individuals agreed to form themselves into a society under the title which the association now holds. Its seventy-seventh annual meeting was held on Thursday evening last. The report of the acting committee was read, and will shortly be published. The election of officers for the energy was resulted as follows: and will shortly be published. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

President, James J. Barclay. Vice Presidents,
Townsend Sharpless, William Shippen, M. D. Treasurer, Edward H. Bonsall. Secretaries, John J.
Lytle, Edward Townsend. Counsellors, Henry J.
Williams Charles Gibbons. Williams, Charles Gibbons.

The president, upon returning thanks for the confidence again placed in him, made some very felicitous remarks, showing what had been accomplished through the instrumentality of this society. He was succeeded by Joseph R. Chandler, Esq., who gave some interesting accounts of his visits to the prisons in Rome, Naples, Paris, &c., during the time he was Minister to Rome. E. H. Bonsall, Esq., followed, giving an account of his visit to the prisons of Rome. This had been of an interesting character. The meeting closed with a determination on the part of the members to enter on the work with re-Williams, Charles Gibbons. part of the members to enter on the work with re-newed zeal, adopting for its motto the word "Ex-celsior."

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE OF PENN SYLVANIA.—The annual December meeting of the trustees of this institution convened at Harris burg on the 30th of December. Judge Watt occupied the chair. The following members of the Board the chair. The following members of the Board were present: Hon. Eli Slifer, Secretary of the Commonwealth; the Hons. James T. Hale, James Miles, Craig Biddle, H. N. McAllister, and Dr. Pugh. E. C. Humes, treasurer, presented a report of the finances of the institution, which was referred to a committee for auditing. The last annual catalogue, with a history of the college, embracing, in all, seventy-six octavo pages, was laid before the Board by Dr. Pugh. This little work opens with the history of agricultural education. In all, one hundred and ten students had been in attendance during the year. After the transaction of the usual business the Board adjourned.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—At a late hour on Thursday night, as the Germantown train, on its outward frip trom this city, reached Church-lane the station at Germantown, where he died in about two hours. The deceased was formerly prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas, and recently an alderman of the Twenty-second ward. At the time of his death, he was a clerk in the office of Lieutenant Colonel Ruff.

THE NEW THEATRE.—The sale of seats for the new theatre on Chestnut street, which took place, in the first instance, at the auction rooms of place, in the first instance, at the auction rooms of Messrs. Thomas & Sons, has been continued at the book-stand of Mr. Risley, at the Continental. On that occasion, it will be remembered that 200 seats were putchased at a premium of $1.373/2 each. On inquiry yesterday, we were told by Mr. Risley that his charge for each seat was $3. The present prospect in reference to the attendance at the first night's performance is quite flattering. There is hardly any doubt that the entire building will be filled to its utmost canacity.

its utmost capacity. NAVAL FUNERAL.—Yesterday afternoon, the funeral of Midshipman F. P. Smith, U. S. N., took place from the residence of Rev. Dr. Ducachet, Girard street, near Twelfth. It was quite largely attended by friends of the family and officers of the navy. The deceased was a grandson of the late Commodore Foxhall A. Parker. He died at the United States Naval Academy, at Newport, R. I., on Monday last.

OF MILITARY INTEREST.—Two hundred and thirty-eight of the members of the 20th Maine, accompanied by the colonel and lieutenant colonel, passed through this city yesterday morning, at three o'clock. They were regaled at the Volunteer Refreshment Saloons. They were a fine-looking set of men, and very naturally excited great interest. LEFT FOR ST. LOUIS.—Yesterday morn-

Rev. Mr. S. J. Baird, of the Presbyterian church.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At three o'clock the session was called to order by Rev. Dr. J. W. Nevin. The opening prayer was made by Rev. Mr. Jos. W. Santee, of Cavetown, Maryland. The minutes of the morning session were read and approved. Rev. Mr. Daniel Gans continued the reading of his sessay on "The Educational System Underlying the Heidelberg Catechism." This had been suspended during the morning session by the reception of the delegates from the Presb yterian Historical Society. The President appointed Rev. Dr. P. Schaff, Rev. Mr. N. Gehr, and Rev. J. F. Busche, a committee to publish the Memorial volume, in German, in accordance with the resolution adopted in the morning. Rev. Dr. Bomberger reported a minute with reference to the letter of greeting from the Presbyterian Historical Society. or. Bomberger reported a minute with reference to the letter of greeting from the Presbyterian Historical Society. His report stated that the committee recommend that the letter be incorporated with the minutes of the Convention, and that a suitable reply be forwarded to the Society. The report was adopted, and the same committee ordered to prepare the reply contemplated in the report. Rev. Prof. Porter offered the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved*, That the Committee of Arrangement be requested to prepare, in the name of the Convention. Resolved, That the Committee of Arrangement be requested to present, in the name of the Convention, copies of the Triglott edition (in case the profits arising from the sale of these works will warrant.it) of the Heidelberg Catechism and the Memorial volumes (English and German) to the University Library at Heidelberg; to the libraries of the Theological Seminaries at Mercersburg, Pa., Tiffin, Ohio, New Brunswick, N. Quarter Sessions—Judges Allison and Lud-low. HOMICIDE CASES—SINGULAR VERDICT. The jury in the case of Patrick Farragan, charged with the murder of Thomas Williamson, before reported, returned a verdict yesterday of guilty of murder in the first degree, but recommended the defendant to mercy. As the law prescribes death as the penalty, it is difficult to see how the court can give effect to this very remarkable recommendation. effect to this very remarkable recommendation.

Daniel McNamarra was put on trial, charged with the murder of Wm. Lafferty, on the evening of the 28th of August last. From the evidence, it appears that on the evening in question, while Lafferty was peacefully pursuing his way along Arch street, above Sixth, he was assaulted by the defendant, who was in company with two others, and either violently pushed or struck by him. He fell, and, striking the curb, fractured his skull, and died in a short time after being taken to the hospital. It did not appear that there had been any previous quarrel between the parties. The District Attorney said, at the outset of the case, that the evidence would not warrant a conviction of murder of the first degree, and he would only ask a verdict of guilty of manslaughter, and the jury, after hearing the evidence, so found. John O'Byrne, Esq., appeared for the defendant. CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER.

THE POLICE.

[Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.] [Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.] Felony.

A man, giving the celebrated name of John Smith, was arraigned at the Central Station, yesterday afternoon, on the charge of felony. Officer Hause, of the Fifteenth district, testified, that at about twenty minutes past four o'clock, yesterday morning, he met the accused driving a horse and wagon along the public highway, near the bridge, over the Germantown railroad. He told him to stop. On looking into the wagon, he found three bags of corn, three bags of bran, and twenty-one empty bags. On questioning the defendant, he gave rather evasive answers, and he was therefore taken into custody. Smith (evidently an assumed name) was asked if Smith (evidently an assumed name) was asked if he had any explanation to make.

He replied, that "he had purchased the corn and bran from a person of the county."

"Whereabouts in the county?" said the magistrate. "About fifteen miles up."

"About fifteen miles up."

"What is the name of the person from whom you made the purchase?"

"Well, sir, I don't know."
Joseph Ledley was called to the stand. He testified as follows: I reside in Haines street, Germantown; my barn was entered some time last night and some bags—corn and bran—were stolen therefrom; the articles found in possession of the prisoner are mine; I recognize the bags by the private marks thereon. man ks thereon.

Alderman to defendant—"You have heard the wit-Alderman to defendant—"You have heard the witners; what have you to say?"

The defendant stood mute, and presently commenced crying. He was committed in default of $2,500 to answer. Bail in this case must be entered before one of the judges of the court.

The charge of larceny was waived in this case, and that of felony substituted, by the deep-thinking magistrate, in accordance with the 136th section of the revised penal code, which says:

"If any person shall in the daytime break and enter any dwelling-house, shop, or warehouse, store, mill, barn, stable, outhouse, or other building, or wilfully and maliciously, cither by day or by night, without breaking, enter the same with intent to commit any felony whatever there, the person so offending shall be guilty of felony, and, on conviction, be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars and to undergo an imprisonment by separate or solitary confinement at labor not exceeding four years."

Final Hearing.

Final Hearing.

Aaron Cade, charged with receiving a barrel of sugar, the same having been stolen some time since from the front of the store of Mr. King, had a final hearing before Alderman Beitler yesterday afternoon. One or two witnesses were examined, and identified the barrel by the trade marks upon it. The accused who will probably he able to release The accused, who will probably be able to make a good defence, was held to bail in the sum of $500 to answer. He will be defended by Daniel Dougherty, Caught in the Act.

Two men, named Richard Baxter and William Mason, were arrested last evening by Reserve Officers Rawlings and Dale, on the charge of larceny. They had a hearing before Magistrate Beitler. The evidence developed the fact that the defendants had entered the wine cellar of Mr. Charles Petry, on Chestnut street, and helped themselves to several bettler of wire Act they were coning out of the bottles of wine. As they were coming out of the place with the wine in their possession, they were arrested as above stated. After the hearing, th A Pedler in Trouble. Jacob Hyman was arraigned on the charge of pil-fering some small articles from the auction store of Mr. Henry P. Wolbert, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wolbert testified that there was a public sale at the auction store yesterday; after it was over the de-fendant started away; agentleman told Mr. Wolbert that the prisoner had stolen a buckskin purse, and with the his needed. Mr. W went after him sed put it into his pocket; Mr. W. went after him, and inquired about it; the suspected individual denied having any; Mr. Wolbert took him back to the store, and during this welk observed him to take a buck-skin purse out of his pocket, as though he intended to throw it away; the accused was placed in the counting-house, to be detained for further examina-tion; while in there he emptied his pockets of small articles, and threw them under a table. Upon being questioned on this subject, he said that while he was in the counting-house he felt in his pockets, and, finding some things there, did throw them under the table. He further said that somebody must have put them there "just to fool him." Have you not been here before this?" asked the

The prisoner replied, "No, I vas neffer in an alderman's office in mine life."

He was committed to answer. The dwelling of the prisoner was searched, and a large quantity of goods, such as pedlers usually deal in, were taken into possession by the detective police. They may be seen at the Central Station upon application to tective Charles Smith. Arrest of a Well-known Entry Thief. Arrest of a Well-known Entry Thick.

Major Turner, a colored man, and regarded by the police as smart as a steel trap, was captured yesterday afternoon by Officer Levy, of the Detective force, in Lombard street, above Sixth. The Major had on his shoulders a large trunk pretty well filled. When taken into custody he was decidedly impudent, but Detective Levy knowing that he held him "dead to rights," run him and the trunk into the Central Station. Here the Major was decidedly insolent, declaring that he was entirely innocent of any crime "this time."

"Take off that coat," said Levy.

"I won't do it; this coat belongs to me. You needn't think because I'm black you are going to impose on me." mpose on me."
"Come, my man," said Bartholomew, "don't be aucy now."
"Take off that coat," again said Mr. Levy. "I tell you that coat's mine," replied the prisoner. The coat came off with the help of two detectives. "Quigley," shouted Levy, "as I declare."
This was one of five coats, stolen from the house f Mr. James Quigley, on South street, above Tenth, n the 21st inst Three of them had been recovered by Detective omers, at a pawn shop.
To investigate the interior of the trunk was an object of deep consideration.

"Have you a key?" said Mr. Levy to the prisoner.

"Yes, but I ain't gwang to open the trunk," was the reply. "I've done nothing; I've just come home; that trunk is my wife's."

"What have I done; what have you against me?"
demanded the prisoner.

"Oh, keep cool; you shall be accommodated in good time," soothingly rejoined several detectives.

Mr. Levy now produced his bunch of "skeletons."
It was not long before the trunk was made to yield ite contents. object of deep consideration. "Aha!" says Levy, "a silver fork marked 'Western Hotel,'" as he picked this useful article up from the bottom of the trunk.

Each article in the trunk was carefully noted by the keen-eyed Levy, who brought his perifocals to bear minutely upon all of them in their turn. While this was going on, the prisoner liked to have had an altercation with the Fire Marshal and one or two others. He seemed to be virtually indignant, decidedly saucy, and still asseverated his innocence. THE HEARING.

A public hearing was given to the case last evening, before Alderman Beitler.

A little son of Mr. Quigley testified that he saw the prisoner come into the house, on the 21st inst, and steal five coats.

Mr. Levy testified that he and Officer Somers received information yesterday of the robbery of Mr. Quigley's house. A bill was at once issued. Three of the coats were recovered at the shop of Mr. Mc-Cabe. Cabe.
Mr. McCabe took the witness stand, and testified that the prisoner is the man who pawned the coats. "Well, Major," said the Alderman, "what have you to say?"
"Alderman," said he, "I don't know anything about them. There's still another coat, Alderman," interposed Mr. Levy."
"What do you know about it, Major?" asked the I declare, Alderman, I don't know anything about the coat—I've done nothing."

The defendant was committed to answer at court.
His likeness has been in the Rogue's Gallery for a number of years. The prisoner is an intelligentlooking colored man. He has already served out several terms of imprisonment.

[Before Mr. Alderman Williams.] India Rubber Overcoat. Solomon Montier was arraigned, yesterday, on the charge of purifining an India rubber overcoat, the property of Dr. Morwitz, the publisher of the German Democratic paper. The accused was taken into custody at Fourth and New streets, by Officer Murray. He is employed as driver by Dr. Bournonville, whose horse and carriage are kept at the stable of the Montgomery House, Sixth and Willow streets. Dr. Morwitz also has his horse and carriage kept at the same place. It is alleged that Montier, on putting up the horse of his employer, at an early hour the same place. It is alleged that Montier, on put-ting up the horse of his employer, at an early hour yesterday morning, helped himself to the India rub-ber overcoat. After a hearing, the accused was committed in default of $400 ball to answer at court.

· [Before Mr. Alderman McMullin.] Petty Larceny.

Sarah Wingate, Priscilla Wingate, and Mary Danby, all colored women of notorious character, were arraigned yesterday, on the charge of stealing a couple of pairs of pantaloons from two lodgers in one of those miserable places in the purlieus of the city where rum, misery, and crime go hand-in-hand. A house of correction is sadly needed for such mise-

READ THE FOLLOWING CAREFULLY.

About twelve months ago I had a severe attack of Diabetes, attended with other difficulties too numerous to mention. My desire for drink was enstant, and although I drank gallons per day, my thirst was never allayed; I was only able to sleep at short intervals, which seemed like a trance. The mucous surface of my mouth and throat had become so parched and feverish, that I was in constant misery. I was also suffering from all the horrors of Dyspepsia, loss of appetite. Nanses, and freduent and severe attacks of vomiting; and so prostrated was my general system, that I was accreely able to move about. I had availed myself of the science and skill of distinguished medical men, both of the Allopathic and Homeopathic school, and exhausted their catalogue of remedies, but found only temporary relief. In this condition, when every ray of hope seemed paralyzed, I heard of the discovery of Professor Bolles in the use of Electricity, and the wonders he was performing in curing disease, and placed myself under his treatment; and, to the astonishment of myself and friends, in two operations my Diabetes was controlled, and other difficulties soon disappeared; my appetite has returned, sleep undisturbed, and, in fact, I feel like one made anew.

I would further state that I have seen other remarkable cures performed by Prof. Bolles, and would advise the diseased to call at 1220 Walnut street, and he restored to health. I shall be glad to give any one information calling on me.

Rose Mill, West Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 1st, 1860.

Read the following from a preacher of the Methodist Episcopal Church, No. 1833 Helmuth street. Philadel.

Read the following from a preacher of the Methodist spiscopal Church, No. 1633 Helmuth street, Philadel-Episcopal Church, No. 1633 Helmuth street, Philadelphia:

In attempting a definition of my disease, I can only give some of the many symptoms which, taken altogether, were the most horrid; and even medical men did not know my disease from pathological symptoms. How ever, Professor C. H. Bolles, by whom I was cured, located my disease in the pelvic viscera, in five minutes after I entered his office, and offered to warrant a perfect cure in eight applications. And I frankly admit that in eight applications of Electricity, administered by Professor Bolles, 1220 Walnut street, Philadelphia, I am perfectly cured; and to me this is most astonishing, for I had exhausted the catalogue of old-school remedies, and grew worse all the time.

I had long believed that in Electricity resided a potent agent for the cure of disease, if a right application could be made; and now I can comprehend, from its powerful effects on me, for a speedy cure, although no shocks were given. All was pleasant, and accomplished as if by magic.

given. All was pleasant, and accomplished as if by magic.
I will give most of my symptoms, for the benefit of suffering humanity. I had dyspepsia, bad marasmus, or wasting of the tissues of the whole body; at times a difficulty of breathing, some palpitation of the heart, much bronchitis, trembling of the limbs after exercise, aversion to business and company; at times gloomy, inability to collect my thoughts vigorously on any subject, a loss of memory, pain in various parts of the body; suffered much from lumbago, deranged secretions of the kidneys and other glands of the system, constant dragging pains in the lumbar region, and severe nervous dizziness.

kinerys and other grants of the system, constant oraging pains in the lumbar region, and severe nervous diziness.

I believe it is my duty, as a lover of humanity, to recommend this discovery of Professor BOLLES to like afflicted of all classes. There seems to be no gnesswork, no confusion, no matter of doubt in his treatment. He proceeds on fixed principles, and according to fixed laws, which seem to me intallible and harmonious. He warrants, by special contract, the most obstinate, chronic and acute cases, and charges nothing, if he fails. I advise all of the diseased to try his treatment.

EDWARD T. EVANS.

Preacher in M. E. Church,

ANOTHER CURE OF PARLLYSIS OF THE LOWER LIMBS (Paraplegia) AND APOPLEXY COMBINED.

Read the following:

PHILADELPHIA, March 31, 1882.

PROFESSOE BOLLES, 1220 Walnut street: The remarkable cure which I have derived from your method of applying Electricity compels me to thus acknowledge the great obligations I am under to you for snatching me, as it were, from immediate death. About two years ago, while a resident of Cinclinati, chio, I was visited with an attack of paralysis of the lower extremities, which rendered me almost entirely unable to stand upon my limbs. I employed some of the most celebrated physicians to be found in that section, but received no apparent benefit, and after a lapse of about eighteen months was taken with a speam, which one of my physicians pronounced a fit of apoplexy. Two weeks clapsed from that time before I became the least conscious of anything that had transpired, nor could I concentrate my mind or converse upon any subject, without becoming very visionary and excited, until I placed myself under your valuable treatment. After my arrival in Philadelphia my attention was called to your treatment by a mmbliet converse upon any surject. Without becoming very visionary and excited, until I placed myself under your valuable treatment. After my arrival in Philadelphia my attention was called to your treatment by a pamphlet handed me by my father, which contained the names of some gentlemen whom I had been formerly acquainted with, and whose statements I could rely upon. I immediately made up my mind to place myself under your treatment. I have now been the recipient of four treatments, and I now feel perfectly satisfied that I am restored to a sound condition, and thefore feel it my duty to gratefully acknowledge the benefits which I have received through your treatment.

Very respectfully yours, &c.,

WILLIAM H. SHAIN,

Publisher of the National Merchant, office 126 South SECOND Street, Philadelphia.

N. B.—It will be well for the diseased to recollect that Prof. B, has given a word of cantion in his pamphlet to guard them against trusting their health in the hands of those in this city claiming to treat diseases according to his discovery. This caution may seem severe on those using Electricity at hazard, but it is the severity of truth, and designed for the good of humanity. See advertisement in another column.
