It cannot be a sin, however vain, . To worship still a love I ne'er shall know again. Tho' Time has sprinkled well my locks with white, And the another, faithful, be my bride; And thou art wedded, and art happy quite, Thy sons and daughters growing by thy side; It cannot be a sin to linger yet, tears!

To gaze upon a star that ne'er for me will set. III. Thou will come to me; and I may not strive To wave away the vision of a girl Whose presence palpable is here alive! I hear her voice, and see the auburn curl! I kiss the lips, and press the yielding hand As the the glass of life had lost no grain of sand!

It cannot be a sin! It lifts my soul Above temptation, oft, when I would sin: It was thy memory caused me dash the bowl, The Lethe bowl I longed to revel in! In gloomy hours dejection flies to thee, And, as by magic spell, comes back tranquility !

So, thou art in my spirit-and my heart, Its wild waves beating, still are swayed by thee. Yet we are many years and miles apart, But all my precious youth is still renewed by thee! It cannot be a sin, this chastened love. So with my holiest thoughts and deepest reverence wove.

And that we wed not was no fault of thine; It might have been! But youthful blood is hot And mine was vain and proud. I missed thy shrine When, in thy soul's soft fane, I found it not.

O, then was madness! But my act had sealed To me a sweetness never since revealed.

I have not worshipped since, except as erst I bowed before thee. So this lesson learn: Till death, this soul's religion, as at first, Upon thy altar, thine alone, must burn. The love around me were indeed a shade, But for the light my early love hath made.

Is this a consolation? Thou hast made No wreck of me because I wear thee not; I come to thee with what does not upbraid! In all life's frosts thou art the summer spot. In trials sore, in fierce temptation's sway, The rudder, thou, my passions all obey. , IX.

And sweeter far than all the thought, that thou Thus rulest o'er me as th' unconscious star On whose screnity I gaze e'en now. Thou hast forgot me, save with thoughts afar ! And never hath thy gentle spirit known One jar of discord in its ripe, full tone. NEW YORK, Nov. 6, 1862.

SCIENCE-ART-LITERATURE. HOW TO JOIN ANIMALS AFTER MA-HOW TO JOIN ANIMALS AFTER MATURITY.—A curious and interesting experiment was lately made at Strasburg, to effect the union of two animals, so that they might, to a certain degree, have a life in common. It was, indeed, producing artificially what nature produced spontaneously in those extraordinary phenomena, the Siamese twins. Two white rats, of the Albino species, were selected for the experiment, probably as being more manageable than their darker brethren. An incision was made on the right side of the one, and on the left side of the other, engaging the skin An incision was made on the right side of the one, and on the left side of the other; engaging the skin and the cellular fissue under it. The surfaces of the two wounds were kept closely together, by sutures and bandages, until the sixth day, when union by the first intention was found to have taken place. They then walked side by side, being united by a fieshy band. An attempt to poison both by the mouth of the one did not succeed, but an injection thrown into the jugular vein of one animal was found to have entered the superficial femoral veins of the other, showing clearly that an intimate vascular union had already taken place between them. This interesting experiment may have a most important bearing on restorative surgery.

ANGLO-REBEL WRITERS.—The Mobile Register publishes a private letter from London, which states that the editorial sanctum of the Index has bestates that the editorial sanctum of the Index has become the focus and rendezvous of Southerners in London. It is a seminary of Southern intelligence and a school of Southern writers, not for its own columns, but for the other London papers. J. B. Hopkins and Percy Greeg, both Englishmen, both writers for the Index, are mentioned as doing-valuable service for the South. Greeg is also one of the principal leader writers for the South. principal leader writers for the Salurday Mayiew, the leading London weekly, for which he wries Southern articles. He is also an editorial contributor to the Morning Herald and Standard, both of which papers, says the writer, are in effect daily Southern organs. The financial writer for the Index is Mr. Geo. McHenry, an ardent Southerner, though born in Philadelphia. This gentleman also does yoeman's service to the Southern cause in the Times. The subjects of these notices will not probably thank the Register's correspondent for his revelations. WAS THE MOON EVER A COMET ?- Accord-

WAS THE MOON EVER A COMET?—According to M. Arago, the Arcadians thought themselves of older date than the moon. They maintained that their ancestors had inhabited this planet before it had any satellites. Struck with this singular opinion, some philosophers have imagined that the moon was formerly a comet, which, in performing its elliptical course around the sun, came into the neighborhood of the earth, and was drawn in to revolve around it. Such a change of orbit is possible, but evidently it could not have taken place if the comet's perihelion distance had been great. The comet must, therefore, have passed very near the sun, and have experienced an intense heat, capable of dissipating every trace of humidity. The almost entire absence of an atmosphere around the moon, the scorched appearance of its vast mountains and deep valleys, and the few plains that are seen, have been cited as proofs that this luminary was once a comet.

REMARKABLE MAGNETIC PHENOMENA.

—A notice has appeared in a foreign journal of certain very remarkable magnetic phenomena which were observed in Russia. It appears that while making a survey with pendulum experiments in the neighborhood of Moscow, the officers employed were surprised by finding a marked inclination of the pendulum towards the city. With a view to obtain data for comparison, the observation was repeated at another station some miles distant, and afterwards at others, until an entire sweep had been made round the region, as it may be called, of the ancient capital of Muscovy. But in every instance the result was the same—an attraction, so to speak, of the pendulum towards the city as to a focus. Geologists might be questioned as to the nature of the strata within the circumperambulated area. Meanwhile this focal attraction remains a very curious subject of speculation.

NEW GUN METAL.—A composition has been proposed in Austria as a substitute for ordinary gun metal, consisting of copper and tin. It is composed of sixty parts of copper, from thirty-four to forty-four of spelter, from two to four of iron, and from one to two of tin. The iron, which must be wrought iron, is put at the bottom of a crucible with the copper upon it, and the whole exposed to a very high temperature. The tin is then added, and afterward the spelter. The metal is stirred, left for a minute or two, stirred again, and afterward cast. A twelve-pounder gun, made of the alloy, was heavily charged with powder, rammed full of sand, plugged at the muzzle with a piece of iron, and in this state fired. All the gas resulting from the ignition of the powder escaped through the touch-hole; and not only was the gun found to be uninjured, but, on a careful examination, not the smallest alteration in its internal diameter could be detected. This indicates extraordinary toughness and elasticity.

"WAVERLEY'S" MEMORY.—Mr. Carruthers, in the course of a lecture on Scottish history, delivered in Queen-street Hall, Edinburgh, recently mentioned an instance of Sir Walter Scott's wonderful memory: "I have heard Campbell relate how strongly Scott was impressed with his (Campbell's) poem of 'Lochiel's Warnings.' I read it to him in manuscript,' he said; 'he then asked to read it over himself, which he did slowly and distinctly, after which he handed to me the manuscript, saying, "Take care of your copyright, for I have got your poem by heart," and with only these two readings he repeated the poem with scarcely a mistake.' Certainly an extraordinary instance of memory, for the piece contains eighty-eight lines. The subject, however, was one which could not fail powerfully to arrest Scott's attention, and the versification and diction are such as are easily caught up and remembered." diction are such as are easily caught up and remem-bered."

EFFECT OF SHOT ON VESSELS.-A shot does EFFECT OF SHOT ON VESSELS.—A shot does not make a hole of its own size right through the wood, but indents it, the fibres springing back after the shock. Generally the course of the shot can only be traced with a wire, sometimes by a hole as large as a man's finger. The damage most often happens on the inside of a vessel, in splintering and breaking the wood, after the main force of the shot is spent. Forts Hamilton and Richmond, which are about a mile apart, with a vessel lying between them, could not with their guns send a shot through two feet of its timbers. There is rarely an instance where a ship was sunk by a solid shot. Hot shot and shell do the mischief. The latter will sometimes make apertures of several feet through the sides of vessels.

AN IMPROVEMENT IN TELEGRAPHY.—
The Viscount de Vougy, director general of the electric telegraph throughout France, has invited several scientific members of the National Institute, and some of the chief clerks in the telegraph department, to assist at experiments about to be made with the typo-telegraph invented by the Chevalier Bonelli. The typo-telegraph of this scientific engineer can print 500 despatches of 25 words within an hour. According to the system of Morse now in use, it would require not less than 20 wires and 50 clerks to accomplish a similar work. Should the experiments prove satisfactory, it is said that the Government will concede to the Chevalier Bonelli the working of the line from Paris to Lyons and Marseilles.

GOETHE'S CORRESPONDENCE.—At Weimar (Upper Saxony), it is stated that the correspondence between Goethe and the Duke Karl August may be expected to be published in the course of the coming summer. Dr. Vogel, one of the surviving representatives of the "great time" of Weimar, along with the Grand Duke and the chamberlain, Herr von Goethe, is engaged in the preparation of the letters. The entire number amounts to 630, of which the Grand Duke possesses 130 (which are therefore by Goethe), while 416 are from the archives of the Goethe family, (which are from Karl August to Goethe), and the remainder will be gathered from other quarters; including, for the sake of completeness, a few that are already published.

THE LATEST PARIS CARTOON OF WIT.—
The Charturi gives a wood-cut representing the year 1863 (under the guise of a young woman) looking round in great alarm at a scene of the utmost confusion, in which the Northern States of America, the Southern States, Greece, Turkey, the Roman question, the new Boulevards of Paris, the new opera-house, are all flung pell-mell together at her feet. She exclaims, as 1862 is seen stealing away in the distance: "What a mess my predecessor has left me! And just to think that I have the task of setting all this confusion in order!"

THE CORN EXCHANGE ASSOCIATION. The annual meeting of this association was held last evening at the hall, corner of Second and Gold streets. Mr. H. Hinchman acted as chairman, and Theodore Wilson as secretary. The annual report was read, showing that the association has added to its list during the past year sixty-four members, making a total of three hundred and fifteen indivi-duals and firms, and eighteen subscribers, repre-sented in the Corn Exchange Association. Besides the shipment of 7,971 bushels of wheat, 50,000 bushels of corn were shipped via New York.
The report further alludes to the energy of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in its success to deliver promptly the immense amount of freight poured upon her by the various lines at Pittsburg. This company has recently completed a fire-proof grain elevator in this city, at the foot of Washington street, on the Delaware river. It is thus accessible by cars bringing the grain from the West, and has ample wharf accommodations, with sufficient depth of water to float the largest ships to carry the grain to foreign ports. The storage capacity of the present building is about 475,000 bushels, but it is so constructed that it can readily be doubled. It is estimated that 5,000 bushels of grain per hour can be taken from the cars, and either put in store, or placed at once on board vessels, as the consignees may require. All of the latest improvements in machinery for securing the most economical and efficient treatment of grain, have been introduced in this building.

The company has adopted a liberal scale of charges for receiving, storing, and shipping grain. The association unites with the Board of Trade and our citizens generally, and earnestly urge upon the General Government the importance and de-sirability of locating the navy yard at League Island. sirability of locating the navy yard at League Island. It is uscless, says the report, to reiterate the various reasons why this should be done, as they have been fully set forth, and must be apparent to every thoughtful mind. It gives us pleasure to announce that the project for the establishment of a first-class line of steamships between this port and Liverpool is in a fair way to be brought to a successful issue. We refer to the Randall line, and from the well-known character and ability of those having the matter in charge, we hope before the year closes to see this line in operation.

At a special meeting of the Association, held on the 24th of July, it was unanimously resolved that the Corn Exchange Association would organize and the Corn Exchange Association would organize and equip a first-class regiment of volunteers, for service in the United States army. Two thousand dollars of the funds of the Association were immediately appropriated, and subscriptions by two hundred and ten individuals or firms of the Association obtained, amounting to $25,111, making a total of $27,111. A committee of twenty-one members of the Association, with Mr. A. G. Cattell as chairman, and Mr. Samuel L. Ward as treasurer, were appointed to take the supervision of the affairs of the regiment. This committee have faithfully and well performed the arduous duties imposed upon them. The regiment numbered nine hundred and seventy-two men and thirty-seven officers, fully armed and equipped, as noble and well-organized a body of men as any which have gone forth in the defence of our country, were quickly raised and put in the field, and on more than one bloody field of battle have realized the high expectation of this Association and of the country.

The police, however, traced the fugitive to his place of concealment. He was committed to answer.

[Before Mr. Alderman Hutchinson.]

A young woman, named Rebeccs McClintock, had a final hearing before Alderman Hutchinson on Monday evening; on the charge of the larceny of a dress, the property of a Miss Patton, who resides in Vine street above Thirteenth.

The evidence developed the fact, that the accused resided as a domestic in the family where Miss Patton boarded. The defendant left this place of service a short time since, and a number of articles were missed—among them some of the clothing of Miss P. On Sunday evening, as the defendant was coming out of church, having on her person a stolen dress, she was arrested. Miss Patton identified her property. The accused was committed to answer.

THE THIRTEENTH PENNSYLVANIA CAVALRY.-This fine regiment, which was mostly recruited in Philadelphia, has broken camp at Baltimore, and is now doing service in the neighborhood more, and is now doing service in the neighborhood of Point of Rocks, Md. A few days ago Lieut. John O'Reilly, in command of a detachment, captured, near Berlin, four rebel soldiers, who proclaimed themselves deserters from the 1st Maryland (rebel) Regiment. A civilian was also arrested, on suspicion of being a spy, and there were subsequently found about his person several letters to marties in found about his person several letters to parties in the North, from their wayward brethren in Rich-mond. The 13th Cavalry made numerous captures of this kind, and their service to the Government is exceedingly valuable at this time.

CHERIFF'S SALE:—BY VIRTUE OF THE BOARD OF CONTROLLERS.-At a recent meeting of the Board of School Controllers a resolution was adopted by which a special committee was authorized to inquire into the right of Mr. Isaac Leech, controller from the Twenty-fourth Ward, to hold his seat in that body. Mr. Leech is one of those aspiring gentlemen who claim, without any apparent right, the high privilege of a seat in Common Council. The recent decision of the Supreme Court in the Council case, in recognizing Mr. Kerr as president, recognizes, of course, Mr. Leech as a member of Common Council. Mr. Leech, it is thought, will now resign his seat as a controller, and go into that body where his own party wields the majority nower. If this is not done his seat will the majority power. If this is not done his seat will no doubt, be declared vacant by his fellow-con LITERARY CELEBRATION.—This morning a series of interesting exercises will be held at Haverford College, consisting of declamations and addresses by the junior class. Last evening the annual oration before the Loganian Society was delivered by the vice president, Richard Thomas Jones, of the senior class. His subject was "The Literary Genius of America."

CHERIFF'S SALE.—BY VIRTUE OF Delinquent Juveniles.

A case was adjudicated before Alderman Beitler, on Monday evening, in which there was a remarkable similarity of names. Two boys, calling themselves William Farraday and Edward Allbright, were arrested on the charge of larceny. The defendants had been employed by Mr. Walter M. Smith, on Walnut street, above Third. They were arrested by Officer Samuel R. Smith, on the charge of stealing the property of James H. Smith. The facts, as elicited before the magistrate, are, that one of the Mr. Smiths some time since published a large number of war songs, and other kindred literature, but not finding ready sale, deposited them and a considerable amount of stationery generally, with the other Mr. Smith, who had the boys in employment. The work of pillering, as is alleged, had been going on for several months, until the entire stock has been almost exhausted. The high price for paper has produced a mania among boys, and it is suggested this fact led the juvenile defendants into temptation. They were committed to answer.

Salutary.

A NUISANCE CASE.

Thomas T. Tasker and Wm. H. Clark were put on trial yesterday, charged with maintaining a nuisance. The defendants are engaged in the manufacture of "phosphate fertilizer," "ground bone," and "meat and bone compost,," at the southwest corner of Eighth and Washington streets. The evidence on the part of the prosecution was to the effect that the stench proceeding from the manufactory was intolerable to the residents of the neighborhood, and had made the factory a nuisance. On trial. Charles W. Brocke, Esg., appeared for the prosecution, and A. V. Parsons, Esg., for the defence.

The business of this court during the present term has progressed with remarkable rapidity, and the calendar is already nearly cleared.

The District Courts and Court of Common Pleas were in session yesterday, but the business transacted was not of special interest. READ THE FOLLOWING CAREFULLY.

About twelve months ago I had a severe attack of to mention. My desire for drink was constant, and although I drank gallons per day, my thirst was never although I drank gallons per day, my thirst was never allayed; I was only able to sleep at short intervals, mouth and throat had become so parched and feverish, in the last was in constant inserv. I was also saffering see, and frequent and severe attacks of vomitian; and approximated was my general system, that I was accurate and severe attacks of vomitian; and approximated was my general system, that I was scarcely able to move about. I had availed myself of the science and skill of distinguished medical men, both of the Alio pathic and Homeopathic school, and exhausted their catalogue of remedies, but found only temporary reliaf. In this condition, when every ray of hope seemed paralyzed. I heard of the discovery of Professor Bolies in the use of Electricity, and the wonders he was performing in curring disease, and placed myself under his instancent and, to the astonishment of myself and friends, in two operations my Diabetes was controlled, and other dimenties soon disappeared; my appetite has returned, sleep undisturbed, and, in fact, I feel like one made anew.

I would further state that I have seen other remarkable cures performed by Prof. Bolles, and would avise the diseased to call at 1220 Walnut street, and be recorded to health. I shall be glad to give any one information calling on me.

Read the following from a preacher of the Manadis Episcopal Church, No. 1633 Helmuth street, reliadely Episcopai churen, No. 1000 Herman Street, I manage phia;
In attempting a definition of my disease, I car only give some of the many symptoms which, taken alloge, ther, were the most horrid; and even medical mat did not know my disease from pathological symptoms. How ever, Professor G. H. Bolles, by whom I was cared, located my disease in the pelvic viscera, in five minute after I entered his office, and offered to warrant a period cure in eight applications. And I frankly admit inc in eight applications of Electricity, administered by Pro-eight applications of Electricity. administered by Professor Bollies, 1220 Walnut street, Philadelpaia 1 am perfectly cured; and to me this is most astonishing, brit had exhausted the catalogue of old-school remedies, and grew worse all the time.

I had long believed that in Electricity resided a potent agent for the cure of disease, if a right application could be made; and now 1 can comprehend, from its powerful effects on me, for a speedy cure, although no shocks ware given. All was pleasant, and accomplished as if by magic.

I will give most of my symptoms, for the beast of suffering humanity. I had dyspepsia, bad marasman or wasting of the tissues of the whole hody: at times a difficulty of breathing, some palpitation of the hear, much bronchitis, trembling of the limbs after exercise, aversion to business and company; at times gionny, inability to collect my thoughts vigorously on any subject, a loss of memory, pain in various parts of the bedy; suffered much from lumbago, deranged secretions of the kidneys and other glands of the system, constant draging pains in the lumbar region, and severe nervous discusses.

I believe it is my duty, as a lover of humanity, to re-fered much from lumbago, deranged secretions of the kidneys and other glands of the system, constant draging pains in the lumbar region, and severe nervous diziness.

I believe it is my duty, as a lover of humanity, to recommend this discovery of Professor BOLLES to that afficted of all classes. There seems to be no guesswork, no confusion, no matter of doubt in his freatment. He proceeds on fixed principles, and according to fixed laws, which seem to me infallible and harmonions. He warrants, by special contract, the most obstinate, chronic and conte cases, and charges nothing, if he fails. I advise all of the diseased to try his treatment.

PRILADELPHIA, March SI, 1522

PROYESSOR BOLLES, 1220 Walnut street: The remarks-ble cure which I have derived from your method of applying Electricity compels me to thus acknowlenge the great obligations I am under to you for snatching me, as it were, from immediate death. About two years ago, while a resident of Cincinnati, Onio, I was visited with an attack of paralysis of the lower extremities, which rendered me almost entirely unable to stand upon my limbs. I employed some of the most celebrated paysicians to be found in that section, but received no apparent benefit, and after a lapse of about eighteen months was taken with a spasin, which one of my physicians pronounced a fit of apoplexy. Two weeks elapsed from that time before I became the least conscious of arthur that had transpired, nor could I concentrate my mind at converse upon any subject without becoming very visionary and excited, until I placed myself made your valuable treatment. After my arrival in Philadelphia my attention was called to your treatment by a papplied handed me by my father, which contained he sumps of the most payed that im ments, and I now feel perfectly satisfied that imments, and I now feel perfectly estimated to four teatments, and I now feel perfectl N. B.—It will be well for the diseased to recollect interpret B. has given a word of caution in his pampale to guard them against trusting their health in the heads of those in this city claiming to treat diseases according to his discovery. This caution may seem severe on these using Electricity at hazard, but it is the severity of truit, and designed for the good of humanity. See advertisement in another column.
