the soldiers. The director of the library has in view a course of lectures, which will be given in the reading-room. Distinguished men have kindly volunteered to take their places in the routine of the course. The surgeon in charge will inaugurate the course by a lecture on the Arctic regions.

The library at the present time consists of about 625 bound volumes, and about 900 magazines and other unbound literature. 'An appeal is made to the benevolent public, in every part of the country, to send books in any language. It should be remembered that we have soldiers of different nations in our armies. They, too, are found in this hospital. Contributions will be thankfully received and gratefully acknowledged through the medium of the Register.

St. VALENTINE AND CUBAS. — Senorita Cubas was on Saturday evening presented with a valentine in a very conspicuous manuer. At the close of the "French Spy," when she was called to receive the ovation of the audience, a superb basket of flowers and a hunting-case lady's gold watch were presented to her. An elegant Valentine accompanied the compliment. The senorita, with her usual grace, kissed her finger-ends and courtesied, and handed the note to Mr. Shirley Fraser to read. After a little trepidation, he succeeded in reading it. The lady replied: "Ladees and gentlemen, I am you good night, all, till I come back again. Good picht, good night, all, till I come back again. Good picht, good night, all, till I come back again. for domestic purposes. On the hearing, affidavits in support of and against the motion were presented, which raised such a doubt in the minds of the court, as to the exact cause of the nuisance, that the who'e subject was referred by Judge Ludlow to a commission of scientific gentlemen for investigation. Recently the report of that commission was submitted, finding that the cause of the impurity in the water was to be attributed to the mills of the defendant; and on Saturday Judge Ludlow read the following opinion. granting an injunction, unless the nuisance should be speedily abated: THE CITY. The injury complaned of was of a most serious nature, affecting directly the health and domestic comfort of a large number of the citizens of this county, we appointed a commission, composed of scientific and practical gentlemen, to examine into the facts of this cose, and report the result of their investigation to the court.

Of the commissioners appointed, one did not act, but the other three proceeded to discharge the duty imposed upon them; of these three commissioners, two have submitted written statements; the third agreed with his colleagues, but, by an unfortunate accident, was prevented from reducing the results arrived at by him to writing.

We cannot state the conclusion to which the commissioners arrived in clearer or stronger language than the following, which we quote from the report made to the court: "Upon comparing the results of our individual researches, we have, with unanimity, arrived at the conclusion that the source of the impure water can be traced only to the carpet works."

The rebel ordnance department established at Arkadelphia, about July last, is at present under the control of Major George D. Alexander. There are about 160 men employed in manufacturing powder, cartridges, aboes and stocking s, and repairing guas. The guns manufactured here are of a very inferior quality, and are known as the Hindman rife. Since the establishment of the ordnance department, which consists merely of rough sheds, up to the total of January, the time our informant left, only 72 new rifes had been made. The moulding of bullets is all done by hand, and of course progresses about as rapidly as the stocking of guns. About 50 negro boys were engaged in moulding bullets, but the lead running out the work had to be suspended. The rebels had in the ordnance department ap patent bullet moulding machine, but were unable to use it, as there was not a man in the whole State of Arkansas who could be found to place the parts properly together. The gun stocks are also made by hand, as no one had ingenuity enough to make a turning lathe.

On the 8th of January, the officers of the ordnance department commenced drilling the workmen, with the intention, it was said, of going up to the mountains in Clarke county, some thirty miles above Arkadelphia, to attack a party of three hundred "Jayhawers," as they are termed, who had defied the rebel Government as mechanics. This protest amounted to nothing, however. All those in the department, when they wish to absent hemselves, were obliged to obtain a furlough from the commanding officer, and if they didn't return within the period named, were treated as desertors. In addition to those in Clarke county, who had taken up arms against the rebel Government, there were also about 1,000 more in Montgomery county, who had encamped out, and openly dely the laws. The conscript law had not been emforced at all in this co the lecture, "Sixty Minutes in Africa," by the re A RAW RECEUIT. The doubt heretofore existing as to the vital question of fact in this cause has now been removed, and the result of a chemical analysis of the water distributed by complainants through their works, which analysis was also submitted to us at the present hearing, proves that during the last few years, the organic matter contained in each gallon of this water has been very considerably increased; the chemists who made that "the water has sensibly deteriorated within ten years, that the injury is due to the dye works on the creek supplying the water, and that the quantity of organic matter per gallon is decidedly objectionable in water for domestic purposes."

The question of fact, then, having been decided against the defendant, has he a legal or equitable right, which, for any reason, will compel us to refuse the aid now sought by the complainant.

Upon the question of jurisdiction, it cannot seriously be contended that the power of this court is not adequate to meet the emergency.

It is true, that the Court of Chancery will only interfere in cases of nuisance rarely, and never exparte or without notice of the motion. Attorney General vs. Oleaver, 18 Ves., 217; but when the proper partite are before the court, and a case of nuisance is stated, where the solution of adoubtful question of fact is approached with caution, and where the nature of the nuisance is such as to be attended with extreme probability of inreparable injury to property or health, an injunction will be granted. Crowder vs. Tinckler, 19 Ves., 622; Atty Gen. vs. Johnson, 2 Wils Ch., Ca., 102; Wynstanley vs. Lee, 2 Swanst, 335. The speaker had never felt' embarrassed but once. He could not say how it happened. It was a secret. And yet he might tell it. It would be safe with the audience—there were so many ladies present! It was not to be expected he could write such a lecture as Edward Everett; and (confidentially) Edward Everett could not write such a lecture as he could. At least, he wouldn't if he could. A great many subjects had suggested themselves. Many ideas had attached themselves to him. If a horse is attached to a wagon, (sincerely attached to it,) he won't run away with it under any circumstances. He had thought of astronomy. He might have described the stars, and such things, and said something about the constellations. Among these the Southern Cross (a mulatio) would have been prominent. Dr. Winship once offered to lift twelve men at a time. The lecturer, (just think of it—oblige him by thinking of it,) had once offered, in some provincial district to lift twelve say, not one volunteered. It was enough to draw tears from the eyes of Semmes, and the erew of the Alabama. John B. ON TRANSPORTED AND THE STANDARD STANDAR negro's eyes. Procrastination is the thief of time; but they would steal procrastination! The speaker had thought of lecturing on Brigham Young. This gentleman lived in Utah, and was (somewhat) married. A lecture upon the army and the navy would have been a good subject. The lecturer was incompetent to ugilyr it. He felt he souldn'll handle the army. He would like to see some one who could. There was one great man among our army—Stonewall Jackson! But he was among the army a little too offen! One gentleman, who had spoken with the lecturer, said that after converse with intimate friends, and the results of careful speculation, and the answering of long-conducted inquiries, and the consideration of private despatches, and so forth, "he'd be d—d if he knew what he did know!" We have now about a million fighting men. If there FIRE.—Yesterday morning, about one o'clock, a fire broke out in the cooper shon in Howard street, below Montgomery avenue, Nineteenth Ward. ADMINISTERING OATHS.—Assessors and ASSISTATERING UATHS.—ASSESTOTS and assistant assessors of United States taxes are authorized by law to administer the oaths to individuals making monthly returns, on which excise taxes are levied. They are to, do so free of charge. Besides heing a saving to those making the returns, it is a great convenience, as heretofore it was necessary to go, in many cases, quite a distance to a justice of the peace. "he'd he d—d if he knew what he did know!" We have now about a million fighting men. If there were as many officers in the field as there were out of it, there would be enough. The lecturer had once thought of delivering a lecture on England; he thought she deserved a lecture. On several occasions the British lion returned home from his ferocious visits to America, with his tail several inches shorter. If he should come again, he'll go away with no tail at all. His tail is not like the tales in the New York Leiger—they san't be continued. It would recurring pricuance, which cannot be otherwise prevented but by an injunction." This principle is well settled both in England and in the United States recurring gridance, which cannot be otherwise prevented but by an injunction." This principle is well settled both in England and in the United States.

The defendant, then, being, upon principle and authority, within the power of the court, can only stand upon his prescriptive right; that is to say, having for a quarter of a century used his carpet works and the water of the creek, the law will, as he contends, presume that he uses the water by virtue of a grant which will enable him to continue this use forever. As an abstract principle of law, we will not contend against the correctness of this proposition, but it is subject to a most important qualification, to wit that this use must continue the same; he cannot suddenly increased to any extent this discharge, and thus render the water "more impure and unfit for use." (See the former opinion delivered in this case, with the authorities cited.)

The question of fact involved in this branch of this inquiry sceps to me to be capable of an easy solution. These waterworks verfestablished ten or eleven years ago; they have been no constant use since, and it is impossible that the water could have been polluted to the extent now complained of for any very considerable period of time; doubtless for some time past the quality of the water has deteriorated, but upon the report of the commissioners we cannot believe that the people of Germantown could have used it in its present unnatural and offensive condition, if the condition of the water is to be traced to the impurities thrown into it at the mill. Then some sudden increase of impure refuse matter must be the cause of the difficulty; to believe otherwise is to disbelieve the testimony of competent men, and also (with the specimens before us at the last hearing.) of one's own senses. But it is said that the complainants have slept upon their rights, have been guilty of lackes. We cannot perceive the force of this argument; the prescriptive right can only be acquired by a user of twenty-one years, and these water w dance of the dance certificate.

If he should come again, he'll go away with no tail at all. His tail is not like the tales in the New York Ledger—they can't be continued. It would be a great pity to come to late France. Lafayette at the present date was remembered lovingly by little Americans. The lecturer, when a little boy, had been very promising. But he had been different from George Washington. He told lies, and he didn't have a little hatchet! The lecturer did not possess oratory, but he had the gift of eloquence. He didn't have it bad, but still he had it. He would indulge in one flight (impromptu); he had it written out: It was pleasant to get up in the morning when the dew was on the grass (a way the dew has of doing, particularly in summer.) It was pleasant to see the swallows swallowing and—and the larks jumping, and the bees bee-waxing! 'That was all there was of that. The effect of this description upon a certain Michigan young lady was to make her nearly faint. The effect upon a certain gentleman was to cause him to get up and leave the room. He was very much mored. Eloquence was like gingerbread—one wanted only one hunk at a time. Every day one saw men trying to do what they had no predilection for. Wrong men were in the right place. Doctors, who ought to be undertakers; politicians, who ought to have stayed at home (the speaker would not dwell upon that, however), sprinkled the programme of life. A lecture on music had occurred to him. He preferred residing where not more than two young ladies took lessons on the piano at the same GOVERNMENT FREIGHT CARS.—One hun-BY HENRY P. WOLBERT. GOVERNMENT I REGIGHT CARS.—Die Hundred and twenty-five freight cars have just been completed for the Government, by Messrs. S. & M. Pennock, of Kennett Square. The last instalment was delivered last month. They have now entered upon the manufacture of two hundred freight cars for the Reading Railroad Company. This establishment is doing an active business, and has a large number of hands employed. Tennessee, where they are said to be in almost a state of starvation, their son having refused them all aid.

On the 10th of January, the law went into force to swear into the army all men in the State between the ages of 18 and 45, and one-sixth of the slave population. To escape this law our informant, with three others, all of whom were employed in the ordnance department, made their escape, and, after enduring great trials and privations, they reached our lines almost in a state of nakedness and starvation. They could only travel by night, having to lay up in the swamps and other hiding places during the day. Desertions in the rebel army are growing quite frequent. There are now at Helena three regiments of Arkansas toops who deserted, and took up arms in the Federal cause. These men are reported as having done excellent service under General Blunt at the fight at Prairie Grove.

Families throughout the whole State of Arkansas are in great distress, the children in most instances going barefooted. Clothing is scarce; nothing but home-spun can be obtained, and that in small quantities. The soldiers were all clothed in these goods. Tea or coffee is never seen, and there is but little sugar and salt. The latter article is worth $15 per bushel at the works in Arkadelphia.

This valuable and popular Medicine has universally recived the most favorable recommendations of the MEDICAL PROFESSION and the public as the most EFFICIENT AND AGREEABLE would arise until it was shown that the exercise of the privilege interfered with the right of a riparian owner in such a manner as to entitle him to legal redress.

The only remaining point in this case which requires our notice is that made by defendants' counsel, when they contend that it is against public policy to interfere with the rights of manufacturers whose factories are situated upon streams upon which towns may be built and water works established; it is contended that the attempt to furnish pure water to towns and cities may destroy these factories, and thus infilet general injury.

In the view which we take of this case, it is unnecessary to decide how far the courts will relax the rules of law at present applicable to this class of cases; each case must be decided on its own merits, and principles cannot in any event be modified, where, upon the facts, there is no overwhelming necessity for such modification.

One of the commissioners, in his report in this case; after having elaborately considered the character of defendants' factory, the nature of the streams of water, the surrounding drainage, and the mechanical construction of the complainants' waterworks, says: "In conclusion, I would add that a simple arrangement of piping from the factory, or a subsiding or storing reservoir for this refuse, would prevent all trouble."

Here, then, is a case which, upon the evidence now before us, is clear of doubt, where no prescriptive right has been established in favor of defendants, and in which the evil may be remedied by the use of obvious means, a nuisance exists which is exceedingly injurious to the public health, which ought, at least for the present, to be restrained, with liberty to each party to establish his right at law. As, however, we intend to act in such a manner as to do as little injury as possible to the defendant and those employed by him, we have determined to give him a reasonable time to abate the nuisance by the introduction of the necessary mecanneal agencies. Alleged Denler in Counterfelt Notes.
Samuel Stewart, arrested a few days since by Constables Shisler and Slook, of the First ward, on the charge of dealing in counterfeit notes, was arraigned before Alderman Lentz, on Saturday afternoon, for a hearing. Two young men, Beverly and Geo. Bloomer, who were arrested a short time since for selling the bogus notes, at Fourth and Diamond streets, were the only witnesses examined. At the time of the arrest of these two men, we gave a somewhat detailed summary of the interesting particulars developed at the hearing before Mr. Alderman Beitler, at the Central Station. Since that hearing they gave certain information relative to the persons from whom they obtained the counterfeit notes. This led to the arrest of Stewart by the ward constables above named and not by any of the detective officers.

At the hearing on Saturday, Beverly Bloomer was ARRIVAL OF SICK AND WOUNDED .- On Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock a large number of The following are the classes required at the respec-tive Navy Yards: The following are classes under Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting: SALINE APERIENT. sick and wounded soldiers arrived at the Oitizens' sick and wounded soldiers arrived at the Utizens' Volunteer Hospital. K. Lenther. This led to the arrest of Stewart by the ward constables above named and not by any of the detective officers.

At the hearing on Saturday, Beverly Bloomer was called to the stand. He testified that he proceeded to the house of Stewart on November 5th, 1862, and was introduced to him as being "all right." After some little conversation with him, he furnished witness, for a $10 United States Treasury note, $50 in "quere" (counterfeits).

The question was here asked witness how he knew the notes Stewart gave him were counterfeit, to which he replied, that he judged them to be such because of their chespness. The counterfeit notes consisted of two tens and six fives, all on New York banks—names of the institution not remembered.

The next witness was George Bloomer. He also testified that he called upon Stewart on several occasions; once Stewart told witness that he had some "stuff," but was afraid to put it out, as it was old—he expected some new, in the course of a few days. Witness never bought any "stuff" from Samuel Stewart, the defendant, but he did purchase some from his son. The investigation here closed, and the accused was required to enter bail in the sum of $1,000, to await a further hearing, to take place this afternoon.

Alleged Larceny of a Discharge Paper.
Edward Chew was arranged at the Central Station on Saturday arternoon on the charge of the larceny of a discharge paper, the property of William Evans, who was discharged from the army because of shejical disability. The evidence set forth the points that Mr. Evans is a mender of umbrellas, and in the pursuit of his profession paid a visit to the ancient village of Manayunk, and put up at a public house. The proprietor of the establishment, to make his place as attractive as possible, procured the services of Chew to perform the "elog dance." The "artiste" and the umbrella man became acquainted with each other, and according to the evidence of both; they drank freely. We, the undersigned, having been treated for obstinate diseases by Professor Bolles, at 1220 Walmut street, Philadelphia, which had resisted for a long time the treatment of the most eminent medical men in this city; and also having witnessed the results of his treatment on a great number of our acquaintances and friends, for acute and chronic diseases, do therefore take great pleasure in recommending to the public the important discovery of Professor C. H. Bolles, located at 1220 Walmut street, where he has been located over three years, testing his treatment on many thousands of our most reliable citizens, by his new discovery of applying Galvanism, Magnetism, and other modifications of Electricity, and having watched his success in the speedy and permanent cures of hundreds of our friends, as well as ourselves, and especially that class of diseases never benefited by medicines; therefore, Resolved, That we, the undersigned, regard the great success we have witnessed for months in the treatment of Consumption, Rheumatism, Paralysis, Insanity, Diabetes, Bronchitis, all Nervous Diseases, Catarri, Amaurosis, Anhony, Asthma, Agne Chills, Contraction of Limbs, St. Vitus' Dance, Coldness of Feet, Hands, or Head, Deafness, Dyspepsia, all forms Epilepsy, Hemorrhage, White Swelling, Mental Depression, Nonvalgia, Withered Limbs, Convulsions, Palpitation of the Heart, and Lockiew, as indubitable evidence of Professor Browns and Contract of Charles of Harket street, Philadelphia, Thomas Allen, Fortieth and Chestnut, West Philadelphia, Charlet Haries, Nos 219 and 221 Church alley Wm. Wolf. On Saturday we noticed the conviction of Robert Fox, on a charge of larceny, growing out of the purchase by him and a Mr. Curran of the Continental Theatre. Another phase of the difficulty was presented in the Quarter Sessions, on Saturday, the charge being that the defendant by false pretences of ownership of the property sold, had obtained the judgment note of the larceny of which Fox was convicted. It is alleged that he was not the owner of the property, as he had represented himself to be, and had therefore no right to sell. After the case for the prosecution had progressed to some considerable extent, the District Attorney asked for a postponement until Saturday next, in order to give him some time to examine the testimony. Counsel for the defendant, Joseph Bonham, Esq., opposed this earnestly, saying that the Commonwealth had already had plenty of time to look into the matter, and besides the prosecution was represented by private counsel who were perfectly familiar with the facts. The court, however, granted the District Attorney's application and the case went over. Wm. Wolf. On Saturday we noticed the conviction of Refore Mr. Alderman Dougherty. J

Alleged Larceny of Wool.

Samuel McEdwards and Edward Williams, a couple of boys, were arraigned on Saturday, before Alderman Dougherty, on the charge of the larceny of a bag of wool, the property of Mr. Benj. Coates, wool dealer, in Market street, below Second. Alexander Clements, the main witness, testified to the fact of the robbery. One of the parties was standing a short distance from the store, acting in concert with the one who pursoined the wool. They were each ordered to give $500 bail to answer at court.

Another Larceny.

James Brown, a colored boy, was arraigned before the same magiatrate, on the charge of the larceny of a box of tea, which he beldly picked up in store No. 5 South Front street. After he had passed out, and was walking away from the store, with the tea in his possession, he was speedily brought to a stand-still, by a person tapping him on his shoulder. The guilty individual stuttered and stammered, and finally said "a man told me to pick up the tea and bring it to him."

Disorderly-House Casc.

The classic locality of Oxford and America streets, in the northeastern section of the built portion of the city may be considered as the somewhat gigantic abiding place of poverty, misery, rum, rags, and ruin. Crowds of ill-behaved boys are continually loitering about; the streets in that section. They are like so many rank weeds in the garden of life. Their moral culture has been shamefully neglected. These boys have been in the habit of frequenting a house occupied by Mrs. Margaret Flanigan, senior, as she called herself, and Miss Margaret Flanigan, junior,
as she was denominated by the mother.

Without entering into the interesting particulars of the affair, some of the neighbors came to the conclusion that such "shameful conduct" as they alleged was practised beneath the roof of the secused ought to be stopped. Complaint was made—a warrant was issued. The two Flanigans, Misses Julia Flanigan and Ellen Mastereon, were taken into custody and arraigned before the magistrate on Saturday morning. After a full hearing, the parties were ordered to find bail in various sums, ranging from $600 down to $300, to answer at court and to be of good behavior in the meantime. on Friday night, under suspicious circumstances, in the house No. 624 St. Mary street. The room in which the deceased died is occupied by a colored woman and her daughter, and they stated that the woman and her daughter, and they stated that the deceased was brought to their room by two colored men, on Thursday, who asked that he should be allowed to lodge there. On Friday morning the lodger was left in the room by himself, and on the return of the colored woman he was found dead. The deceased had a cut on his nose, and one on the back of his head. Officers belonging to the Frifth ward arrested the two women who occupied the room and two others, all colored, who were said to have been in the room previous to the death of the stranger. They were committed to await an investigation by the coroner. A post-mortem examination showed that the deceased had congestion of the lungs, and that his heart and liver were badly diseased, the result of bad rum. The jury rendered a verdiet accordingly, and the persons in custody were discharged. ofi.

An Old Man Injured.

On Saturday morning, Joseph Hartley, the driver of a horse and cart, was arraigned before Alderman Hibberd on the charge of committing an assault and battery on Henry Miller, aged 80 years. It seems that the aged man was crossing the street, at Race and Eleventh streets, as the defendant was driving the horse and cart around the corner. Mr. Miller was knocked down by the horse, but it does not appear that he was run over. He is so far advanced in life, and his health so feeble, that it is quite likely the shock will be too much for his infirmity. He was remoyed to his residence, in Rowlins' court. THE PROVOST GUARD.—During the past Known as the "West Finance place are to be expended in support of the reading room attached to the hospital.

The surgeon has appropriated the room, known as the "Tent Dining Room," as a library and reading room, for the use of sick and wounded soldiers, and the necessary arrangements are now being made to prepare it for that purpose. It will be opened early this week. The reading room is a frame building, two hundred feet long, twenty feet wide, and one story high. Benevolent women and men of Philadelphia and vicinity have contributed largely in money, books, papers, magazines, &c., and twelve ladies of West Philadelphia have volunteered to assist, personally, in fitting up the room, and in the reading its business. Benevolent women and men of Philadelphia and vicinity have contributed largely in money, books, papers, magazines, &c., and twelve ladies of West Philadelphia have volunteered to assist, personally, in fitting, up the room, and in transacting its business. Two of these ladies will be on duty, daily, and the institution promises to be a model of its kind. Three partitions divide the apartment into a library, reading and lecture room, a room for games, and a smoking room.

To these rooms the three thousand soldiers whom this hospital will accommodate will at all times have access. It is estimated that ten thousand soldlers will be treated in this hospital in the course of the coming year. These ten thousand will represent every loyal State in the Union, and the desire is that the soldier, when he enters the reading room, may be greeted with a copy of the newspaper which he was in the habit of seeing when at home. The Register will be furnished as follows:

To every contributor, live copies gratis.

AGAINST M'CALLUM & CO.

The Germantown Water Company vs. McCallum
& Co. Some months ago the Germantown Water Company filed a bill of complaint in the Court of Common Pleas, in equity, praying an injunction against William McCallum, the proprietor of a woolen mill on Crab creek, or Papar Mill run, in the Twenty-second ward, to restrain him from the use of materials in his dye-house and factory, that it was alleged rendered the water of the creek impure and unfit for domestic purposes. The complainants were engaged in the business of supplying the residents of Germantown with water from the creek, and their works were about two miles below the mills of the defendant, who was engaged in the manufacture of larmy bankets; and it was alleged the substances discharged into the creek from his mill rendered the water exceedingly offensive and unfit THE SANSOM-STREET BAPTIST CHURCH This church has been soid, and will be turned into a riding school.
