THE CITY. THE EASTERN PENITENTIARY. - The annual report of the warden of the Eastern Peni-tentiary, just issued, shows that during the past year the number of convicts received into the institution was 135—a great falling off from previous years. The receipts of prisoners for the six years nediately preceding were as follows: 1856, 146: 1867, 237; 1858, 207; 1869, 205; 1860, 259; 1861, 182. The Warden says: "This diminution is no doubt incipally owing to the ready opportunity for an mediate means of living offered, by service in the army, to the unfortunate men who compose a prison population, most of whom belong to that class of persons who have no settled nor stated means of earning a livelihood. He further says, in this connection: "How long our present diminished numbers may continue it is difficult to determine, as the large number of men returning to their homes, rendered unable, by reason of wounds and broken health, from ever again engaging in active pursuits of life, will no doubt strongly tend to swell our criminal population in the future. Many of these men, left, to a great extent, without resources, or, at best, but partially supplied, ciations, and thus become a prey to the more artful Of the 135 prisoners received during the year, 108 were white males, 8 white females, 20 colored males, and one colored female. Of those discharged by expiration of sentence, 159 were white males, 5 white females, and 28 colored males. By pardon, 16 white and 2 colored males. Of the 16 white males, I was pardoned by the President of the United States, and by the Executive of Pennsylvania. The number of deaths during the year has been 6, namely, 4 white and 2 colored males, which, in an aggregate population of 586, gives a mortality of 1.02 per cent.

Of the 369 who remained in confinement at the end of the year, 262 were natives of the United States, and 107 of foreign birth, of whom 3 are colored. Of those claiming to be natives of the United

Of the 56 prisoners under conviction for the criof murder and manslaughter, 27 are natives of the United States, of whom 6 are colored; and 29 are of foreign birth. Of the 48 for burglary, 35 are natives of the United States; of these 7 are colored and 11 are of foreign birth. Of the 26 confined for arson, 20 are natives of the United States, of whom 1 is colored; and 6 are natives of other countries. Of the 25 for the crime of rape, 20 are natives of the United States-namely, 14 whites and 6 colored; and 5 are foreigners. The business of cotton weaving, which for many vears formed the principal source of employment at the prison, has ceased entirely, not a single loom being in operation. Shoemaking is now the princi pal and most remunerating employment followed within the walls. During the year numerous improvements have been made in the buildings and in the economy of the establishment, and its present condition i deemed very satisfactory to all concerned, with the exception, perhaps, of those who are the principal objects of the care of the institution.

SCARCITY OF CENTS .- The scarcity of cents is felt, by every storekeener and husiness mar notwithstanding that about $2,500 worth are coined daily at the Mint. Gold and silver have, for a long ime past, been living in retirement, as if they had me nabobish in their tastes, or recluses, and having conceived a disgust for the world and its ways, determined to devote a long "spell" of their existence to a dignified exclusion from the haunts of the public. It is but natural that we should miss them, and yet their absence would not be a matter of perhaps serious concern if the pennies had not caught the distemper, and gone and done likewise. Of course, we have our postal currency left us, but that is, at best, a poor consolation when we take into consideration the real value of our departed cents-common cents-without which not ven the smallest and most insignificant business transaction can be carried on without perplexing embarrassment to all concerned. A high premium is even demanded for these very needful little coins, and the consequence has been that the prices demanded for small articles of trade have very suddenly taken a rise. A purchaser steps into a store. hands a five-cent postage note in payment for a three-cent article, and receives as change a small piece of pasteboard or paper, marked good for two cents; or, in other words, he receives a due-bill for the amount of change coming to him. This sort of currency is easily lost and mutilated; besides, one may never have occasion to again enter the establish ment from which it was obtained. Thus a purchaser is pecuniarily damaged. As gold is on its way nward, however, cents, no doubt, will follow suit, and soon be as plenty as ever. Those who were arding them up with the idea that they could realize handsome profits will most certainly be mis-

FIRE ON SATURDAY MORNING.—About 4 o'clock on Saturday morning, a fire broke out in a large four-storied brick building belonging to the Gicker estate, and located at the southeast corner of Poplar and Rachel streets, above Front. The first or was occupied by Thomas H. Gill, liquor dealer, as a storage room. The second and third stories were occupied by C. L. A. Reiffsnyder, manufacturer of lounges, chairs, and other furniture. The fourth or was occupied by Francis Legram, manufactures of bedsteads and sofas. The fire broke out in the third story and burned through to the second story but without doing much damage below. An impression got abroad that the walls were not strong, and the firemen hesitated about using their ladders for this reason. The roof being covered with metal, made the fire difficult to get at from the ground, and it consequently burned stubbornly for three hours. troying the building and its contents above the

ZANE-STREET GRAMMAR SCHOOL.—The namual commencements of this school are always of the most entertaining character, and one of the most pleasant which we have yet attended occurred on Friday afternoon, the report of which was unavoidably crowded out of Saturday's Press. The attendance on the occasion was very large, embracing many of the parents and friends of the pupils. The room itself was elegantly decorated with a profusion of American flags, which draped across the platform, and upon the walls. Patriotic mottoes, such as "Union now and forever," and similar sentiments, were conspicuously arranged about the room. The platform was occupied by the school directors of the 9th section, and invited guests. A sweet-toned piano was gracefully presided over by Miss Hattle Meyers. W. Gray Stille, Esq., President of the Board of Directors, conducted the exercises of the occasion. The graduating pupils, recently promoted to the Girls' High School, participated in the exercises, which included declamations, addresses, and songs, all of which were executed with taste and precision. Diplomas were awarded to the following precision. Diplomas were awarded to the following young ladies:

YOUNG LADIES OF THE GRADUATING CLASS:
By appointment of the Board of Directors, the pleasing duty of presenting to you your diplomas has been assigned to me. It is an honor I feel proud of, but wish it would have fallen upon some one more worthy. As I look around me to-day I see many among you whose course we have watched, ever since you first entered the Primary School, and so on step by step until you entered the Grammar School, and to-day we have the great gratification of seeing your labors and cur afforts crowned with success. Did I say our efforts? Pardon me, teachers; it is to you to whom all praise is due, for it is through your exertions and faithfulness that Zanestreet Giles' Grammar School stands to-day second to none in the city, and so it will continue to be as long as the hearts of the scholars are entwined in such a Webb as they are now. This diploma, ladies, is presented to you as a proof of our approbation for the proficiency you have made in your studies and your correct deportment; and I hope, in after years, when your eyes rest upon it, it will be with as much pleasure as we have to-day in presenting it to you. In leaving us, ladies, allow me to say, on behalf of the directors and teachers, that you will carry with you our best wishes for your happiness in Ille, and that, when you graduate from the High School, it may be with as high honors as you have obtained in this.

CAPTAIN KIDD'S HIDDEN TREASURE .-A few days since considerable excitement was created in Cape May county, caused by a report that a certain lucky individual had been fortunate enough to discover one hundred thousand dollars buried in the five-mile beach and supposed to be a portion of the treasure which the notorious Captain Kidd is thought by some folks to have secreted away. The tides, winds, or rains, or all of them combined, it was said, had so removed the sand from off the box as to lead to the discovery. The person who found the prize, says report, took from the box as much of the gold as he could carry, filling his pockets, boots, and the legs of his pants, with the precious metal He then returned home, procured the assistance ten men to help raise the box out of its bed. These men, we understand, received ten dollars per head for their services. Rumor just stated that it was American coin, and subsequently that it was all of foreign mintage, and that it had been so long buried in the earth that it had become blackened, so that the surface of the coin bore no resemblance to gold whatever. In consequence of this blackness the finder had offered to sell the whole lot at a discount of twenty-five per cent.—a very reasonable story indeed, when gold at that time was at a premium of seventy-two per cent. This was the story as circulated, and idle people began to scratch their heads and think if there might not possibly be a few more chests still buried along the beach. All kinds of propositions were made relative to a further search, and we have no doubt but that the spade would have soon been put to use, had it not urned out that the whole story was a fabrication. It seems that the individual, instead of finding a chest of gold, found a trunk which had been washed ashore from a wreck, and which, among other things, contained some ten or twelve pieces of some nearly worthless metal, somewhat resembling tendollar coin, the whole probably not worth half a dime, which the finder had shown to his neighbors, and from whom the whole story originated;

THE NEW STEAMER OF THE FRANKLIN ENGINE COMPANY.—The new hand steam fire-engine, built for the Franklin Engine Company, is completed, and will be housed to-day. The apparatus was constructed by Messrs. G. J. & J.
L. Chapman, machinists, of this city, and is a neat affair. The engine ranks as third class, and resembles much in general appearance the one built by the same firm for the Assistance Fire Company. The pumps are placed in a horizontal position. and are 5-inch bore with a 12-inch stroke. The steam cylinder is 9½-inch bore and 9-inch stroke. The wheels are of polished hickory, and the boiler neatly cased with brass. On the top of the air chamber is a silver signal lamp. On each side is a fancy silver plate, bearing the inscription, "Franklin, No. 12." The flue boiler is capable of raising sufficient steam for service in eight minutes. The whole apparatus, with wood, water, &c., weighs about 4,000 pounds, the weight of an ordinary handengine. She is capable of playing two streams at once, and, as she can be moved with greater case on account of her light weight than the steam-engines drawn with horses, we are safe in saving that an apown water, and forced it through an inch and an eighth nozzle to the distance of two hundred and twenty feet, which is more than sufficient for all ordinary purposes. The steam-engine built for the Assistance Fire Company, and the present one for the Franklin, are the only two in the city that are drawn by hand. Steamers of this kind can be drawn to a fire almost as rapidly as those pulled with horses, the weight of the latter being so much greater. The same firm have also commenced the construction of steamers for the Globe and Humane

THE PRICE OF MEAT.—The petition adopted by a national convention of butchers re-cently held at Baltimore, as presented to the last Congress on the subject of the tax on slaughtered cattle, received every consideration. The result o the labors of the convention may be stated as follows: Beef cattle, per head, reduced from 50 to 30 cents; hogs from 10 to 6; sheep from 5 to 3 cents per head. This is not quite as low as the butchers de sired, but they are apparently satisfied, as the Go-vernment powers met them more than half way. THE POLICE.

An Important Arrest-Selzure of Contra-band Goods-A Nest of Traitors in Phila-delphia.

From information received, Benjamin Franklin, chief of the detective police, became satisfied that a considerable quantity of goods were at an express office, on Saturday evening, intended to be for-warded to the land of Secession. The Chief had heard of the doings of a number of Jews, in the upper part of the city, and for some time past has had an eye upon their movements, but he could not get things right to suit him, or rather to warrant him in seizing any goods or making any arrests. On Saturday evening, having had a well-devised plan effected, and feeling certain that he could not be far wrong, and that if he did err, it would be on the side of his country, proceeded to an express paratus of this kind could perform more service at a fire. At a recent trial by her builders she drew her opened several. One of them contained 155 pounds of chloroform in small bottles, another 265 pounds of chrorotorin is sinsh occures, another 255 pounds of quinine and morphine, another 165 pounds of small sewing needles—enough to supply the whole Southern rebellionists for the space of six months. Another box contained seyeral hundred dozens of tobacco bags, a fancy article in the shape of bladders—large quantities of women's and children's ahoes and gaiters, broad-brimmed hats, and an endless variety of the best kind of surgical instruments—bullet forceps particularly, and a variety of just such articles as are needed in time of battle. The chief of police said he would take the responsibility and seize the goods, and there was no one about the express office who at all evinced anything like a desire to oppose him. While he was meditating what to do, a furnture car stopped at the express office and landed four more boxes, evidently being a part of the whole lot now in the safe keeping of the Chief. The man having delivered the goods and received the receipt therefor, the Chief though and a talk with him, and handed him a lighted cigar, from which the unsuspecting driver ignited his. It is unnecessary to detail the conversation that ensued, but suffice it to say, the Chief finally ascertained where the goods came from. The driver finally went his way rejoicing. quinine and morphine, another 165 pounds of small

THE CHIEF TRAVELS INCOG.

Not far distant from Fourth and Race streets the Chief found a true Union man, who invited him into his parlor, where they enjoyed a friendly chat. This was at an early hour yesterday morning, when half the world were fast asleep. There was evidently considerable stirring about the house on the opposite side of the way. The Chief enjoyed his otium cum dignitate, and watched the movements of certain parties going in and out of the fabric under his surveillance. He photographed them upon his memory, and can recognize them again. By nine o'clock several Jews and Jewesses entered and departed; and, finally, a man calling himself Morris Solomon, who had rented the house several months since, started away in man calling niniscii Micris Solomon, who had rent-ed the house several months since, started away in company with a couple of other shenies. The Chief, pretty well disguised, so that even a couple of friends who passed did not recognize him, started after the Mr. Solomon and his friends. They went into the building No. 458 North Third street, above Willow. They staid here a considerable length of time.

The Chief now called into requisition the aid of Messrs. Bartholomew and Lamon of the Detective Department, and an arrangement was made to capture the whole nest of contrabandists, women and all. But, in this they did not succeed, because of an unexpected and consequently unforeseen event, which may be justly entitled an Cruelty to Seamen.

Captain Morse, Thomas Payne, sad John Goleman, first and second mates of the ship Northampton, were arraigned before Mr. Commissioner Heazlett, on Saturday evening, on the charge of cruelty to the seamen on board of said vessed during the recent voyage from Liverpool. The ship arrived at this port on Friday night. The seamen, fourteen in number; are quartered in the debtoral apartment of the county prison as witnesses. The public hearing will take place at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The crew is composed of white and black meu. The treatment they received is represented to us as having been exceedingly cruel.

A Shoplifter who Depends on Running.

A tall, young man, whose pedal extremities were unusually long, was arraigned before Mr. Alderman Beitler, I are the state of Mr. Haydock, on South street, near Fifth. He had his name docketed as Charles Snyder. It seems from the evidence that he went to the store of Mr. Haydock about five o'clock on Saturday afternoon, and spent some time in examining watches and jewelry. Finally, he selected a gold watch and chain valued at $45, and a finger ring worth $5.

In-a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, he started off with the articles, and was speedily out of sight. The lady in attendance ran to the door as quickly as possible, and gave the alarm. A crowd soon followed, shouting "spot phief." The fugitive dashed up St. Mary street, where he met Officer Gamble, who, by the way, is a preity awift runner. The race now became doubly interesting. The thief dashed up a blind alley, and scaled a fence or two. The officer did likewise, and finally secured the out-of-breath individual, and-bore him in triumph to the Third-district station-house. Yesterday morning he was identified at the hearing by the proprietor of a store on Market street, near Thirteenth, as the same person who had stolen three watches, and as many gold rings, from that place on Friday, in the same manner as that which he had adopted at the store of Mr. Haydock. He was committed in default of $1,500 bail, to answer.

Cab Driver Arrested.

On Saturday a cab driver calling himself John McFarland was arraigned before Mr. Alderman Beitler on the charge of the larceny of $5, the property of Mr. E. J. Rodgers, of Curiton, Cass county, State of Indiana. It seems, from the evidence adduced, that Mr. Rodgers arrived at the depot, at Eleventh and Market streets, and was speedily beset by numerous cab drivers, all apparently anxious to get a job. Finally, he got into the cab of the dendant, and was driven to Walnutstreet wilarf, it being his intention to take passage in a steamer that started from that place. Upon arrival, he gave the driver a five dollar note, but he could not change it. The driver started off in search of change, and after the lapse of five or ten minutes roturned, stating that he could get no change. He jumped on his box, and, putting whip to his horses, started off at a pretty fast speed, telling Mr. Rodgers to wait an hour, and he would return with the change. He exclaimed my chaise is No. 36. The stranger, however, gave the alarm, and presently the driver was taken into custody by Reserve Officer Keyser. His cab was not No. 36. Under these circumstances, the accused was committed to answer at court. Cab Driver Arrested.

Charged with the Larceny of Money.

A man giving the name of Brock Graham was held to bail in the sum of $1,000 on Saturday evening, by Mr. Alderman White, to answer the charge of stealing the sum of $35 from the pocket of Annie Fitzmorris, at a public house on Delaware avenue, above Dock street, on the evening of March the 3d. There were several hearings in the case. The bartender, who appeared to be a reluctant vitness, testified that the defendant was at the house on the evening of the robbery. The accused made a request, almost in the shape of a demand, that the case should be returned to court. He avers that he had business that required his attention at Fort Delaware on the evening of the robbery up to four o'clock the next morning. Bail in the sum of $1,000 was required; this being entered, the accused left the office, satisfied that he would be able to establish his innocence before the court. [Before Mr. Alderman White.]

Sailor Maltreated.

A man calling himself Amos Lamper was arraigned before Mr. Alderman White on Saturday evening, on the charge of badly maltreating a sailor named Charles Wilson, on board a vessel, on a recent passage from one of the West India Islands to the port of Philadelphia. The defendant is the mate of said vessel. The prosecutor was so badly used that his health has been bad ever since. It is quite probable that he will not fully recover from the effects for some time to come. Two witnesses were examined, John Baptiste and John Frances. It seems that the mate struck the prosecutor over the head and face with a knotted rope, which knocked him down on deak. The prostsated man was then kicked several times. The Alderman, in casually remarking on the brutality of beating a sailor that way; the mate replied that he thought the law authorized him to beat a man as much as he might consider necessary to make him do duty, as he, the mate, understood it. He was ordered to enter bail in the sum of $600 to appear before the U. S. Commissioner this morning.

and Samuel Young were arrested about three o'clock on Saturday morning, in a house near Third and Lombard streets. The parties were white and black, and very much dissipated. They were laboring to a more or less extent under the malign influence of strychnine whisky, fighting and hallocing, thereby disturbing the neighborhood. The parties were arraigned before the alderman at the Unionstreet station house. They were committed to answer. A house of correction is very bally needed for such degraded specimens of humanity.

Robbing a Sallor.

James Allison, Francis Rose, and Hester Harris were arrested by Officer Ferguson, early vesterday morning, in the vicinity of Seventh and St. Mary streets, and arraigned before Mr. Alderman White, on the charge of robbing a sailor. He had, at the urgent solicitation of one of the prisoners, visited a house, and while there it is alleged that all the money he had, about $20, was stolen from him. The parties were committed. THE INDICTMENTS AGAINST THE ELECTION OFFICERS OF THE TWENTY-FOURTH WARD. APPLICATION TO REMOVE THEM TO THE SUPREME COURT FOR TRIAL. CERS OF THE TWENTY-FOURTH WARD. APPLICATION TO REMOVE THEM TO THE SUPREME COURT FOR TRIAL.

Commonwealth vs. William Force, Thomas H. Fagan, James Torbert, and Thomas Lodge. This was an application for a special allowance of a writ of certiorari to remove to this Court a certain bill of indictment found in the Court of Quarter Sessions in this county, against the defendants, election officers officers of the Twenty-fourth ward, charging them with making out and signing a false and fraudulant certificate of election in favor of Isaac Leech, as member of Common Council from that ward. A like application was also made to remove a bill of indictment found against the same defendants and Augustus W. Simpson, charging them with conspiracy for the same purpose.

These applications were based on the alleged ground that the defendants would not secure a fair and impartial hearing before the Judge now holding the Court of Quarter Sessions, for the reason, 1st. That the Judge who now holds that Court is a citizen of the Twenty-fourth ward, and therefore interested in the cause, and 2d. Because he had already heard and acted on a case in the Court of Common Pleas, which grew out of the same state of facts as those on which these charges are made.

The bills of indictment charge that these defendants; who were a majority of the Return Judges of the election in that ward, notwithstanding that it appeared by the returns before them that one John K. McOurdy was elected to the office of member of Common Council from the ward, conspired to issue and issued a fraudulent certificate of election to Isaac Leech.

District Attorney William B. Mann carnestly opposed the applications, and in the course of his argument stated that, of the thirty-one cases that have been removed to the court since 1845, there had been but one conviction and very few trials.

The argument for the applications was made by William L. Hirst and George M. Wharton, Esqs. Held under advisement.

Common Pleas-Judges Thompson and Ludlow. Common Pleas—Judges Thompson and Ludlow.

The following decisions were rendered in this court on Saturday:

By Thompson J.—Schenek's Estate, Petition to remove administration funds in the hands of the administrator of this county to the administrator at the place of domicile of the intestate. Petition dismissed on the ground that the administrator's account here should first be settled.

Estate of Elizabeth Ellen Grasly. Appeal from decree of register, admitting to probate the will of decedent. The ground urged was that the testator was mentally incapable of making a will. The court held that the evidence was not sufficient to justify such a conclusion and dismissed the appeal.

Trust Estate of Amanda James. Petition for order on trustee to transfer trust property to the cestul que trust. Order on trustee to make proper conveyance as prayed.

Ry Lupraw I.—Habass cornus in Quarter Sea. trust. Order on trustee to make proper conveyance as prayed.

By LUDLOW, J.—Habeas corpus in Quarter Sessions to obtain the custody of a child. The writ was sued out by the father of the child, and the aunt, in whose custody if now is, contended that it was of too tender age to be entrusted to the father's care, and that the mother of the child, before her death, had executed an instrument of writing investing the aunt with its custody. "The court ordered-that the child be delivered to the father.

woman, Mrs. Coots, who, after bequeathing various small sums of money to different parties, devised and bequeathed the residue to the wife of plaintiff. The will was contested on the ground of undue influence and mental incapacity, and the jury found for the defendant and against the will. The rule for a new trial was discharged.

Stevenson vs. Lesley. Rule for a new trial. Ground after discovered evidence. Rule absolute. Stull vs. Stull. Rule for a new trial. The action was a feigned issue to test the ownership of certain funds in court, the proceeds of certain promissory notes, which plaintiff alleged were given to him by his father in the latter's lifetime.
