The Stars and Stripes. BY HON. THOMAS WILLIAMS, OF ALLEGHENY AIR-Irish Jaunting Car. Brothers of free descent were we, and native to the Knit soul to soul, in one great whole, fruit of our Father's toil;
But when that bond of love was rent, the cry rose near and far,
To arms! to arms! Long live the stripes! we know no "single star," CHORUS.—Hurrah! Hurrah! for the Union Flag, Hurrah for the Union Fing, that knows no "single star." So long as Southern arrogance forbore to touch that fing, Full many a taunt we meekly bore, and many an idle brag: But when on Sumter's battlements, the traitors did it mar, We flung abroad that Union Flag, that ne'er shall lose a star. Hurrah! Hurrah! for the Union Flag, hurrah ! Hurrah for the Union Flag, that no'er shall lose a star. And first the gallant Keystone State, from every

THE ALMSHOUSE LIBRARY.—The library of the Philadelphia Almshouse numbers nearly 3,000 volumes, embracing as valuable a variety of freatises on surgery and medicine as can possibly be found in the State. The history of this library is not generally known. The first appropriation for the purpose was made in 1808, and amounted to only one hundred and fifty dollars. Rules were reported shortly after for its management, and the genior resident student appointed librarian, at which time the books were labelled and numbered. In 1810, another appropriation of one hundred and fifty dollars was made for the same purpose. On the 28th of December, 1812, a committee was appointed to draft rules for the management of the library, and at this date there was an unexpended balance to its credit of four hundred dollars, which was money received from the house pupils. In 1813 a rule was passed conferring a life privilege to the use of the library, for the sum of thirty dollars.

This year three hundred dollars was expended in books, duplicates of all elementary works being ordered. In 1815, free access was allowed to phy-cians and students who should attend the practice of the bouse for two years, and also to private pupils of the medical officers of the institution. In 1816, the apothecary was appointed librarian, and the library catalogued. On the 18th of August, 1818, by a report of Doctor McClellan, the library contained 1,022 volumes, and 597 different works. On the 8th of November, 1824, the managers passed a resolution making an annual appropriation of two andred dollars for the benefit of the library. In 1827, Doctor Horner presented the institution with one hundred and twenty theses from Edenburg. In one of the resident physicians, and contained some very valuable works.

In November, 1836, Dr. Charles Pickering applied to the board for certain works in their possession, for the use of the United States exploring expedition, and which were not attainable in this country, offering a large advance on the importation price, as an inducement to sell. The matter was referred to the medical board, and refused. Accessions were made from time to time, by appropriations made out of the proceeds resulting from the

PHILADELPHIA SCHOOL OF DESIGN FOR Women.—The practice of excluding women from business and the professions has been broken in upon by the "Philadelphia School of Design for Women," an association which affords the means and yields the encouragement for the development of both taste and talent in those arts for which women seem most peculiarly fitted. Some of the students are now employed by our manufacturers in preparing patterns for calico printing, designs for ornamental objects in gas fixtures and chandeliers, and for curtain papers and similar objects of embellishment. The sentonable appropriation of the State Legislature last year has helped materially the purpose of the founders of the school, and so much success has attended their efforts that they now propose to raise a sufficient sum, by private contribution e to raise a sufficient sum, by private contribution ment. The two prisoners were sent away last evaluation of the remarkable of the school and State aid, to permanently endow the school. Citizens, headed by the late Elliot Cresson, and other eminent Philadelphia merchants and professional men, placed at the disposal of the managers the sum of $12,000, yielding $668 interest annually. It is now proposed to raise, by private subscriptions, $30,000, upon which an application has been made to the State for a similar sum, which will be sufficient to place the school on a permanent basis.

The school is not only benevotent in its character, but it is necessary to the full development of the manufacturing industry of our State, which is one of its largest interests. Its practical purpose is the cultivation of taste, with special reference to art and manufactures, and it is only from a school like this that such excellence can be attained in orna-Citizens, headed by the late Elliot Cresson, and other eminent Philadelphia merchants and profesmental art as will give a character of superiority to our manufactures, which will make this the great

GUARDIANS OF THE POOR.-A stated

The Steward reported house receipts amounting to $69.09.
The out-door agent reported having received for support cases $421.25.
The Board of Visitors submitted their report for the month of February, showing that in that period 19.239 persons received out-door relief, of whom 2,474 were Americans, 2,767 foreigners, and 7,999 children. The total expenditures reached $6,207.36. The visitors sent 236 persons to the Almshouse. The nativity of those relieved was as follows: Germany, 413; Ireland, 2116; England, 156; Wales, 9; Scotland, 30; France, 29; other foreigners, 14. There were 1,046 Philadelphians and 539 Pennsylvanians; other Americans, 890.

Mr. Dickinson offered a resolution, which was adopted, that the Committee on Manufactures be authorized to purchase filling sufficient to use up the balance of yarn on hand.

Mr. Server offered a resolution, which was not agreed to, that the applicants for the post of resident physicians be placed in nomination by the Board, and the rule requiring a medical examination be dispensed with. The Board then adjourned.

THE COMING DRAFT.—Considerable excitement is already felt among certain classes on the subject of a draft. It is a foregone conclusion that, or the prosecution of the war, another army must be raised. In May and June next the time of the enlistment of a large number of the present army will expire, and it is not supposed that a very large number of those now in the ranks will re-enlist. Therefore, a pretty good number will no doubt be raised under the new conscription bill, to take the places of those legally entitled to be discharged. Under this new law, each State is to receive credit for the whole number of men she has sent, besides those subsequently raised by draft. According to this, Pennsylvania's portion will not be half as heavy as New York, where the full quota has never been furnished nor the draft enforced.

CONFIRMATION AT THE CHURCH OF THE INTERCESSOR.—Confirmation was held at Rev. Dr. Carden's church, last Sunday evening, and twentytwo persons confirmed by Bishop Potter. This church now numbers three hundred and eighty-four communicants, a large Sunday School, and about eight hundred worshippers. It was commenced four years ago, under the present esteemed rector, Hurrah, &c. and, notwithstanding the many difficulties he and his people had to contend against, the parish has wonderfully prospered, and is to-day a complete success. Few men would have met and conquered the difficulties as Dr. Carden has done and he design the praise and esteem of every Christian man. He is ardently attached to his people, and much loved by them. We learn that an important position has been offered Dr. Carden in the Irish Church, near Dublin, but which, it is thought, he will not accept A WARNING TO LAWYERS.—We learn from the Pittsburg papers that three members of the bar of that city have had their names stricken from the list of practising attorneys, because they refused or neglected to take out a ply with the law they should take warning.

They were not uniformed. As they marched along, two by two, they attracted great attention, being under the command of a colored offi-cer. Those men were all recruited in the interior of the State. A large number of colored soldiers have also been enlisted in this State, although the business is conducted somewhat privately. NEW DEPOT.—All that portion of the block bounded on the south by Market street, on the north by Filbert street, on the east by Fifteenth street, and on the west by the Western Market and the State Argenal, has been purchased by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company; and the most plausible conjecture is that the ground acquired is to be the site of a freight depot for the Philadelphia and Erie Housen.-Yesterday the new hand steam fire engine, built by the Chapman Brothers for the Franklin Engine Company, was housed. The company had their building handsomely decorated with flags on the occasion. Previous to housing the engine, it was drawn through the principal streets. A

NOT YET SETTLED.—The contested-election case of Lowry vs. Miller, before the investigating committee of Select Council, drags its slow length along. The testimony for Mr. Lowry was all heard last week, and that for Mr. Miller will soon commence. From present indications, a conclusion will not be arrived at for many weeks yet,

THE POLICE.

More About the Selzure of Contraban Goods-Arrest of the Runner. THE SHENIES ARE SKEDADDLING.

Benjamin Jackson is the name given by a man who was arrested, between twelve and one o'clock yesterday morning, at the Continental, where he had registered his name as "B. Jackson, of New York." He was taken by Detectives Bartholomew and Lamon, who had been "piping" for him from seven o'clock on Sunday evening. He affected to be virtuously indignant when taken into custody, but he finally submitted with as much grace as was possible under the circumstances. He was taken to the lock up, where Chief Franklin received him with open arms of affection.

"Ah," says the Chief, in his good-humored way, "I have a strong attachment for you, Jackson, on behalf of the United States Government."

Jackson affected a smile, though in reality he looked as though he thought he had been "taken in and done for." THE SHENIES ARE SKEDADDLING. "Ah," says the Chief, "let me see"—looking over "Ah," says the Chief, "let me see"—looking over some papers—"you've made four trips to Richmond, and realized a hundred thousand dollars."

Jackson smiled and shrugged his shoulders, as much as to say "The game is up."

Finally Solomons was introduced to Jackson by the wily Chief, who played his part well. The introduction was simply official formality. The two prisoners had much conversation together. They tried to be cheerful, but could not; their smiles were like misty sunbeams struggling to get through the clouds.

In separate conversation with the Chief, one of the parties made a pretty long narrative of events, has been bestowed on this important appendage to a great hospital. On the contrary, it has been plundered by the vandalism to which it has been exposed, of much valuable matter. At present, however, it has been placed under the care of Doctor Tutt, and having been removed from the lunatic department, is being re-arranged in a very excellent room appropriated to its use, in the north end of the hospital building. An appropriation is now annually made by the present Board of Guardians for its improvement and preservation, and—

Mr. Deckert replied that when the pinching part comes objection is made.

Mr. Abrams argued at some length, and showed that judgment was given by default.

Objection was overruled.

The witness continued: I knew Mr. Gault by reputation; I cannot say that I was formally introduced to him; I had frequently seen him at Alderman Brazier's office; I remember this case, but I cannot say what I testified to, the time has been so long; I had no knowledge of any claim of Mr. Gault against Mrs. Lippincott; I have tried to revive my recollection of the case, because I have been considerably annoyed by it; Mrs. Lippincott has been to see me frequently about it! has walked with me as far down as Chestnut street; she even went to my minister about it; I can't recollect whether I was asked if I had any objection to testifying in the case.

Gross-examined.—I do not remember what was asked me at the time.

"Oh, I'll go wid you; I'll go wid you," said the barber, "kase I only shaved him."

Now, the word "shave" is a slang term for skinning a man, and though obsolete in the police vocabulary, yet it is sometimes used to denote robbing a man. Whether the officer knew its import or not is not understood. The barber, however, soon found himself locked up in the Union-street station-bouse.

found himself locked up in the Union-street station-house.

Upon making an investigation, Mr. Bennett was found dead at his house. He fell in a few minutes after the barber had taken his departure. It seems that two persons, male and female, lived in the same house with Bennett, and they gave some satisfactory information in regard to the death of Mr. B. It seems that he died in an apopheatic fit. Somebody removed the money from his pocket. This was charged upon the absent barber. Hence his arrest. The accused denied all knowledge either of the death or robbery, and said that Mr. Bennett had a roll of notes which he put back into his pocket after he (the barber) had done shaving him. The police then arrested the man and woman already alluded to, who gave the names of Henry Smith and Ellen Flanigan. These parties were arraigned before the worthy magistrate.

It was in evidence that Mr. Bennett had some money; how much was not stated. After death none of the money could be found about him. The barber was not present at the time of his death; nobody saw the money stolen. Under the circumstances, there was not even probable cause made out. The parties were therefore, discharged. PENBERTON MORRIS.

hearing last evening before the United States Commissioner. The accused was required to enter bail in the sum of $500 to answer.

(Before Mr. Alderman White.]

A Songewhat Curious Case.

A case of rather novel character came up before Mr. Alderman White, yesterday morning, which seemed to involve the moral reputation of three individuals. It appears that on Sunday afternoon a barber was called to shave a man named John Benhett, who lived on Water street, above Dock. The sable operator of the tonsorial art having performed the operation to the satisfaction of Mr. B., the latter pulled out a roll of notes and paid him. Mr. Bennett replaced the roll in his pocket, and the barber departed. In a few minutes after this, the knight of the razor was arrested on the charge, or rather the suspicion, of robbing and murdering Mr. Bennett.

"Data in't no such thing, sah," said he, "for I'd jus shaved him."

"Bal luck till ye; it's a dare shave ye've given him," replied a daughter of the Emerald Isle, "for ye've kilt him intirely."

"The barber found himself under the power of a police officer, who did not seem inclined to stand on ceremonies.

"Oh, I'll go wid you; I'll go wid you," said the barber (thesa) I'll go wid you; I'll go wid you," said the barber (thesa) I called to the said to the sand on ceremonies.

"Oh, I'll go wid you; I'll go wid you," said the barber (thesa) I called to the said the said than I called to the sand on ceremonies.

"Oh, I'll go wid you; I'll go wid you," said the barber (thesa) I'll go wid you; I'll go wid you," said the barber found himself under the power of a police officer, who did not seem inclined to stand on ceremonies.

"Oh, I'll go wid you; I'll go wid you," said the barber flower I'll go wid you; I'll go wid you," said the barber flower I'll go wid you; I'll go wid you; I'll go wid you, said the barber flower in the said than I caps and the said than I caps and I caps a called to the said and the said fund. WONDERFUL DISCOVERY AND WONDERFUL RESULTS ACCOMPLISHED BY difference between fact and factors, of Dermanently curing the stept ring of these desease, and advertishing of these desease, and advertishing of the desease and advertishing of the desease of some persons in far-off localities, can well be appreciated by anxious seekers after health, upon altentively reading the following certificates of cases from some of the most reliable gentlemen of Philadelphia, who were permanently cured by Prof. C. H. BOLLES, of 1220 WALNUT street.

Facts are stubborn things, and as evidence is required for the establishment of all facts admitting of the least doubt, and as the astonishing cures performed by Prof. BOLLES are such as no other man has ever performed in this or any other city, it seems important in the present case to offer some proof by way of certificates from some of the most reliable gentlemen of this city, and more because there are some in this city who have the andactity to claim to treat according to who have the andactity of claim to treat according to who have the andactity of claim to treat according to who have the andactity of claim to treat according to who have the andactity of claim to treat according to who have the andactity of claim to treat according to who have the andactity of any therefore, Prof. BOLLES has cantioned the sick against trusting their health in such reckless hands.

Read the following certificates of cures of most obstitution to the continuous well to this date.

About nine years ago I had a severe attack of dyspeptic symptoms, which increased on me during the whole time, and I supposed, and also my physicians that treated me, that my read disease was dyspeptia, and at first years, and take pleasure in recommending its scientific discovery to substring humanity. I shall take pleasure in being referred to by the diseased.

The following wonderful cure of Epilepsy was performed more than eight months ago and remains well to this date.

Read the following attentively:
The following is a statement of facts in reference to my condition and astonishing cure of Epilepsy:
For five years previous to my knowledge of Professor C. H. Bolles' discovery of the therapeutic administration of Galvanism. Magnetism, and other modifications of Electricity for the cure of all acute and chronic diseases, I had been severely afflicted with Epileptic Fits of the most obdurate character, and had abandoned all hopes of ever being cured, as I had for years tried the treatment and received the counsel of the most eminent Medical Men of the States, with the view of obtaining relief if any could be found among the Old Schools but all my efforts were unnyailing, and, therefore, all hopes were abandoned, as I then knew of no greater skill for the cure of obstinate cases than in the Old Schools. About six months ago my mind was turned to investigate the new discovery of Prof. C. H. Bolles, 1220 Walnut street, and, after noticing several certificates of cures which were published, and some from persons with whom I was acquainted, and knew them to be reliable men. I was induced to Consultation Free. PROF. C. H. BOLLES, fe24 1220 WALNUT Street, Philadelphia. MRS. JAMES BETTS' CELEBRATED M. R.
