A "PEOPLE'S MEETING."- For some time past gatherings known as "People's Meetings," have been convened at a hall in North Sixtl street. These meetings, always held on Sundays, are open to all who wish to attend, and somewha resemble in character a debating society. Any one who wishes can speak and utter such sentiments as are most agreeable to him. The consequence is that many of those in attendance are true representatives of the Secessionist and spare no opportunity to assail the Government in the most malignant man ner. The meeting does not partake in the least of a religious character, the subject of discussion always being some topic relative to the state of the country. From one who attended on Sunday last we learn that the number attending was in the vicinity of one hundred. The assemblage was as promiscuous as its very limited limits would permit. Every bench was lined with a sufficient and enough row of characteristic character. The picturesqueness of the scence was amusing in its peculiar variety. There were individuals, in aspect completely rickety and wavering, who appeared to have hung their personality, like a bare-thread cloak, upon the loose hook of life. They seemed to have calculated the chances of this world on shots which never hit, and haps which never happen. In accordance with the somewhat vulgar aphorism that the best goods are in the smallest parcels, the ladies, upon this oc-Casion, bore a small proportion to the other sex.

At the commencement of the exercises, the president took particular pains to vindicate the ways of law with men, and to unmistakably explain, in mistakable rhetoric, that any one creating disorder would be forthwith compelled to give his name, and likewise, forthwith be reported to the Mayor. The accentual impediment of the speaker prevented s phonetically true interpretation of his warning. The character of the meetings held at this place is variously described by those who attend either regularly or at intervals. One says that it is Secessionist throughout, and another is willing to avow that the ice of treason is sometimes melted the thaw of Unionism. It is a relief to know that the sentiments of treason breathed there on Sunday afternoon were not altogether unamalga-The debate, as may very naturally be expected, was warm, and even turbulent at times. A smooth, double-chinned, sleekhaired, unctuous individual—a sort of Chadband politician—holding a conspicuous position on the dais, eructated rebellion in spasmodic incoherencies. He had his hands almost perpetually in his pockets, and appeared to possess a most touching corporocity. His only object seemed to be to defeat the object of the meeting, which professed to be open, above-board, and courteous in intention. The question for discussion was the military and political condition of the country. Few of the speakers stuck to their subject. Some ran away from it altogether. One man, with rubicund visage and high-twanged voice, said that if he had his way, he would nominate J. T. Smith for the nextPresident, and Jeff Davis for Vice President! In this way union between North and South would be brought together. The unctuous individual said "amen!" The rubicund man was received with The rubicund man was received with a round of hisses and applause. After this a lady stepped upon the platform. Four or five others were present. This one may not be inaptly considered the exponent of the power of the sex she represented. After such a demonstration, she said. applause of a traitor, the Union-loving men might be excused for expressing in demonstrative manner might be expressed. The Unctuous said: "Madam. are we not all Union-loving men?" "No," replied the lady, "and you're one that aint!" The Unctuous smiled. Other speakers came upon the floor. The Unctuous spread the bread of their sentences with the butter of his parenthesis. His exclamations came between theirs like cold ham in a sandwich, or jelly in a cake. One of the speakers, who had been interlocuted as to whether he had not "come from Jersey," and who had replied, "No, I came from my mother," asked (for information) whether the nterrupter was not under the influence of liquor? The Unctuous smiled again, and probably said Some of the allusions made by the speakers were absurd and indecent. Vituperation took the place of logic, and spite usurped the office of conviction. The name of John P. Hale seemed to be introduced for the purpose of the speaker's remarking that that gentleman couldn't speak six consecutive words whose connection was grammatical, and that Abraham Lincoln was just as bad. The affair Throughout was full of "saddening truth," furnishing at once a sorrowful and amusing episode. THE NORTHERN HOME FOR FRIENDLESS CHILDREN.—The public institutions of this city are unquestionably the best and most economically conducted of any similar establishments in this country we may, perhaps, say, in the world. The perfect neatness and cleanliness everywhere apparent; the studious regard for the comfort of the inmates, and the judicious husbanding of the resources for their support, are suggestive of fidelity and zeal in their administration, and do credit to those who manage One of the most useful of these is the Northern Home for Friendless Children, which cares for the destitute and friendless little ones of the Common-wealth by providing a comfortable abode for those who are received by commitment or release, until Buitable places can be secured for them in the country as farmers, dairy-maids, &c., when the girls are bound until eighteen years of age, and the boys till twenty-one, the masters being obliged to furnish them a quarter's schooling annually, and when of age, a certain sum of money and a certain outfit of clothing. The judges of every county court in the State have the right to commit to the Northern Home, just as they do to the House of Refuge. For nearly ten years has this valuable institution been in active operation under the auspices of some of our very best citizens. It now contains (210) two hundred and ten inmates, the largest number that has ever been within its walls, although nearly that number have been indentured during the preceding year alone. Many of these are the children of soldiers, drawn together to this receptacle of innocent sufferers from different counties in the State. Every ward is crowded to its utmost capacity at this time, and so great is the demand for admission, that we noticed bedsteads placed in one of the halls to accommodate the greatest number possible. The erection of an infirmary is in contemplation, we learn, provided that sufficient means can be raised for the purpose. It has been long needed. We hope that the enterprising friends of the Home will be able to raise the PENNSYLVANIA INSANE HOSPITAL.—The twenty second annual report of the progress and condition of the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane states that, at the beginning of the year, there were 255 patients in the institution, since which 194 have been admitted, and 164 have been discharged The total number of patients in the hospital during the year was 449. The highest number at any one time was 285; the lowest was 255, and the average number under treatment during the whole The number of males in the hospital during the year was 232, and the number of females was 217. The highest number of males at any one time was 143, and the highest number of females was 146. The lowest number of males was 127, and of females was 126. At the beginning of the year (1862) there were 128 males and 127 females. On the first of January, 1863, there were 143 males and 142 females. The number of males admitted during the year was 104, and the number of females 90. The institution is in an excellent condition, and SUPERANNUATED TEACHERS.—A bill making provision for old and superannuated teachers is now before the Legislature. It provides that when-ever any teacher of any of the public schools who has been employed as such for the space of twentyfive years, shall be discharged, or required by any such teacher so discharged, or required by any school regulation to resign, shall receive from the school Fund of hisor her school district, until restored to his or her position, an amount equal to one-half of such teacher's average annual compensation or salary for the five years next preceding such discharge, which shall be paid quarterly by the officer of such school district charged with the duty of making payment to the school-teachers therein. That the provision made by the foregoing for such teacher as may be hereafter discharged, or required by any may be hereaster discharged, or required by any school regulation to resign from their office of feacher, shall be extended to such teachers who have been employed as such for the space of twenty-five years as have been within the last five years discharged, or compelled by any school regulation to resign, for any cause other than moral delinquency.

THE POLICE.

[Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.]

[Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.]

Two young men, giving the names of John Barkley and William Fitzgerald, were arraigned before Mr. Alderman Beitler, yesterday morning, on the charge of robbing a soldier named Zina Z. Dowd, of the 3d Wisconsin Regiment. It is alleged the defendants purloined twenty-five dollars and a watch valued at the same amount. It seems, from the evidence, that the soldier is an inmate of the military hospital situate on Turner's Lane. Having obtained a pass on Monday to take a stroll about the city, he was suddenly knocked down by them and robbed as above stated. Information was lodged what retired spot in the northwestern part of the city, he was suddenly knocked down by them and robbed as above stated. Information was lodged with the police, and on Tuesday night the abovementioned defendants were taken into custody at Eleventh and Market streets. The soldier fully identified them, at the hearing vesterday, as the individuals who had robbed him. The defendants were committed to answer at court.

Daring Shop-lifter.

Samuel Johnson was arraigned yesterday on the charge of stealing a shirt from the store of Mr. Oskford, Chestnut street, near Ninth. It seems that he had entered the store under pretence of making a purchase. While the attendant had turned his back to get some goods to show the prisoner, the latter picked up the shirt and secreted it about his person. He had nothing to say in explanation of his conduct. He was committed.

Larceny. Robert Thomas, a colored man, was arraigned on the charge of the larceny of some clothing, the pro-perty of a Mr. Gilbert, residing at No. 1224 Canby street. The prisoner, it appears, lived in the same house with Mr. Gilbert, and thus obtained facilities

Another Larceny.

Henry Morton was arraigned on the charge of stealing clothing and other things valued, in all, at eleven dollars, the property of George Wonderly. It seems that both these persons boarded in the same house. Some of the goods were found upon the person of the accused; other articles were recovered at a pawn shop. The accused, on being asked if he had any explanation to make, burst out crying; and said he took the things to raise some money to pay his board bill. He was committed in default of $400 to answer at court.

fellow, giving the name of Simpson, was arraigned fellow, giving the name of Simpson, was arraigned for drunkenness.

"I found this man," said the officer, "very drunk, at the corner of Seventh and Sansom streets."

"That's so," replied the prisoner, "I was drunk."

"Drunk, eh." said the Alderman.

"Yes, sir; 'pon my honor, alderman, you ought to have some compassion on me; it's only because I drink liquor that I get drunk. Now, pon my honor, Mr. Beitler, I know you; can't you have a little compassion? Now, alderman, don't be hard on met for, 'pon my honor, when I'm away from liquor I never touch it."

"Don't suppose you do, when you can't get it," replied the alderman, as he recorded fine $3.50.

The prisoner was about to give a dissertation on the subject of lighting the public lamps, when the officer gave him a slight nudge, and told him to come along.

He mittered something about hard luck as he passed to the lock-up below stairs.

[Before Mr. Alderman Dougherty.]

A Man Badly Beaten.

Edward Leonard was arraigned before Alderman Dougherty yesterday on the charge of violently beating a man named Jacob Brolander. The prisoner was taken into custody by Officer Kaylor, on Arch-street wharf, on Tuesday evening. He testified the defendant was druuk, and had kicked Mr. Brolander in the face and head, thereby inflicting such injuries as to jeopardize his life. The injured man was so badly hurt that it was impossible for him to appear at the Mearing. The defendant was committed to prison, bail being refused. LEGAL INTELLIGENCE. The case of Girard's Heirs vs. The City of Philadelphia. On motion of E. A. Parry, Esq., the court yesterday morning fixed the hearing of the cause of The City of Philadelphia, plaintiff in error, vs. Girard, for the third Thursday of May, at Harrisburg.

The following important decision of the court, in the case of the Bank of Commerce vs. Edwin Forrest, was rendered on Monday last, but we have hitherto been unable to present it to our readers. It will be observed that the question raised is, what are "renewals" of promissory notes? The opinion is as newals" of promissory notes? The opinion is as follows: APPEAL OF THE BANK OF COMMERCE.

APPEAL OF THE BANK OF COMMERCE.

Eastern District. From the decree of the District Court of the city and county of Philadelphia, and writ of error to judgment on feigned issue in Bank of Commerce vs. E. Forrest.

READ; II. The mortgage, which forms the foundation of the appellant's claim, was dated March 9, 1855, and recorded on the 12th of the same month, and was for four thousand dollars, payable one year from date, and executed by William H. Maurice to A. E. Borie, and was accompanied by a bond and warrant, upon which judgment was entered on the 30th July, 1860. These papers did not represent the real transaction; for, it appears that Mr. Borie, who was the president of the bank, took it for the benefit and protection of that institution, under a special contract with Mr. Maurice, all the terms of which are stated in a deed poll executed by Mr. Borie, and bearing even date with the mortgage. This deed or paper recites, "Whereas, William H. Maurice, of the said city, stationer, hat this day executed to me his bond and mortgage conditioned for the payment of the sum of four thousand dollars, in one year from the date thereof, now know ye that I, the said A. E. Borie, do by these presents confess, actnowledge, and declare that the said bond and mortgage were executed by the said William H. Maurice, only as a collateral security for the payment of notes discounted, or hereafter to be discounted, for the use of the said William H. Maurice, and to and for no other use, inient, or purpose whatsoever; that I do not, on account of myself or my heirs, claim or demand any right, title, or interest in or to the said bond or mortgage, but do hereby confess, acknowledge, and declare that the said bond and mortgage were made to and received by me only as a trustee, to the use of and for and on behalf of the said Bank of Commerce, of which I am the president."

This paper was not recorded, but it was clearly proved that it contained the whole contract between the bank and the mortgagor. It is not a contract for renewals, as

Not and a sentirely unlike the appear in 2 Oasey 170, and is entirely unlike the mortgage to H. W. Richards, in the same case, where there was an absolute contract on the part of the person, secured by the mortgage, to make sales to the mortgagors, and to furnish endorsements of notes, given by the mortgagors for purchases from other persons.

The agreement, by its positive terms, clearly included almost over every large of the mortgagors, covering, of course, the two so the mortgagors, covering, of course, the two so the mortgagors, overing, of course, the two so the mortgagors, overing, of course, the two so the mortgagors, of eight not less than the same than the prior or subsequent to the maturity of the preceding note?—the court adding, "you are to determine whether the notes now held are securities for the same debt."

Now, these instructions are certainly as liberal as the plaintiffs could desire, and unless the debt for which these notes were given; existed at the time of the Forrest judgment, it is clear that the mortgagees could not claim to be paid out of the proceeds of the sheriff's sale, in preference to that incumbrance.

The first and second points of the plaintiffs were requests that the court should charge the jury, that if it was the intention of the parties; that these several series of notes should be considered as renewals, and that whether the notes in question were the lasts of respective series of renewals depends upon the intention of the parties as to the successive notes, which make up the respective series; and if the jury believe, from the evidence, that it was the intention of the parties that those successive notes should be renewals of the preceding notes in the respective series, the verdict must be for the plaintiffs. This the court properly refused to do, saying "I do not think it is a queetion what the parties intended or considered. But what is the last? Was it for the same debt?"

It will be precedlected that there was not a word, either in the written or any other contract between the bank and Mr. Maurice, about renewals at all, and that the rejected questions on the trial and these points were attempts to substitute the opinions and the intentions of the parties for the actual facts; and the court were, therefore, clearly right in overruling the questions, and in declining so to charge the jury.

The jury gave a verdict for the defendant, the court refused a new trial, dismissed the exceptions, and confirmed the auditor's report absolutely. We have, therefore, the report of an auditor, the finding of a jury, and the deliberate judgment; and, upon a careful examination of the whole case, we see no good reason to dissent from this dec

TRON IRON-CLAD SEA STEAMERS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT will, until April 18th next, receive Proposals for the complete construction and equipment for sea service, including wrought iron gan-carriages, but excluding guns, ordance stores, nantical instruments, and fuel, of—iron iron-clad steamers, of about 8,000 tons burden, measured as a single deck vessel, and 21 draught of water. The boats, maste, yards, and rigging to be of iron; and the armament to consist of ten gins in a casement, each weighing about 25 tons without the carriage.

The boilers to be of the horizontal tubular kind, with 1,800 square feet of fire-grate surface, and 60,000 square feet of water-heating surface. The machinery to consist of two separate pairs of direct action, horizontal engines, operating independently two iron screw propellers of 18 feet diameter, one nader each counter of the vessel. Capacity of each of the four cylinders 154 cubic feet. To be provided with Sewell's surface condenser, centaining 8,500 square feet of exposed tube surface for each pair of engines. Bunkers to be provided for 1,600 tons of coal.

Proposals will be received on general plans and specifications that may be examined at the Navy Department.1 or perties may propose on plans and specifications of hull and machinery of their own.

BUREAU OF ORDNANCE. TRON IRON-CLAD SEA STEAMERS. BUREAU OF ORDNANCE.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 2, 1863.

This Burean is desirous of ascertaining whether rilled cannon can be made of wrought iron of sufficient and uniform endurance and economy to warranttheir being preferred to gins of cast iron only, or of cast iron strengthened with wronght iron Froposals will therefore be received from any, manufacturers of forged iron, to furnish a finished gun, or a block of metal from which the same may be flushed. The said gun, when flushed, to weigh about 10,000 pounds, to be made into a gun throwing a projectile of 100 pounds, as used in cast iron rilled cannon of like weight; to be fired 1,000 times, with service charges of the same weight and kind of powder as used in the Parrott 100-pounder, viz: 10 pounds of No. 7, without bursting or wearing in such a manner as to cause apprehensions of bursting. ing or wearing in such a manner as to cause approximates sons of bursting.

The quality of metal, price, and other terms, are to be stated clearly in the proposal forwarded.

The Bureau reserves the right to itself of accepting or rejecting any of the proposals.

The time for receiving the proposals is limited to thirty days from date; and proposals will only be received from persons actually engaged in the fabrication of wrought iron.
