MEMPHIS, March 27, 1863. We have the Jackson Appeal of March 17th, from which we extract the following account of the Port Hudson fight. The official report to Gen. Pember-than that which follows: PORT HUDSON, March 15, 5 o'clock A. M.—The enemy commenced the bombardment at 2 P. M., which was continued until 6 P. M. They fired slowly, and our batteries did not reply. At 12 last night a most desperate engagement took place. The enemy endeavored to pass our batteries under cover of darkness. The fire was most terrife, and lasted fully two hours. One gunboat succeeded in passing in a damaged condition. The sloop-of-war Mississippi was set on fire and burned to the water's edge in front of our batteries. One large vessel was com-pletely riddled, and a third badly cripled, and, with the rest, driven back. At 2 o'clock the enemy with-ar hat passed is doubles so disabled as to render her achievement fruitless.

He told a variety of stories, one or two of which, unfortunately for him, ware discovered in the sequel to be false. On his person was found a belt, nine bonds North Carolina, State, and twelve hundred dollars. Confederate notes, and Virginia and North Carolina State-treasury notes. His well-filled carpet bag was also recovered, and also the bill of purchase.

An Ortawford said it would never do to publich his name in connection with this aftair, as they would hang har of they ever got him down South. He said to wrach a pretty big farm in South Osciellan at the title owned a pretty big farm in South Osciellan at the title owned bellion broke out. He was then worth $70,000, the ne-bellion broke out. He was then worth $70,000, but be cause of his Union proclivities be had to leave that State. He made these statements, in all probability because heathough the Chief of Police would easily think he was a spy for the United States Government, think head because them to the the distinguished official not because them to fort Delaware.

. [Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.]

(Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.) A Hearing. Emma J. Holland was arraigned yesterday afternoon, at the Central Station, on the charge of committing an assault and battery on John Macklin. Officer Moore testified that, although Macklin was badly cat about the head, yet he did not seem to be in any immediate danger from the effects of the wounds received. The accused was held to bail in the sum of $1,000, to await a farther heading to take place at 2 o'clock to morrow afternoon. The defination was known some years since us the sailor boy, from the fact that she haid mide several voyages across the sea in the capacity of a jack tar.

Before Mr. Alderman Haines.] Before Mr. Alderman Haines.] Disreputable Conduct. Thomas Ester and John Carpenter are the names given by a couple of dissolute young men who were arrested by Officers Jones and Edgar, in the neighborhood of Poplar and Twelfth streets, at a late hour on Tuesday might. The defendants on being arraigned were charged with riot and disorderly conduct. The evidence set forth that the accused b longed to a gang called the "Prairie Hens" (the name of which has been written in innocent blood, and spoken in tongues of inceudiary fire.) The prisoners in allged in riotous conductant made an indis-triminate attack upon citizens and convilsed the neigh-borhood of Twelfth and Poplar streets with terror. The officers were resisted, but inally, after considerable dificulty, they succeeded in taking the party to the station house. After a hearing yesterday morning, the accused were required to enter bail in the sum of $1,000 to answere.

[Before Mr. Alderman Riley.]

[Before Mr. Alderman Riley.] Riotous Conduct at a Kolling Mill. John McGrath was arraigned yesterday by Oficer Ha-milton on the charge of riotons conduct at Mr. Rowland's iron rolling mill, in the Sixteenth ward. It seems from the evidence that on Tuesday afternoon, the employees struck for an advance of wages, to which the employees vielded, but at the same time, did not think it necessary to re-employ all the hand?-. Five. or six were rejected. McGrath was one of the l.titer. Some time after the men had resumed work, he returned to the mill. He was in a state of intoxication. It was not long before he made himself very obnoxious by annoying the analter person than himself, and without much effort threw him into an ah par, then seizing a bur of iron, he threatened to car the establishment. Finally Officer Hamilton ar-rived, and attar considerable difficulty, the obstrepersons individual was removed to the station house. He was committed in default of $200 bail to answer at court.

committed in default of $200 bail to answer at court. Concealed Deadly Weapons. William Gook, Henry Boyle, and Joseph Garvin, were arrested between trefve and one o'clock yesterday morning, by Officers Moffit and Russell, at Cadwalader and Master streets, for disorderly conduct. While on the way to the police station they threw away two black-jacks and an oyster knife. These weapons were picked up by the officers, and produced at the hearing as evi-dence against the defendants. The accused were bound over to answer the charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons.

With the coming of spring all our shipyards are beginning to assume their usual bustle, after the comparative torpor of the winter months. At the yards in East Boston alone the keels are laid for a lozen new ships and barks, besides several schooners and smaller craft; the ravages of the Alabama render many new vessels necessary; and the general be-lief in Federal victories within a short time, which will in a measure obviate the present disadvantage under which American vesselsilabor, imparts even more than usual vigor to this branch of industry.

Donald McKay is about to resume work at his yard, which has been closed for many months, while the Globe works, Atlantic works, Harrison Loring, and Aquila Adams are busy on the new light-draught monitors. All possible despatch is made upon the larger iron-clads, Agamenticus and Canonicus, though it is hardly probable they will be ready for sea for some months yet, and work is likely to be retarded by a strike of the workmen, who wish to take ad-vantage of the large amount of Government work on hand, which they well know the contractors cannot delay beyond a certain point. Several of our large cotton manufacturers are be-ginning to turn their attention to Central America for a partial supply of the raw material. Agencies are about to be established in several places in Nicaragua, where the quality of the staple is excel-lent, and labor said to be plenty and cheap. Until within a short time the searcity and high price of the article has only been a source of increased profit to our factories : but their stocks are becoming low, and fresh quantities must be obtained, or the mills
