We have erected an addition to our main buildings expressly, for this branch of our business, and have filled it with the best workmen in our service. Profiting by our long experience, we have remodelled the form of our watches, introducing such improvements as have been suggested and proved to be good from time to time, and have instituted new and severe tests of isochronism, adjustment, and compensation. New machines and appliances have been constructed, which perform their work with consummate FINANCIAL. compensation. New machines and appliances have been constructed, which perform their work with consummate delicacy and exactitude, and the choicest and most approved materials only are used. Nothing, in fact, is wanting either in mechanical principles, material, or workmanship to insure perfection in the result.

We continue to manufacture our other well-known qualities under the following names:

Whoever reads the first page of this truly natural story will read the whole 400 pages, and then be disposed to initate "Oliver Twist" and ask for more.

From the Compregation will read to the think the state of the whole 400 pages, and then be disposed to initate "Oliver Twist" and ask for more.

From the New England villages. Her Northern histress was a harsh, selfish and unfeeling woman, and the "bound girls" character is pleu-antly and interestingly portrayed, as it becomes moulded and newn cut by the hard circumstances of her lot, it is she becomes "purified by suffering," a perfect woman. From the Wotchman and Reflector.

Its purity of sentiment, its nortal tone, its quiet, religious undercurrent, its pleasant pictures of home life, its truthful delineations of woman's heart please the reader, while they also instruct. The story i-excellently written, and, the reader's interest retained unabuted until the acnoument, which is unexpected but satisfactory.

From the Buffalo Commercial. fory.

From the Buffalo Commercial.

It is a story of domestic life, full of pathetic incident, elegant imagery, pure in thought and teaching, and with an underylew of sad yet fascinating incident, which causes the reader to rise from its perural a better, if not a wiser man.

with an under lew of sag yet taschiating incream, which as unest he reader to rise from its permal a better, if not a wiser man.

It is written in a very happy year, and cannot fail to attract the attention of a host of readers. The writer seeks to inculcate some of the most important iessons of life, and no one can read this story without feeling the better for it.

From the Boston Transcript.

It is not surprising that this work is having a great sale; the story is one of touching and thrilling interest.
