A WOUNDED TRAITOR AND A RENEGADE. A WOUNDED TRAITOR AND A RENEGADE. Sergent Ames, formerly of Co. L. N. Y. Fifth Cavalrywas the scoundrei who descrited to Mose-by's ging 'of guerillas, and subsequently acted as their guide in their, two raids into Fairfax. The sergeant, who is called "Fig Yagkee," was once deemedyne of the best soldiers in his regiment. "He once whipped three of Ashby's cavalry, taking one of them prisoner. While on a scouting expedition, they fred upon him from the edge of a wood, and after he had drawn'their fire he retreated. When they pursued him in the open field, he wheeled, and opened fire upon them, compelling two to flee, and opened fire upon them, somoreling two to flee, and opened fire upon them, twisso impressed with the efficiency of Ames that he made him a commissary and quar-termaster sergeant. Source by the promotion of others in his regiment, and polsoned by the promises of Noseby, he deserted to him, and became one of his besi soldiers. Moseby says if all the Federal cavalry were like "Big Yankee" they would sconquer anything. of Moseby, he deserted to him, and became one of his best soldiers. Moseby says if all the Federal cavalry were like "Big Mankee" they would conquer anything. Moseby's gang have all the plunder they capture, and Ames has sent word to his regiment, by some returned prisoners, that he has "made" five good horses since he joined Moseby. Information reached here yesterday by a lady, a refugee, that this renegade now lies dangerously wounded in a house in Middleburg. If Colonel Deforest, of the New York 5th Cavalry, should cap-ture the scoundrel he will have a prompt trial and a sudden execution. Brigadier General Mackall has been appointed to the position of chief of General Bragg's staff. Brigadier General Polignac has been ordered to report to Kirby Smith of the trans-Mississippi De-pertment. partment. The following order has been issued to the rebel DEPARTMENT OF VIRGINIA. The following order has been issued to the rebel army: The issue of whisky to troops, except in cases of extraordinary fatigue and exposure, is prohibited. Commanding officers are enjoined to see that this prohibition is enforced. Paragraph four of General Order No. 32 is so mo-dified as to allow only a two-horse wagon and team to each regiment in the field, to be appropriated to the transportation of hospital supplies. Flogging has become such an evil in the rebel army that general orders have been issued prohibit-ing it. (APTURE OF THE "PARROTT BATTERY." SUFFORK, April 22.—Two hundred and fifty men, etached from the 89th New York and 8th Connecti-iut Regiments, crossed the Nansemond river on one of the gunboats, some two miles below Suffolk, and iharged upon the chief rebel entrenchments. As the party landed from the gunboat, the energy field upon them, killing four and wounding several. Our nen'then started off with a yell, and did not stop inttl in possession of the works. Most of the ener-my left their guns and retired precipitately. to their "rat-holes," or excavations, made close to the para-pet; with a view to avoid bursting shells. These "rat-holes," I believe, are original with rebel engi-neers. They were soon induced to emerge from the in hiding-places by loaded muskets pointing down the works with his hands and feet tied up by ropes. They were informed that he had been shot for cowardee. MoCLELLAN AND THE STATUE OF HENRY OLAY. The Whig has a long editorial reviewing General McClellan's career. It also says: "The statue of Henry Olay, in the Capital square, has been shamefully mutilated by persons who have no sense of decency or veneration for the memory of the great statesman whom it represents." mild if possessand of units works.  THE REBEL OPERATIONS AT WASHING-TON, N. C.
 The Wilmington (N. C.) Journal of the 18th inst. says: We regard it as more than probable that a larce portion of General Hul's troops have already. left the vicinity of Washington, and although mortified, we should not be at all surprised to hear that the sigge had been abandoned, and that the enterprise, so far as Washington is concerned, had turned out to be a failure. We do most sincerely trust that it may turn out otherwise, but we are reluctantly forced to this belief. We might add that we have heard a report that General Hill commenced shelling the enemy in Washington on Wednesday.

The parties for Morris Island were at work upon the wreak, endeavoring to bring away some additional trophies. The guaboat Chicors steamed down the harbor to take part in the action, but the enemy had withdrawn and gone out to sea long before our guaboat could reach her. The Flamboat was no doubt on a reconnoiting tour, to assortain what arrangements might be made for blowing up the Keokuk.
